City Thinks Princess Meg Is A Doll!

Margaret, Earl Get Official Mayor's Greeting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Britain's Princess Margaret got San Francisco's verdict today.

"Isn't she a doll?"

The doll-sized—5 feet 1—Princess and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, drew gasps of admiration and applause from about 1,000 San Franciscans who crowded the City Hall as the royal party paid a courtesy visit on Mayor John F. Shelley. (See also photo p 21.)

IGNORES ARM

Lord Snowdon, a few steps behind, grinned.

So tiny was the princess — despite 3½-inch spike heels — that she appeared almost child-like beside the 6 feet 4 mayor.

Shelley gave the Princess a key to the city and a miniature silver cable car to Lord Snowdon.

"We'd really like to go for a ride on a cable car," the princess told the mayor. "But we're not sure our security people will let us do it."

GETS SALUTE

After a brief meeting in Shelley's office, the Princess — now holding onto the mayor's arm — walked down the rotunda steps inside the building as 30 of San Francisco's white-glove policemen saluted her.

The crowd again cheered.

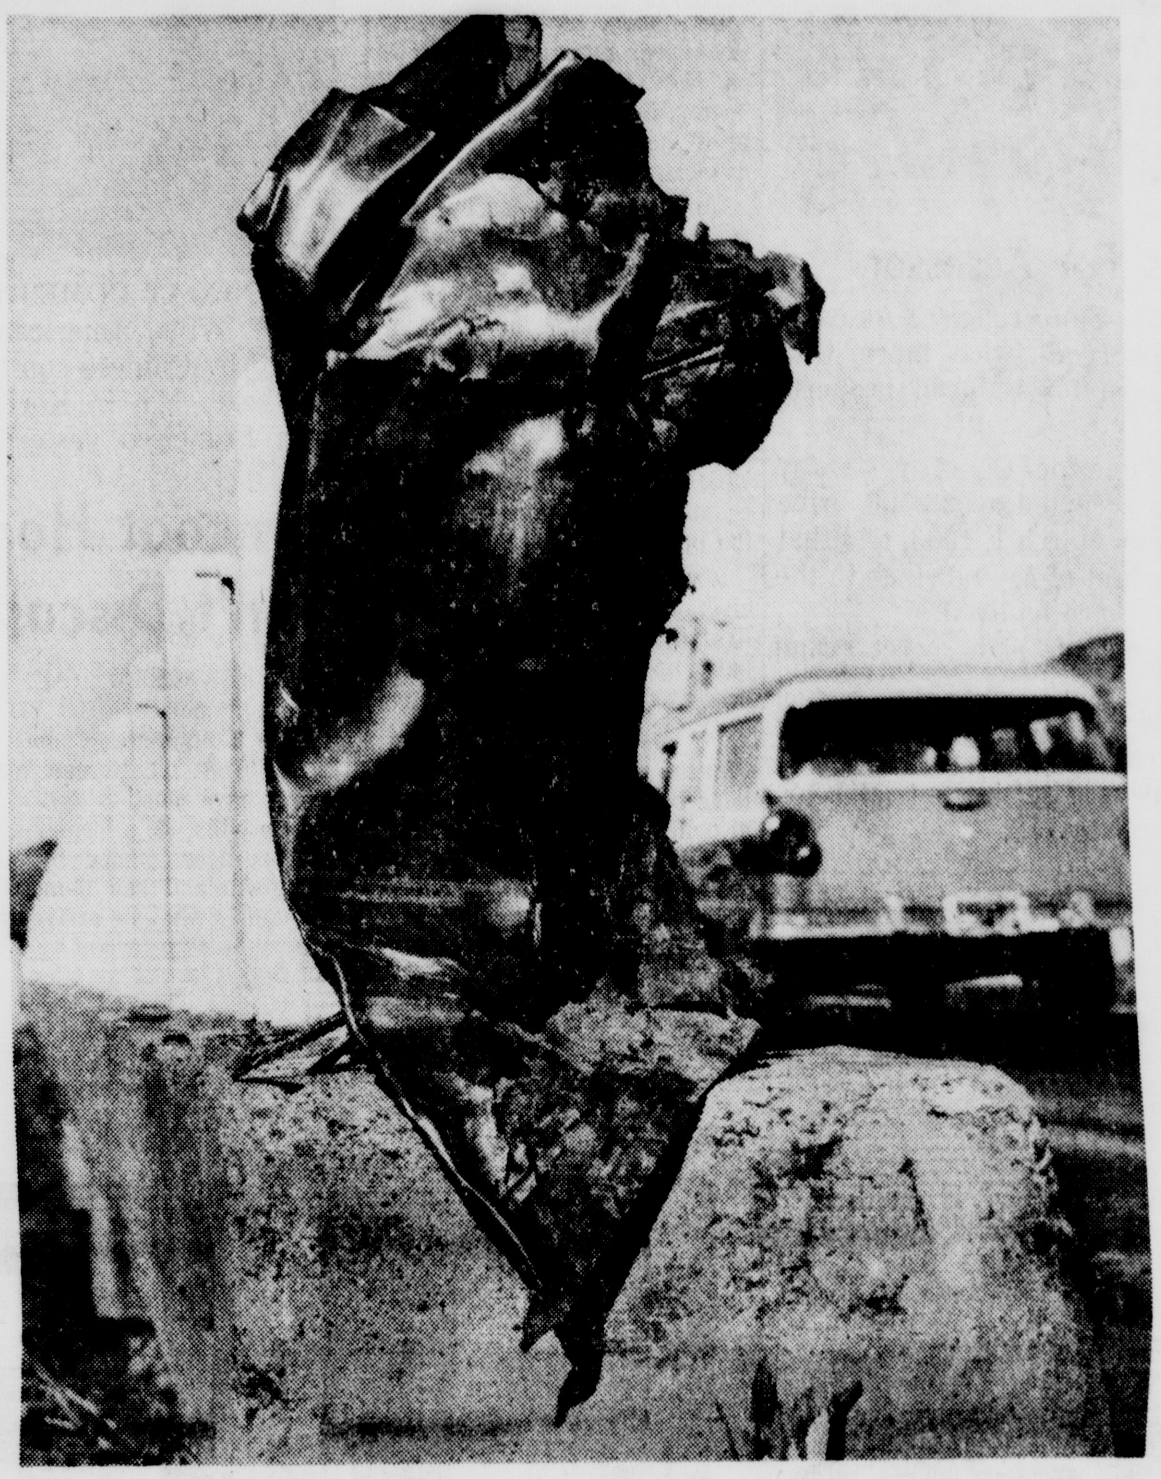
Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon went to a charity luncheon, sponsored by the English Speaking Union.

After the luncheon, the royal couple will have private engagements.

They'll have some time for browsing in shops, sightseeing and resting.

The Princess has made it clear that she intends to see all of the United States — not just high-society.

Novato Realty Broker Dies In One-Car Crash



MUTE REMINDER — Portion of door of 1965 Cadillac driven by Robert L. Hullman of Novato remains fused to guard rail of Novato Creek Bridge, which it hit at 8:45 p.m. yesterday. Hullman was killed in the crash as he was driving to his Novato home after closing out his real estate office in San Francisco.

Medicine Linked To Wreck

A Novato real estate broker, driving home after closing out his realty office in San Francisco, was killed last night when his car hit the concrete railing of a bridge across Novato Creek.

He was the 22nd person to die in Marin County traffic this year. Last year by this date, traffic had claimed 36 lives in Marin.

Hullman was northbound in the fast lane of Highway 101 at 8:45 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported. His 1965 Cadillac hit the left railing of the northbound Novato Creek Bridge, one-half mile south of Lamont Avenue.

CRASH OBSERVED

George Loce, 18, of 1310 Leafwood Drive, Novato, was driving behind Hullman. He told the patrol he saw a cloud of dust, then the rear end of the Cadillac seemed to leap into the air and settle to the road. The car was demolished.

Hullman had telephoned a friend only about three-quarters of an hour earlier, reporting he was starting home from San Francisco, said Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley. He had just closed out his real estate brokerage office in the Jack Tar Hotel and had been negotiating with another broker to carry on his realty business in San Francisco. He also operated a real estate business in Novato from his home.

HAD NEW HOME

He had moved only recently to a new home at 91 Half Moon Road, Novato, from his former residence at 422 Ridge Road.

Hullman was injured in a San Francisco auto accident about a month ago, Bradley said, and had been under a doctor's care for back pains. He might have taken medication before driving home, said Bradley.

Hullman, unmarried, lived alone in the home, which was the scene of a burglary July 15 in which clothing, antique silverware, a television set, an

Rusk Reveals Red Buildup In War Zone

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today reported a continuing and substantial build up of Communist forces in Viet Nam. But he said the Reds were not going to be able "to impose a military solution" in the conflict.

Rusk told a news conference that indications from prisoners, captured documents and defections were that two additional regiments of the 325th North Vietnamese Division had gone into action. He identified these as the 250th and 32nd Regiments.

The secretary said he did not see the continuing increase in Red forces as "reflecting any major new decision" by the Communist high command in Hanoi to undertake a major escalation of the war to meet increased American forces, which now number more than 150,000.

He said that it was rather a continuation of the "general pattern."

Rusk also staunchly defended the right of Americans to protest and demonstrate against U.S. policy in Viet Nam. He declared that the "right of dissent" was an integral part of a "vigorous and thriving democracy such as ours."

However, he said, the demonstrators and protesters should realize that their tactics may be "frustrating" the very objective they claim to seek — peace in Viet Nam.

Saigon Figures 7,500 North Viets In Combat

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military authorities said today that five regiments of the North Vietnamese army — normally about 7,500 men — are now fighting in South Viet Nam.

The announcement confirmed the presence in the country of two new regiments.

Word of the North Vietnamese buildup came as a lull was reported in ground action across the country. But the growing U.S. military forces continued their patrols and sweeps, some of them in areas where the North Vietnamese units are believed operating.

Nine persons, all of them believed to be Americans, were killed when two U.S. Army helicopters collided in the air 250 miles northeast of Saigon near the headquarters at An Khe of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

Spokesmen said little significant contact with the Viet Cong had been reported throughout the country in the past 24 hours.

Ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet pounded Viet Cong targets near the coasts and observers reported extensive damage to buildings and trench systems.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered at targets inside the country and in North Viet Nam. Nineteen missions were flown over North Viet Nam yesterday. Among the targets was the Ron Naval Base, 25 miles north of Dong Hoi. Four buildings were reported destroyed and five damaged.

All planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

In Washington, the Defense Department reported that 56 U.S. servicemen were killed and 220 wounded in the Viet Nam war during the week that ended last Monday.

This was considerably more than the 23 dead and 114 wounded reported by U.S. military authorities in Saigon for almost the same period—the week ending last Saturday.

Asked to explain the discrepancy, U.S. officials in Saigon said part of it stemmed from the different reporting periods and from decisions in Washington to list as dead men previously listed as missing.

Aluminum Prices Increase Despite White House Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — Aluminum Co. of America, the nation's No. 1 domestic aluminum producer, today boosted prices. The action came despite hat has been interpreted as opposition from President Johnson's administration.

Alcoa's price move follows a week of controversy between the Johnson administration and the aluminum industry which began when Olin Mathieson Corp raised prices last week.

The administration has called meetings in Washington to review the price actions. The Alcoa increase is somewhat lower than the increase by Olin Mathieson and other smaller aluminum producers.

Alcoa said the increases were needed to achieve a level of earnings adequate to finance a plant expansion program, spon-

Guard Station Given Reprieve

The Coast Guard lifeboat station at Point Reyes will remain open, even though no one has protested announced plans to close it.

Rear Adm. C. C. Knapp, commander of the 12th Coast Guard District, said today he had reconsidered the need for the station, with four men and a boat, below the Point Reyes Lighthouse, and the men will not be transferred to San Francisco and Bodega as planned. The station was to be closed today.

In 1958 the Coast Guard made a similar announcement it would close the station, and at that time about 20 persons from Marin and Sonoma counties protested. Soon after the Coast Guard opened a new station at Bodega Bay, but kept the Point Reyes station also.

Pro-Nazis Demote Aide As Jewish

NEW YORK (AP) — A top officer of a pro-Nazi, antisemitic group, the National Renaissance party, today as reported stripped of his title after it was disclosed that his father was Jewish.

The New York Times said party leaders, meeting in a one-room apartment in Manhattan, voted Thursday night to oust Robert J. Burros, 27, a tall, blond man, as national secretary.

The action came following disclosure last Sunday by the Middletown (N.Y.) Times Herald Record that Burros' father, now deceased, was Jewish, and that the son had a bar mitzvah in Newburgh, N.Y., on Jan. 26, 1951.

That is the ritual symbolizing entering Jewish manhood.

Despite the similarity of names and circumstances, Robert Burros apparently is not related to Daniel Burros, the Ku Klux Klan leader who committed suicide last Sunday after a New York Times story detailed his Jewish background.

The party meeting here, the Times said, voted not to expel Robert Burros from the party, and to allow him to retain his post as chairman in Orange County, but to remove him as the national secretary.

Frouge Pledges County To Control Marincello

Thomas Frouge declared today that he has no intention of pushing for incorporation of Marincello, often referred to as a "planned city."

Moreover, said Frouge in a telegram to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, he will oppose any attempt at incorporation, preferring to keep the community under control of the county.

Opponents of Marincello have raised the possibility that the "city" would be incorporated as soon as it had sufficient residents, thus escaping county control. As an incorporated city, it could then scrap any county-approved master plan.

Plans for the "city" of 20,000 will come before Marin supervisors in a second hearing beginning at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Civic Center. The planning commission has approved the community with a density of 3.5 families. Frouge Corp. orriginally sought 5.9 density.

In his telegram to supervisors, developer Frouge said:

"I understand opponents of Marincello claim that upon approval of the master plan by your board we would, when 500 people live in Marincello, try to incorporate so as to avoid county jurisdiction and increase the density.

"I want you to know that I have no plans to incorporate Marincello, and I would prefer that the community not be incorporate Marincello, and I would prefer that the community not be incorporated and that it remain under county supervision so as to insure the development of the property under the master plan as we have presented it.

"I am willing to enter into any agreement with the county that the Frouge Corporation will not participate in any incorporation proceedings and will do everything in its power to prevent incorporation of Marincello."

Old Flag Bought On $15,000 Bid

LONDON (UPI — An old American flag earned more than $15,000 in foreign exchange for Britain today when an agent for New York distiller Edgar M. Bronfman bought a flag made in America in 1794, with 15 six-pointed stars.

The flag was auctioned at Sotheby's in downtown London by its former owner, Mrs. Barbara Soames, who is a descendant of George Calvert, the first Lord Baltimore.

The flag was made in 1794 when Kentucky and Vermont were admitted to the union.

De Gaulle Conceded A Sure Winner Over Divided Field

PARIS (AP) — The French presidential race was in effect over today, even before it officially starts, with President Charles de Gaulle generally conceded a sure victory.

The only suspense of the campaign was ended last night when De Gaulle announces he is willing to be re-elected.

At least five candidates will oppose De Gaulle. All have been campaigning vigorously for several weeks, but each admits privately that he has no hope of winning. Unofficial soundings have indicated that De Gaulle might get as much as 65 per cent of the total vote.

The only hope of the opposition candidates is to corral 50 per cent of the vote in the Dec. 5 election. Then there would be a runoff on Dec. 19 between the two top men. De Gaulle's ego might be bruised by failure to get a majority on the first round, but his victory on the second ballot probably would be certain.

The closing date for candidates to file is Nov. 16, and the campaign will not officially open until the next day. In addition to the six principal aspirants, several political unknowns have said they would file.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel says he voted for California's junior senator, George Murphy, but didn't campaign for him because Murphy refused to repudiate the John Birch Society.

Kuchel, taping a KNXT "Newsmakers" television interview yesterday for 6:30 p.m. tomorrow broadcast, said:

"I told George I would vote for him and I did vote for him. He said 'I'd like to have you campaign for me.' I said 'I'd be very glad to campaign for you but I want you first to repudiate publicly, George, the John Birch Society and the radical fight.'

"He said 'I can't do that.'

"At that time, the police department was investigating the libel against me, which included an employe of a firm here in Los Angeles, which was interested in part in Technicolor, where George was employed.

"I simply was inwardly so indignant against what a group of people had tried to do that I wanted to be sure that anyone that I helped win by campaigning for them would stand alongside of me and repudiate the group of people from which came some who were trying to destroy my character."

De Gaulle Conceded A Sure Winner Over Divided Field

PARIS (AP) — The French presidential race was in effect over today, even before it officially starts, with President Charles de Gaulle generally conceded a sure victory.

The only suspense of the campaign was ended last night when De Gaulle announces he is willing to be re-elected.

At least five candidates will oppose De Gaulle. All have been campaigning vigorously for several weeks, but each admits privately that he has no hope of winning. Unofficial soundings have indicated that De Gaulle might get as much as 65 per cent of the total vote.

The only hope of the opposition candidates is to corral 50 per cent of the vote in the Dec. 5 election. Then there would be a runoff on Dec. 19 between the two top men. De Gaulle's ego might be bruised by failure to get a majority on the first round, but his victory on the second ballot probably would be certain.

The closing date for candidates to file is Nov. 16, and the campaign will not officially open until the next day. In addition to the six principal aspirants, several political unknowns have said they would file.

De Gaulle apparently intends to run with no formal party backing, underlining his often-expressed contempt for the political parties which kept French political life so often in turmoil before De Gaulle came to power. Officials of the Gaullist Union for a New Republic have said they expect to have no part in the campaign as a party. But this will not prevent UNR members from making a maximum personal effort to get the vote out.

De Gaulle, finishing his first seven-year term and turning 75 on Nov. 22, looked hale and hearty, firm and vigorous in his brief television address announcing his decision.

He recalled that he had stepped in 25 years ago to speak for France after the Nazis overran the country. He said he returned to power in 1958 "to avoid civil war."

Now, he continued, "I believe I must hold myself ready to carry on my task, judging fully what an effort it will be, but convinced that presently it is the best way to serve France."

It will be France's first direct election of a president, and the first time that De Gaulle's name has appeared on a ballot presented to the general electorate.

In the past, French presidents have been chosen by an electoral college made up of members of Parliament, regional councilors and municipal councilors. This procedure was changed by a referendum sponsored by De Gaulle.

AFTER DEATH IN FIRE

Whites Give Negro Farmer New Home

RUTLEDGE, Ga. (AP) — "This showed us that white folks don't hate Negroes," said Lamar Thomas, a Negro tenant farmer, as tears of gratitude trickled down his face.

Nearly $2,000 and other gifts of clothes, furniture and food have poured in from over the nation to the Thomas family after fire destroyed their small frame home and took the life of a 4-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Thomas said today many of the donations came from white persons.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh," she said, of the gifts and of the death of little Vellson.

"If it were not for the fine Christian people who sent us all these things, I don't know what we would have done."

One week ago, Thomas and a white furniture salesman, Frank McRee of nearby Madison, Ga., were talking in a cotton field when the salesman saw the house in flames.

Thomas, ho is almost blind, cried, "Oh, my God, my children are in there."

McRee sprinted to the house, kicked in a window encased in flames, grabbed 10-month-old Lamar Jr., and tossed him out to Thomas.

McRee, blinded by smoke and flame, could not locate the other child. McRee leaped out the window when the roof began to fall. The little girl later was found dead under a bed.

At dusk, white neighbors found the Thomas family sitting on the ground near the rubble of their burned home. The neighbors found them a house nearby, rented it for them and started collecting furniture.

A story and pictures were carried by The Associated Press nationally. Soon, mail began to pour in for the Thomases.

The family now has running water in their home for the first time. They also now have a television set, a new stove and refrigerator and better clothes.

"We sure are going to have a better Thanksgiving this year than ever before, thanks to all those warm-hearted people," said Mrs. Thomas. "And don't you think we won't be thankful."

U.S. Doctors Save Walking Bomb; Cut Live Grenade From Back

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Working through a small hole in a wall of sandbags, two U.S. surgeons successfully removed a live grenade from a Vietnamese farmer's back today.

"It's in the box," Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. shouted as he released the grenade into a wooden case half filled with sand after pulling it from the back of frail, Nguyen Tran Chinh, 52.

Chinh became a walking explosive Sunday when a Viet Cong fired the 40mm grenade into his back. The missile 6 inches long and 2 inches wide lodged in his lower back beneath the 12th rib.

Humphreys, a chest surgeon from Richmond, Va., was assisted by another chest surgeon, Air Force Col. Daniel Campbell of Inlet Beach, Fla. A British anesthetist, Dr. Tony Brown, gave Chinh a local anesthetic. Brown is attached to the U.S. aid mission.

The doctors, who volunteered for the job, operated from behind a 10-foot-high stack of sandbags. They were about four feet away from the patient.

Inserting their instruments through an opening below a large pane of bulletproof glass, they made an incision with a scalpel attached to a 6-foot-long steel arm.

Then Humphreys picked out the grenade with a 6-foot pair of tweezers and placed it gently in the box of sand. It was about 2 feet from the wound to the box.

"If I had dropped it, the whole show would have been over," Humphreys said.

A U.S. Army demolition expert, Maj. Daniel Doty of Marina, Calif., carried the box to a sandbagged jeep. It was to be detonated outside Saigon.

The grenade can kill at five yards and cause serious injury far beyond that distance.

Chinh sat up and smiled as he was helped to a stretcher. Blood was running down his back from the long incision.

"Take him to the surgery and clean that up," Humphreys said, wiping the sweat from his face.

He described how it got there: "I was standing outside my house early in the morning when a man shouted through the darkness, 'hands up'.

"Just as I did so, he fired at me and I was thumped to the ground. My family took care of me until daylight, when I was taken to the district headquarters and brought into Saigon."

Chinh lives in Long An Province, about 30 miles south of Saigon.

The impact of the grenade did not break any bones, and after several days Chinh wanted to go home.

"But we couldn't allow that," Humphreys said. "The jolts of a taxi or even of his own walking could trigger that sensitive fuse on the grenade and he might blow up taking a dozen passersby with him."

Fire Protection Is Extended

Tiburon Fire District will have to provide fire protection to the old Naval Net Depot free, the district's commission learned last night.

A letter from the U.S. Department of the Interior said a contract signed between the department and the fire district is illegal. The U.S. controller general ruled the department may not pay for the service. Commissioners asked the district's attorney to study the ruling.

The commission also took under study a letter from the county board of supervisors urging that firemen throughout the county be paid the same salary rates.

AFTER DEATH IN FIRE

Whites Give Negro Farmer New Home

RUTLEDGE, Ga. (AP) — "This showed us that white folks don't hate Negroes," said Lamar Thomas, a Negro tenant farmer, as tears of gratitude trickled down his face.

Nearly $2,000 and other gifts of clothes, furniture and food have poured in from over the nation to the Thomas family after fire destroyed their small frame home and took the life of a 4-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Thomas said today many of the donations came from white persons.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh," she said, of the gifts and of the death of little Vellson.

"If it were not for the fine Christian people who sent us all these things, I don't know what we would have done."

One week ago, Thomas and a white furniture salesman, Frank McRee of nearby Madison, Ga., were talking in a cotton field when the salesman saw the house in flames.

Thomas, ho is almost blind, cried, "Oh, my God, my children are in there."

McRee sprinted to the house, kicked in a window encased in flames, grabbed 10-month-old Lamar Jr., and tossed him out to Thomas.

McRee, blinded by smoke and flame, could not locate the other child. McRee leaped out the window when the roof began to fall. The little girl later was found dead under a bed.

At dusk, white neighbors found the Thomas family sitting on the ground near the rubble of their burned home. The neighbors found them a house nearby, rented it for them and started collecting furniture.

A story and pictures were carried by The Associated Press nationally. Soon, mail began to pour in for the Thomases.

The family now has running water in their home for the first time. They also now have a television set, a new stove and refrigerator and better clothes.

"We sure are going to have a better Thanksgiving this year than ever before, thanks to all those warm-hearted people," said Mrs. Thomas. "And don't you think we won't be thankful."

"It's in the box," Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. shouted as he released the grenade into a wooden case half filled with sand after pulling it from the back of frail, Nguyen Tran Chinh, 52.

Chinh became a walking explosive Sunday when a Viet Cong fired the 40mm grenade into his back. The missile 6 inches long and 2 inches wide lodged in his lower back beneath the 12th rib.

Humphreys, a chest surgeon from Richmond, Va., was assisted by another chest surgeon, Air Force Col. Daniel Campbell of Inlet Beach, Fla. A British anesthetist, Dr. Tony Brown, gave Chinh a local anesthetic. Brown is attached to the U.S. aid mission.

The doctors, who volunteered for the job, operated from behind a 10-foot-high stack of sandbags. They were about four feet away from the patient.

Inserting their instruments through an opening below a large pane of bulletproof glass, they made an incision with a scalpel attached to a 6-foot-long steel arm.

Then Humphreys picked out the grenade with a 6-foot pair of tweezers and placed it gently in the box of sand. It was about 2 feet from the wound to the box.

"If I had dropped it, the whole show would have been over," Humphreys said.

A U.S. Army demolition expert, Maj. Daniel Doty of Marina, Calif., carried the box to a sandbagged jeep. It was to be detonated outside Saigon.

The grenade can kill at five yards and cause serious injury far beyond that distance.

Chinh sat up and smiled as he was helped to a stretcher. Blood was running down his back from the long incision.

"Take him to the surgery and clean that up," Humphreys said, wiping the sweat from his face.

He described how it got there: "I was standing outside my house early in the morning when a man shouted through the darkness, 'hands up'.

"Just as I did so, he fired at me and I was thumped to the ground. My family took care of me until daylight, when I was taken to the district headquarters and brought into Saigon."

Chinh lives in Long An Province, about 30 miles south of Saigon.

The impact of the grenade did not break any bones, and after several days Chinh wanted to go home.

"But we couldn't allow that," Humphreys said. "The jolts of a taxi or even of his own walking could trigger that sensitive fuse on the grenade and he might blow up taking a dozen passersby with him."

Fire Protection Is Extended

Tiburon Fire District will have to provide fire protection to the old Naval Net Depot free, the district's commission learned last night.

A letter from the U.S. Department of the Interior said a contract signed between the department and the fire district is illegal. The U.S. controller general ruled the department may not pay for the service. Commissioners asked the district's attorney to study the ruling.

The commission also took under study a letter from the county board of supervisors urging that firemen throughout the county be paid the same salary rates.

sor new product research and development, to attain an adequate return on its investment, and to compensate for increased labor costs.

The government has been trying to get aluminum producers to buy from the government stockpiles. Stockpile officials contended that if the aluminum market was strong enough to absorb a price boost it was sufficiently strong to absort more government surplus aluminum.

Government statutes governing the stockpile would slow down any dumping of the metal as a move to drive prices down. However, the huge government surplus of some 1.5-million tons in excess of mobilization requirements, still poses a potential threat to private industry prices.

Representatives of the producers and the government's stockpile salesmen have met four times since mid-September to work out a plan for disposal of the stockpiled metal.

In Washington, a General Services Administration spokesman said the agency had no comment on the Alcoa price action. GSA administers the stockpile program and would handle any sale of stockpiled aluminum. About 500,000 tons could be sold under presidential direction but the consent of Congress would be required to sell the remainder of the surplus.

Reynolds Metals Co. followed suit when it announced at Richmond it will raise prices of many of its fabricated products an average of about 1 cent a pound effective Nov. 8.

At Johnson City, Tex., the Texas White House withheld comment on the latest announced price increases. But it emphasized that administration efforts to sell off surplus aluminum began last January —long before the current round of price boosts began.

electric typewriter, frozen food and other articles were carried away in a Persian throw rug.

Sausalito police recovered the loot when he happened on four young men trying on suits in a vacant lot in Sausalito. Three of them escaped. Reynold Ashley Fitch, 18, of 116 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, was arrested on a burglary charge. He escaped from a bailiff at the county jail on Sept. 10 but was recaptured and has since been in jail awaiting trial.

Hullman was a native of Portland, Ore. He had lived in California for 21 years and in Marin for seven years.

He is survived by his father, Fred Hullman of Portland, and a brother, Ralph Hullman of Los Angeles.

Helicopter Firm Moves For Lack Of Facilities

Poor facilities at Marin County Airport were blamed today for move of American Helicopters from Marin to Sonoma County.

American has been operating from a landing pad at the Lodge, north of Novato. Within the past few days, it has moved its entire operation to Schellville.

Gerald Thomas, general manager of the helicopter firm, said the move was forced on the company because it could not get facilities necessary at the Marin County airport near Novato.

"We have far better facilities there," Thomas said. Repair shops, hangars and various other things necessary for the operation are available at the Schellville airport, he said.

"Sure we would move back to Marin County," Thomas answered when asked if he would consider moving back to Marin County if the county airport were brought up to the standards of the Schellville port.

College Students Request Cigarette Sale On Campus

College of Marin students, tired of having to walk off campus each time they want to buy a package of cigarettes, will petition the college board to have the weeds sold in the new campus center.

The student campus center committee and executive council have adopted a resolution asking for "controlled sale of cigarettes in the new college center."

Just over a year ago, the board ordered a cigarette machine removed from the college cafeteria, citing the number of students under 18 years old on campus and saying sale of cigarettes was not in keeping with the college's health education program.

Donna Ryan, chairman of the campus center committee which drew up the resolution, said that with restrictions and over-the-counter sales of the cigarettes, the chance of illegal purchase by under-age students would be eliminated.

The resolution was passed by the council Oct. 28, and announced today in the student newspaper, the Tower Times. The students are not certain when the request will be submitted to the board.

Manager Killed At Apartments

Three packages of marijuana lay beside the crumpled body of Othello Saulsbury, 28, at the foot of a 20 foot stairway.

"We had a beef," his 23-year-old wife, Jessie, said as she was arrested. She did not elaborate.

Saulsbury was shot through the chest with a .38-caliber bullet. Another had ripped the lapel of his sports jacket.

Police said Saulsbury had a record of petty theft and non-support.

Man Is Found Hurt At Steps

A 49-year-old San Rafael man was in critical condition in San Rafael General Hospital today with a skull fracture after police had found him lying at the foot of steps at 18 G Street last night.

John C. Malik of the Travelers Hotel was found with multiple bruises and blood coming from an ear, said Police Patrolman S. W. Hool.

The occupant of the house, Robert R. Curray, told police he heard what sounded like a man falling down the steps.

Marin Guide Plant Pickets Limited

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court today limited Oakland Mailers Union 18 to two pickets at the struck Marin Guide plant, pending hearing on a show cause order.

Judge Gardiner set the hearing for 2 p.m. next Wednesday for the union to show cause why it should not be temporarily enjoined from picketing Marin Guide premises in Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley and interfering with the publishing business. Harry Johnson, Marin Guide publisher, asked the anti-picketing injunction in a suit filed yesterday against the union. (See story on page 38).

Condition Still Poor

Peter L. Goldstein, 31, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, remained in poor condition at Marin General Hospital today with injuries he suffered in an auto accident Oct. 19 on the Waldo Grade.

Petty Theft Ring Broken With Arrests

An alleged large-scale burglary and petty theft ring, neatly organized by a 16-year-old Santa Venetia youth, was believed broken yesterday with arrest by sheriff's officers of the boy and two 13-year-old companions.

William Johansen, juvenile deputy, said the arrests clear 22 burglaries and 23 petty theft cases, all in Santa Venetia during the past five weeks.

All crimes, he said, involved search for either money or alcoholic beverages. The three boys were put in Marin County Juvenile Hall on charges of burglary.

Johansen said the oldest youth, who moved from Pacifica to Santa Venetia with his family five weeks ago, organized the other two into an efficient gang to enter residences by prying windows.

Johansen said they would first find unlighted residences between 7 and 10 p.m., then ring doorbells and check garages for cars as double assurance that no one was home.

He said the arrests also solved burglaries of Tweedie's General Store at 290 North San Pedro Road, Littleman's Market, McPhail School and Gallinas School, all in Santa Venetia.

Johansen said "three or four" more arrests, including two adults, might follow for investigation of receiving stolen goods. He estimated over $500 total worth of alcoholic beverages and money was taken.

San Rafael Suspect Held In Burglary

William Patrick Maloney, 24, was in county jail today on a complaint charging possession of goods stolen in a burglary last February of the home of Kermit H. Fisher, 635 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia. Bail was $1,100.

Maloney, of 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was arrested at home by Sheriff's Inspectors Guido V. Battaglia and Kenneth Irving late yesterday after securing a Marin Superior Court search warrant for Maloney's residence.

The officers said they recovered three of four beer steins, sterling silver worth $375, a $50 tapestry, and furniture. All had been stolen from Fisher's residence between Feb. 20 and Feb. 22, according to the report.

Loot also taken in the break-in, via a rear bedroom window, included a $650 stereophonic set, and a $250 television set, none of which had been recovered today. Inspector Battaglia said whereabouts of the recovered loot was learned through an informant.

The burglary was discovered by Fisher's brother-in-law, W. R. Frazier, 625 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, while the Fishers were on vacation.

GOP's Bliss Hits Radical Factions

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss called on all Republicans today to repudiate far-right radical groups and and blasted the Democrats for not rejecting radicals on the left.

"It is quite obvious to me that the radical left is attempting to throw a smoke-screen around its own activities by slanderously charging all conservatives with extremist views," Bliss said in a statement prepared for a Republican Western states conference.

Johnson To Hold Off On Filling Cabinet Job

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson disclosed today he does not plan to name a secretary for the new Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Affairs until early next year.

Although the department will automatically come into existence at 12:01 a.m. next Tuesday, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson has decided to await further studies by a special task force — which probably won't report before Christmas — before really organizing the department.

By EMIL R. SVEILIS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Imagine adding one ounce of chocolate syrup to 10 million gallons of milk.

If the syrup were DDT, and the milk were ocean water, blue crabs would die from the chemical within eight days.

That statistic on the potency of DDT and the hazard it possesses for years to animal life emerges from an annual review on poisonous pesticides just issued by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Interior Department.

It makes other revelations. One is that penguins and seals in Antarctica, which spend their entire lives in that region and feed on only non-migrating crabs and fish, have taken DDT into their systems.

The report says that as much as 152 parts of DDT per billion were found in the penguins and almost 40 parts per billion in seals.

Asked how it was possible for DDT to contaminate the subcontinent's wildlife population, a department spokesman said that "DDT is a stable compound with a positive effect for long periods of time." He said it could be carried by wind or be transferred by living organisms. "The other possibility," he said, "could be that pesticides were used in South America and drifted in the ocean to the Antarctic."

The report said the pesticide kills animal life in two ways—immediate death from an overdose and through accumulation of pesticides over a considerable period which causes death when the animal is under stress.

A case of immediate death was found in Virginia. Soon after some homeowners used chemicals in their gardens for beetle control more than 90 birds were found dead. The Interior Department spokesman said the birds "died directly from an acute overdose of pesticides."

The report told how a chronic accumulation also caused death.

In an experiment, some birds were exposed to pesticides but in quantities too small to kill. They were housed in a common cage. Over a period of time, the poison was accumulated in their fat.

Then, for three weeks, the birds were put into individuel cages for about 40 minutes, then returned to a common cage. Later, during the experiment, they were fed only clean food but were moved from cage to cage several times.

"Death followed the disturbance of moving as long as 28 days after the removal of the diet containing DDT," the report said, adding that the excitement of moving caused them to burn up excess fat which contained the DDT.

As to aquatic life, the report said that just a mere trace of pesticides is enough to kill.

"One part of DDT in one billion parts of water was found to kill three blue crabs in eight," it said. To show the minute amount, it said the relationship was about one ounce of chocolate syrup—in 10 million gallons of milk.

Asked what was being done about the harmful effects of pesticides on fish and wildlife, a spokesman said both government and private concerns are moving "in the right direction."

He said "DDT is graduually being eliminated from use. New chemicals, like organophosphates and carbamates, which have a much shorter breakdown period, are being put into use."

The new chemicals he said, are only poisonous to fish and wildlife for two or three days, while DDT can last anywhere from 10 to 20 years.

Patrol System Meeting Slated

A 7 p.m. meeting today at the sheriff's sub-station at Marin City was scheduled to institute a new county patrol system which would speed other patrol units to that area in case of trouble.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said purpose is to enable additional sheriff's cars to respond, rather than have to draw from Sausalito or Mill Valley police.

He emphasized, however, that a mutual aid agreement between his office and municipal police departments will continue in effect.

Tiny Child Declared A Multimillionaire

Supreme Court Judge J. Gilbert Prendergast ruled yesterday that Irene, the daughter of the late Richard J. Reynolds Jr., should share in an $11 million trust set up 23 years ago for his children. Reynolds was the heir to the tobacco fortune. He died in Switzerland on Dec. 14, two days before Irene was born.

Bandit Imprisons Prey In Freezer

SANTA CRUZ (AP)—A gunman wearing a Halloween mask robbed a market of $1,200 in in cash and $4,500 checks last night and left the manager locked in the meat freezer.

Mgr. Charles Murray kicked his way out of the freezer, where the temperature was reported 20 below, although the gunman had wired the door shut.

sor new product research and development, to attain an adequate return on its investment, and to compensate for increased labor costs.

The government has been trying to get aluminum producers to buy from the government stockpiles. Stockpile officials contended that if the aluminum market was strong enough to absorb a price boost it was sufficiently strong to absort more government surplus aluminum.

Government statutes governing the stockpile would slow down any dumping of the metal as a move to drive prices down. However, the huge government surplus of some 1.5-million tons in excess of mobilization requirements, still poses a potential threat to private industry prices.

Representatives of the producers and the government's stockpile salesmen have met four times since mid-September to work out a plan for disposal of the stockpiled metal.

In Washington, a General Services Administration spokesman said the agency had no comment on the Alcoa price action. GSA administers the stockpile program and would handle any sale of stockpiled aluminum. About 500,000 tons could be sold under presidential direction but the consent of Congress would be required to sell the remainder of the surplus.

Reynolds Metals Co. followed suit when it announced at Richmond it will raise prices of many of its fabricated products an average of about 1 cent a pound effective Nov. 8.

At Johnson City, Tex., the Texas White House withheld comment on the latest announced price increases. But it emphasized that administration efforts to sell off surplus aluminum began last January —long before the current round of price boosts began.

electric typewriter, frozen food and other articles were carried away in a Persian throw rug.

Sausalito police recovered the loot when he happened on four young men trying on suits in a vacant lot in Sausalito. Three of them escaped. Reynold Ashley Fitch, 18, of 116 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, was arrested on a burglary charge. He escaped from a bailiff at the county jail on Sept. 10 but was recaptured and has since been in jail awaiting trial.

Hullman was a native of Portland, Ore. He had lived in California for 21 years and in Marin for seven years.

He is survived by his father, Fred Hullman of Portland, and a brother, Ralph Hullman of Los Angeles.

Helicopter Firm Moves For Lack Of Facilities

Poor facilities at Marin County Airport were blamed today for move of American Helicopters from Marin to Sonoma County.

American has been operating from a landing pad at the Lodge, north of Novato. Within the past few days, it has moved its entire operation to Schellville.

Gerald Thomas, general manager of the helicopter firm, said the move was forced on the company because it could not get facilities necessary at the Marin County airport near Novato.

"We have far better facilities there," Thomas said. Repair shops, hangars and various other things necessary for the operation are available at the Schellville airport, he said.

"Sure we would move back to Marin County," Thomas answered when asked if he would consider moving back to Marin County if the county airport were brought up to the standards of the Schellville port.

College Students Request Cigarette Sale On Campus

College of Marin students, tired of having to walk off campus each time they want to buy a package of cigarettes, will petition the college board to have the weeds sold in the new campus center.

The student campus center committee and executive council have adopted a resolution asking for "controlled sale of cigarettes in the new college center."

Just over a year ago, the board ordered a cigarette machine removed from the college cafeteria, citing the number of students under 18 years old on campus and saying sale of cigarettes was not in keeping with the college's health education program.

Donna Ryan, chairman of the campus center committee which drew up the resolution, said that with restrictions and over-the-counter sales of the cigarettes, the chance of illegal purchase by under-age students would be eliminated.

The resolution was passed by the council Oct. 28, and announced today in the student newspaper, the Tower Times. The students are not certain when the request will be submitted to the board.

Manager Killed At Apartments

Three packages of marijuana lay beside the crumpled body of Othello Saulsbury, 28, at the foot of a 20 foot stairway.

"We had a beef," his 23-year-old wife, Jessie, said as she was arrested. She did not elaborate.

Saulsbury was shot through the chest with a .38-caliber bullet. Another had ripped the lapel of his sports jacket.

Police said Saulsbury had a record of petty theft and non-support.

Man Is Found Hurt At Steps

A 49-year-old San Rafael man was in critical condition in San Rafael General Hospital today with a skull fracture after police had found him lying at the foot of steps at 18 G Street last night.

John C. Malik of the Travelers Hotel was found with multiple bruises and blood coming from an ear, said Police Patrolman S. W. Hool.

The occupant of the house, Robert R. Curray, told police he heard what sounded like a man falling down the steps.

Marin Guide Plant Pickets Limited

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court today limited Oakland Mailers Union 18 to two pickets at the struck Marin Guide plant, pending hearing on a show cause order.

Judge Gardiner set the hearing for 2 p.m. next Wednesday for the union to show cause why it should not be temporarily enjoined from picketing Marin Guide premises in Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley and interfering with the publishing business. Harry Johnson, Marin Guide publisher, asked the anti-picketing injunction in a suit filed yesterday against the union. (See story on page 38).

Condition Still Poor

Peter L. Goldstein, 31, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, remained in poor condition at Marin General Hospital today with injuries he suffered in an auto accident Oct. 19 on the Waldo Grade.

Petty Theft Ring Broken With Arrests

An alleged large-scale burglary and petty theft ring, neatly organized by a 16-year-old Santa Venetia youth, was believed broken yesterday with arrest by sheriff's officers of the boy and two 13-year-old companions.

William Johansen, juvenile deputy, said the arrests clear 22 burglaries and 23 petty theft cases, all in Santa Venetia during the past five weeks.

All crimes, he said, involved search for either money or alcoholic beverages. The three boys were put in Marin County Juvenile Hall on charges of burglary.

Johansen said the oldest youth, who moved from Pacifica to Santa Venetia with his family five weeks ago, organized the other two into an efficient gang to enter residences by prying windows.

Johansen said they would first find unlighted residences between 7 and 10 p.m., then ring doorbells and check garages for cars as double assurance that no one was home.

He said the arrests also solved burglaries of Tweedie's General Store at 290 North San Pedro Road, Littleman's Market, McPhail School and Gallinas School, all in Santa Venetia.

Johansen said "three or four" more arrests, including two adults, might follow for investigation of receiving stolen goods. He estimated over $500 total worth of alcoholic beverages and money was taken.

San Rafael Suspect Held In Burglary

William Patrick Maloney, 24, was in county jail today on a complaint charging possession of goods stolen in a burglary last February of the home of Kermit H. Fisher, 635 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia. Bail was $1,100.

Maloney, of 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was arrested at home by Sheriff's Inspectors Guido V. Battaglia and Kenneth Irving late yesterday after securing a Marin Superior Court search warrant for Maloney's residence.

The officers said they recovered three of four beer steins, sterling silver worth $375, a $50 tapestry, and furniture. All had been stolen from Fisher's residence between Feb. 20 and Feb. 22, according to the report.

Loot also taken in the break-in, via a rear bedroom window, included a $650 stereophonic set, and a $250 television set, none of which had been recovered today. Inspector Battaglia said whereabouts of the recovered loot was learned through an informant.

The burglary was discovered by Fisher's brother-in-law, W. R. Frazier, 625 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, while the Fishers were on vacation.

GOP's Bliss Hits Radical Factions

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss called on all Republicans today to repudiate far-right radical groups and and blasted the Democrats for not rejecting radicals on the left.

"It is quite obvious to me that the radical left is attempting to throw a smoke-screen around its own activities by slanderously charging all conservatives with extremist views," Bliss said in a statement prepared for a Republican Western states conference.

Bliss was here to address the conference on the results of Tuesday's elections.

Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Anselmo was unopposed for delegate to California Medical Assn. The post of alternate delegate went to Dr. Joseph J. Alderson of Terra Linda.

Dr. Robert L. Mills of Ross, this year's president-elect, will take over the society's top post in January.

VFW Post Backs Policy On Viet Nam

"Operation Boost," a nationwide project sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars as a counter-measure to demonstrations against United States participation in the Viet Nam war was given full support last night by Muir Woods Post 6741, Mill Valley.

William J. Gannon, post commander, said member are urging citizens to take part in patriotic demonstrations, parades and public meetings and to stop what they are doing at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Veterans Day, and offer silent prayer for American soldiers now fighting in Viet Nam.

Gannon reported that the post will participate in wreath-laying ceremonies at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, with American Legionnaires of Mill Valley Post 284 at the rock in front of City Hall.

Johnson To Hold Off On Filling Cabinet Job

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson disclosed today he does not plan to name a secretary for the new Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Affairs until early next year.

Although the department will automatically come into existence at 12:01 a.m. next Tuesday, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson has decided to await further studies by a special task force — which probably won't report before Christmas — before really organizing the department.

By EMIL R. SVEILIS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Imagine adding one ounce of chocolate syrup to 10 million gallons of milk.

If the syrup were DDT, and the milk were ocean water, blue crabs would die from the chemical within eight days.

That statistic on the potency of DDT and the hazard it possesses for years to animal life emerges from an annual review on poisonous pesticides just issued by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Interior Department.

It makes other revelations. One is that penguins and seals in Antarctica, which spend their entire lives in that region and feed on only non-migrating crabs and fish, have taken DDT into their systems.

The report says that as much as 152 parts of DDT per billion were found in the penguins and almost 40 parts per billion in seals.

Asked how it was possible for DDT to contaminate the subcontinent's wildlife population, a department spokesman said that "DDT is a stable compound with a positive effect for long periods of time." He said it could be carried by wind or be transferred by living organisms. "The other possibility," he said, "could be that pesticides were used in South America and drifted in the ocean to the Antarctic."

The report said the pesticide kills animal life in two ways—immediate death from an overdose and through accumulation of pesticides over a considerable period which causes death when the animal is under stress.

A case of immediate death was found in Virginia. Soon after some homeowners used chemicals in their gardens for beetle control more than 90 birds were found dead. The Interior Department spokesman said the birds "died directly from an acute overdose of pesticides."

The report told how a chronic accumulation also caused death.

In an experiment, some birds were exposed to pesticides but in quantities too small to kill. They were housed in a common cage. Over a period of time, the poison was accumulated in their fat.

Then, for three weeks, the birds were put into individuel cages for about 40 minutes, then returned to a common cage. Later, during the experiment, they were fed only clean food but were moved from cage to cage several times.

"Death followed the disturbance of moving as long as 28 days after the removal of the diet containing DDT," the report said, adding that the excitement of moving caused them to burn up excess fat which contained the DDT.

As to aquatic life, the report said that just a mere trace of pesticides is enough to kill.

"One part of DDT in one billion parts of water was found to kill three blue crabs in eight," it said. To show the minute amount, it said the relationship was about one ounce of chocolate syrup—in 10 million gallons of milk.

Asked what was being done about the harmful effects of pesticides on fish and wildlife, a spokesman said both government and private concerns are moving "in the right direction."

He said "DDT is graduually being eliminated from use. New chemicals, like organophosphates and carbamates, which have a much shorter breakdown period, are being put into use."

The new chemicals he said, are only poisonous to fish and wildlife for two or three days, while DDT can last anywhere from 10 to 20 years.

Patrol System Meeting Slated

A 7 p.m. meeting today at the sheriff's sub-station at Marin City was scheduled to institute a new county patrol system which would speed other patrol units to that area in case of trouble.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said purpose is to enable additional sheriff's cars to respond, rather than have to draw from Sausalito or Mill Valley police.

He emphasized, however, that a mutual aid agreement between his office and municipal police departments will continue in effect.

Rumors Say 'Tiger Lady' Dies In Fight

SAIGON (UPI)—Mme. Ho Thi Que, the famed "Tiger Lady" of the Mekong Delta was said to have been fatally wounded yesterday during a struggle with her husband, a major in the army, over possession of a gun.

It was reported that the couple was arguing over attentions the major was paying to another woman.

Mme. Que was a fighting woman who carried two .45-caliber automatic pistols strapped round her hips and wore a polished steel helmet emblazoned with tigers. She fought alongside troops of the 44th Vietnamese Ranger Battalion, a unit her husband commanded.

Mme. Que won a non-commissioned officer with the battalion and received several decorations for bravery under fire. She was 38, and the mother of six.

New Right-Wing Party Proposed

DENVER (UPI)— Colorado GOP national committeewoman Mrs. Fletcher Swan suggested yesterday that it might not be a bad idea for ultra-conservatives to form a third political party.

Mrs. Swan said such a move might be best for the Republican Party. She said she was referring to those persons who were so strongly conservative that they felt they could not identify themselves with the GOP.

"Unfortunately," Mrs. Swan said, "these people would rather lose than win with a liberal Republican candidate. This is the great problem within the party. We kill it over and over again, but it still crops up."

Yorty Sees Brown As A Loser Either Way

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says he wouldn't run on a ticket with Gov. Edmund G. Brown because "I don't think a ticket headed by Brown could win even if I ran with him."

The mayor's declaration was made yesterday after Brown disclosed Wednesday that a self-proclaimed Yorty emissary had consulted with him about Yorty's running for Lieutenant Governor in 1966.

Denying the report, Yorty said:

"Many Brown supporters are afraid he will lose, and have tried to get me to team up with him with the understanding that he would then get a federal appointment."

Brown said he turned down the proposal from a man who said he acted at the request of Deputy Mayor Joseph M. Quinn. Brown said he thinks Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson deserves support if he seeks re-election. Quinn also has denied sending an emissary.

Sentence was by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Cuban Refugee Boat Sinks; Only 9 Of 45 Reach Shore

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Eleven days ago, a band of Cubans set sail across the turbulent waters of the Yucatan Channel, determined to find freedom from the Communists who govern their country.

Forty-five refugees were aboard the fishing boat Jose Marti — named after the hero who led Cuba to independence from Spain—when it sailed Oct. 25.

Only nine reached the shore of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The Jose Marti almost made it across the narrow channel which separates the Gulf of Mexico from the Caribbean Sea. But off Contoy Island, in sight of the mainland, heavy seas rammed the 65-foot boat into a reef, and sent it to the bottom Tuesday.

Last night, the Marine Ministry announced in Mexico City that 36 of the refugees apparently drowned.

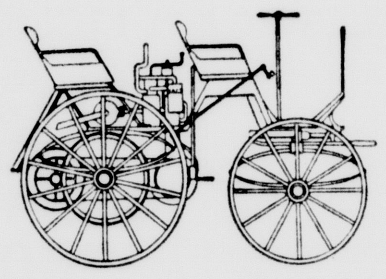
"It won't mush on curves at 70, won't swerve in a panic stop at 80, and won't give a fig if you run it all day at 90. The Mercedes-Benz—a most unflappable car."

Mercedes-Benz 230S takes a 65-mph bend at Lime Rock race track—no lurch, no lean. Clip coupon for full story.

Amazing things happen when engineers build a car to be the best—not the best seller. The Mercedes-Benz 230S hugs the road, doesn't wallow over bumps. Its body is a patented safety feature. Read on for more facts about this extraordinary motor car.

SURPRISINGLY few people today realize that the men who founded Mercedes-Benz invented the automobile. Gottlieb Daimler and Karl Benz ran gasoline-powered cars in 1886 (Henry Ford's amazing Model T was still 22 years off).



1886—the car that started it all.

Without market researchers or sales experts to guide them, Daimler and Benz simply went ahead building the best possible cars.

They did splendidly.

Today's Mercedes-Benz 230S also endures without fancy marketing plans or piles of sales research. Its destiny rests with engineers. A unique situation—producing a unique automobile. In fact, David E. Davis, Jr., Editor of Car and Driver has said,

"You could be blindfolded, spun around three times and dropped into a Mercedes-Benz, and when you sat down you'd know it was a Mercedes-Benz."

Differences you can feel

Fervent engineering research has earned Mercedes-Benz more than 5,200 patents. And bestows the 230S with differences you can feel. For example, all four wheels are independently sprung. Each wheel soaks up bumps and thumps individually—and smoothly.

"The wheels always remain stubbornly planted on the road," says one automotive journal. "Even the lumpiest surface can't budge them from their bulldog grip."

Goodbye guesswork

You aim a 230S down the road like a gun. The car goes precisely where you point it and stays where you put it—even in heavy gusts at 70 mph.

Tire kickers: check steering tightness, too. Bang the steering wheel of a 230S sharply with your fist. No wobble or shake. Then try the same trick on other cars. A revealing comparison.

Brakes you can trust

Normal pedal effort draws the 230S to a swift, even stop. Panic stops from 80 mph—over and over—won't faze its staunch front disc brakes (please don't try that on your present car!). There are, in fact, two braking systems. Front and rear brakes act separately. You actually have a spare braking system. It costs more to build a car this way—but Mercedes-Benz engineers will never sacrifice safety to save dollars.

The 230S is built in Germany where there is no highway speed limit—but there is a heavy tax on gasoline and engine size. You gain from an engine designed to suit these harsh performance and economy demands.

The 230S uses a 6-cylinder engine with a top speed of 109 mph. Hardly awesome in this age of 400-hp hot rods. But consider this: you could run the Mercedes-Benz 230S up to 90 mph, stay there, and cruise for weeks without strain (roads and speed laws permitting). And you would get almost twice as many miles-per-gallon as with most V8's.

Surprising sidelight: the 230S has a single overhead camshaft engine design, a feature on Mercedes-Benz cars since 1951. Detroit cars adopted it for the first time this year.

Squeak-proof body

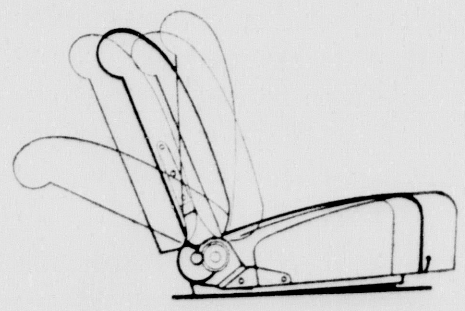
The common bolted-up body and frame construction dismays Mercedes-Benz engineers. Bolts can work loose to squeak and rattle. The body of the 230S is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 places. The whole car, with humane care, will be blithely rolling along when ordinary cars are on the junk heap.

Showroom visitors: run a hand along the body of a Mercedes-Benz. No "orange peel" texture. Seven enamel coats (applied by dipping, electrostatic spraying and lastly by hand spraying) make a flawless finish. It had better be. One of every 11 Mercedes-Benz factory workers is an inspector.

Designed for people

The 230S is a surpassingly comfortable car. For good reason: Mercedes-Benz has never been drawn into the "Annual Model Change" hurly-burly. The car is designed around its occupants—not shaped to a stylist's whim.

Bring your ruler: Measure your car's interior. Then measure a 230S. It's probably bigger. Despite far leaner outside dimensions, the 230S actually provides more interior space than many full-sized American cars.



Seat backs recline with the twist of a knob.

Orthopedic physicians helped Mercedes-Benz designers conquer driving fatigue. They found that a firm seat prevents muscle cramp and fatigue. And the seats in the 230S are erect. You don't feel like you're sitting in a box of marshmallows.

Not for snobs

Car lovers find the 230S exquisitely crafted. Snobs find it utterly disappointing. No burled walnut picnic tables. No espresso coffee makers. Such trivia add precious weight and cost. The efficiency-minded Mercedes-Benz engineers won't tolerate it.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $23,245 to $4,065

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 6 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models.

600 Grand Mercedes	$23,245
300SE Coupe	11,737
230SL Roadster	6,262
230S Sedan	4,900
200 Diesel Sedan	4,280
200 Sedan	4,065

Safety that's not buckled on

There is no "safety controversy" at Mercedes-Benz. Safety is built in. Item: the 230S body is a patented safety feature. Front and rear sections are designed to absorb the shock in case of hard collisions, folding to provide a "cushioning" effect. The passenger compartment remains intact.

Door locks are engineered to stay closed under the stiffest jolts. These are the same locks exactly that you will find on the $23,245 Grand Mercedes. Inside, even the steering wheel hub is padded. (Some styling experts say the Mercedes-Benz steering wheel is ugly. Safety engineers say it could save your life.)

Tiger Lady dead

Rumors Say 'Tiger Lady' Dies In Fight

SAIGON (UPI)—Mme. Ho Thi Que, the famed "Tiger Lady" of the Mekong Delta was said to have been fatally wounded yesterday during a struggle with her husband, a major in the army, over possession of a gun.

It was reported that the couple was arguing over attentions the major was paying to another woman.

Mme. Que was a fighting woman who carried two .45-caliber automatic pistols strapped round her hips and wore a polished steel helmet emblazoned with tigers. She fought alongside troops of the 44th Vietnamese Ranger Battalion, a unit her husband commanded.

Mme. Que won a non-commissioned officer with the battalion and received several decorations for bravery under fire. She was 38, and the mother of six.

New Right-Wing Party Proposed

DENVER (UPI)— Colorado GOP national committeewoman Mrs. Fletcher Swan suggested yesterday that it might not be a bad idea for ultra-conservatives to form a third political party.

Mrs. Swan said such a move might be best for the Republican Party. She said she was referring to those persons who were so strongly conservative that they felt they could not identify themselves with the GOP.

"Unfortunately," Mrs. Swan said, "these people would rather lose than win with a liberal Republican candidate. This is the great problem within the party. We kill it over and over again, but it still crops up."

Yorty Sees Brown As A Loser Either Way

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says he wouldn't run on a ticket with Gov. Edmund G. Brown because "I don't think a ticket headed by Brown could win even if I ran with him."

The mayor's declaration was made yesterday after Brown disclosed Wednesday that a self-proclaimed Yorty emissary had consulted with him about Yorty's running for Lieutenant Governor in 1966.

Denying the report, Yorty said:

"Many Brown supporters are afraid he will lose, and have tried to get me to team up with him with the understanding that he would then get a federal appointment."

Brown said he turned down the proposal from a man who said he acted at the request of Deputy Mayor Joseph M. Quinn. Brown said he thinks Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson deserves support if he seeks re-election. Quinn also has denied sending an emissary.

Queen Is Stricken

BRUSSELS (AP) — Dowager Queen Elisabeth, 89, of Belgium suffered a serious heart attack yesterday, the royal palace announced.

Novatan Given Probation Term

Raymond Harold Jennings, 18, was placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on his guilty plea Oct. 13 to molesting a 5-year-old girl in Novato.

Jennings, of 547 Entrada Drive, Novato, originally was charged with felony lewd and lascivious behavior in the April 26 incident. The reduced charge followed a preliminary hearing.

Sentence was by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Cuban Refugee Boat Sinks; Only 9 Of 45 Reach Shore

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Eleven days ago, a band of Cubans set sail across the turbulent waters of the Yucatan Channel, determined to find freedom from the Communists who govern their country.

Forty-five refugees were aboard the fishing boat Jose Marti — named after the hero who led Cuba to independence from Spain—when it sailed Oct. 25.

Only nine reached the shore of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The Jose Marti almost made it across the narrow channel which separates the Gulf of Mexico from the Caribbean Sea. But off Contoy Island, in sight of the mainland, heavy seas rammed the 65-foot boat into a reef, and sent it to the bottom Tuesday.

Last night, the Marine Ministry announced in Mexico City that 36 of the refugees apparently drowned.

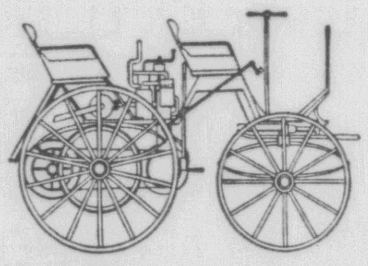
Indians Patriotic

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The National Congress of American Indians has passed without dissent a resolution expelling any member found to belong to any group listed by the U.S. attorney general as subversive.

"It won't mush on curves at 70, won't swerve in a panic stop at 80, and won't give a fig if you run it all day at 90. The Mercedes-Benz—a most unflappable car."

Amazing things happen when engineers build a car to be the best—not the best seller. The Mercedes-Benz 230S hugs the road, doesn't wallow over bumps. Its body is a patented safety feature. Read on for more facts about this extraordinary motor car.

SURPRISINGLY few people today realize that the men who founded Mercedes-Benz invented the automobile. Gottlieb Daimler and Karl Benz ran gasoline-powered cars in 1886 (Henry Ford's amazing Model T was still 22 years off).



1886—the car that started it all.

Without market researchers or sales experts to guide them, Daimler and Benz simply went ahead building the best possible cars.

They did splendidly.

Today's Mercedes-Benz 230S also endures without fancy marketing plans or piles of sales research. Its destiny rests with engineers. A unique situation—producing a unique automobile. In fact, David E. Davis, Jr., Editor of Car and Driver has said,

"You could be blindfolded, spun around three times and dropped into a Mercedes-Benz, and when you sat down you'd know it was a Mercedes-Benz."

Differences you can feel

Fervent engineering research has earned Mercedes-Benz more than 5,200 patents. And bestows the 230S with differences you can feel. For example, all four wheels are independently sprung. Each wheel soaks up bumps and thumps individually—and smoothly.

"The wheels always remain stubbornly planted on the road," says one automotive journal. "Even the lumpiest surface can't budge them from their bulldog grip."

Goodbye guesswork

You aim a 230S down the road like a gun. The car goes precisely where you point it and stays where you put it—even in heavy gusts at 70 mph.

Tire kickers: check steering tightness, too. Bang the steering wheel of a 230S sharply with your fist. No wobble or shake. Then try the same trick on other cars. A revealing comparison.

Brakes you can trust

Normal pedal effort draws the 230S to a swift, even stop. Panic stops from 80 mph—over and over—won't faze its staunch front disc brakes (please don't try that on your present car!). There are, in fact, two braking systems. Front and rear brakes act separately. You actually have a spare braking system. It costs more to build a car this way—but Mercedes-Benz engineers will never sacrifice safety to save dollars.

The 230S is built in Germany where there is no highway speed limit—but there is a heavy tax on gasoline and engine size. You gain from an engine designed to suit these harsh performance and economy demands.

Mercedes-Benz 230S takes a 65-mph bend at Lime Rock race track—no lurch, no lean. Clip coupon for full story.

The 230S uses a 6-cylinder engine with a top speed of 109 mph. Hardly awesome in this age of 400-hp hot rods. But consider this: you could run the Mercedes-Benz 230S up to 90 mph, stay there, and cruise for weeks without strain (roads and speed laws permitting). And you would get almost twice as many miles-per-gallon as with most V8's.

Surprising sidelight: the 230S has a single overhead camshaft engine design, a feature on Mercedes-Benz cars since 1951. Detroit cars adopted it for the first time this year.

Squeak-proof body

The common bolted-up body and frame construction dismays Mercedes-Benz engineers. Bolts can work loose to squeak and rattle. The body of the 230S is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 places. The whole car, with humane care, will be blithely rolling along when ordinary cars are on the junk heap.

Showroom visitors: run a hand along the body of a Mercedes-Benz. No "orange peel" texture. Seven enamel coats (applied by dipping, electrostatic spraying and lastly by hand spraying) make a flawless finish. It had better be. One of every 11 Mercedes-Benz factory workers is an inspector.

Designed for people

The 230S is a surpassingly comfortable car. For good reason: Mercedes-Benz has never been drawn into the "Annual Model Change" hurly-burly. The car is designed around its occupants—not shaped to a stylist's whim.

Bring your ruler: Measure your car's interior. Then measure a 230S. It's probably bigger. Despite far leaner outside dimensions, the 230S actually provides more interior space than many full-sized American cars.

Orthopedic physicians helped Mercedes-Benz designers conquer driving fatigue. They found that a firm seat prevents muscle cramp and fatigue. And the seats in the 230S are erect. You don't feel like you're sitting in a box of marshmallows.

Not for snobs

Car lovers find the 230S exquisitely crafted. Snobs find it utterly disappointing. No burled walnut picnic tables. No espresso coffee makers. Such trivia add precious weight and cost. The efficiency-minded Mercedes-Benz engineers won't tolerate it.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $23,245 to $4,065

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 6 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models.

600 Grand Mercedes	$23,245
300SE Coupe	11,737
230SL Roadster	6,262
230S Sedan	4,900
200 Diesel Sedan	4,280
200 Sedan	4,065

Safety that's not buckled on

There is no "safety controversy" at Mercedes-Benz. Safety is built in. Item: the 230S body is a patented safety feature. Front and rear sections are designed to absorb the shock in case of hard collisions, folding to provide a "cushioning" effect. The passenger compartment remains intact.

Door locks are engineered to stay closed under the stiffest jolts. These are the same locks exactly that you will find on the $23,245 Grand Mercedes. Inside, even the steering wheel hub is padded. (Some styling experts say the Mercedes-Benz steering wheel is ugly. Safety engineers say it could save your life.)

MUTE KLANSMEN MAY FACE COURT

Probers Say Leaders' Refusal To Produce Subpoenaed Records May Bring Jail Terms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It may take a while, but congressmen investigating the Ku Klux Klan are confident that uncooperative Klansmen eventually will wind up behind bars.

"They're all going to jail," is the way one member of the House Committee on UN-American Activities put it.

So far, more than 35 Klansmen, ranging from Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton Jr. to rank and filers, have put in an appearance before the committee during its three weeks of public hearings on the "invisible empire."

But all of them — with the single exception of a North Carolina Klan official who resigned on the witness stand — have refused to supply the committee with anything other than their names.

One after the other, some with great difficulty, the kleagles, kludds, klokards and the like have read out prepared statements citing the fifth and other Constitutional Amendments as their reason for refusing to answer. In addition, Klan officers, which almost all of them are, have declined to turn over to the committee the secret society's records as ordered by subpoena. This latter action could mean jail.

Committee members point out that the Klansmen are well within their rights to cite the fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination when it comes to not answering questions.

But they say the fifth does not protect the reluctant witnesses from being cited for contempt of Congress for failure to produce the subpoenaed records.

The committee's confidence that the courts will sustain the contempt of Congress citations is based on a 1960 Supreme Court decision. In that case, the high court declared that an official of an organization cannot rely on the fifth to refuse to supply records he holds in his official capacity.

Bicycle Path On Club List

Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club members agreed last night to investigate bicycle path development in the valley following a report that two children had been hit recently while cycling.

A committee was formed, said president Joe Allen, to develop such paths with emphasis on a path first on Marin Avenue between Pine Street and Richardson Way.

Final purchase of the club's new site in Tennessee Valley is expected to be completed shortly, Allen told the 50 persons in the audience.

Water tests have proved water on the property is potable, but final tests showing mineral contents have not been received.

The members voted unanimously to change the date for directors to enter office from June to March so the new board does not start business immediately with the annual "Rhubarb Revue."

Bay Commission Must Get Staff

Joseph Bodovitz of Mill Valley, executive director of the newly formed San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, told members of the Bay Area chapter of the American Society of Public Administrators last night that the commission's biggest problem now is getting together a staff.

Bodovitz, introduced by county Administrator Alan Bruce, spoke to 75 society members and their guests at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito.

Leftist Leader Sent Abroad By Indonesia

JAKARTA (UPI) — Foreign Minister Subandrio will be sent on an extended tour abroad as part of the continuing drive against Communist influences in Indonesia, informed sources said today.

The sources said the move will amount to temporary exile for the pro-Communist Foreign Minister, considered the architect of Indonesia's policy of alignment with Red China.

The army has been cracking down on Communists in Indonesia since the failure early last month of an anti-government coup backed by the country's Reds.

Radio Jakarta today quoted Subandrio as saying that Indonesia's campaign against Malaysia will continue although he claimed Indonesia has no territorial ambitions on Borneo. Both countries share the island.

Meanwhile, the armed forces issued an official denial of reports that troops were being withdrawn from the Borneo frontier to cope with rebel elements in central Java.

Guards Taken Out Of Search

San Quentin Prison has withdrawn the 25 guards sent in a vail attempt Tuesday to flush out two escapees from Vacaville Medical Facility believed hiding on a small rugged peninsula jutting into Lake Berryessa.

The men were sent to relieve Vacaville guards who had been working 18 hours.

Napa County sheriff's officers today closed off the peninsula in an attempt to starve out the two men, Charles L. Gove, 40, sentenced from San Francisco, and Ralph D. Owen, 24, of Carmichael. Officers said they believed the men were still on the peninsula.

A Vacaville parolee reported seeing the two men in a Vallejo shopping center, but that report could not be substantiated.

Doctors Told To Make Most Of Medicare

The Medicare Act may not be exactly what the doctor ordered, but Marin physicians were told last night they must make the most of it.

In semi-medical terms: The patient is already dead, but there is every indication the impending operation will be a success.

"We fought as much as we could to save the ship," said Dr. Carl Anderson, chairman of the council of the California Medical Assn. "It has been lost and now we have to do something to help the situation the best we can."

Speaking at a meeting of Marin Medical Society, Dr. Anderson referred briefly to the relationship between physicians and government agencies, at local, state and federal levels.

"We must recognize that these elected representatives and appointed officers are direct representatives of the American people. They speak, whether we like it or not, with the voice of the American public generally.

"Our job now," he went on, "is to advise as much as we can and try to guide the government along the way we feel is best for the profession and the American public."

Dr. Anderson, of Santa Rosa, said the American Medical Assn. had fought Medicare from the beginning because it was felt the type of financing involved was "inappropriate and bad for medicine."

However, when it was obvious the bill would go through, a great degree of co-operation was displayed between the doctors and the administrative departments, he said.

One question which arose was how insurance carriers would decide what was the most reasonable fee for the service of a doctor.

"It is still a great big question mark," Anderson declared. "We are going to fight a fee schedule as much as we can."

He considered the State Medicare act, passed yesterday, had not the same degree of medical advice given it by physicians as the federal act.

The California Medical Assn., he added, has asked the AMA to negotiate for setting up similar medical advisory committees.

There was a greater potential for the expansion of government control of the medical profession at state level than federal, he said.

Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-First District) was also a speaker at the dinner meeting at the Meadow Club, above Fairfax.

He warned the doctors they should watch the administration of Medicare legislation carefully.

"The real test of the program will come in the future but you must maintain an eternal vigilance. You must become involved," he said.

"If you don't, ti will be of little use to come crying to us if some groups in the legislature do something you dislike."

Stolen Auto Found In Hub

San Anselmo police yesterday found a 1962 Oldsmobile sedan, reported stolen last month in San Francisco, in the parking area across from the Safeway Store on San Anselmo Avenue.

Chief Raymond R. Buchignani reported the car, belonging to Irvine V. Sicotte of San Francisco, was in good condition.

Dixie, San Rafael Boards Study Unification Methods

The San Rafael Board of Education and Dixie School District Board dipped into the procedural and educational problems of unification last night, but did not come up with any recommendation.

During a two and one-half hour joint session at Miller Creek School, board members studied the proposed unification of the San Rafael and Dixie districts, tentatively scheduled to go to the voters June 7, 1966.

Two unresolved issues were whether the unified district would operate under general state law or under the San Rafael city charter, and whether the unified board should have five or seven members.

San Rafael high school and elementary districts operate under the charter, which limits the board of education to five members. The Marin County Committee on School District Organization has recommended a seven-member board for the proposed unified district.

Walter J. Doll, president of the San Rafael Board of Education, said he would prefer the general law operation to make the proposed unification "more palatable to the people in the Dixie district" who live outside the city boundaries.

Earl H. Koehler, chairman of the Dixie board, also said he favored the general law "from the standpoint of making it more possible for the district to be acceptable."

Proponents of the five-member board said a smaller board would be more effective and less likely to operate on "a committee system" than a seven-member board. Proponents of a seven-member board contended a larger board would provide wider representation.

Dixie trustee Dorothy C. Brown, backing a seven-member board, said all areas should have representation on the unified board.

Dixie trustee John A. Starkweather objected to "talk about representing areas" and preferred that each board member represent the entire district. "I don't like the emphasis on sectionalism," he said.

Koehler also objected to school boards based on geographical trustee areas because "they tend to become political instruments."

Mrs. Anita C. Strom, a member of the San Rafael board, said it is not a question of representation from areas, "but more representation of the people."

Board members received an opinion from Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks that the County Committee on School District Organization can rule that the unified district be governed by general law. It would not be necessary to resubmit the unification proposal to the State Board of Education for approval, Hendricks said.

Board members also began a page-by-page study of a "Cooperative Study on Unification," a report prepared by the Dixie and San Rafael City Schools staffs.

The discussion ranged from class sizes to the philosophical differences in the use of personnel.

Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis said there is "unequal opportunity" in the districts. For example, he said, "you have an art specialist, and we don't."

Koehler said board members should seek to identify the differences between the San Rafael and Dixie districts.

He asked that board members arrive at the next meeting Dec. 9 at Glenwood School in San Rafael "with a list of major differences that would pose problems."

Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. of the San Rafael board said there may be advantages to unification, but "one of them isn't general operating economy." If unification is presented as "an economy measure, we'll have an angry electorate," he said.

Bike-Car Crash Driver Is Sued

A $50,000 personal injury damage suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court on behalf of Stephen Mackey, 9-year-old son of attorney William L. Mackey of Santa Venetia. The boy was critically injured on Oct. 8.

The suit charges that Peter Bernard Fleming, 18, of 57 San Pablo Avenue, Santa Venetia, drive of the car which struck the bicycle-riding boy on Adrian Way east of La Pasada in Santa Venetia, was negligent and was wearing a right leg cast while driving. Co-defendant is A. F. Fleming, the driver's father.

Driver Fined $100 On Alcohol Charge

Jerome A. Collins, 23, of 385 Pine Hill Road, Tamalpais Valley, was fined $100, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence, and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested Oct. 10 on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

General Law, City Charter Information Given Boards

The San Rafael Board of Education and the Dixie School District got notice last night of the difference between operating a proposed unified district under general laws or under the San Rafael City Charter.

Board members received an information sheet listing the variances at a joint session last night at Miller Creek School.

One of the key differences is that under general law, there could be a seven-member board, but the city charter system calls for a five-member city board of education. There would be overlapping four-year terms under either system.

Other differences are:

Under general law, board members would be elected on the third Tuesday in April, and under the charter at the municipal election the second Monday in April.

Under general law, the board member would take office July 1, and under the charter, the Monday after election.

Under general law, a board candidate would merely have to be an elector residing in the district. Under the charter, he would have to be a resident and elector who has lived in the district for three years preceding the election.

Under general law, a vacancy would be filled by appointment by the remaining board members. Under the charter, a vacancy is filled by "appointment by city council for balance of unexpired term in first 20 days, otherwise by majority of the board of education."

Under general law, the candidate must file a declaration of candidacy with the county superintendent of schools signed by from three to 10 registered voters.

Under the charter, the candidate must file nomination petitions with 50 to 100 signatures with the city clerk.

Car Hits Stalled Van, Passenger Is Injured

Ruth Snivley, 45, Corning, Tehama County, suffered a bruised forehead and sprained neck at 4:35 p.m. yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger crashed into the rear of a moving van on Highway 101 at the, Greenbrae intersection, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the northbound van driven by Wilbur S. Williams III, 27, of 87 Summit Drive, Corte Madera, stalled at the intersection and was hit by a car driven by Betty L. Hawkins, 33, of 15 Dow Lane, Novato, with whom Miss Snivley was riding. Miss Snivley was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

EAST SAN RAFAEL

Citizenry Decries Pump Plant Smell

Residents of east San Rafael, who have been complaining about smells from the San Pedro pumping station for years, made another try yesterday to get relief from the San Rafael Sanitation District board.

A score of men and women from the Harbor Estates and Porto Bello subdivisions complained that the problem is getting worse, in spite of numerous chemicals and techniques tried by engineers to eliminate the odor.

Board members confessed they were unable to come up with any instant solution, but took heart in the fact that nose-weary residents had unearthed a neighbor who might be able to help.

Elmer C. Scott of 31 Porto Bello Road, who was introduced as being connected with a "chemical organization," said he had some theories about what caused the odor and how to end it.

"I think it is a matter of balancing the system," said Scott. The board told him to save his technical explanation for the engineers, but welcomed his assistance.

Former district engineer Dominic J. Selmi, who was in the audience on another matter, said the district had been fighting with the problem for seven years. He said the odor had been much worse at the outset, and had been overcome greatly by installing charcoal filters, an idea borrowed from the Navy.

Such filters are used in nuclear submarines when they stay submerged for long periods, Selmi said.

District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said "we haven't quit a day" in trying to eliminate the smell, but the angry delegation of citizens did not appear impressed.

John Hyams of 41 Loma Linda Road said: "It appears to be getting worse. We've had a shocking summer.

"In these days of moon shots, a little problem like a pumping station shouldn't be any great problem to our society."

"It's outrageous, really," said Ben R. Ostlind of 19 Crescenta Way, and a woman in the audience added, "The stink is just unbearable."

Selmi twice suggested the source of the odor might be outside the pumping plant. Each time, he was met by angry choruses of "no, no, no" from the residents.

Selmi first referred to the frequent odor problems related to tidelands, but Hyams said "We are absolutely certain this is no low tide situation."

Later, Selmi said some of the odor may be caused by owners of boats at a nearby yacht harbor when they flush toilets at low tide. Board members promised to look into this, although the residents said this, too, was not the cause.

Chester E. Andrews of 25 Porto Bello urged that engineers look for a leak. Still others demanded that the entire pumping station be done away with.

Board members said this was impossible, but Rawles conceded he was studying the feasibility of by-passing it.

On a motion by board member Thomas T. Storer, the board continued the matter to its Nov. 18 meeting, and urged district engineer Ely Cailouette to confer with Scott.

Police Discover Quarry For FBI

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—St. Louis County police today arrested William Albert Artur Tahl, 27, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, accused of a double murder in California and a killing in Texas.

The FBI confirmed that the man arrested, in what started as a routine assault investigation, was Tahl.

County police said the man told them he was wanted in connection with a double homicide at a club in San Diego, where an elderly custodian and his wife were slain April 1.

Police said Tahl also thought he had killed a man in Dallas but was not sure. He told police he was intoxicated.

Novato Chamber Opposes Cutback In Mail Service

Prior to a month ago, there was a mail pickup at 5:30 a.m. so that letters mailed after the 8 p.m. pickup to San Francisco and intervening points could be delivered the next day.

The board voted to write the regional director of the Post Office Department in San Francisco protesting discontinuance of this pickup.

Henry Puccinelli, owner of the Medicine Chest and head of the trade bureau committee of the chamber, resigned from the board. Roscoe C. Morgan of Millard Miles Insurance Agency was appointed in his place.

The chamber board voted to endorse the county planning commission's approval of plans for Marincello.

Merchants Leader Didn't Make Remark

Gabe M. Angel, president of the Paradise Center Merchants Assn., said today he was not the person in the audience of Monday night's Corte Madera Town Council meeting who mentioned that Gregory's Restaurant had placed a sign on Paradise Drive.

The Independent-Journal mistakenly attributed the remark to Angel, who requested signs to indicate driveways into the shopping center from the street, which had been torn up during lowering of a sewer line.

Cats Pose A Problem

Because Mrs. Louise Easley and her four children love cats they have a problem.

Since June, four stray cats have been running wild around their home at 23 Rosewood Court, San Rafael, scratching and biting the children whenever they are picked up.

Yesterday, a call to San Rafael Police Department sent Patrolman Gary Walter to investigate. He reported, in his opinion, the cats were a health hazard and should be disposed of, but Marin County Humane Society say they do not pick up cats unless they are confined.

"Well, it's our problem, I guess," said Mrs. Easley today, "and we're stuck with it. There is no one to help us.

"I have considered poisoning them but I can't bring myself to do it, even if it means the safety of my children. We have a cat of our own and we simply adore it."

EAST SAN RAFAEL

Citizenry Decries Pump Plant Smell

Residents of east San Rafael, who have been complaining about smells from the San Pedro pumping station for years, made another try yesterday to get relief from the San Rafael Sanitation District board.

A score of men and women from the Harbor Estates and Porto Bello subdivisions complained that the problem is getting worse, in spite of numerous chemicals and techniques tried by engineers to eliminate the odor.

Board members confessed they were unable to come up with any instant solution, but took heart in the fact that nose-weary residents had unearthed a neighbor who might be able to help.

Elmer C. Scott of 31 Porto Bello Road, who was introduced as being connected with a "chemical organization," said he had some theories about what caused the odor and how to end it.

"I think it is a matter of balancing the system," said Scott. The board told him to save his technical explanation for the engineers, but welcomed his assistance.

Former district engineer Dominic J. Selmi, who was in the audience on another matter, said the district had been fighting with the problem for seven years. He said the odor had been much worse at the outset, and had been overcome greatly by installing charcoal filters, an idea borrowed from the Navy.

Such filters are used in nuclear submarines when they stay submerged for long periods, Selmi said.

District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said "we haven't quit a day" in trying to eliminate the smell, but the angry delegation of citizens did not appear impressed.

John Hyams of 41 Loma Linda Road said: "It appears to be getting worse. We've had a shocking summer.

"In these days of moon shots, a little problem like a pumping station shouldn't be any great problem to our society."

"It's outrageous, really," said Ben R. Ostlind of 19 Crescenta Way, and a woman in the audience added, "The stink is just unbearable."

Selmi twice suggested the source of the odor might be outside the pumping plant. Each time, he was met by angry choruses of "no, no, no" from the residents.

Selmi first referred to the frequent odor problems related to tidelands, but Hyams said "We are absolutely certain this is no low tide situation."

Later, Selmi said some of the odor may be caused by owners of boats at a nearby yacht harbor when they flush toilets at low tide. Board members promised to look into this, although the residents said this, too, was not the cause.

Nevada Cliff Fall Kills Betrothed San Franciscan

RENO (AP)—The plans of a San Francisco couple, headed for Reno to be married, ended tragically today when the groom to be accidentally stepped off a cliff and plunged 200 feet to his death.

The Washoe County sheriff's office identified the victim as Dennis Munnelly, 48, of San Francisco. Officers said Munnelly and his fiancee were traveling with a cousin, Edmund Munnelly, also of San Francisco, and another person.

The cousin told officers Munnelly as feeling ill. His fiancee stopped the car, four feet inside Nevada, to let Munnelly out. He stepped out of the car and fell into the Truckee Canyon, just to the left of Interstate 80.

Sheriff's deputies and Nevada highway patrolmen worked more than an hour to recover the body.

Munnelly's companions were brought to Reno, 10 miles east of the accident site, where the death was being investigated.

Directors Of Sanitation Open Plant Addition Bids

The San Rafael Sanitation Distric board yesterday opened bids from seven firms for additions to the district sewage treatment plant.

Apparent low bidder was Pacific Mechanical Corp. of Richmond, at $126,888, but the board declined to award a contract until bids had been reviewed by district officials.

District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said he would try to present a recommendation at the Nov. 18 meeting.

Other bidders were Peters and Robinson of San Rafael, $135,616; C. Norman Peterson Co. of Berkeley, $138,700; Kirkwood-Bly of Santa Rosa, $147,000; S and Q Construction Co. of South San Francisco, $147,475; Arntz Construction Co of San Francisco, $154,200, and Granite Construction Co. of Watsonville, $173,400.

The board decided to wait until a new plant superintendent goes to work later this month before deciding whether to start allowing septic tank owners and chemical toilet firms to feed effluent through the sewage plant.

Rawles said he had surveyed six nearby sanitary districts (all but one in Marin) and found only two permitting this.

Board members heard from sanitarian William L. Desmond of the Marin County Health Department, who said he has urged that the district provide the service because "we are going to continue to have septic tanks and chemical toilets," and "to afford the best protection, they should dump in a known spot."

Gardner O. Davis, owner of a chemical toilet firm which district officials recently learned has been dumping in district manholes for eight years, said he had received permission from someone at the sewer plant to do this, but stopped when he learned it was not officially permitted.

Former district engineer Dominic J. Selmi said many people had been "moonlighting in those manholes for 10 or 15 years."

Radio Stolen

Patricia Keithley reported to Mill Valley police yesterday afternoon that while she was away from her home at 222 Sycamore Avenue for about an hour, someone entered and stole an AM-FM radio valued at $100. Doors were locked but a bedroom window was open, Mrs. Keithley told officers.

Unions Again Under Fire In Marin City

Building trades unions involved in construction of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City came under fire again yesterday for alleged unfair membership policies.

In a letter to the United States Department of Justice, the discrimination made by Rev. Don Schilling, minister of the church, and Rev. Wesley C. Baker, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael and president of the board of trustees of the Northern California Presbytery.

The committee told the Justice Department: "We are well satisfied that certain of the construction trades unions have and do consistently practice racial discrimination, and we have wondered how the matter could be exposed and remedied."

The committee asked the Justice Department investigate the Marin City case.

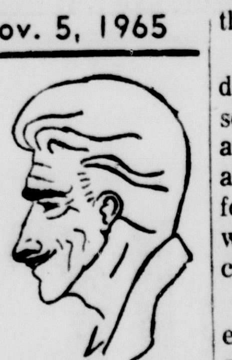
DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAI



Kobseff's Chicken Kiev Is Tops; Old Viking Opens For Luncheons

Best route to Rancho Nicasio from central and southern Marin is still by way of the Sir Francis Drake Highway out to San Geronimo and thence north on Nicasio Road. Better than by Lucas Valley Road—unless, of course, you live in Lucas Valley. And from the north you'd come in by the Petaluma-Point Reyes Highway.

However you arrive there, on one of your visits you should order the chicken Kiev, culinary pride and joy of Nick Kobseff, who prepares it according to the manner prescribed by his mother in the Russian style — stuffed with wild rice and other things, along with the traditional butter filling.

Many a chef would like to turn out chicken Kiev like Nick's. Suffice it to say that more than one has sought him out for instructions.

If you haven't visited the Rancho in the past year or so, you'll be pleased with the new brick and wood dividers that separate entrance from fireplace area and from the main diinng room. They add much to the decor. I always have liked the grapestake dividers that can be shifted about to vary the size of the dining room—making the scene intimate or expansive.

Now playing for Friday and Saturday night dancing are Steve Romano on the electronic accordion and Joe Villa on the drums. You may remember them as members of the Steve Romano Trio that played here several months ago. They've been working together for some time now and their music is good for listening as well as stimulating to your footwork on the dance floor.

Dinner and dancing — nice place to go for the combination. Or just a quiet dinner during the middle of the week.

WHEN THIS COLUMN was written Wednesday, new owners Dee and Raymond Brunal were scheduled to come in that same day and take inventory at De La Montanya's in San Geronimo —and assume proprietorship as soon as completed.

Accordingly, by the time you read this, they should be in possession of the premises, with the name changed back to its original Oak Tree Inn.

For the time being—no other immediate changes. Bar will be open seven days a week, the restaurant closed on Mondays. Dinners and light lunches will be served. Marvin Joyce remains as chef.

AND WHILE we're in this part of Marin, those who may have wanted to try the Swedish cuisine at the Old Viking in Lagunitas — but perhaps have shied away from driving out Sir Francis Drake Highway that far at night—here's your chance to make the trip by daylight.

Bowing to popular demand, Matts and Phyllis Mattsson are now serving lunches daily from noon to 2:30 p.m. and you'll find such things rotated on the menu as Swedish meat balls, stuffed cabbage, Swedish hash with eggs, English sole and similar delectables from the Mattsson kitchen.

Bear in mind now that the day of closing—both for lunch and dinner — has been changed to Wednesday. Open throughout the rest of the week.

COMPLETE DINNERS these days at Chez Dumont, San Anselmo, vary from $3 for the coq au vin and $4 for filet sole—any style—to as high as $6.50 for the medallion of beef with wild rice — with several good choices in the middle range.

Thing to remember is that it's easy to get carried away by the a la carte side of the menu and adding the appropriate accessories—same as in any restaurant of this type.

But remember, too, that the food is cooked to order in the tradition of the great Georges Auguste Escoffier—and I've yet to see the place that can do this without compromise at bargain rates.

George and Madeleine Dumont won't lower their cooking standards, but they are trying to adjust them to American dining out customs—so give them this chance. You may be both pleased and surprised.

If it's a matter of having trouble finding the place, you may have to rack down your side window, stick your neck out and track down Spaulding Avenue by the aroma from the cooking. This street has always been a problem. If it's any help, it is a two-way passage, it seems, and can be entered directly at the hub, just east of the parking lot of Clark's Furniture—or the usual way next to Hank's Gulf Station a few doors farther west.

If you really want to go there, you can manage. The ones who seem to be able to drive there unerringly from 100 miles away are the complete strangers who still hold an old "two for one" dining coupon book entitling them to a free dinner. Every time.

Try it again. Open for dinners daily except Mondays. Lunches, too, if you can guarantee a party of 50 or more.

THE "TAHOE THREE-DAY PASS," bargain holiday package kicked off in September by South Shore motel and resort interests, still continues and has been drawing big crowds.

Good Sunday through Thursday, the pass costs $9.95 per person and covers two nights in a motel, 10 cocktails, bottle of champagne, $6 in casino coupons and a breakfast. Show reservations are also guaranteed at the casinos.

Friends of mine tried it and liked it so well they stayed over for a repeat treatment. Available from South Shore Tours, Box PASS, Stateline, Calif.

THERE'S A DEFINITE improvement in relations between Panama and the United States lately - at least in the Bay Area - thanks to the chicken Martoni at Bill and Adolf's West End Villa, San Rafael.

Panamanian consul Jose Fidanque, a recent visitor from San Francisco, discovered this new menu offering of Bill Bisson and chef Camille Bamatter, and pronounced it as great a contribution to the cause of culinary excellence as a new canal treaty is to Pan-American unity.

IT'S OFTEN the little things that count at a restaurant - like a cheerful word when you're served. Or finding that the wine you ordered is a 1959 vintage. A good lentil soup, maybe. Meat tender and easily cut. Restful walls. A dinner check that isn't a photo image of your last tax bill.

What is it exactly that leaves you with the feeling of having enjoyed your meal? Perhaps just one of these things. Certainly a combination of them guarantees satisfaction.

The Black Forest on downtown Fourth Street, San Rafael is a tiny place by some standards and unless you know its inner workings you might be inclined to pass right by and never know what's inside. Personally, I think if you get as far as being greeted by Meta Kringe or her niece Brigetta you'll be inclined to go the rest of the way. They've got laughing eyes, red hair and personalities that win you over.

Husband Bob you may never see, for he's behind the scenes in the kitchen most of the time cooking the food, which for the most part happens to be German. Wiener schnitzel. Kasseler rippschen. Potato pancakes or German fried. Sauerbraten. Sweet and sour red cabbage. Fare like that.

All of them here work long hours, serving breakfast, lunch and dinner. And the Black Forest is usually filled at peak hours and on peak nights. For dinners, try the middle of the week. And early. After a full day, the Kringes like to get home and rest, for tomorrow is another full day.

As I say - it's just a little place. But it's the little things that count.

Ross, Hub Teachers To See Monologue

Teachers of the Ross and San Anselmo school districts will gather at the Wade Thomas School in San Anselmo Monday at 4 p.m. for a special presentation of Pauline Myers' one-woman show, "The World of My America."

The show will be sponsored by the teachers' associations of both schools.

New Aide Named For San Quentin

Glen Dale Goertz, 49, has been named chief of plant operations at San Quentin Prison, replacing G. G. Conway, who recently retired.

A native of Albany, Goertz has been working as chief engineer at the California Institute for Men at Chino. He will live at San Quentin Village with his wife, Claudine, and son, Don.

Goertz once operated his own refrigeration and air conditioning business before going to work for the state, first for the Department of Mental Hygiene, and later transferring to the Department of Corrections.

A Gnawing Mystery

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP)—When Bill Purvis showed up for work at his grocery store, he found a 50-foot cottonwood tree stretched across the ground in front of the building. A day later he found a 70-foot tree sprawled across the top of the store. Residents in the area had seen the culprit at work. It was a beaver living along a nearby irrigation ditch.

Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for everybody.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

Marin Junior College District trustees received an intimation of the classroom of the future last night, as they watched a demonstration of how a College of Marin biology class is taught with the aid of closed circuit television.

At the front of the room, he attached a small television camera to his microscope and his slide was reproduced on three television screens—a small one for his use and two 21-inch screens for the class.

Then, with a maneuverable dot of light built into his microscope, he pointed out on the television screens areas of the cross section—gray and white matter, the central canal, etc.

After he indicated what to look for, Baver had the class look for the same things under their own microscopes.

Then he removed the microscope from the camera and focused instead on a sheep's brain. While the class remained seated throughout the room, he demonstrated the proper dissection of the brain on the television screen.

Baver told the deputies he uses the television equipment for only about 20 minutes during every laboratory section.

Albert C. Heppe, director of the educational television project, was asked if lectures could be taped and placed on file at the library for student reference.

He said it is possible, but expensive. Video tape machines, he said, cost $12,000 and an hour reel of tape sells for $70.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Approved an agreement with Marin General and Ross General hospitals for operation of the registered nursing program. Board president Elizabeth M. Deedy noted the hospitals were offering less facilities than anticipated. Trustee Robert E. Oliver suggested a meeting with hospital officials to explain needs of the college program.

2. Hired Mrs. Bernice M. Corley, clerk for adult education, at $405 per month; Mrs. Janet Blevins, library clerk, $351 per month, and Ernest P. Stokes, programmer, $578 per month. All are replacing employees who resigned.

3. Granted sabbatical leaves during next school year to Edwin L. Braun, William H. Scalapine and Irene A. Clark. Paul Llewellyn was approved as an alternate for Braun.

4. Instructed college president Stephen E. Epler to work with the county counsel regarding legal steps to make the Marin-Sonoma County line the boundary between Marin and Santa Rosa Junior College districts.

5. Agreed to join the California School Boards Assn. and pay dues of $418, and increase of $168 over last year's dues.

6. Received an illustrated report on progress of the college marine biology station at Bolinas from Alfonso Molina and Gordon Chan.

7. Received results of a post card survey of students who withdrew from school during the first two weeks of the semester. Most common reason given was that work conflicted with class hours, second was that they could not get to class, third was enrollment at another college, and fourth was induction into the armed services.

8. Loaned the college request for a federal grant of $52,851 has been granted. The funds are available to districts to serve students whose families work for the federal government.

Trustee Kent O. Seymour was absent.

Job Corps Youth Fatally Crushed

REDDING (AP)—A Job Corps youth was crushed to death today when he dislodged a huge boulder near the Shasta Dam and the stone rolled down upon him.

Town Officials Contradict Lagoon Claims

No building permit has been issued in Corte Madera in the past eight years for repairing damage caused by uneven settling near any of the town's lagoons, William G. McBride, the town's building inspector, said yesterday.

And there has never been any trouble with sewer line breaks in that area, added John Comes, maintenance superintendent of the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

At Monday night's meeting of the Corte Madera Town Council town Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison said that homes next to the lagoons would settle when the lagoons were completely emptied. He made the statement in response to a question from Councilman William W. Collier.

He added that the lagoon is emptied only just before the rainy season, and then only for a short time. The council voted to keep the lagoons half full between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15 if there was no rain, changing a policy to empty them Oct. 15.

This year there has been warm weather since Oct. 15, and the empty lagoons have caused an odor and weed problem, Collier said.

E. S. Day is regional manager and George Henderson is district manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., North Bay Division.

Former Marin Woman Sues Over Accident

A former San Rafael resident, Shirley J. Thompson, has filed a $100,000 suit in Marin Superior Court for injuries received in a Nov. 8, 1964, traffic accident on State Highway 37 in Sonoma County.

Defendants are Clarence L. Freeman, Bodega Bay, David A. and Harold Rothchild, both of Santa Rosa, and California Ambulance Service, Novato.

Mrs. Thompson, who resided at 11 Redwood Drive, but since moved to Moscow, Idaho, alleges that negligence by Freeman and David Rothchild in driving separate vehicles resulted in a crash by the auto in which she was riding.

She further charges that the ambulance, upon arrival, failed to take her "promptly and safely" to the nearest medical facility. The accident occurred near Toylay Creek Bridge, according to her lawyer, Quentin L. Kopp, San Francisco.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Developers Of Marincello Are Entitled To Proceed

The proposed Marincello development in South Marin will come up for a second, and possibly final, hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors on Monday.

The proposal deserves careful consideration, not just a terse brushoff, for several reasons.

In the first place, the planned community, as toned down by the Frouge Corp., does have the recommendation of the Marin County Planning Commission, which held at least five hearings.

Secondly, the elaborate plans have been drafted and re-drafted at considerable expense, and the density and number of high-rise buildings have been reduced from the original proposal to meet legal requirements for a planned community.

Needless to say, the board of supervisors has final authority and is not morally or legally bound to go along with the planning commission's recommendation.

However, in a planning matter of this scope and detail, where the planning commission has been working with the developer for months, the commission's findings should carry some weight.

The major question still seems to be density per acre.

When Frouge Corp. first planned Marincello's 2,138 acres, it sought 12,600 dwelling units including 53 high rise apartments. These were eventually reduced to 7,483 dwelling units including 19 high rise apartment buildings to conform with the 3.5 units per acre allowed under planned community zoning.

The 3.5 unit per acre density may not be the ideal. But that is the figure given in the planned community zoning regulations, and that has been the basis on which developers and planners worked to come up with the current proposal.

If Marincello, at this stage, is to be denied development on the basis that density should be lower or that high-rise is objectionable, then the ethical thing would have been to apprise them of the objectionable points, long before the developers invested time and money drafting and redrafting their plans.

It would be wishful thinking to dream of forever keeping these lands in their primeval state, especially under private ownership.

The area is strategically located close to San Francisco, and does have its attractions, despite wind and fog. If people want to buy and rent homes there, development is inevitable.

Since the developers have shown good faith in meeting zoning and planning requirements and have agreed to the conditions set up to control industrial and commercial areas, they are entitled to proceed with the development.

Now Bees Can Talk Too

It has been known for some time that bees communicate with one another by means of a kind of dance. Foraging bees returning to the hive are able to indicate by their dance the direction, distance and quality of their feeding place.

Now, however, a group of Brazilian scientists have learned that bees also "talk" by means of buzzing or sound production. So far, the only thing the bees discussed that the scientists understood was, how far is the food.

Next thing we know the scientists will be telling us the latest hive gossip. Something like, "Hey, did you see the way Willy Drone looked at the Queen last night?

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Carrow, Skornia May Be Eyeing Elections For Senate, Assembly

By WAT TAKESHITA

The new realignment puts Marin, Napa and most of Solano in the Fourth Senatorial District, but excludes Sonoma County (and Democratic Sen. Joseph Rattigan).

Rattigan would have been a tough Democrat to beat, but with him out of the picture, Carrow will probably run in the primaries against Democrat Luther Gibson of Solano or Pearce Young of Napa. The winner of that contest then would go up against Sen. John F. McCarthy, Marin Republican.

Takeshita

ROSS ATTORNEY Tom Skornia is also looking more and more like a serious contender for the Assembly post now held by William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Although he isn't talking yet, Skornia will probably seek the Democratic nomination, then run against Bagley in the finals. Both are young, articulate attorneys. Should make for a colorful campaign.

DID YOU KNOW that U. S. Sen. George Murphy, actor turned politician, received more votes last year than any candidate of any party in California history?

He drew 3,628,555 votes in 1964. The other big vote getters have been:

Edmund G. Brown, attorney general in 1954—3,537,594 votes; Alan Cranston, controller in 1962—3,372,691; Frank Jordan, secretary of state in 1962—3,210,438; and Thomas Kuchel, U. S. Senator in 1962—3,180,483.

LOCAL POLITICAL pundits, close to the Sacramento scene, are speculating that Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh will seek a state Senate seat next year.

This is how they picture Unruh's plan of action: He hopes to handpick an assembly speaker to succeed him in the lower house. Then he'll run for the Senate, along with several loyal Democratic cronies from Los Angeles. If eight or nine of his buddies can make it into the State Senate with him, Unruh will have a built-in rooting section in the upper house from the outset.

When Senate President Pro Tem Hugh Burns of Fresno retires, then Unruh hopes to step up into that spot.

Both Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles and George Christopher of San Francisco are announced candidates. Running unofficially but outstripping them all so far is Ronald Reagan.

If the campaigns for Christopher and Waters should falter, backers of Monagan are hoping they can slip him in as a compromise candidate to carry the "moderate" banner in the Republican primary.

Mill Valley UNICEF Drive Is Success

Editor, Independent Journal:

Mill Valley's UNICEF drive, which took place on United Nation's Day, Oct. 24, was uniquely successful and those of us, adults and children, who took part want to thank the I-J for its cooperation in publicizing our efforts.

As you know, UNICEF received the 1965 Nobel Prize for Peace and although this announcement was not made until our drive was completed, we feel it very significant that we had received from the community of Mill Valley a greater contribution than in any previous year.

Equally important, the children who participated did so with a developing awareness of the interdependence of us all.

Reader Asks More International News

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Have you given consideration to the fine opportunity you have to broaden circulation and better serve more people?

My husband had what appears to be an excellent idea: Inasmuch as the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner have combined into more or less one mediocre entity, complete with atrocious typography and worse reporting, it would appear that the Independent-Journal now could fill the aching void by expansion of its national and world coverage. We would gladly drop subscription to the San Francisco paper if such were to occur.

How about it? Does the old American spirit of initiative and enterprise still move, somewhere in this great land?

MRS. L. S. ARNTZ

Flood Control Answers Suggested

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The "need for one city and county of Marin" has been demonstrated by the San Anselmo and Fairfax city council's hesitation in joining the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control District, according to George E. Fossey in the Oct. 29 letters . . .

The objections of the upper valley cities were two-fold: the disaster which would ensue if the creek were turned into a concrete ditch, as per the flood control plan; and the high tax rate which could be allowed for maintenance—$1 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Paul Brand, chairman of our parks and recreation commission, put forward three suggestions which were considered at a San Anselmo council meeting, communicated to the county counsel, and were the basis of the Ross council's acceptance of the plan. Brand's suggestions were:

1. Reduce the district's size to the Phase I plan only—up to the Ross boundaries. Thus the upper cities would still retain design control, since future plans would be an addition to the district.

2. The upper valley cities would tax themselves, through a joint powers agreement, to help maintain the channel.

3. The tax ceiling would be cut from $1.00 to 5 cents—well over the cost estimate of 1.7 cents now given us.

Although there are those who believe that the entire project is overdrawn, these proposals appear to offer a way to salvage the best and avoid the worst features of the plan. Without local discussion and thought, an esthetically catastrophic design could have been forced on us, and an easy attitude toward the taxpayer's dollar encouraged. To me, the responsibility and good judgment shown have re-emphasized the usefulness of local representation.

Supervisors Lashed For Backing Deck

Editor, Independent-Journal:

BRICKBATS to you, three supervisors, plus the howling coyotes and money hungry wolves backing a second deck for the Golden Gate Bridge.

1. The real need is a Tiburon Peninsula freeway, a connecting bridge to Angel Island with recreational facility connections, and a tube across the Bay clear of navigational requirements connecting to the Embarcadero Freeway . . . This is talking in terms of one-third billion dollars, but these dollars aren't out to salvage dimes.

2. The Bridge is the least problem. The present four lanes with the widened toll zone is the most orderly part. A second deck would add only one more lane, due to the wider lanes required for higher speed traffic. The State has the nation's greatest highway engineering brainpower to feed it. The result would be the world's most scenic elevated parking lot, thanks to the obstinacy of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors in authorizing sane unloading facilities.

3. Have you tried the commute both ways? . . . The road is slugged out every morning, yet quite free flowing in the evenings. Mainly because work starting times are predominantly 8 o'clock sharp; and quitting times spread from 4:30 to 5 . . .

JEROME BEATTY has encountered a prosperous, tightly knit organization devoted solely to matters pertaining to that famous series of juvenile adventures, the Oz books. The secretary, for example, when asked to give his age, says simply, "I was born in the year of the Hungry Tiger of Oz." That means to initiates that he is 39.

Peking Getting Pretty Shaky Over Moscow Gains In World

WASHINGTON — Peking is now launched on the most violent, vituperative, point-of-no-return attack on the Soviet Union since the beginning of the Sino-Soviet rift.

There must be a reason. It can't just be because of high spirits and the feeling among the Communist Chinese that they have got the Soviets on the run. More likely it is because of low spirits and awareness that Moscow has been picking up support in the Communist world lately and Peking losing support.

IN ANY EVENT, Peking is being driven by its own inner compulsion — certainly not by reason or necessity or any outside force — to make its break with the Kremlin total and irreparable.

The Communist Chinese regime must be up against something or other to makes its accusations against Moscow so outlandish, so contrary to the visible facts, as to lose all credibility.

Peking accuses the Soviet Union of "aiding" the U. S. in South Viet Nam.

The fact is that North Viet Nam would be in more of a shambles than it is today if Soviet - contributed missiles weren't shooting down U. S. planes. North Viet Nam is getting more help from Moscow than from Red China in carrying out the aggression against South Viet Nam.

PEKING ACCUSES Moscow of concluding a "secret Soviet-American pact" through which the two are "cooperating in all domains" for the benefit of the imperialists.

The fact is there is no "Soviet-American pact," secret or otherwise, and if there is any significant cooperation from Moscow it is not visible in Washington.

Peking accuses the Soviet Union of being a "traitor" to the cause of Communist world revolution and of practising a cringing "peaceful co-existence."

THE FACT IS that "peaceful co-existence" is a convenient phrase, not a Soviet policy, and that in the past four years the most reckless and daring act of non-peaceful co-existence was attempted not by Red China, but by the Soviet Union when Nikita Khrushchev put offensive missiles in Cuba.

Peking accuses the Soviets of "engaging in a conspiracy" to keep other nations "defenseless" by holding back nuclear weapons so they can't rise up against "U. S. imperialism."

The fact is that the Soviet Union is as determined to foment and aid "wars of liberation" — that is, the overthrow of existing governments to make way for communism —as Red China, but with one proviso. Because the Kremlin knows more about nuclear weapons, it is more cautious to avoid nuclear war.

JUST BECAUSE Red China calls the Soviet Union a mawkishly peace-loving traitor to the Communist cause doesn't make it so. More than one U. S. official has had candid conversations in Moscow in recent months and from these conversations it is amply evident that "peaceful co-existence" does not mean non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries.

Peking has its own reasons for branding Moscow a peaceful paper tiger, but it will be prudent not to swallow the Peking line. Moscow and Washington had good, common reasons for doing their best to halt the India-Pakistan war, but let's let the record build further before crying detente, detente, when there is no detente.

Anti-Poverty Agency Faces Negroes' Suit

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The trouble - racked anti - poverty program is being assailed on a new grievance — right in the national capital itself.

Three Negro attorneys have filed suit against the local anti-poverty agency (United Planning Organization) charging its neighborhood free-legal-service centers are driving them out of business.

Six of these anti-poverty-financed legal centers already are in operation in Washington, and others are contemplated. Manned by three to five full-time attorneys, the centers extend a wide range of legal help — from simple advice to representation in trials and appeals.

IN THEIR SUIT, the three Negro lawyers contend this activity violates the anti-trust laws and ethical canons of the legal profession.

High - powered legal talent already is arrayed against them.

THURMAN ARNOLD, one-time head of the Anti-Trust Division, former federal judge and law partner of recently appointed Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, is opposing this suit in behalf of the Legal Aid Society. While not supported by federal funds, the society provides free legal service for indigents.

Harrison and his two colleagues are convinced their suit is the forerunner of others throughout the country.

This belief is based on anti-poverty plans to set up neighborhood free-legal-aid centers in every sizable city, particularly those with slum sections. Already such federally financed centers are operating in Buffalo, St. Louis and Los Angeles.

Anti-poverty authorities have grandiose aims in this field.

They are talking of setting up a separate legal aid division, similar to the Job Corps and Neighborhood Youth Corps, and financing it with a $20 million budget for the remaining eight months of the current fiscal year.

The potential head of this proposed new division already has been brought in—Clinton Bamberger, Baltimore attorney.

SENATOR WAYNE MORSE is the leading foe of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, but you would never know it from the warmly cordial birthday greeting Johnson wired the eminent Oregonian.

There was no mention of Viet Nam in the telegram, but the president pulled out all stops in hailing Morse as the greatest champion of U. S. education.

Since 1953 Oregon's Washington County has held an annual birthday party for Morse. A feature of the party is greetings from his congressional colleagues and others. This year, despite Morse's almost daily denunciation of the president's course in Viet Nam, the latter wired the chairman of the party a long and laudatory message.

One who did not send a greeting was Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., also active in the deliberations on the history-making educational measure.

MRS. GREEN was asked to either come to the Beaverton, Ore., party or to send a message. She not only did neither, but returned the two $5 tickets for the celebration.

Developers Of Marincello Are Entitled To Proceed

The proposed Marincello development in South Marin will come up for a second, and possibly final, hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors on Monday.

In the first place, the planned community, as toned down by the Frouge Corp., does have the recommendation of the Marin County Planning Commission, which held at least five hearings.

Secondly, the elaborate plans have been drafted and re-drafted at considerable expense, and the density and number of high-rise buildings have been reduced from the original proposal to meet legal requirements for a planned community.

Needless to say, the board of supervisors has final authority and is not morally or legally bound to go along with the planning commission's recommendation.

However, in a planning matter of this scope and detail, where the planning commission has been working with the developer for months, the commission's findings should carry some weight.

The major question still seems to be density per acre.

When Frouge Corp. first planned Marincello's 2,138 acres, it sought 12,600 dwelling units including 53 high rise apartments. These were eventually reduced to 7,483 dwelling units including 19 high rise apartment buildings to conform with the 3.5 units per acre allowed under planned community zoning.

The 3.5 unit per acre density may not be the ideal. But that is the figure given in the planned community zoning regulations, and that has been the basis on which developers and planners worked to come up with the current proposal.

If Marincello, at this stage, is to be denied development on the basis that density should be lower or that high-rise is objectionable, then the ethical thing would have been to apprise them of the objectionable points, long before the developers invested time and money drafting and redrafting their plans.

It would be wishful thinking to dream of forever keeping these lands in their primeval state, especially under private ownership.

The area is strategically located close to San Francisco, and does have its attractions, despite wind and fog. If people want to buy and rent homes there, development is inevitable.

Since the developers have shown good faith in meeting zoning and planning requirements and have agreed to the conditions set up to control industrial and commercial areas, they are entitled to proceed with the development.

Now Bees Can Talk Too

It has been known for some time that bees communicate with one another by means of a kind of dance. Foraging bees returning to the hive are able to indicate by their dance the direction, distance and quality of their feeding place.

Now, however, a group of Brazilian scientists have learned that bees also "talk" by means of buzzing or sound production. So far, the only thing the bees discussed that the scientists understood was, how far is the food.

Next thing we know the scientists will be telling us the latest hive gossip. Something like, "Hey, did you see the way Willy Drone looked at the Queen last night?

Carrow, Skornia May Be Eyeing Elections For Senate, Assembly

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE NEW SENATE reapportionment increases the likelihood that Novato Mayor Bob Carrow will seek the Democratic nomination for senator.

The new realignment puts Marin, Napa and most of Solano in the Fourth Senatorial District, but excludes Sonoma County (and Democratic Sen. Joseph Rattigan).

Rattigan would have been a tough Democrat to beat, but with him out of the picture, Carrow will probably run in the primaries against Democrat Luther Gibson of Solano or Pearce Young of Napa. The winner of that contest then would go up against Sen. John F. McCarthy, Marin Republican.

ROSS ATTORNEY Tom Skornia is also looking more and more like a serious contender for the Assembly post now held by William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Although he isn't talking yet, Skornia will probably seek the Democratic nomination, then run against Bagley in the finals. Both are young, articulate attorneys. Should make for a colorful campaign.

DID YOU KNOW that U. S. Sen. George Murphy, actor turned politician, received more votes last year than any candidate of any party in California history?

He drew 3,628,555 votes in 1964. The other big vote getters have been:

Edmund G. Brown, attorney general in 1954—3,537,594 votes; Alan Cranston, controller in 1962—3,372,691; Frank Jordan, secretary of state in 1962—3,210,438; and Thomas Kuchel, U. S. Senator in 1962—3,180,483.

LOCAL POLITICAL pundits, close to the Sacramento scene, are speculating that Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh will seek a state Senate seat next year.

This is how they picture Unruh's plan of action: He hopes to handpick an assembly speaker to succeed him in the lower house. Then he'll run for the Senate, along with several loyal Democratic cronies from Los Angeles. If eight or nine of his buddies can make it into the State Senate with him, Unruh will have a built-in rooting section in the upper house from the outset.

When Senate President Pro Tem Hugh Burns of Fresno retires, then Unruh hopes to step up into that spot.

Both Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles and George Christopher of San Francisco are announced candidates. Running unofficially but outstripping them all so far is Ronald Reagan.

If the campaigns for Christopher and Waters should falter, backers of Monagan are hoping they can slip him in as a compromise candidate to carry the "moderate" banner in the Republican primary.

Mill Valley UNICEF Drive Is Success

Editor, Independent Journal:

Mill Valley's UNICEF drive, which took place on United Nation's Day, Oct. 24, was uniquely successful and those of us, adults and children, who took part want to thank the I-J for its cooperation in publicizing our efforts.

As you know, UNICEF received the 1965 Nobel Prize for Peace and although this announcement was not made until our drive was completed, we feel it very significant that we had received from the community of Mill Valley a greater contribution than in any previous year.

Equally important, the children who participated did so with a developing awareness of the interdependence of us all.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Have you given consideration to the fine opportunity you have to broaden circulation and better serve more people?

My husband had what appears to be an excellent idea: Inasmuch as the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner have combined into more or less one mediocre entity, complete with atrocious typography and worse reporting, it would appear that the Independent-Journal now could fill the aching void by expansion of its national and world coverage. We would gladly drop subscription to the San Francisco paper if such were to occur.

How about it? Does the old American spirit of initiative and enterprise still move, somewhere in this great land?

Flood Control Answers Suggested

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The "need for one city and county of Marin" has been demonstrated by the San Anselmo and Fairfax city council's hesitation in joining the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control District, according to George E. Fossey in the Oct. 29 letters . . .

The objections of the upper valley cities were two-fold: the disaster which would ensue if the creek were turned into a concrete ditch, as per the flood control plan; and the high tax rate which could be allowed for maintenance—$1 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Paul Brand, chairman of our parks and recreation commission, put forward three suggestions which were considered at a San Anselmo council meeting, communicated to the county counsel, and were the basis of the Ross council's acceptance of the plan. Brand's suggestions were:

1. Reduce the district's size to the Phase I plan only—up to the Ross boundaries. Thus the upper cities would still retain design control, since future plans would be an addition to the district.

2. The upper valley cities would tax themselves, through a joint powers agreement, to help maintain the channel.

3. The tax ceiling would be cut from $1.00 to 5 cents—well over the cost estimate of 1.7 cents now given us.

Although there are those who believe that the entire project is overdrawn, these proposals appear to offer a way to salvage the best and avoid the worst features of the plan. Without local discussion and thought, an esthetically catastrophic design could have been forced on us, and an easy attitude toward the taxpayer's dollar encouraged. To me, the responsibility and good judgment shown have re-emphasized the usefulness of local representation.

Supervisors Lashed For Backing Deck

Editor, Independent-Journal:

BRICKBATS to you, three supervisors, plus the howling coyotes and money hungry wolves backing a second deck for the Golden Gate Bridge.

1. The real need is a Tiburon Peninsula freeway, a connecting bridge to Angel Island with recreational facility connections, and a tube across the Bay clear of navigational requirements connecting to the Embarcadero Freeway . . . This is talking in terms of one-third billion dollars, but these dollars aren't out to salvage dimes.

2. The Bridge is the least problem. The present four lanes with the widened toll zone is the most orderly part. A second deck would add only one more lane, due to the wider lanes required for higher speed traffic. The State has the nation's greatest highway engineering brainpower to feed it. The result would be the world's most scenic elevated parking lot, thanks to the obstinacy of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors in authorizing sane unloading facilities.

3. Have you tried the commute both ways? . . . The road is slugged out every morning, yet quite free flowing in the evenings. Mainly because work starting times are predominantly 8 o'clock sharp; and quitting times spread from 4:30 to 5 . . .

Staggering the workday of certain employment blocks, or using overlapping shifts within these blocks, would break up peak commuting hours . . . This has been advocated publicly by thinking people for over 20 years.

Canary Warbles, Rabbit Returns, All's Well In Southern Marin . . .

THERE'S A BIRD that lives across the street from our office which seems to always be singing as if the world needed his support. And so the other day we went to his house to find out why all the warbling.

"That's Sammy Davis Jr.," said owner Mrs. Mimi Marsh Brown.

Sammy is a yellow canary with two years' singing behind him.

"I bought him in Carmel where all the goofs are," said Mrs. Brown. She said Sammy sings starting at five in the morning, on sunny days and in fog. She puts him outside in his cage and sometimes squirts water on him for a bath.

Asked what he eats, she said regular bird food.

Mrs. Brown said people are always stopping by the gate to listen to her bird. Reasoning as to why he sings so much, Mrs. Brown explained "I think it is because of appreciation. I'm always telling him how nice he sings." She said, "He is a joy to the girls in the apartment houses in the neighborhood."

But, apparently, nobody remembered to tell anyone at the plant about the rabbit and so it was not fed for two days.

Ronald Moeller advertised his loss and people called from as far as Corte Madera and San Rafael saying they thought they had found his rabbit. However, from descriptions, it wasn't the Moellers'.

Wednesday morning, after checking with Mrs. Dorothy Reno at the Humane Society, Moeller called the corporation yard. "Is it a big white rabbit, very friendly?" he asked. "Yes," said Ed Gieseke. When Moeller arrived, the rabbit came right to him and jumped into his arms, Gieseke said.

Back home, Peter—or Patricia—ate carrots "and everything like mad" said Mrs. Moeller and the four Moeller youngsters were very happy.

MILKMAN Oscar Durant came into the office on one of those warm days, asking if anyone wanted a milk snake. He then proceeded to pour milk and half-and-half and use a push button can to muster three chocolate malts. Then the Lucas Valley dairyman packed his gear and disappeared.

Jaycees Jerry Hauke and Bob Gaskell have removed the broken down seats from the town's gravity car. They are to be repaired one day, said Hauke, and when replaced, "be a little more massive."

REV. MURRAY HAMMOND says he raised his mustache during a no-shaving period while on a choir boys' camping trip last summer. "It's a juvenile rebellion at the age of 41," he said.

Asked by Mayor Michael Wornum if he wanted to present his own case before the city council without his attorney, who was attending another meeting, Romolo Ivaroni said, "I have enough spiritual and moral help here. I don't know if I'll need him." There were five nuns in the audience.

Street Number Survey Planned

A survey is being made of Mill Valley streets in an effort to correct improper house numbering and perhaps change a few street names, city Building Inspector Loren K. Rohde said today.

The survey is ot be completed by February. Three departments: fire, public works and building, are cooperating. Fire Capt. Albert Marovich and Asst. Building Inspector Arthur Nagel are doing the field work.

Fewer than six street names will be changed, Rohde said. These are in cases where one street has two names or where streets don't connect but have the same name. About 20 per cent of the numbering system needs to be corrected, the inspector said. Numbers in many cases are out of sequence.

ART BUCHWALD

Troops Increase In S. Viet Nam Means More Protection For VIPs

WASHINGTON—The trouble when you escalate a war is that you not only have to escalate the troops but also the VIPS who want to visit the area where you're fighting.

In the beginning, when we first started helping out in South Viet Nam, our policy was to keep our VIP's to a minimum, on the theory that it was a South Vietnamese war and our VIPs should act in an advisory capacity only.

But as the succeeding South Vietnamese governments kept knocking off their own VIPs in military coups, we had no choice but to replace them with American VIPs who soon were being escorted all over the country.

FOR A LONG time the Department of Defense refused to discuss how many VIPs they intended to send to Viet Nam. The reason they gave is that it took five American soldiers to protect one American VIP, and if they revealed how many VIPs intended to go to Viet Nam, the enemy would know how many soldiers we planned to send there.

But then President Johnson announced he was going to send 140,000 American troops to protect our position in Southeast Asia. This meant we could expect 28,000 VIPs to visit "our" boys.

Unfortunately, more VIPs requested to go to Saigon, and so we had to up our commitment to 165,000 troops.

If the rate of VIP visits goes up, which it shows every intention of doing, we may soon have between 200,000 and 300,000 American GIs in Viet Nam.

THIS IS THE MAIN trouble with escalation. The more troops you throw in, the more VIPs want to visit the place, and then you have to send in more troops to protect them.

It's not just a question of Congressmen and Senators going to Viet Nam. You also have Defense Department officials, leading businessmen, Broadway shows, Hollywood movie stars, syndicated columnists, magazine publishers, television network executives, baseball players, clergy, and psychological warfare experts.

THOUGH IT IS not generally known, one of the conditions that the North Vietnamese have made for negotiations is that, although the American troops can stay in Viet Nam, the VIPs would have to pull out. The Americans stationed in Viet Nam are happily willing to give in on this point, though Washington has turned it down repeatedly. Without VIPs, Washington maintains, no one would know what a wonderful job we're doing over there and morale on the home front would collapse.

There was a time when VIPs were just willing to visit a few bars in Saigon and then return to the United States. But now most VIP's insist on helicopter flights over enemy territory and hazardous visits to Special Forces camps. This has produced a great strain on the military equipment, but it has given the Armed Forces a chance to check out new methods of handling VIPs.

MANY NEW techniques have been innovated which were unheard of in World War II and the Korean conflicts.

For one thing the new type of VIP wants to see the war for himself, and although he would like to be shot at, he certainly doesn't want to get hit. This has put the military on its toes. It is rumored that some VIPs are flown over friendly territory and shot at by our own troops, but this has been vehemently denied by the Defense Department.

There is a Pentagon order that no GI may fire at an American VIP no matter how much he is provoked. But in Viet Nam, as we all know, anything can happen and usually does.

Citizens Committee Could Have Helped On Hall Of Justice Plan

FUSSELMAN

ON JUNE 11, the Friday following the successful bond election to build the Hall of Justice, I said in the last paragraph of the column, "The board and everyone involved has a great responsibility in this project. It is going to cost millions and will be here for a long, long time. I believe the board would do well to appoint a good knowledgeable committee of citizens, as they did to sell the bonds to the voters. This for consultation and study before plans are finally approved and even after."

Well, in the I-J on Wednesday, my successor on the board was quoted as saying he did not think himself expert enough to pass on the plans and that he did not think it possible to amend them at this stage anyway. Five months have elapsed since the election. Certainly that is a reasonable enough time to make a study. If private business was so time consuming as to prevent this then the committee of informed citizens could have been asked to function and advise.

CITIZENS PRESENT at the board meeting, Tuesday, have told me that the supervisor from the First district objected to the board going over the plans sheet by sheet, saying it would take too long and proceeded to walk around the room while the plans were being shown and explained to the other members of the board.

The law requires supervisors to spend whatever time is required to perform their duty. At $9,600 a year salary there is undoubtedly a definite obligation to do this, especially when handling a $11 million project.

And of course there is the simple courtesy due the architects whom the board employed. One of them flew to California for the presentation.

One part of the news story interested me very much. When the plans for the present building were being approved by the then board, I questioned the method proposed of spraying on a plastic roof (which was only guaranteed for five years) and was informed that this method was quite alright.

We have all had experience with plastic hose hardening and cracking with constant exposure to the sun. The statement by the architect as reported Tuesday, was that bids for the roofing material would be delayed a year "on the chance of development of a better clear plastic material." There is quite a casualness about this whole business by some members of the board.

SEVERAL PEOPLE asked me if my comments on the chain fence last Friday didn't end quite suddenly. They were very observing. A few lines were cut out of the copy I submitted because of lack of space on the page. I wrote there was a good example of an intelligent and pleasing treatment at a nursery on Sir Francis Drake, between Ross and Tunstead Avenues in San Anselmo, where the fence is supported by plantings of shrubs and other growing things and suggested that a good look be taken of the nice effect.

If "letter to the editor" writer, Robert H. Chevalier, who wondered if I didn't realize the financial loss to Marin's economy if 56,000 commuters went by bus instead of their cars, will read the column more carefully he will see that I wasn't advocating that this be done but merely presenting some of the problems involved.

IF HE HASN'T a copy I will send him one. Anyway, there would not necessarily be a loss "to Marin" but rather a redistribution of dollars in the county by the families of the commuters who might change over.

Your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine this week is a double-barreled one. In addition to the regular Saturday supplement with its popular features, there will be a special holiday cookbook section highlighted by the entries of the prizewinning Marin cooks in the I-J's annual recipe contest. The holiday cookbook has become a tradition in Marin, and homemakers will find it a big help in planning their entertainment for the Thanksgiving-Christmas season.

The regular Marin Magazine section tomorrow will feature another of Independent-Journal historian Florence Donnelly's interesting articles on the pioneers who built our county. This time her subject is John Thomas Reed—and the sons and daughters who followed him. Reed was the first English-speaking white man to settle in Marin. And his contributions, as you will learn from the magazine story, were many and lasting in the North Bay Area.

Does San Rafael need another new car dealer?

It sure does. What city wouldn't want another prosperous, well managed business? Maybe with you running it. Before you say, "Who, me?", check out these fiscal facts about American Motors/Rambler dealers:

In the seven years, 1958-64, American Motors dealers averaged 36.8% per year return on investment (including owner's salary). During the same period they increased the number of American Motors cars on the road from under 400,000 to over 2,500,000.

For the last four years, American Motors has sold more cars per dealer nationally than any other U.S. nameplate except Chevrolet, Ford and Pontiac!

Today, American Motors dealers are bullish, and looking forward to a profitable future. And why not? Nearly 500 of them have boosted their volume of sales 25% or more over last year! One series alone, Ambassador, is way ahead of the entire industry with a year-to-year sales increase of 143%!

American Motors dealers are selling automobiles and making money! We're looking for a high-caliber, successful businessman to become an American Motors dealer right in this area. The investment required is much less than it would be for many a "big three" dealership of comparable size with expensive truck and truck parts inventories.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Canary Warbles, Rabbit Returns, All's Well In Southern Marin . . .

THERE'S A BIRD that lives across the street from our office which seems to always be singing as if the world needed his support. And so the other day we went to his house to find out why all the warbling.

"That's Sammy Davis Jr.," said owner Mrs. Mimi Marsh Brown.

"I bought him in Carmel where all the goofs are," said Mrs. Brown. She said Sammy sings starting at five in the morning, on sunny days and in fog. She puts him outside in his cage and sometimes squirts water on him for a bath.

Asked what he eats, she said regular bird food.

Mrs. Brown said people are always stopping by the gate to listen to her bird. Reasoning as to why he sings so much, Mrs. Brown explained "I think it is because of appreciation. I'm always telling him how nice he sings." She said, "He is a joy to the girls in the apartment houses in the neighborhood."

But, apparently, nobody remembered to tell anyone at the plant about the rabbit and so it was not fed for two days.

Ronald Moeller advertised his loss and people called from as far as Corte Madera and San Rafael saying they thought they had found his rabbit. However, from descriptions, it wasn't the Moellers'.

Wednesday morning, after checking with Mrs. Dorothy Reno at the Humane Society, Moeller called the corporation yard. "Is it a big white rabbit, very friendly?" he asked. "Yes," said Ed Gieseke. When Moeller arrived, the rabbit came right to him and jumped into his arms, Gieseke said.

Back home, Peter—or Patricia—ate carrots "and everything like mad" said Mrs. Moeller and the four Moeller youngsters were very happy.

MILKMAN Oscar Durant came into the office on one of those warm days, asking if anyone wanted a milk snake. He then proceeded to pour milk and half-and-half and use a push button can to muster three chocolate malts. Then the Lucas Valley dairyman packed his gear and disappeared.

Jaycees Jerry Hauke and Bob Gaskell have removed the broken down seats from the town's gravity car. They are to be repaired one day, said Hauke, and when replaced, "be a little more massive."

REV. MURRAY HAMMOND says he raised his mustache during a no - shaving period while on a choir boys' camping trip last summer. "It's a juvenile rebellion at the age of 41," he said.

Asked by Mayor Michael Wornum if he wanted to present his own case before the city council without his attorney, who was attending another meeting, Romolo Ivaroni said, "I have enough spiritual and moral help here. I don't know if I'll need him." There were five nuns in the audience.

Street Number Survey Planned

A survey is being made of Mill Valley streets in an effort to correct improper house numbering and perhaps change a few street names, city Building Inspector Loren K. Rohde said today.

The survey is ot be completed by February. Three departments: fire, public works and building, are cooperating. Fire Capt. Albert Marovich and Asst. Building Inspector Arthur Nagel are doing the field work.

Fewer than six street names will be changed, Rohde said. These are in cases where one street has two names or where streets don't connect but have the same name. About 20 per cent of the numbering system needs to be corrected, the inspector said. Numbers in many cases are out of sequence.

Get Army Medal On Retirement

Edward S. Muzidal, chief legal clerk in the office of the Staff Judge Advocate, Sixth Region Army Air Defense Command Headquarters, was presented the army commendation medal at his retirement ceremonies last week at Fort Baker.

Muzidal held his position in the judge advocate corps for 20 years. He plans to retire to Boise, Idaho, where he will live with his wife and two children. Presenting the medal was Col. Melvin R. Russell, deputy regional commander.

Driving Fine

Elmer August Castro, 35, of 34 Stasia Drive, Novato, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Aug. 19 by Novato police on Grant Avenue.

Troops Increase In S. Viet Nam Means More Protection For VIPs

WASHINGTON—The trouble when you escalate a war is that you not only have to escalate the troops but also the VIPS who want to visit the area where you're fighting.

In the beginning, when we first started helping out in South Viet Nam, our policy was to keep our VIP's to a minimum, on the theory that it was a South Vietnamese war and our VIPs should act in an advisory capacity only.

But as the succeeding South Vietnamese governments kept knocking off their own VIPs in military coups, we had no choice but to replace them with American VIPs who soon were being escorted all over the country.

FOR A LONG time the Department of Defense refused to discuss how many VIPs they intended to send to Viet Nam. The reason they gave is that it took five American soldiers to protect one American VIP, and if they revealed how many VIPs intended to go to Viet Nam, the enemy would know how many soldiers we planned to send there.

But then President Johnson announced he was going to send 140,000 American troops to protect our position in Southeast Asia. This meant we could expect 28,000 VIPs to visit "our" boys.

Unfortunately, more VIPs requested to go to Saigon, and so we had to up our commitment to 165,000 troops.

If the rate of VIP visits goes up, which it shows every intention of doing, we may soon have between 200,000 and 300,000 American GIs in Viet Nam.

THIS IS THE MAIN trouble with escalation. The more troops you throw in, the more VIPs want to visit the place, and then you have to send in more troops to protect them.

It's not just a question of Congressmen and Senators going to Viet Nam. You also have Defense Department officials, leading businessmen, Broadway shows, Hollywood movie stars, syndicated columnists, magazine publishers, television network executives, baseball players, clergy, and psychological warfare experts.

THOUGH IT IS not generally known, one of the conditions that the North Vietnamese have made for negotiations is that, although the American troops can stay in Viet Nam, the VIPs would have to pull out. The Americans stationed in Viet Nam are happily willing to give in on this point, though Washington has turned it down repeatedly. Without VIPs, Washington maintains, no one would know what a wonderful job we're doing over there and morale on the home front would collapse.

There was a time when VIPs were just willing to visit a few bars in Saigon and then return to the United States. But now most VIP's insist on helicopter flights over enemy territory and hazardous visits to Special Forces camps. This has produced a great strain on the military equipment, but it has given the Armed Forces a chance to check out new methods of handling VIPs.

MANY NEW techniques have been innovated which were unheard of in World War II and the Korean conflicts.

For one thing the new type of VIP wants to see the war for himself, and although he would like to be shot at, he certainly doesn't want to get hit. This has put the military on its toes. It is rumored that some VIPs are flown over friendly territory and shot at by our own troops, but this has been vehemently denied by the Defense Department.

There is a Pentagon order that no GI may fire at an American VIP no matter how much he is provoked. But in Viet Nam, as we all know, anything can happen and usually does.

Stinson Beach Citizens Ask County For Hepatitis Shots

If the county can send persons over the hill to Stinson Beach to inoculate dogs for rabies, it should be able to do something for people, Ruth Miller told the Stinson Beach Progressive Club Wednesday night.

She was commenting on a suggestion of Mrs. Ellen Dawson that all pupils in Bolinas-Stinson School District should be eligible for gamma globulin injections without signing a paper saying they are paupers. Two children in the district have been reported to have infectious hepatitis.

The club agreed to write to County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer asking if shots could be administered in Bolinas by the county health department, to accommodate people who cannot go to San Rafael.

Club members agreed to ask the State Public Utilities Commission that a hearing be held in Stinson Beach instead of San Francisco on the proposed increase in water rates by Stinson Beach Water Co. Basic rates for 500 cubic feet of water are proposed to be increased from $2.75 to $5.25 per month.

Greek College President To Be Honored In Mill Valley

By MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Emerson of Mill Valley have invited 60 guests to a cocktail party to be given at their carriage house on Nov. 12 from 5 to 7 p.m. honoring Robert I. Hayden, president of Anatolia College in Greece.

Mr. Hayden, a Stanford University graduate, will be in the Bay Area three days lecturing on Greek education and his college, an American-sponsored institution in Thessaloniki.

MRS. EMERSON, who is presently taking law courses on a part-time basis in San Francisco, was formerly an executive director with the Girl Scouts. In 1962, when she went to Greece as a guest of the Girl Guides Assn. there, she visited Anatolia College.

"The college enrolls 760 Greek boys and girls in a seven-year course of study based on the Greek gymnasium curriculum," she said, "but it contains many American elements as well. Practical courses in science, mathematics, typing and homemaking are offered, as well as an intensive course in English, conducted in a modern English laboratory."

TWO HUNDRED attended the dinner party at San Francisco Yacht Club Wednesday evening and watched the films Mr. and Mrs. Sid Messer of Sausalito took on their 10,000-mile, 14-month voyage from Nova Scotia to San Francisco Bay aboard their 36-foot yacht, the Sadie.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Harris, visiting from Winnetka, Ill., were on hand for the function. Mr. Harris, who had been commodore of the club in Belvedere in 1929, was welcomed by many old friends, including Henry Prien of San Francisco, another long-time club member. . . . William and Margie Fisher came over from Berkeley. They have recently sold their yacht, the Maribeth, which had been "in the family" for 35 years, and are back on the bay with a new boat, the Presto. . . . Mrs. Benton Mathews, Mrs. Robert Potter and Mrs. Harvey Rogers had been sailing in a practice session the afternoon of the party. They are getting ready to compete for the Adams Cup, which is awarded to the women's national sailing champion. The dinner was a benefit for the Adams Cup fund, given by the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club, in anticipation of their responsibilities when the finals will be hosted by the Belvedere club next September.

OVER A YEAR'S preparation helped assure Carol and James Staley of San Rafael that their three-month trip to Japan, from which they recently returned, would be enjoyed to the utmost.

A course in the Japanese language was one thing which enabled them to stay in country inns with native accommodations and feel at ease. One of the hotels was the subject of the popular book, "Japanese Inn," by Oliver Statler and, having read it, the Staleys set out to find the interesting places described.

One inn contained only six rooms so that the San Rafael visitors were made to feel like "part of the family." Traffic in the cities was hectic. Carol said buses met high-speed trains, then drove off direct routes to areas of scenic or historic interest to let passengers see the views and take pictures.

While in Kyoto the Staleys purchased many fine ceramics as well as beautifully made, authentically styled kimonos. A few metal-bound wooden boxes are still being received from San Francisco customs and await unpacking.

Today's Teen-Agers Feel Responsibility

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—"We're always telling our teen-agers that they have got it easy," says an eminent psychiatrist.

"But actually, they have it harder, every generation, because the challenge is greater."

It's Dr. Melvin S. Heller of Temple University speaking.

Dr. Heller says to be a teen-ager in today's world of expanded opportunity is to have "an increasingly awesome responsibility. And our teen-agers feel it."

HELLER DOESN'T link such youthful behavior as the student demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam or the burning of draft cards with this "awesome responsibility."

But he does explain, as he sees it, from whence springs the "in" teen-ager of today—"the 'cool' conformist who stays out of sight and waits for his opportunity."

"THEY LEARNED that partly from the post World War II attitudes of daddy who came home preaching the survivor's lesson. "Never volunteer for nothin'."

To Heller, teen-agers of today are "basically 99 per cent the way we are. There is a one per cent area of differences. Even these differences are of the same order, dimension and magnitude as the differences we as adults show from what our parents were when they were our age. These are the tiny measured differences of one generation from another."

Heller lists some of these differences — "superficially more sophisticated . . . and generally much more effluent than we were as teen-agers in the 1930's."

Heller's views of today's young people are included in a new publication, "Educating the Teen-ager in Human Relations, Management of Resources" of the American Home Economics Assn.

HELLER IS associate professor of psychiatry at the Temple University school of medicine and co-director, unit of law and psychiatry at the university's law school in Philadelphia.

Heller sees another factor troubling today's teen-ager, and one with which teen-agers will have to cope increasingly in the years to come.

IT'S THE "prolonged dependence — economic, familial and societal." This dependence results, Heller says, from "greater educational requirements, both academic and technical, in order to embark upon a successful adult career.

"To be able to operate or even to compete with a machine today, teen-agers have to know more than we had to know when we were their age. Within the family today, the teen-ager is no longer the labor asset . . . We have gone to the opposite extreme in which the teen-ager becomes the family consumer liability. He sits around more and eats more without earning anything for longer periods of time, and buys more and more things . . .

"IN OUR COUNTRY," says Heller, "we have specialized in the production of the indulged child . . . because we are generally a very indulgent, fat group of adults. We sit around stuffing things into our mouths, and very rarely into our heads, and we are magnificent models for our children . . ."

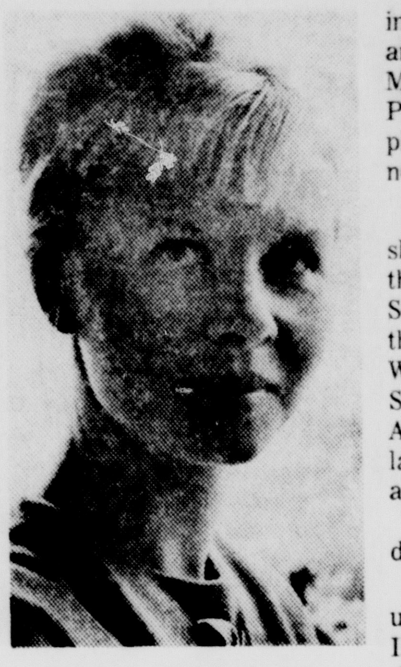
MRS. GRAHAM D. LUCE of San Anselmo, president of the Northern California State Dental Hygienists Assn., will be a delegate to the national convention of the American Dental Hygienists Assn. at the Dunes Hotel, in Las Vegas next week. Miss Anne Zufall of San Rafael will also attend the convention.

Friends Of Larkspur Library Elect Former Social Worker

A new organization, Friends of the Larkspur Library, has a new president, Mrs. Arthur M. Sestak.

Mrs. Sestak has been active in the organization since it was formed in February, having served as recording secretary.

RESIDENTS OF Larkspur, Corte Madera, Greenbrae and Kentfield may become members of the Friends of the Larkspur Library. "The aims of the group are to foster closer relations between the Larkspur Library and the citizens it serves, and to aid in the provision of adequate housing and other facilities for the library," according to Mrs. Sestak.



MRS. ARTHUR M. STESAK

The organization meets regularly the third Thursday of each month. At past programs local authors have discussed their books. A fund-raising event for February is being considered.

NOTING HER favorite pastimes, Joan Sestak says "reading, of course", travel, ballet and weaving. Earlier this year Mrs. Sestak enjoyed a trip to Peru and Colombia, and is now planning a trip to Yucatan for next year.

DURING THE seven years she has lived in Marin, Joan, the wife of architect Arthur M. Sestak, has been active with the Central Marin League of Women Voters, Marin Audubon Society, Delta Gamma Alumnae Assn., and the Madrone Woodlands Assn., which she served as secretary-treasurer.

The Sestaks have two children, Lynn, 7, and Wendy, 3.

The new president was graduated from the University of Illinois with a bachelor of arts degree in American History. She has been a social worker in Oakland and Seattle, and a teacher in Oakland Child Care centers.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Kenneth Shaff, vice-president; Mrs. Douglas Pease, treasurer; Mrs. William Paddock, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Kraeger, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Raymond Reilly, program chairman.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Once A Thief' At Rafael; Spy Thriller At Tamalpais

By LES DARD

DRAMA AT RAFAEL—Alain Delon and Ann-Margaret are the romantic team of "Once A Thief" now playing at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael. It was filmed entirely on location in Sausalito and San Francisco. The film also co-stars Van Heflin and Jack Palance.

Whatever your preference, your're bound to find something interesting this weekend at Marin theaters:

RAFAEL THEATER

San Francisco sets the scene for "Once A Thief," a crime drama now on screen starring Alain Delon and Ann-Margaret.

Delon plays a truck driver just out of prison. He desires to go straight, but is confounded by a multitude of problems.

First off, there's a fanatic police inspector (Van Heflin) who relentlessly pursues the young ex-con. He in hounded off a legitimate job and denied help in the State Employment Office.

His brother, Jack Palance, harasses him into helping on a $1 million platinum haul, which is pulled off in a smooth "Rififi" fashion.

In the end, Delon dies, showing (rather obtusely) that once a man is a criminal, society won't let him repent, but drives him back into crime.

Performances are good all around.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"The Ipcress File" (pronounced slowly, in a deep menacing voice) is opening tonight, a first class British spy thriller.

Michael Caine stars as an incongrous secret agent who stumbles onto the secret of the "brain drain," by which "they" are brainwashing Britain's top scientists. He gets himself into a tangled web of crime, intrigue, violence and espionage, and has a much harder time getting himself out.

In a surprising finish, after surviving myriad horrors, he emerges victorious, if a little bloody.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

She deserts her husband to become a jet-set jade simply because of her very special beauty. She first forms an alliance with bookish TV commentator Dirk Bogarde, but then sees more opportunities in a relationship with advertising executive Laurence Harvey.

But she has entered an alien, fast-moving world that in the end proves to much for her. Miss Christie does an admirable job.

NOVATO THEATER

Briefly, the plot concerns Ringo, the drummer. He gets to wearing a ring that's part of an East Indian sacrificial ritual, and can't get it off. The other three from Liverpool are mainly occupied with keeping him from under the blade of a nutty executioner.

The farce starts in London, picks up in the Alps and finally lands in the Bahamas. Also on the boys' trail is a pair of completely demented mad scientist types.

Another show in the same vein is "Ferry Cross the Mersey," featuring Gerry and the Pacemakers, also from England.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Holding over here, "Ship of Fools" has an extremely talented international cast. Included are Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Heinz Ruemann, Oskar Werner, Lee Marvin, Vivian Leigh, Elizabeth Ashley, George Segal, Werner Klemperer, Jose Greco and Michael Dunn, to name a few.

MOTOR MOVIES

Elvis plays a race car driver in Las Vegas to compete for the Nevada Grand Prix. In need of money, he becomes a waiter at a hotel, where he and an Italian count strike up a friendship. Both are rivals in the race, and for Ann-Margaret too.

The big event comes as the story's climax, highlighted by shots of Hoover Dam and a generous amount of racing thrills.

101 DRIVE-IN

FAIRFAX THEATER

There's "Topkapi," the funny thriller set in Greece and Turkey.

Miss Mercouri is a nymph who loves men and jewels. She covets a jewelled dagger in Istanbul's Topkapi Museum, and persuades Maximillian Schell, an old flame, to undertake the job.

Also here is "Never On Sunday," a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who sets out to reform a "virtuous" Greek prostitute.

Artists' Prints On Exhibition

Prints by two Marin County artists are included in "California Printmakers," an international touring exhibition which opened this week in the gallery of the San Francisco Art Institute.

Defense Blocks Communist Trial

WASHINGTON(AP) — Barely off the ground after its first week, the trial of the Communist Party has bogged down over the testimony of a California housewife who said she was a Communist for the FBI.

U.S. District Judge William B. Jones recessed the trial until Monday after the government tried several times yesterday but failed to question Mrs. Lula Mae Thompson about her alleged willingness four years ago to register the party as a Soviet agent.

The party is charged in 23 counts of failure to register with the attorney general and could face fines up to $230,000 if convicted.

Mrs. Thompson testified she joined the party in 1953 and left it in 1962. The French Camp, Calif. woman testified for the government before the Subversive Activities Control Board, which originally ordered the party to register.

Barron To Direct 'Witness' Drama

Karl Barron, Independent-Journal drama critic, has been chosen to direct the Ross Valley Players' production of "Witness for the Prosecution," which will open at the Marin Art and Garden Center Barn on Feb. 10.

Cast tryouts will be held at the Barn at 8 p.m. next Wednesday and Thursday, announced Carl Riznik, president of the Ross Valley Players.

Tam Students Change Procedure On Election

Tamalpais High School students Wednesday voted 722 to 549 to change the time of student elections from the sixth period class to the lunch period.

Formerly elections were held in the classroom with students being invited to vote. Now voting is to be on a voluntary basis at polls set up on campus during the lunch hour. Asked if this would not reduce voting, Vice Principal Raymond J. Bell replied, "the percentage might be a little smaller than now but it depends on how hot an election it is."

Bell said the school has a new policy whereby it releases vote counts except when there is a large discrepancy between candidates. In that case, he said, releasing the figures might cause undue embarrassment to the loser.

Elections were held on three propositions yesterday during first period.

Proposition A, which spells out a method of choosing judges for the judicial committee, passed 935 to 377. Proposition B, allowing the student council to give the student body the right to vote on any amendment to by-laws, passed 932 to 395. Proposition C was the change in time and place of elections.

Prison Given In Theft Case

Thomas Walter Larke, 28, was sentenced to one-to-10 years in state prison yesterday in Marin Superior Court on his June 25 jury conviction of receiving stolen goods.

Larke, of 68 Olivet Street, San Anselmo, had cash registers, parts and electric gear owned by National Cash Register Co., 4270 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, in his possession when arrested last February.

Teen-Age Motorist Bruised In Collision

James L. Girot, 18, of 24 Oxford Avenue, Mill Valley, suffered a bruised forehead at 2:10 p.m. yesterday in a two-car rear-end collision in Kentfield, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Girot was northbound on College Avenue 275 feet south of the Corte Madera Creek bridge when his car hit the rear of one driven by Nancy E. Thum, 18, of 114 Sycamore Avenue, San Anselmo, which had stopped for traffic. Girot was to see his own doctor.

Tomato juice is Ohio's official drink.

Twin Cities Boundary Talks Delayed For Towns' Studies

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night did not get very far in its roll as a mediator to improve the boundaries between Corte Madera and Larkspur.

Last night's session, billed as an informal hearing, produced little to listen to.

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher submitted a letter asking that the commission proposal be put off until the cities can study the proposal and that the commission take no action before holding a hearing.

The commission agreed to hold a hearing on the boundaries Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Under the proposal presented by commission executive officer John F. Barrows, the boundary between the cities would become Highway 101 and the railroad spur to Larkspur. To straighten the present convoluted boundary, Larkspur would have to give up its industrial land on the east side of Highway 101 and Corte Madera would have to give up its industrial tract to the west. All of Redwood High School, now split among the two cities and the county, would go into Larkspur.

Barrows emphasized that the commission has no power to force these changes. It would be up to the cities to initiate action, and with inhabited territories, elections would be necessary.

If the commission should adopt the boundary, however, it could serve as a guide when the pockets of unincorporated territory come up for annexation.

About 18 residents of Greenbrae Boardwalk attended the session, but their concern seemed to be allayed when Barrows told Howard Gold of 49 Greenbrae Boardwalk that he and his neighbors would have to initiate any annexation through petition. The proposed boundary would mean the boardwalk should go into Corte Madera when and if this happened.

The commission last night approved a seven-acre annexation at the west end of Manuel Freitas Parkway to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District. The tract is known as Terra Linda Unit 24.

Also approved, for the second time, was the eight-acre annexation to the same district of the Marin Professional Center on the northeast side of Terra Linda Interchange. This had to be resubmitted to the commission due to a technicality arising with new formation commission legislation effective Sept. 17. Because annexation petition had not been filed by that date, the annexation must come under new regulations.

One Greek and one Turk were wounded. This brought the casualties since the fighting resumed yesterday to three Greeks and five Turks wounded.

An uneasy calm returned by noon. Traffic resumed along the main highway to the east of the island passing through Sacharia, a suburb where most of the firing occurred.

How to put your store in Marin's best-selling location

There is ONE LOCATION in Marin County where more buyers shop and make buying decisions than in any other. It's the #1 location for traffic, for convenience and #1 as the accepted place to shop.

It's not on a corner, on a street or highway, yet it is the MAIN MARKETING THOROUGHFARE of Marin County.

This is the best-selling location in Marin for good reason. With it, you close the gap between your store and the consumer. With it, your merchandise moves to the ONE AREA where most buying decisions are made—in the home.

As a businessman, you know that the best merchandise in the world can sit on the shelf if you don't tell someone about it. You know that random, drop-in traffic seldom pays the bill. For people today WANT to know all about merchandise, prices and values before they hop in the car.

Reader traffic is store traffic

In the I-J, the whole county reads about your store, your merchandise. Because, next to news, the advertising columns are the most-read feature in the newspaper. Readers buy the I-J, in fact, in order to read advertising! Which proves that people want to look, compare, discuss and then decide on WHAT to buy and WHERE to buy it before they go to the store.

That's the critical thing to consider. That's why the best-selling location in Marin County is the most economic way to sales and profits. The I-J EXTENDS YOUR STORE throughout the county to the families that read most, buy most, and have more buying income. It gives you vastly greater CONTROL over your whole marketing and selling operation. You're not left by the side of the road, waiting for customers. THEY COME TO YOU.

Marin's most successful merchants have proved this time and time again. Small stores, big stores, selling every kind of merchandise.

You can do the same. You can have MARIN'S BEST-SELLING LOCATION any day you please. The space is waiting for you, and the cost is low. Just call DISPLAY ADVERTISING at the I-J (454-3020). Best investment you'll ever make.

Junior Red Cross Opens Classroom Recruit Drive

The enrollment program brought in nearly $2,000 last year, said Blackmore.

The Junior Red Cross program is active in county schools throughout the school year, said Dr. Bert C. Corona, chairman of the Marin Chapter's Red Cross youth advisory committee.

Children in elementary and junior high schools fill small gift boxes with school supplies, small toys, and soap, to be sent to children in other countries. High school youths hold fund raising functions for community service organizations and perform many other services during the year, said Corona.

Board Limits Talk Session On Marincello

Marin County supervisors Monday will hold their second hearing on the Marincello master plan, and comments from the public this time will be restricted.

The session will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Civic Center.

The board has agreed that the applicant, Thomas Frouge, and his attorney will first be allowed to reply to criticisms voiced two weeks ago at the first hearing.

Then protestants will have a chance to comment, but must restrict themselves to opinions on statements made in the Frouge rebuttal.

Supervisors expect this exchange to last about two hours. After that, board deliberation will begin and comments from the audience are expected only in answer to questions from supervisors.

At least, that is the way the board plans it.

Psychiatrist Says Military Blind To Common Trainee Syndrome

By JOHN KEARNEY

All these years, Army sergeants have called it 'chickening out."

Now the malady which often attacks recruits a few days after beginning basic training has been given an entirely different name by Dr. Thomas P. Lowry, a Kentfield psychiatrist.

He calls it "hyperventilation syndrome" and says the symptoms and treatment of this little-known condition should be written into the medical books.

In a paper he read to the initial meeting of Marin County Academy of Medicine, Dr. Lowry explained what happens to many 18-year-olds soon after they don uniform at boot camp.

The face becomes flushed, the mouth dry, fingers tingle, the mind becomes confused and the man sighs deeply from time to time.

He said that hyperventilation syndrome is similar to a general listlessness and loss of strength often due to mild anxiety.

"If this is so," he said, "then military physicians are once again faced with a condition which hospitalized hundreds of man in the American Civil War, placed 44,000 British soldiers on pension during World War I and was a major cause of disability among American recruits in World War II."

Dr. Lowry, a consultant psychiatrist at San Quentin Prison, has carried out studies at eight service basic training centers and claims the syndrome is a major cause of recruits reporting on sick call.

Some base doctors said that although they had a large number of recruits stricken with the symptoms, they were unable to answer all the questions asked by Dr. Lowry because of the absence of details in the official diagnostic manual.

A flip through other medical books indicated, said Dr. Lowry, that major classifications either ignore the problem of hyperventilation or place it in the hands of psychiatrists.

"It would seem that general physicians are too ready to abdicate their hold on these disorders, and psychiatrists too ready to accept them into the fold," he said.

"The unique experience of the military physician," he concluded, "may again enable him to make a contribution to the general field of medicine, both through a useful addition to classification, and through continuing research in the still puzzling area of psychophsysiologic diseases."

Fairfax Again To Study Cost Of Flood Job

Participation by the City of Fairfax in the proposed joint powers agreement for maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project will again face the city council for discussion Monday at 8 p.m. at the Fairfax Women's Club on Park Road.

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, champion of the flood control project, has asked to be allowed to address the council on the proposal. On Oct. 18 the council voted to remain outside of the agreement unless a maximum of five cents per $100 assessed valuation was set. The agreement as since proposed by County Council Douglas J. Maloney includes such a maximum.

While County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost predicted that the maintenance tax on the project would be about 1.7 cents.

Also slated to address the council is County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer. Storer will speak on the proposed second deck for the Golden Gate Bridge, approved by bridge district directors last week.

The council will also discuss establishing a city health office and the best location for a new county dump.

Corte Madera Pupils Boast Own Hero; Newspaper Carrier Lauded

Kudos For Drowning Rescue

His heroism was recognized yesterday afternoon at a seventh-eighth grade surprise assembly at which Assemblyman William T. Bagley was speaker, rushing to Corte Madera just in time after the noon close of the special session of the California Legislature.

His recognition came in the form of the California Newspaperboy Foundation's heroism trophy for highest award betrophy for the year, highest award bestowed by the foundation. He was voted it at the annual convention of the California Circulation Managers Assn. in San Diego this month.

The 13-year-old James was unassuming throughout Bagley's laudatory remarks—as he was on that rainy January day when he returned home, changed clothes, and finished delivering his paper route after snatching Charlie Kelly from the brink of death.

Declaring that "little Charlie Kelly would not be alive today, were it not for this responsible, courageous act," he said James showed an equal sense of responsibility by going home, changing clothes, and delivering his papers, apologizing to customers for being late.

The trophy, a likeness of a newspaperboy standing, poised to throw a folded paper, was presented by Independent-Journal circulation manager Allan G. Howells.

"It is a real pleasure to give you this award," Howells said. "We are all very proud of you."

After this ceremony, Bagley stepped to the podium again and presented the boy with the passbook to a savings account the assemblyman opened in his name in Corte Madera, just before coming to the school. Deposited in the account was $50.

"This is just a way of showing that good deeds are not only worthwhile, they sometimes have a little monetary value, too," he said.

Bagley told the students that they, too, are heroes, practically every day, just by showing a sense of responsibility. He praised the job of a newspaperboy as one which teaches this responsibility.

Besides principal, teachers and students, Larkspur School Dist. Supt. Milton S. Cohen, Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher, and Independent-Journal promotion manager Ray Mount Rogers attended the assembly to pay honor to James.

James, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Peterson, 12 Marin Trailer Court, 2130 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, was on his delivery route near his home when the rescue occurred.

He saw an arm waving above the three-foot-deep water of the slough behind the trailer court. He jumped from his bicycle, ran to the water and pulled out Charles, a neighbor's child.

The water was over the child's head, but James gave him a few slaps on the back and took him to his home in good condition.

"Charles would have drowned if Jimmy hadn't seen him and pulled him out," Mrs. Charles Kelly Sr., his mother, said at the time.

James has been delivering the Independent - Journal in his neighborhood for more than three years. "We moved here from Sacramento about three and a half years ago, and I started with the route about three months after we got here," he said.

So far he has saved $956.18 from his newspaper earnings. "I'll probably use it to go to college," he said. "I've got a B average in school."

He hasn't pinned down exactly what career he intends to follow, but is thinking "of maybe an airplane pilot, something mechanical or something like the National Aeronautics and Space Agency."

Aside from school and his newspaper route, James manages to take a few cruises on Corte Madera Creek on his 13-foot rowboat with a five-horsepower outboard engine.

"It was a gift from a customer," he explained. "I have another one, a sleeker one, that was a gift from another friend."

James, who plays saxophone in the school band, also finds time to practice on the sax at home.

In the midst of his busy schedule, James also has the hobby of coin collecting. "I have coins with a face value of at least $100," he said.

He is a member of Boy Scout Troop 24, sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club, and recently was awarded a certificate of appreciation from the Boy Scouts for his heroic action in saving Charles.

Although James has been matter-of-fact about his rescue work, he is enthusiastic about taking another trip to Disneyland with the Independent-Journal newspaperboys.

"I've been on two trips to Disneyland and three trips to Santa Cruz, and I'd like to go again," he said.

Mill Valley Annex Voted, But With Double Scoldings

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The Marin County Local Agency Formation commission last night unanimously approved the 61-acre Cascade annexation to Mill Valley, but only after the county planning department and Mill Valley City Manager Bert Balmer were both strongly chided.

Commission Chairman Jan Paul Dyk said he thought the planning department and Balmer both guilty of "an unfortunate choice of words" in their heated exchange over the annexation.

Although Planning Director B. D. Dobbs did not prepare the recommendation against the annexation, which emenated from his department, it was Dobbs who got most of the heat last night.

The planning report said the annexation proposal appeared "capricious" and not based on "rational criteria."

In a lengthy reply, Balmer said it seemed he was no longer dealing "with a responsible county office."

Not only did the commission dislike Balmer's letter, but one member, Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, questioned Mill Valley's annexation policies.

"Balmer fires off these annexations like the Fourth of July," Leydecker said. "This might be interesting. but what the hell are they doing?"

Leydecker said Mill Valley should again be requested to file a map with the commission showing how far it eventually intends to extend its boundaries. Most other cities have given the commission such maps. Leydecker suggested that no new Mill Valley annexation be considered until the map is in hand.

He said the city hopes eventually to extend its boundaries to the surrounding ridge lines, and the Cascade annexation falls within this territory. "We believe this is a logical annexation," he said.

Commissioners agreed, but commission executive officer, John F. Barrows had sereval reservations. These included failure to include the Monte Vista tract to the east, failure to include lots at Cascade Drive and Monte Vista Avenue and lots in Edgewood Avenue, failure to include 400 feet of Edgewood Avenue itself, and the fact that access to the western portion of the annexation must be over county roads.

Bragdon replied that as much territory as possible was included. Omitted areas were due to protest by owners, he said.

Maurice Capps owns 57 of the 61 acres. He requested the annexation for a development that will involve one to one and one-half homes per acre on his land. He needs city services, particularly sewers, Bragdon said.

At the end of the discussion, Commissioner Hugh Marchant said the biggest argument he could see against the annexation was the tone of Balmer's letter.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, sitting as an alternate for Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who was home ill, moved to approve the proposal. Dyk seconded.

Leydecker, Marchant, Dyk, Storer and Wayne Womack made up the commission membership last night.

Sausalito Bans Open Burning

There will be no more open burning allowed in the city of Sausalito, Fire Chief Charles E. Masten said today. The new policy is a fire prevention measure to protect the homeowner.

In the past, open burning has been permitted only during the rainy season with a permit. Residents may continue to burn refuse in incinerators with permits.

Masten said that any person who sets a fire or allows it to be set on his property is legally responsible for damage to other property should the fire get out of control.

Work Starts On Tree Nursery

Trees grown there will be used for beautifying parks in the area. The tree farm is a project of the Novato Civic Foundation.

The North Marin County Water District has donated about one acre on the bank of Novato Creek. Cost of clearing the land is being shared by Bobo's Construction Co., Ignacio, and County Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

An irrigation system will be installed by the time the first trees arrive Dec. 1, according to Mrs. Lynn Scott, member of the foundation's board of directors.

About 2,000 seedling Monterey pines, Bishop pines, Douglas firs and redwoods will be planted, and moved to parks when they are large enough. Other civic groups have been asked to help with the planting.

Surplus trees and those which grow too large for replanting will be sold as Christmas trees.

Fair Hiring On Civic Center Building Sought

The Marin County Human Rights Commission last night recommended broadening the fair employment clause in the contract for the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center.

However, the recommendation appears to be too late for inclusion in the contract, since the call for bids must be authorized by supervisors next Tuesday if they are to be opened Dec. 14 as scheduled.

The commission, after a lengthy session, recommended the clause be expanded to include a requirement that the contractor shall hire all apprentices possible under collective bargaining regulations, that the contractor take all steps possible to assure employment of racial minorities, and that he allow access to his hiring records.

The recommendations, in a letter from commission Chairman James Quiett, were sent to County Administrator Alan Bruce for inclusion on the Tuesday board agenda. Bruce said he will recommend the items be considered in future contracts.

Unique Sailing Craft Launched In Marin

Arthur L. Piver of Mill Valley this week launched his newest boat, a 33-foot ocean-racing Trimaran called Stiletto which he plans to race next year across the Atlantic to Denmark.

The boat was launched Monday at Marin Heliport and Wednesday the mast was placed by helicopter. Boat designer Piver, who lives at 59 Marlin Avenue, says he is the first man to design the modern cruising Trimaran but this type of craft has been built as outriggers for centuries.

Eggs Returned To Cholestrol Worrier Diet

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance New Service

BAL HARBOUR, Fla.—Cholesterol watchers are being told it's okay to eat eggs — but no more than four a week, counting those used in cooking.

Eggs are about as high in cholesterol, a fatty substance, as any food available. And the tendency has been to omit them from diets designed to combat heart disease.

The word from investigators at the famed Cleveland Clinic comes at a time when the medical world is still arguing over the role of diet in heart disease.

It is generally conceded that high cholesterol readings in the blood go hand-in-hand with an elevated risk of a heart attack. Whether a cutback in cholesterol actually shaves this risk is anybody's guess. But some scientists believe there is ample evidence to justify a diet.

The main problem has been coming up with a menu most people can stick to without backsliding. The Cleveland researchers, Drs. Helen B. Brown, Marily Farrand and Irvine H. Page, say their cholesterol-lowering diet is neither overly restrictive nor rigid. In working out the four-egg safety margin, they said their volunteers had "a varied and palatable menu, gourmet and simple fare, with the use of properly chosen and obtainable foods."

Reducing cholesterol in the body is usually achieved by substituting polyunsaturated fats, or vegetable oils, for solid, or saturated, animal fats, which are consumed in great quantities by many Americans. Polyunsaturates tend to lower cholesterol, animal fats raise it.

The researchers described the diets to the Council on Arteriosclerosis of the American Heart Assn. They sought to determine how much cholesterol one can eat without offsetting the cholesterol-lowering benefits, if such they are, of vegetable oils.

Fifty normal volunteers ate a standard cholesterol-lowering daily diet consisting of 2,700 calories with 28 per cent derived from fat. About 11 per cent of the fat was saturated, and 17 per cent polyunsaturated.

The volunteers had two servings of lean meat, fish or poultry every day. Cottonseed oil and unsaturated margarine replaced the butter and other hard fats of the American diet.

The "standard" diet alone was enough to drop the volunteers' average cholesterol by about 40 milligrams per cubic centimeter of blood — a significant reduction.

Then, investigators launched an 18-day trial period in which they altered the standard diet, giving some volunteers more or less polyunsaturates, plus varying numbers of eggs.

From this, it was concluded that four eggs a week, including those used in cooking, is a safe allowance in a practical, cholesterol-lowering diet.

High School Writing Contest Again Slated

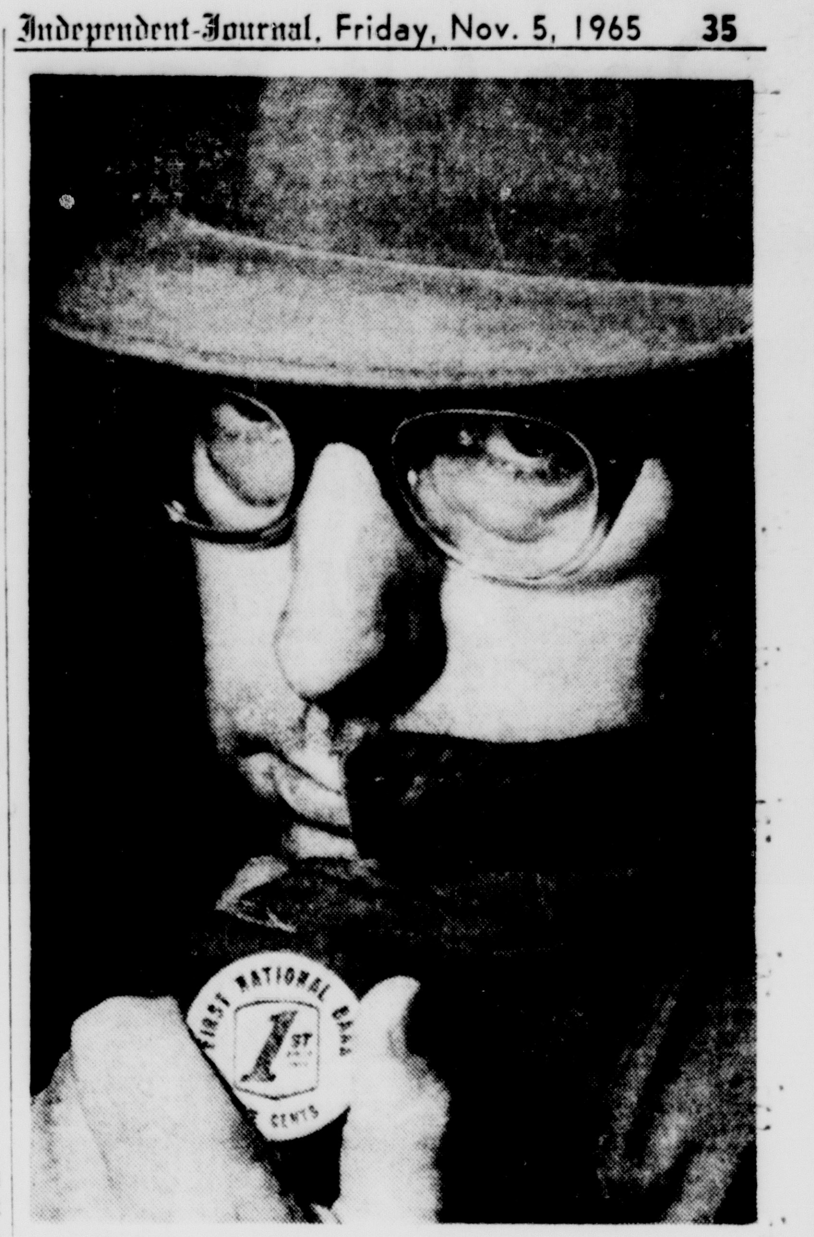
The competition offers cash prizes, college scholarships and special grants for the best entries in nine classifications of writing.

Coed Finds Ancient Car's Fun To Drive

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI)—Jeanne Trotter, a 17-year-old high school senior, drives a 1929 Model A Ford and says she wouldn't trade it with her dad's brand new car.

"I've become attached to the Model A," said Jeanne, who is editor of her school paper. "I guess I just like to drive it because it's different."

Jeanne nicknamed the car "Gertrude."



P-SST, WANNA WOODEN NICKEL?

Garbed as a shady character, free-lance photographer Ray Barth of Monroe, Wis., pokes fun at U.S. Treasury Department's charges that wooden nickels issued 18 months ago as a bank publicity stunt must be classed as counterfeit money. The government has seized 450 of the 20,000 stunt coins; one Monroe tavern keeper is selling them at $5 each, it is reported. (UPI Telephoto)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pneumonia Concept Treatment Has Changed With Antibiotics

VAN DELLEN

Prior to World War II, pneumonia was called the old man's friend because so many ailing oldsters died of the condition. The disease also was common among the young and middle-aged, and one in three usually expired. In addition, the high temperature lasted for at least 10 days and left the individual so weak that he spent two months recuperating.

MANY FORMS of the disease responded so rapidly to the antibiotics that victims are back at work in less than two weeks. The causative germs are killed and the temperature returns to normal before the victim becomes toxic and weakened and loses weight.

The medical concept of pneumonia has changed. We no longer attempt to distinguish between the lobar and broncho types. We are more interested in determining the causative agent so that the right remedy can be pitted against the culprit.

WE DO NOT want to imply that the respiratory disease is no longer a problem. The discovery of penicillin did not change the status of pneumonias caused by viruses, rickettsia, and the mycoplasma group of organisms.

These microbes do not respond to most antibiotics and are still a threat among certain age groups. The mycoplasmas, for example, are responsible for 50 per cent of all pneumonias among military recruits and those in federal prisons.

WE ALSO hear more about the ways specific pneumonia-causing microbes are transmitted. The Cryptococcus neoformans, for example, is found mainly in old pigeon droppings. People sitting blissfully in parks and city squares may not realize that this dust is windborne and capable of causing a stubborn type of pneumonia.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

WHISKY AND COLDS

I.K. writes: My friend claims he can always kill a fresh cold by taking a few shots of whisky and going to bed. Does this treatment have any scientific value?

REPLY

Bed rest, yes; whisky, no. Alcohol beverages dilate the blood vessels in the nose and the ensuing congestion makes symptoms worse in some cold suffers.

MIGRANE

Mrs. D. writes: If both husband and wife suffer from migraine attacks, are their children candidates for these headaches?

REPLY

Yes. Migraine is thought to be inherited. In one group of 65 offspring of parents who both had migraine, 45 were victims of this disorder.

SYMPATHETIC

Mrs. K. W. writes: My girl friend is expecting a baby and her husband has morning sickness every day. Why?

REPLY

No one knows the cause of this usual phenomenon. Occasionally the grandmother-to-be suffers from morning sickness during her daughter's term of pregnancy.

LOTS OF SHUT-EYE

Mrs. L. writes: It there something wrong with a man who wants to sleep 12 hours every night?

REPLY

He is either lazy or lucky.

MOST PREVALENT

Mrs. S. writes: What is the most common type of malignancy in women?

REPLY

Cancer of the breast.

Today's Health Hint— The largest or most rapidly growing baby is not necessarily the healthiest.

Car Hits Rocket Train; Boys Die

FREMONT (AP) — A train-car collison last night killed two teen-age boys and critically injured another.

A Western Pacific railroad inspector said the first five cars of the 56-car freight train carried solid rocket propellant for use at Cape Kennedy.

"If any of the tank cars had fallen off the track," the inspector said, "the impact could have ignited the propellant." He said the explosion would have been disastrous.

Police officer Leroy Pyle identified the dead boys as Darryl Sebastion Andrade, 15, and Richard Perreira Jr., 18, both of Fremont.

English Girls Find Adventure Strenuous

PRETTY PRAIRIE, Kan. (UPI)—Two English girls, 20-year-old twins, plan to "just recuperate" in Kansas after spending five months working their way across the United States.

Trixie and Gwen Griffith, of London, visited 13 states in five months; then got a job for a Manhattan, Kan., publishing firm, and spent a recent weekend here. They said they actually both liked Colorado best. They think it's most like England.

Eggs Returned To Cholestrol Worrier Diet

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance New Service

BAL HARBOUR, Fla.—Cholesterol watchers are being told it's okay to eat eggs — but no more than four a week, counting those used in cooking.

Eggs are about as high in cholesterol, a fatty substance, as any food available. And the tendency has been to omit them from diets designed to combat heart disease.

The word from investigators at the famed Cleveland Clinic comes at a time when the medical world is still arguing over the role of diet in heart disease.

It is generally conceded that high cholesterol readings in the blood go hand-in-hand with an elevated risk of a heart attack. Whether a cutback in cholesterol actually shaves this risk is anybody's guess. But some scientists believe there is ample evidence to justify a diet.

The main problem has been coming up with a menu most people can stick to without backsliding. The Cleveland researchers, Drs. Helen B. Brown, Marily Farrand and Irvine H. Page, say their cholesterol-lowering diet is neither overly restrictive nor rigid. In working out the four-egg safety margin, they said their volunteers had "a varied and palatable menu, gourmet and simple fare, with the use of properly chosen and obtainable foods."

Reducing cholesterol in the body is usually achieved by substituting polyunsaturated fats, or vegetable oils, for solid, or saturated, animal fats, which are consumed in great quantities by many Americans. Polyunsaturates tend to lower cholesterol, animal fats raise it.

The researchers described the diets to the Council on Arteriosclerosis of the American Heart Assn. They sought to determine how much cholesterol one can eat without offsetting the cholesterol-lowering benefits, if such they are, of vegetable oils.

Fifty normal volunteers ate a standard cholesterol-lowering daily diet consisting of 2,700 calories with 28 per cent derived from fat. About 11 per cent of the fat was saturated, and 17 per cent polyunsaturated.

The volunteers had two servings of lean meat, fish or poultry every day. Cottonseed oil and unsaturated margarine replaced the butter and other hard fats of the American diet.

The "standard" diet alone was enough to drop the volunteers' average cholesterol by about 40 milligrams per cubic centimeter of blood — a significant reduction.

Then, investigators launched an 18-day trial period in which they altered the standard diet, giving some volunteers more or less polyunsaturates, plus varying numbers of eggs.

From this, it was concluded that four eggs a week, including those used in cooking, is a safe allowance in a practical, cholesterol-lowering diet.

High School Writing Contest Again Slated

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI) — More than 100,000 junior and senior high school student are expected to participate in the 1965-66 Creative Writing Awards program for the 41st consecutive year.

The competition offers cash prizes, college scholarships and special grants for the best entries in nine classifications of writing.

Coed Finds Ancient Car's Fun To Drive

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI)—Jeanne Trotter, a 17-year-old high school senior, drives a 1929 Model A Ford and says she wouldn't trade it with her dad's brand new car.

"I've become attached to the Model A," said Jeanne, who is editor of her school paper. "I guess I just like to drive it because it's different."

Jeanne nicknamed the car "Gertrude."

P-SST, WANNA WOODEN NICKEL?

Garbed as a shady character, free-lance photographer Ray Barth of Monroe, Wis., pokes fun at U.S. Treasury Department's charges that wooden nickels issued 18 months ago as a bank publicity stunt must be classed as counterfeit money. The government has seized 450 of the 20,000 stunt coins; one Monroe tavern keeper is selling them at $5 each, it is reported.

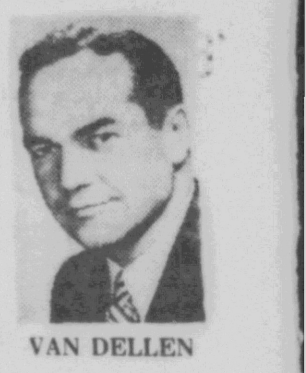
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pneumonia Concept Treatment Has Changed With Antibiotics



VAN DELLEN

Prior to World War II, pneumonia was called the old man's friend because so many ailing oldsters died of the condition. The disease also was common among the young and middle-aged, and one in three usually expired. In addition, the high temperature lasted for at least 10 days and left the individual so weak that he spent two months recuperating.

MANY FORMS of the disease responded so rapidly to the antibiotics that victims are back at work in less than two weeks. The causative germs are killed and the temperature returns to normal before the victim becomes toxic and weakened and loses weight.

The medical concept of pneumonia has changed. We no longer attempt to distinguish between the lobar and broncho types. We are more interested in determining the causative agent so that the right remedy can be pitted against the culprit.

WE DO NOT want to imply that the respiratory disease is no longer a problem. The discovery of penicillin did not change the status of pneumonias caused by viruses, rickettsia, and the mycoplasma group of organisms.

These microbes do not respond to most antibiotics and are still a threat among certain age groups. The mycoplasmas, for example, are responsible for 50 per cent of all pneumonias among military recruits and those in federal prisons.

WE ALSO hear more about the ways specific pneumonia-causing microbes are transmitted. The Cryptococcus neoformans, for example, is found mainly in old pigeon droppings. People sitting blissfully in parks and city squares may not realize that this dust is windborne and capable of causing a stubborn type of pneumonia.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

WHISKY AND COLDS

I.K. writes: My friend claims he can always kill a fresh cold by taking a few shots of whisky and going to bed. Does this treatment have any scientific value?

REPLY

Bed rest, yes; whisky, no. Alcohol beverages dilate the blood vessels in the nose and the ensuing congestion makes symptoms worse in some cold suffers.

MIGRANE

Mrs. D. writes: If both husband and wife suffer from migraine attacks, are their children candidates for these headaches?

REPLY

Yes. Migraine is thought to be inherited. In one group of 65 offspring of parents who both had migraine, 45 were victims of this disorder.

SYMPATHETIC

Mrs. K. W. writes: My girl friend is expecting a baby and her husband has morning sickness every day. Why?

REPLY

No one knows the cause of this usual phenomenon. Occasionally the grandmother-to-be suffers from morning sickness during her daughter's term of pregnancy.

LOTS OF SHUT-EYE

Mrs. L. writes: It there something wrong with a man who wants to sleep 12 hours every night?

REPLY

He is either lazy or lucky.

MOST PREVALENT

Mrs. S. writes: What is the most common type of malignancy in women?

REPLY

Cancer of the breast.

Car Hits Rocket Train; Boys Die

FREMONT (AP) — A train-car collison last night killed two teen-age boys and critically injured another.

A Western Pacific railroad inspector said the first five cars of the 56-car freight train carried solid rocket propellant for use at Cape Kennedy.

"If any of the tank cars had fallen off the track," the inspector said, "the impact could have ignited the propellant." He said the explosion would have been disastrous.

Police officer Leroy Pyle identified the dead boys as Darryl Sebastion Andrade, 15, and Richard Perreira Jr., 18, both of Fremont.

English Girls Find Adventure Strenuous

PRETTY PRAIRIE, Kan. (UPI)—Two English girls, 20-year-old twins, plan to "just recuperate" in Kansas after spending five months working their way across the United States.

Trixie and Gwen Griffith, of London, visited 13 states in five months; then got a job for a Manhattan, Kan., publishing firm, and spent a recent weekend here. They said they actually both liked Colorado best. They think it's most like England.

One Of Year's Strangest Dramas: The Cuban Exodus

VOYAGE BEGINS — If American officials know why Cuban Premier Fidel Castro suddenly decreed his citizens were free to leave, they aren't saying, but the exodus is on. A Cuban soldier (above) helps refugees aboard a boat from Florida on Monday. The craft had beat the Oct. 21 deadline for arrival; Castro has ordered that no more refugees will leave except by air, unless they can board boats already waiting. (UPI Telephoto)

HELPED TO SAFETY—Among the 281 refugees plucked from wave-tossed small boats in the Florida Straits Monday was this elderly Cuban woman, being helped aboard the Coast Guard Cutter McCulloch as the Stars and Stripes flutter in the background. The perils of the 90-plus mile trip in small pleasure craft have taken 20-plus lives in the last few weeks, and the Coast Guard is trying to halt the venture lest more die. (UPI Telephoto)

MUCHACHAS AND FRIENDS—Among the refugees rescued Monday were little Maria Julia Gonzales (above), who managed to make the sea crossing with her beloved "gato," Tuffy. Another girl rescued (right) quickly charmed some Coast Guardsmen in the McCulloch out of his white hat. The scenes this week were practically a re-run of episodes that have been happening ever since the exodus started; Cubans rescued in a mid-October crossing (below) wave happily as they near the Key West dock where they were awaited by relatives who escaped earlier from Castro. (AP and UPI Photos)

ARRIVING IN FLORIDA—Clutching a stuffed toy nearly as large as herself, a Cuban girl is followed down the gang-plank of the Coast Guard Cutter Lamar by a boy bearing a box of breakfast cereal. Like the parents, the children had to leave nearly everything behind in Cuba. Meanwhile, a few boats still wait (below) in the Cuban port for their loads and for permission to depart for Florida. But, Preimer Castro's officials have declared that no more boats will be permitted to risk the perils of the straits, particularly since this week's sinking of a Mexicobounud refugee boat off Yucatan, in which only nine of 45 passengers are believed to have survived. The waiting boats' American crews will be permitted to depart when the weather is calm enough, the Cuban authorities say. (UPI Telephotos)

MIXED EMOTIONS—Mrs. Aida Elena Perez arrives in Key West, Fla., Monday bearing a shiner on her right eye. She said it was caused by being emotionally upset when the Cuban militia refused to let her 16-year-old son leave the island. Castro has refused to let draft-age youths leave, declaring they must serve their fatherland rather than be drafted into the United States service. (AP Wirephoto)

Marines Start CARE Drive

Marine Corps Reserve in Marin County has launched a drive for contributions to aid CARE programs for the Vietnamese.

The aid will go to the people of Viet Nam and not to the Marines serving there, as indicated in the Independent-Journal Monday.

Although the Marines will not collect money themselves, the training center at 153 Madison Avenue, Santa Venetia, will supply special envelopes for the purpose and also a Marine representative to talk to service organizations or groups.

State Guide To Parks Out

Publication of a new state guide to planning county parks and recreation areas has been announced by Mrs. Dewey J. Forry of Marinwood, chairman of the state recreation commission.

A major purpose of the guide, she said, is to clarify which level of government is responsible for each phase of setting up regional parks.

The guide is the product of a year-long study by state, regional, county and city park officials from throughout California.

Steve Lawrence Show On Way Out

By RICK DU BROW

Lawrence's final broadcast will be seen Dec. 13. On Dec. 20, it will be replaced by "Art Linkletter's Hollywood Talent Scouts," which was on the network this past summer.

The Lawrence series was knocked off by its NBC-TV competitor, "Run For Your Life," a weekly one-hour show in which Ben Gazzara stars as a young man with a terminal illness who decides to live to the hilt in his remaining time.

The other Lawrence competitor, ABC-TV's "Ben Casey," is doing very poorly in the ratings too, and is currently not expected to return next season.

Industry observers feel generally that Lawrence simply couldn't carry an hour show, that he was too citified to attract the important rural audience and that the program didn't offer much new in variety.

It was obvious from the debut of the Lawrence series, in which Lucille Ball was a guest and virtually took over the program, that CBS-TV had doubts about his ability to carry the show. It was all downhill after the opener, because there aren't many Lucille Balls.

It was also reported yesterday that the chances for another ratings flop, CBS-TV's "Rawhide," which was to be either switched to another time slot or canceled — or possibly cut in half from its hour length — are now very, very slim, and maybe gone already.

ABC-TV, which promised a series of original one-hour dramas for this season under the title of "Crisis" — and then failed to deliver — now has announced grandiose plans for next season for a regularly-scheduled prime-time program to be called "ABC '66."

The network promises works by leading playwrights and musical comedy composers, as well as unusual documentaries and top stars, in its planned 26 original presentations and six repeats. The feeling is that ABC-TV will probably deliver this time since a failure to do so would cause it to face the most extreme sort of embarrassment.

Among the planned projects are: An original comedy about life in New York City by Murray Schisgal, author os the broadway hit "Luv," and starring the brilliant headliner of that play, Alan Arkin. Also: a musical comedy about football by Richard Adler, composer of "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees."

In addition: A drama, "That First Easter," by Henry Denker, which tells the story of the Crucifixion "as seen from the conflicting viewpoints of a rabbi and his son." And another Denker drama, "This Man Called Andros," about the aftermath of the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

Also: An Anthony Newley hour of pantomine and music. A musical comedy, "The Flip Side," about today's music industry. A documentary about the wit of the late President Kennedy. A documentary entitled "An Essay on the American Jew." A program that takes a humorous look at the world of noted director and comedian Mike Nichols. And a drama, "The Cliff Dwellers," about the "interrelated adventures in New York City of seven alumni of an Eashern University."

Ross Loses Suit Over Falling Tree

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday awarded $7,913.02 to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pometta of Ross for damages to their home and shrubbery when a large elm tree fell on Jan. 31, 1963.

Defendant was the Town of Ross. The jury deliberated five hours.

The Pomettas, of 12 Fernhill Avenue, maintained the parkway tree was on city property in front of their house. They said they warned city officials long before the tree fell that it was in dangerous and defective condition.

They had asked about $12,000 damages. Judge Harold J. Haley heard the case.

Garden Drainage Tips On Agenda

William H. Greving of Novato will be guest speaker at Novato Garden Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Novato Community House.

Greving will give tips on garden drainage and the proper way to set up flower beds and plant evergreens.

A dessert luncheon will precede the talk.

Marin Deputy Sheriffs' Assn. has Wade Powell as president and William Keaton as vice president.

Radio Club Plans Code, Theory Course

The Tamalpais Amateur Radio Club will offer a class in code and theory for beginners and novices at Room 12, Hill Junior High School, 720 Diablo Avenue, Novato, at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The course will be presented Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. with club members acting as instructors, reported Philip E. Dickinson, publicity chairman.

Although the Marines will not collect money themselves, the training center at 153 Madison Avenue, Santa Venetia, will supply special envelopes for the purpose and also a Marine representative to talk to service organizations or groups.

Steve Lawrence Show On Way Out

By RICK DU BROW

Lawrence's final broadcast will be seen Dec. 13. On Dec. 20, it will be replaced by "Art Linkletter's Hollywood Talent Scouts," which was on the network this past summer.

The Lawrence series was knocked off by its NBC-TV competitor, "Run For Your Life," a weekly one-hour show in which Ben Gazzara stars as a young man with a terminal illness who decides to live to the hilt in his remaining time.

The other Lawrence competitor, ABC-TV's "Ben Casey," is doing very poorly in the ratings too, and is currently not expected to return next season.

Industry observers feel generally that Lawrence simply couldn't carry an hour show, that he was too citified to attract the important rural audience and that the program didn't offer much new in variety.

It was obvious from the debut of the Lawrence series, in which Lucille Ball was a guest and virtually took over the program, that CBS-TV had doubts about his ability to carry the show. It was all downhill after the opener, because there aren't many Lucille Balls.

It was also reported yesterday that the chances for another ratings flop, CBS-TV's "Rawhide," which was to be either switched to another time slot or canceled — or possibly cut in half from its hour length — are now very, very slim, and maybe gone already.

ABC-TV, which promised a series of original one - hour dramas for this season under the title of "Crisis" — and then failed to deliver — now has announced grandiose plans for next season for a regularly-scheduled prime-time program to be called "ABC '66."

The network promises works by leading playwrights and musical comedy composers, as well as unusual documentaries and top stars, in its planned 26 original presentations and six repeats. The feeling is that ABC-TV will probably deliver this time since a failure to do so would cause it to face the most extreme sort of embarrassment.

Among the planned projects are: An original comedy about life in New York City by Murray Schisgal, author os the broadway hit "Luv," and starring the brilliant headliner of that play, Alan Arkin. Also: a musical comedy about football by Richard Adler, composer of "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees."

In addition: A drama, "That First Easter," by Henry Denker, which tells the story of the Crucifixion "as seen from the conflicting viewpoints of a rabbi and his son." And another Denker drama, "This Man Called Andros," about the aftermath of the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

Also: An Anthony Newley hour of pantomine and music. A musical comedy, "The Flip Side," about today's music industry. A documentary about the wit of the late President Kennedy. A documentary entitled "An Essay on the American Jew." A program that takes a humorous look at the world of noted director and comedian Mike Nichols. And a drama, "The Cliff Dwellers," about the "interrelated adventures in New York City of seven alumni of an Eashern University."

Ross Loses Suit Over Falling Tree

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday awarded $7,913.02 to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pometta of Ross for damages to their home and shrubbery when a large elm tree fell on Jan. 31, 1963.

Defendant was the Town of Ross. The jury deliberated five hours.

The Pomettas, of 12 Fernhill Avenue, maintained the parkway tree was on city property in front of their house. They said they warned city officials long before the tree fell that it was in dangerous and defective condition.

They had asked about $12,000 damages. Judge Harold J. Haley heard the case.

Garden Drainage Tips On Agenda

William H. Greving of Novato will be guest speaker at Novato Garden Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Novato Community House.

Greving will give tips on garden drainage and the proper way to set up flower beds and plant evergreens.

A dessert luncheon will precede the talk.

Sausalito Plaintiff Asks Court To Halt Pickets, Award $265,000

A 14-page suit for $265,000 damages and a temporary order restraining the use of pickets was filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court against the San Francisco - Oakland Mailers Union, Local 18, by Harry Johnson, publisher of Marin Guide.

The charges, which include the local's president, Douglas A. Smith, and the International Typographical Union as defendants, are the latest in a battle which has included alleged mailing room and truck "bombings," trespassing and assault charges and arrests, and numerous other incidents at Marin Guide offices at both 42 Caledonia Street in Sausalito and 200 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley.

Plaintiffs Johnson and his company, Calculated Security Investment Corp., charge that on Oct. 4 and for two weeks after, Johnson made repeated efforts to negotiate a contract with the mailers local.

Johnson said he refused union demands that he continue hiring "eight to 10" more employees than needed, and alleged that these men were only "spending their said working hours asleep or inebriated in said printing plant."

Cost of this surplus, he said, was $2,000 a week.

Johnson said despite his pointing this out, the union presented a partially blank contract for him to sign, and that on Oct. 25 —six hours before his normal mailing press time, all union employees walked off the job in violation of union regulations.

The publisher said to meet his deadline, he loaded printing plates and 14,000 pounds of newsprint on a rented truck, found an Alameda County publisher willing to print his edition, and dispatched the vehicle.

En route, according to the suit, the truck was forced off the highway by two cars bearing about five men each. He said help by Sausalito and Richmond police and the California Highway Patrol was needed to get the truck to its destination.

After completion of the printing, however, Johnson said, no independent addressing or mailing company would "risk" the distributing job.

He said more than 40 pickets were set up at the Tamalpais Valley office Oct. 26, that Smith threw an incendiary bomb into a room, that a Marin Guide truck had a bomb planted in it, and that publication workers suffered damages to their parked vehicles.

Johnson also charged that pickets bombarded his staff with obscene language, spittle, threats, physical injury by hitting them in ribs after temporarily blinding them with camera flash bulb explosions, and one day even appeared with German Shepherd-type dogs to menace them.

The suit asks that the pickets be enjoined from operation because the publication will lose advertisers unless it meets a deadline next Wednesday. It also seeks $10,000 general damages for Smith's alleged trespassing to throw the bomb; $5,000 damages for emotional disturbance and shock suffered by Johnson when the bomb exploded; and $250,000 exemplary and punitive damages.

Smith is free on $110 bail on a charge of trespassing. Several other assault and battery and trespassing charges against Johnson and four other persons also are pending.

Doctor Ascherman To Face Hearing On Court Contempt

A Marin Superior Court order to show cause why he shouldn't be held in contempt for using the Marin General Hospital emergency room without authorization last Oct. 24 was issued yesterday against Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman.

The order, signed by Judge Thomas F. Keating, also asks cause why a temporary restraining order prohibiting the doctor's future use of the hospital' facilities shouldn't also be made pending outcome of a current issue. Hearing is at 10 a.m. next Friday.

The proceeding, filed yesterday afternoon by Harold F. Riede, hospital district attorney, alleges Dr. Ascherman forced his own use of the emergency room to treat a nose cut of Dorothy Anderson, 7, daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, 532 Pinecrest Avenue, Mill Valley.

Dr. Ascherman has waged a lengthy battle to gain surgical privileges at the hospital. The latter denied such privileges on a basis of incompentency.

Still pending in Superior Court is a contempt charge by Dr. Ascherman that Riede misinformed the district's board of an order turning the issue of his admission application back to the district's own hearing officer.

Viet Soap Drive Plan Abandoned

OROVILLE (AP)—A drive to collect soap to send to South Viet Nam has been canceled because of the meager response.

Mrs. P. D. Adams, the drive's leader, said Wednesday that only 500 bars were donated in Oroville, population 9,000.

"Soap won't win the war against the Communists in Viet Nam," Mrs. Adams said, "but it will help our boys to win the hearts of the people there.

Marlin Properties On Zone Agenda

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill Monday wil again consider the use permit application of Marlin Properties, Inc., which plans a convalescent hospital just south of Kentfield fire house on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. at the Civic Center. Cordill considered the matter two weeks ago, but continued it to get more information.

Mrs. Lillian Breganti is president of the California School Employees Assn., Marin County Chapter 327.

Mighty Troy And Garrett Storm Berkeley Tomorrow

Independent-Journal Sports
FOURTH SECTION Friday, Nov. 5, 1965 39

Leading collegiate rusher Mike Garrett and his Southern California running mates storm into Berkeley tomorrow for a Pacific Athletic Conference game against California.

The sixth-ranked Trojans come off a one-week rest in which they contemplated their 28-7 drubbing by Notre Dame for the only blemish in a 4-1-1 over-all record. They're 3-0 in conference play.

The Bears, who are closing out their 1965 home schedule, beat Penn State 21-17 last week on a 46-yard touchdown pass from Herry Hunt that deflected into Jerry Bradley's hands after the final gun sounded.

Because Rod Sherman, the Trojans' other fine running back, is healthier than he was against Notre Dame, USC is heavily favored to turn back the California challenge. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m.

Garrett's 895 yards gained running are more than half USC has made so far on the ground. And the Trojans lead the league in that department.

California, 1-1 in PAC play, ranks last in the conference in rushing defense. Coach Ray Willsey hopes to prevent Garrett from breaking the game open although he's perfectly willing to give the star halfback the yards due him anyway.

Presumably, other opponents have been willing to grant the 5-foot-9, 190-pound halfback his yards and no touchdowns. But Garrett nevertheless leads the conference in scoring with 48 points, all from touchdowns.

Last year, the Bears held a 21-14 lead over the Trojans with less than five minutes remaining when graduated Craig Fertig hit Garrett with a 45-yard touchdown pass and then connected on a 22-yard scoring strike to Sherman that gave the Trojans a 26-21 victory.

Troy Winslow has taken over for Fertig this season. Although not yet the passer Fertig was, Winslow has had his moments.

California, 4-3 over-all, relies offensively on the running and passing of left-handed quarterback Dan Berry. Tom Relles, who stood out against Penn State, has been returned to wingback from halfback. Lloyd Reist or track star Forrest Beaty will go at halfback. Ron Minamide and Frank Lynch have been alternating at fullback.

Offensive tackle Roger Foster, safety Greg Palamountain and defensive tackle Dan Goich return to action for California after missing action because of injuries.

I'LL GIVE IT EVERYTHING I HAVE – MIRA

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — It's my shot, my chance to make good. I'll give it everything I have."

So said George Mira yesterday when coach Jack Christiansen confirmed he would start at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers against Dallas Sunday.

John Brodie, who injured his shoulder last Sunday against Baltimore, will suit up but is a longshot to play.

The Forty Niners will bring in the league's top offense to Dallas, but their defense has been poor. Dallas boasts one of the top defenses while its offense has been way off as quarterbacks Don Merideth, Craig Morton, and Jerry Bohme have failed to move the team.

The Forty Niner defense figured to be a strong point this season before starters Dan Colchico, Matt Hazeltine and Mike Dowdle were lost through injuries. Hazeltine now has returned to action.

Murakami's Future Still Big Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Masanori Murakami, the left-handed Japanese baseball pitcher who made good in his homeland and then the American big leagues, plans to return home soon.

But the quiet 20-year-old star says he hasn't made up his mind whether to pitch next summer for the Nankai Hawks of Japan or the Giants of San Francisco.

"I am going back to Japan soon, probably within the next 14 days," Murakami said in an interview last night.

When asked where he would prefer to play himself, Murakami said, "That is a very tough question. I like both the United States and Japan."

His final decision will be made after he discusses his baseball future with his parents, he said.

"I think they like Japan," he said, when asked what his parents would prefer.

MASAMORI MURAKAMI

At any rate, Murakami is in the United States on a seasonal working visa, which means that he is expected to return to his homeland during the off-season winter months.

But the San Francisco Giants' management is as emphatic as the Nankai Hawks in wanting his services.

Last season for San Francisco, which finished second in the National League, Murakami won four games and lost only one, mainly in relief. He made 45 appearances and was credited with six saves.

"We want to keep him," Chub Feeney, Giants' vice president, has said.

The Giants will allow the pitcher to decide for himself. Last year San Francisco and Nankai exchanged a series of argumentive cablegrams on the subject.

It was finally decided between the baseball commissioners of Japan and the United States that he would play for San Francisco. He played for Nankai before coming to the United States.

NFL Eyes New Orleans Super Dome

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — This city's stock as the National Football League's 16th member soared today after the announcement of plans to build a $24 million super dome stadium.

But promoter Dave Dixon, who has been angling for a pro football franchise for years, has even greater visions such as the Pan-American track games, the NCAA basketball championship tourney, and world championship prizefights.

Dixon even sees the Sugar Bowl switching from 82,500-seat Tulane University Stadium to the 60,000 super dome "and getting $8 a ticket for air-conditioned comfort on Jan. 1."

And Marvin E. Kratter, the New York financier who recently set up shop in New Orleans to build a billion-dollar real estate development, predicts the city could land the Olympics.

Kratter is donating a 100-acre tract of land valued at $2 million for the proposed stadium on the shore of Lake Ponchartrain.

The announcement of plans for the stadium came yesterday from Mayor Victor H. Schiro and smacked of politics. Schiro is running for re-election in Saturday's Democratic primary. His opponent for mayor, City Council President James Fitzmorris, blasted Schiro for waiting until nearly election eve to announce the stadium. But Fitzmorris said he was in favor of the project.

In New York, an NFL spokesman said the availability of the proposed stadium would weigh heavily in New Orleans' favor in the granting of a franchise.

No Scanty Clause In Code Of Morals–Times Have Changed

After reading the recent deluge of letters to the editor I blush every time I walk past a lingerie store. Or see their ads in the I-J. That Jon Robert spread on page 40 yesterday just killed me. In RED, yet!

Heck, it's getting so that I'm afraid to go to the beach anymore. Skin bad for this sailor.

And, oh dear, when the lady next door hangs her undergarments out on the line to dry I run and hide in the closet. The magic word around our house is, "It's okay, you can come out now,Jim. they're dry."

WHAT BROUGHT on my sudden adversion to anything scanty (in the old scanty town) was that recent letter by a well-meaning lady who objected to the brevity of costumes worn by our local high school majorettes. "Indecency," I believe, was one of her stronger words.

And, by golly, I think she's right. By 1922 standards. Of course, in those days they didn't advertise hinder-binders in the local fish-wrappers. And, too, in those days the beaches looked like museums.

EVEN WHEN I was going to high school (I did too!) the majorettes, compared to today's streamlined models, looked like something you'd find in a pyramid. They wore coveralls. For underwear. On top of that was a raccoon coat. The only flesh we saw was a nose and you'd have to be an Eskimo to find anything sexy about a proboscis.

WE WERE awfully thick in those days. We thought a topless joint was something you wouldn't want to get caught in during a rainstorm. And that a bikini was an itsy-bitsy, teensie-weensie, yellow polka dot island. Makeup was something a newspaper editor did.

THINK BACK. Boy, were we Dull City. I remember swiping a garment off the neighbor's clothesline and making a double-barreled sling-shot out of it. I was the first kid on my block to kill two birds with one Maidenform.

But, my, how times have changed. If we had TV in those dark ages the announcer would come on and say, "Psssst. Wanna see a feelthy picture?" Even innocuous Ed Sullivan would get drummed out of the Legion of Decency for featuring stark naked dog acts.

BY DARK age standards we'd have to bail out our advertising manager about once a week. Daisy Mae would be a French post card. We'd have to go to a smoker to see Payton Place. I even think you'd have trouble making Mary Poppins acceptable to your folks.

Yes, by those standards, our young majorettes are indecently attired. And so are our boxers and basketball players and trackmen.

But we live in a fast world today, Maude. Just look at the newspapers, magazines, movies, television and, yes, across your back fence.

I'VE BEEN covering local high school football games for the past 20 years and until that letter appeared on our editorial page recently, I had no idea I was watching peep shows at halftime. Stupid me, I thought they were kind of cute and I hope my little girl grows up to be a baton twirler.

THIS WEEKEND you pay particular attention to the dollies and I'll bet my sling-shot against your ear muffs that you can't discover a hint of indecency.

By today's Code of Morals, no, Virginia, there is no scanty clause.

P. S. Last night I dreamed I went to a barbecue party in my Maidenform brazier. And, of course, I blushed.

Casper's Double Trouble

HONOLULU (UPI) — Skinny shotmaker Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., battled the Pacific tradewinds and grainy greens today to preserve his early lead in the $60,300 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Geiberger, 10th on the pro circuit money making parade this year, covered the tricky Waialae Country Club Course yesterday in a four-under par 68 and preserved his nickname of "the human one iron."

Only eight pros broke par on the course, which stretches 7,000 yards along the Pacific Ocean near Diamond Head on Oahu.

Rex Baxter and Frank Beard were close behind Geiberger with three-under 69s, while George Archer and Al Besselink, Ray Floyd, Tom Nieporte and Bob Rosburg all pulled in with 71.

Bill Casper, of Peacock Gap, ranked the favorite by pre-tournament odds-makers, had double trouble with his putter and managed only a 76. He took 37 putts on the 18-hole tour.

STIFF WINDS

However, Casper, unlike most of the other pros, seemed to have little trouble with the narrow fairways and the sometimes stiff tradewinds that blow in from the Pacific, just a ball's throw away from most of the holes.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Bob Charles, the New Zealand southpaw, shot a five-under-par 67 today to share the lead at the halfway point of the Wills Master Golf Tournament with Peter Thomson of Australia. Thomson had a 70.

At the 36-hole mark they each 139 and held a one-stroke lead over Gary Player of South Africa who came up with a two-under-par 70 for 140 despite playing in what he described as dreadful pain.

With Player at 140 were Bruce Devlin and Dennis Sullivan, both Australians.

The big shock was the collapse of Jack Nicklaus of the United States, who said later "I never putted as badly in my life."

The big American had 148 from 72-76 on the par 72 Kensington course only 6,758 yards long. He is tied with eight others in 21st position.

Player, after his round, stood for full 10 minutes under a hot shower and said he would obtain treatment later and was uncertain whether he would be able to play in the final two rounds Saturday.

IOWA REPORT

Evashevski Will Return To Coach

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerry Burns will resign as Iowa football coach at the season's end and will be replaced by Hawkeye Athletic Director Forest Evashevski, Chicago's American reported today.

"Burns, Evashevski's selection to become his successor after the 1960 season, will resign at the season's end.

"Evashevski has been unable to lure Dave Nelson, his No. 1 choice as Burns' successor, away from Delaware where Nelson is athletic director.

"Evvy will give in to a statewide clamor of fans and alumni and return to active coaching in an attempt to ignite Iowa's fallen fortunes."

Iowa has an over-all record of 1-6 and is last in the Big Ten race with 0-5.

Evashevski fashioned the best record in Iowa football history with a nine-season record of 52-27-4 before Burns, his assistant, took over the head coaching job in 1961.

Evashevski in 1960 also became Hawkeye athletic director, succeeding Paul Brechler.

NFL Eyes New Orleans Super Dome

Chisox Begin Search For New Manager

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox began a widespread search today for a successor to Al Lopez, who quit his $65,000 a year job as manager yesterday after winning one pennant and finishing second five times in nine years directing the club.

There was no indication from either club owner Arthur C. Allyn or Executive Vice President and General Manager Ed Short who might be considered for the job.

However, the names of Mayo Smith, now a scout for the New York Yankees; Charlie Metro, on the Sox staff, and Bob Kennedy, former Chicago Cubs head coach, were among the early suggestions.

"We have about 20 men under consideration," Short said, "and we'll consider that many or more. We would like to make our selection before the major - minor league meetings begin Nov. 29, but we don't have to. This is not a hurried job."

Lopez, 57, told Short and Allyn Wednesday that he would not return to complete his contract with the White Sox as manager, which ran through 1966. But he accepted the Sox' offer of a salaried job as vice president to serve as "consultant in the art of selection and acquisition of players."

"I've been thinking about this for a number of years," Lopez said. "I'm not quitting for health reasons, I wanted to stay more with my family."

Lopez' nine season as a manager of the Sox made him the senior field director in terms of consecutive years with the same club of any American League skipper. Only Walt Alston of the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers, who has been at the helm for 12 seasons, has been around the majors longer.

Lopez' departure was the second managerial change in Chicago major league baseball in the month since the 1965 season ended. The Cubs announced the appointment of Leo Durocher as manager less than two weeks ago and scrapped the coaching system under which Lou Klein had been head coach.

Lopez completed his 41st year in baseball and his 34th in the major leagues this year. He had served as manager for 15 years. He won one pennant and finished second five times with Cleveland prior to joining the Sox. With the Sox, he finished third once, fourth once and fifth once.

Lopez holds the major league record for most games by a catcher, 1,918, with 1,861 of these in the National League with Brooklyn, Boston and Pittsburgh.

Stanford is just one of two Pacific Eight teams not playing conference football this weekend, the Indians traveling to New Orleans tomorrow night to battle Tulane.

In the other non-conference game, the Oregon State Beavers go to Syracuse, N.Y., to play the tough Orangemen.

In the Pacific Eight, where the smell of roses stretches from Southern California to Washington, three big conference games are on tap. Oregon goes to Pullman to clash with Washington State and Washington moves into Los Angeles for a game against UCLA.

Major independent San Jose State, now that it has wiped up three Western Athletic Conference foes, hosts the University of Pacific in the 25th game of their series.

Michigan State, Nebraska and Arkansas, the nation's top three college football teams, expect to easily stretch their perfect records tomorrow against unimpressive opponents.

The Michigan State Spartans are favored by 16 points to clinch at least a tie for the Big Ten title when they meet Iowa, which has lost 10 consecutive conference games.

Nebraska, tied with Arkansas for second place in UPI ratings, is a huge 25-point favorite to demolish the Kansas Jayhawks and come closer to a Sugar or Orange Bowl berth. Arkansas' Razorbacks, whose 18 consecutive victories are the longest winning streak in the country among major universities, are favored by 16 over Rice. Fourth ranked Notre Dame is an overwhelming 17-point choice to beat Pittsburgh.

In other major games, seventh-ranked Alabama is rated even with Louisiana State, Georgia Tech is given one point over Tennessee, Texas Tech is picked to bomb New Mexico State, Missouri is favored by six over Colorado, and Utah State puts its perfect record against Memphis State.

An interservice battle between Army and Air Force is the regional television game of the week. It will be shown on NBC (Channel 4) starting at 11 a.m.

of which is New Orleans," said the spokesman. "And certainly, one of the major considerations in its study will be the availability of suitable stadiums.

"Certainly construction of such a stadium in New Orleans would be in its favor, as it would in any of the other six."

The NFL says it will grant a franchise for a 16th team — to begin playing in the 1967 season — sometime next spring. Other cities in the running are Houston, which has the Astrodome, Portland, Seattle, Boston, Cincinnati and Phoenix.

Dixon said the target date for completion of the super dome is 1968. He said he planned to talk with Tulane University officials shortly about a New Orleans pro team playing in Sugar Bowl Stadium until the super dome is built.

Schiro said present plans call for private financing of the structure. He said, "We have been able to obtain a commitment of at least 50 per cent of the financing from a group of outside investors."

Dixon sees the stadium as "revolutionizing sports. It will be an all-purpose stadium for use by the community, not just a pro football team."

The facility would have parking space for 20,000 cars.

"We think we can get a major league baseball team here, too," said Dixon.

The design Dixon released yesterday calls for movable stands on one side of the super dome. Development of a synthetic playing field, made of an all-weather resilient plastic, will allow consecutive events in the super dome, said Dixon.

Dixon admitted that acquisition of a pro franchise is the key to private financing of the project.

Warriors Win It In Final Seconds

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Even if the Philadelphia 76ers dump them tonight, the San Francisco Warriors today knew that they can match shots with any team in the National Basketball Assn. this season.

Last night they fought back from repeated five and six point deficits to down the team many feel is the NBA's toughest, Philadelphia, by a score of 121-119.

The game was played before 16,881 fans as part of a Madison Square Garden twin bill in New York. The Warriors, who are playing four games in four nights in four cities, take on the 76ers here tonight and Detroit at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium Saturday.

The Warriors had a group of heroes in last night's win. Rookie Rick Barry hit 22 points in the first half and wound up with 27. Nate Thurmond took over the scoring load in the third period and altogether tallied 30, while holding big Wilt Chamberlain to 17. Paul Neumann sparked the Warriors to a 32-27 bulge in the final stanza and ended up with 28.

Hal Greer led the 76ers with 35 points and Wally Jones came off the bench to hit 21 before he fouled out.

The win gave the Warriors a 5-3 mark to put them in a tie with Los Angeles atop the Western Division. Philadelphia is 3-2 and holds a slim edge in the Eastern Division.

An Air Force cadet wing of more than 2,000 and about the same number of Army cadets will arrive in special trains. Their bands will lead a parade through downtown.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Spawning Runs In Full Swing But Striper Striving Varies

STEVENS

Striper striving is good, bad, or indifferent in accordance with the time, tide and locale fished. We all know that the annual spawning runs of striped bass are now in full swing, so it behooves us to plan our trips accordingly. If possible, plan your trip when there is a good movement of tide. (Note that last Saturday and Sunday the movement of the water was slow, and fishing was also slow.)

On Monday, however, the tides became swifter — fishing was good in the upper San Pablo Bay, behind the Rock Wall across from Rodeo and in the lower Suisun Bay, Honker Bay and little Honker Bay.

IN THE lower and middle of the San Pablo Bay the slowness carried over to include Monday and Tuesday. Fishing was rather slow in that region, but it was excellent in the upper sectors. For example: Nadine Lessley, of Dowrelid's Crockett Harbor, reported Skipper Ernie Savage on the boat, Dowrelio No. 5 had 13 rods working and netted 31 bass from 5 to 16½ pounds trolling Pet spoons with yellow feathers, and white pork rind tail baits. That was off Buoy 9. On Tuesday, the No. 5 boat came in with 11 limits of bass ranging in size from 10 to 28 pounds, and was back in the harbor around 2 p.m.

IT WAS on Tuesday also that Johnny Sivera, piloting the Dowrelio No. 6, had a party of six, all wishing to catch a sturgeon. Captain Sivera drove to the Suisun Bay after sturgeon. I don't know if any sturgeon were caught, but 17 striped bass from 10 to 25½ pounds were.

A NUMBER of private boats berthed at Crockett came back with limits on both days.

I MENTIONED some of the fine catches reported out of Carl Bennett's Rodeo Marina in yesterday's column, so you can bank on the fishing being good in the San Pablo Bay, the Suisun Bay and all areas adjacent to them.

FROM HAROLD WILDES McAvoy harbor came word that the sturgeon runs have slowed down, but bass fishing is yielding some nice catches. Harold's uncle, Ray Wildes, told me that the big bass seem to hit on alternate days, and cited Don Cook and Bob Evans as two of the regulars who are scoring with bass to 25 pounds, using bull heads as bait.

REPORT FROM Don Smith of Don's Bait house at Clearlake Highlands reported catfishing as very productive, and large mouth blackies as fair. Cats are taken day and night and some are of good size.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Even if the Philadelphia 76ers dump them tonight, the San Francisco Warriors today knew that they can match shots with any team in the National Basketball Assn. this season.

Last night they fought back from repeated five and six point deficits to down the team many feel is the NBA's toughest, Philadelphia, by a score of 121-119.

The game was played before 16,881 fans as part of a Madison Square Garden twin bill in New York. The Warriors, who are playing four games in four nights in four cities, take on the 76ers here tonight and Detroit at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium Saturday.

The Warriors had a group of heroes in last night's win. Rookie Rick Barry hit 22 points in the first half and wound up with 27. Nate Thurmond took over the scoring load in the third period and altogether tallied 30, while holding big Wilt Chamberlain to 17. Paul Neumann sparked the Warriors to a 32-27 bulge in the final stanza and ended up with 28.

Hal Greer led the 76ers with 35 points and Wally Jones came off the bench to hit 21 before he fouled out.

The win gave the Warriors a 5-3 mark to put them in a tie with Los Angeles atop the Western Division. Philadelphia is 3-2 and holds a slim edge in the Eastern Division.

60,000 To See Army-Air Force

CHICAGO (AP) — Amid pagentry and hullabaloo, the Air Force and Army will clash in football tomorrow before an expected 60,000 customers in Soldier Field.

An Air Force cadet wing of more than 2,000 and about the same number of Army cadets will arrive in special trains. Their bands will lead a parade through downtown.

This will be the third meeting of the two academies. Air Force tied Army in New York 13-13 in 1959 but lost to the West Pointers 14-10 in 1963 at Soldier Field.

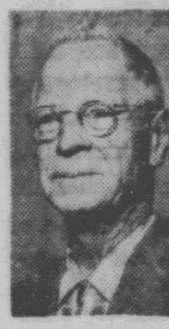
Spawning Runs In Full Swing But Striper Striving Varies



STEVENS

Striper striving is good, bad, or indifferent in accordance with the time, tide and locale fished. We all know that the annual spawning runs of striped bass are now in full swing, so it behooves us to plan our trips accordingly. If possible, plan your trip when there is a good movement of tide. (Note that last Saturday and Sunday the movement of the water was slow, and fishing was also slow.)

On Monday, however, the tides became swifter — fishing was good in the upper San Pablo Bay, behind the Rock Wall across from Rodeo and in the lower Suisun Bay, Honker Bay and little Honker Bay.

IN THE lower and middle of the San Pablo Bay the slowness carried over to include Monday and Tuesday. Fishing was rather slow in that region, but it was excellent in the upper sectors. For example: Nadine Lessley, of Dowrelid's Crockett Harbor, reported Skipper Ernie Savage on the boat, Dowrelio No. 5 had 13 rods working and netted 31 bass from 5 to 16½ pounds trolling Pet spoons with yellow feathers, and white pork rind tail baits. That was off Buoy 9. On Tuesday, the No. 5 boat came in with 11 limits of bass ranging in size from 10 to 28 pounds, and was back in the harbor around 2 p.m.

IT WAS on Tuesday also that Johnny Sivera, piloting the Dowrelio No. 6, had a party of six, all wishing to catch a sturgeon. Captain Sivera drove to the Suisun Bay after sturgeon. I don't know if any sturgeon were caught, but 17 striped bass from 10 to 25½ pounds were.

A NUMBER of private boats berthed at Crockett came back with limits on both days.

I MENTIONED some of the fine catches reported out of Carl Bennett's Rodeo Marina in yesterday's column, so you can bank on the fishing being good in the San Pablo Bay, the Suisun Bay and all areas adjacent to them.

FROM HAROLD WILDES McAvoy harbor came word that the sturgeon runs have slowed down, but bass fishing is yielding some nice catches. Harold's uncle, Ray Wildes, told me that the big bass seem to hit on alternate days, and cited Don Cook and Bob Evans as two of the regulars who are scoring with bass to 25 pounds, using bull heads as bait.

REPORT FROM Don Smith of Don's Bait house at Clearlake Highlands reported catfishing as very productive, and large mouth blackies as fair. Cats are taken day and night and some are of good size.

Drake Class C Cagers Upset Terra Linda

Drake High School's Class C basketball team scored the upset of the season yesterday when the little Pirates beat first place Terra Linda 28-25.

The win by Drake again put the Marin Athletic League flag up for grabs. Redwood, which lost to Terra Linda a few days ago, again has a chance. The little Giants beat Novato 47-30 yesterday.

Terra Linda has a 9-2 record with one game remaining and Redwood is 8-2 with two games left and both teams have a good chance now to tie for the championship.

Leading the Drake quint to its upset win was Bill Gaddy with 9 points. Terra Linda's Bob Maxwell scored 11 points. Dave Ruggles scored 9 points for Redwood in its triumph over Novato.

Marin Catholic, led by Bob McCarthy with 15 points and Kevin McCall with 14, whipped San Rafael 46-28 in the other league game yesterday.

Oklahoma Fans All Burned Up

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A group of University of Oklahoma students, perturbed by their school football team's record this year, gathered in front of the OU president's home and burned their season grid tickets, the campus newspaper reported.

The Sooners have won two of their six games.

Mrs. Salomon Wins Low Net

Mrs. M. S. Salomon scored a net 68 to win top honors yesterday at the Marin Country Club.

Class winners in yesterday's golf tourney:

Class C — Mrs. H. D. Fifer, 99-25—74; Mrs. Harry Flachs, 100-25—75; Mrs. A. J. Grisez, 102-27—75.

NOVATO TO HOST SAN RAFAEL '11'

Novato's rock-and-sock Hornets football team will be fighting to keep its hold on a share of first place in the Marin Athletic League tomorrow when it hosts the Bulldogs of San Rafael High School. Kickoff is at 1:45 p.m.

Novato is favored to win its fourth MCAL game of the season against just one loss. Drake, the only team to beat Novato this year, and Tam, who in turn topped Drake, are tied with the Hornets in this hectic pennant race.

Novato's big weapon is Dick Otis, the tailback out of the Hornets' I-formation who is one of the hardest runners in MCAL history. Even with players keying on his every move, the 175-pound Otis still bulls his way for yardage up the middle.

But if the enemy watches Otis too much, the ball is given to halfback Frank Perachiotti, a junior who has quick reflexes and the ability to scoot through those little holes. Then again, quarterback John Otis is leading the league in percentage of passes completed.

This varied attack is why the Hornets are up there. Otis, by the way, has already surpassed the school's season rushing record and has a chance of passing the 1,000 yard mark tomorrow.

Some of the injured gladiators for Novato are back in the lineup after injuries, including end George Sheehan, guard Greg Sulser, and Wayne Belles, the lad who ran that 78-yard touchdown on the opening kickoff against Tam.

"I think we've got a rough game ahead," said Novato coach Harry Moore. "But our boys are fired up for this one. They remember that San Rafael win last year. I've got respect for that (Rocky) Shone and (Jay) Widmer. They're both good players."

And that truly has been a big part of San Rafael's offense, the power running of Shone and passing of Widmer. Shone has been running out of a halfback spot this season, but tomorrow he'll be used at fullback. That makes way in the lineup for Dick Loomis, a sophomore who can use the experience.

San Rafael coach Bob Muster knows that 34-7 loss to Drake last Friday turned the Bulldogs from a contender to a "spoiler." It will be the last league game of the season for San Rafael, which plays Petaluma in a practice tiff the following week, the last for the Marin preps.

Muster's big job this past week was to patch up the tattered defense left from the Drake game. Prior to that contest, the Bulldogs were an extremely tough bunch on defense.

Redwood Favored Over Tam Indians

Tam is the team going for the championship but it's the Giants of Redwood who are favored to win their Marin Athletic League football game tomorrow.

For the second time in three weeks, the Indians of Tam today were put in the underdog role by all five I-J pickers as the teams get ready to do battle tomorrow in College of Marin Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Tam, with a 3-1 MCAL record, is tied with Drake and Novato for the league lead. Redwood, on the other hand, has won only one of four league games, losing two and tying the other.

In an effort to get more speed in his backfield, Tam coach Willie Hector will start Don Smith at the running halfback post next to fullback Mike Fowler. Smith will be replacing Kirk Sparks.

Realizing a weakness in his team's defensive secondary, Hector has worked his boys hard on this phase of the game, as well as pushing his boys in the offensive game. The Indians' inability to move the ball on sustained drives has almost cost some important games. "I know our offense will move the ball this time," said Hector, who is having a great season in his first year as head Tam coach.

Out of Redwood's opening lineup will be Ken Tucker, a speedy halfback who hurt his shoulder tackling Novato's Dick Otis last Saturday. In his place will be Royce Johnson. Redwood will still have speed in its backfield with Len Pieri and power in Tom Sather, the hard-running fullback.

We've had a good week of practice," said Redwood coach Bob Troppmann. "The kids know we can still end up with a good season if we beat Tam."

The game will be broadcast over Radio Station KTIM, with sports director Verle Sorgen doing the play-by-play.

Fireworks Expected At Kentfield—8 O'Clock

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School's Pirates, looking like world beaters their last two times out, hope to keep their momentum going tonight when they square off with the Terra Linda Trojans in College of Marin Stadium, 8 o'clock.

The Pirates from San Anselmo, defending the Marin Athletic League grid title this season, whipped Riordan 28-20 and San Rafael 34-7 in their last two battles, and if you win enough battles like that, you can win the war.

Currently tied for first place with Novato and Tam, the Buccaneers are sporting a 3-1 league mark and boast an overall record of five wins, two losses. Terra Linda has two wins, a loss and one tie in MCAL play and is 4-2-1 overall.

Drake coach Bob Franceschini feels his boys are playing sound ball now. "Our inexperienced boys through the season tremendously through the season," says Bob. "We had the best blocking I've seen in a long time against San Rafael."

Only injury sustained in that game for Drake was to linebacker Frank Holton who hurt an ankle late in the contest. He'll be replaced by Ed Farina, who also doubles as an offensive guard.

RIGHT COMBINATION

Fran said that up to the Riordan game he was looking for that "right starting combination." He's found it. "We can't change now," said Franceschini. "It took a long time to find the right combination but we've got it now.

"We know Terra Linda is rough on defense and it is an explosive club," he said. "They play the same kind of ball that we do."

And with the likes of Dean Lazzarini of Drake running and Terra Linda's potent passer Sid Norman throwing, the game should have an explosive touchdown or two. Lazzarini, one of the finest backs in Northern California prep football this season, has already gained 977 yards in seven games. He's also scored 13 touchdowns. When he gets inside the 20, he seems to fight just a little harder for the end zone. One mistake against this speedster and it's six points.

Norman, that scrappy little quarterback for Terra Linda, will be back in the starting lineup tonight after missing most of last week's game in Manteca due to an arm injury. He's got a surprisingly good arm, and if the injury is sufficiently healed, he'll probably be unloading some bombs against Drake. His principal target before being injured early in the season was John Ferry, and T.L. coach Brad Squires reports his senior wingback will be ready for some more action. Fred Daniele will probably start in the wingback slot, but Ferry will be alternating there.

"Drake should be the roughest team we've played so far," said Squires. "We'll just try to do the best we can against Lazzarini. That boy is destined to become a great athlete."

Probable starting offensive lineups for tonight's game:

Explosive Drake, Terra Linda Teams Clash Tonight

Fireworks Expected At Kentfield—8 O'Clock

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School's Pirates, looking like world beaters their last two times out, hope to keep their momentum going tonight when they square off with the Terra Linda Trojans in College of Marin Stadium, 8 o'clock.

The Pirates from San Anselmo, defending the Marin Athletic League grid title this season, whipped Riordan 28-20 and San Rafael 34-7 in their last two battles, and if you win enough battles like that, you can win the war.

Currently tied for first place with Novato and Tam, the Buccaneers are sporting a 3-1 league mark and boast an overall record of five wins, two losses. Terra Linda has two wins, a loss and one tie in MCAL play and is 4-2-1 overall.

Drake coach Bob Franceschini feels his boys are playing sound ball now. "Our inexperienced boys through the season tremendously through the season," says Bob. "We had the best blocking I've seen in a long time against San Rafael."

Only injury sustained in that game for Drake was to linebacker Frank Holton who hurt an ankle late in the contest. He'll be replaced by Ed Farina, who also doubles as an offensive guard.

RIGHT COMBINATION

Fran said that up to the Riordan game he was looking for that "right starting combination." He's found it. "We can't change now," said Franceschini. "It took a long time to find the right combination but we've got it now.

"We know Terra Linda is rough on defense and it is an explosive club," he said. "They play the same kind of ball that we do."

And with the likes of Dean Lazzarini of Drake running and Terra Linda's potent passer Sid Norman throwing, the game should have an explosive touchdown or two. Lazzarini, one of the finest backs in Northern California prep football this season, has already gained 977 yards in seven games. He's also scored 13 touchdowns. When he gets inside the 20, he seems to fight just a little harder for the end zone. One mistake against this speedster and it's six points.

Norman, that scrappy little quarterback for Terra Linda, will be back in the starting lineup tonight after missing most of last week's game in Manteca due to an arm injury. He's got a surprisingly good arm, and if the injury is sufficiently healed, he'll probably be unloading some bombs against Drake. His principal target before being injured early in the season was John Ferry, and T.L. coach Brad Squires reports his senior wingback will be ready for some more action. Fred Daniele will probably start in the wingback slot, but Ferry will be alternating there.

"Drake should be the roughest team we've played so far," said Squires. "We'll just try to do the best we can against Lazzarini. That boy is destined to become a great athlete."

Probable starting offensive lineups for tonight's game:

Drake Class C Cagers Upset Terra Linda

Drake High School's Class C basketball team scored the upset of the season yesterday when the little Pirates beat first place Terra Linda 28-25.

The win by Drake again put the Marin Athletic League flag up for grabs. Redwood, which lost to Terra Linda a few days ago, again has a chance. The little Giants beat Novato 47-30 yesterday.

Terra Linda has a 9-2 record with one game remaining and Redwood is 8-2 with two games left and both teams have a good chance now to tie for the championship.

Leading the Drake quint to its upset win was Bill Gaddy with 9 points. Terra Linda's Bob Maxwell scored 11 points. Dave Ruggles scored 9 points for Redwood in its triumph over Novato.

Marin Catholic, led by Bob McCarthy with 15 points and Kevin McCall with 14, whipped San Rafael 46-28 in the other league game yesterday.

Mrs. Salomon Wins Low Net

Mrs. M. S. Salomon scored a net 68 to win top honors yesterday at the Marin Country Club.

Class winners in yesterday's golf tourney:

Class C — Mrs. H. D. Fifer, 99-25—74; Mrs. Harry Flachs, 100-25—75; Mrs. A. J. Grisez, 102-27—75.

Oklahoma Fans All Burned Up

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A group of University of Oklahoma students, perturbed by their school football team's record this year, gathered in front of the OU president's home and burned their season grid tickets, the campus newspaper reported.

The Sooners have won two of their six games.

NOVATO TO HOST SAN RAFAEL '11'

Novato's rock-and-sock Hornets football team will be fighting to keep its hold on a share of first place in the Marin Athletic League tomorrow when it hosts the Bulldogs of San Rafael High School. Kickoff is at 1:45 p.m.

Novato is favored to win its fourth MCAL game of the season against just one loss. Drake, the only team to beat Novato this year, and Tam, who in turn topped Drake, are tied with the Hornets in this hectic pennant race.

Novato's big weapon is Dick Otis, the tailback out of the Hornets' I-formation who is one of the hardest runners in MCAL history. Even with players keying on his every move, the 175-pound Otis still bulls his way for yardage up the middle.

But if the enemy watches Otis too much, the ball is given to halfback Frank Perachiotti, a junior who has quick reflexes and the ability to scoot through those little holes. Then again, quarterback John Otis is leading the league in percentage of passes completed.

This varied attack is why the Hornets are up there. Otis, by the way, has already surpassed the school's season rushing record and has a chance of passing the 1,000 yard mark tomorrow.

Some of the injured gladiators for Novato are back in the lineup after injuries, including end George Sheehan, guard Greg Sulser, and Wayne Belles, the lad who ran that 78-yard touchdown on the opening kickoff against Tam.

"I think we've got a rough game ahead," said Novato coach Harry Moore. "But our boys are fired up for this one. They remember that San Rafael win last year. I've got respect for that (Rocky) Shone and (Jay) Widmer. They're both good players."

And that truly has been a big part of San Rafael's offense, the power running of Shone and passing of Widmer. Shone has been running out of a halfback spot this season, but tomorrow he'll be used at fullback. That makes way in the lineup for Dick Loomis, a sophomore who can use the experience.

San Rafael coach Bob Muster knows that 34-7 loss to Drake last Friday turned the Bulldogs from a contender to a "spoiler." It will be the last league game of the season for San Rafael, which plays Petaluma in a practice tiff the following week, the last for the Marin preps.

Muster's big job this past week was to patch up the tattered defense left from the Drake game. Prior to that contest, the Bulldogs were an extremely tough bunch on defense.

Redwood Favored Over Tam Indians

Tam is the team going for the championship but it's the Giants of Redwood who are favored to win their Marin Athletic League football game tomorrow.

For the second time in three weeks, the Indians of Tam today were put in the underdog role by all five I-J pickers as the teams get ready to do battle tomorrow in College of Marin Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Tam, with a 3-1 MCAL record, is tied with Drake and Novato for the league lead. Redwood, on the other hand, has won only one of four league games, losing two and tying the other.

In an effort to get more speed in his backfield, Tam coach Willie Hector will start Don Smith at the running halfback post next to fullback Mike Fowler. Smith will be replacing Kirk Sparks.

Realizing a weakness in his team's defensive secondary, Hector has worked his boys hard on this phase of the game, as well as pushing his boys in the offensive game. The Indians' inability to move the ball on sustained drives has almost cost some important games. "I know our offense will move the ball this time," said Hector, who is having a great season in his first year as head Tam coach.

Out of Redwood's opening lineup will be Ken Tucker, a speedy halfback who hurt his shoulder tackling Novato's Dick Otis last Saturday. In his place will be Royce Johnson. Redwood will still have speed in its backfield with Len Pieri and power in Tom Sather, the hard-running fullback.

We've had a good week of practice," said Redwood coach Bob Troppmann. "The kids know we can still end up with a good season if we beat Tam."

The game will be broadcast over Radio Station KTIM, with sports director Verle Sorgen doing the play-by-play.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1965 with 56 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1929, the House of Commons approved the resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia.

In 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt was re-elected to the presidency, the only president ever chosen for a third term.

In 1955, Austria formally opened the reconstructed Vienna State Opera House and celebrated her liberation from 17 years of foreign occupation.

A Thought for the Day — American Socialist Eugene V. Debs said: "While there is a lower class, I am in it, while there is a criminal element, I am of it, while there is a soul in prison, I am not free."

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1965 with 56 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1929, the House of Commons approved the resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia.

In 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt was re-elected to the presidency, the only president ever chosen for a third term.

In 1955, Austria formally opened the reconstructed Vienna State Opera House and celebrated her liberation from 17 years of foreign occupation.

A Thought for the Day — American Socialist Eugene V. Debs said: "While there is a lower class, I am in it, while there is a criminal element, I am of it, while there is a soul in prison, I am not free."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Stock Market Erases An Early Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed a shade lower today after erasing an early advance. Trading slowed from a heavy pace early in the session.

A number of the color television issues, other electronics, airlines and fast stepping issues made an early show of strength but most of this dwindled as the session wore on.

An uneven performance by General Motors and Du Pont as well as indifferent action by many other key stocks left the market without any special leadership.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.6 million shares compared with 8.39 million Thursday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule among most key stocks.

Alcoa's decision to raise aluminum prices helped aluminum stocks to advance, although some of the best gains were trimmed. Kaiser Aluminum held to a gain of 1½ or so and Reynolds Metals was up 1. Alcoa and Aluminium Ltd. were fractionally higher.

I-T-E Circuit Breaker was up nearly 3 following word of a proposed merger with Worthington Corp., which was about a point higher.

Up about 2 were such stocks as Boeing, Pittston Co., and American Air Filter. Ahead a point or so were United Aircraft, IBM, Polaroid, Xerox, Northrup, Fairchild Camera and Alberto-Culver.

General Motors (ex dividend) was off a fraction, paring an early loss of 1½. Down about a point were Bethlehem, Ford, Control Data and National Airlines.

Anaconda and KLM Airlines were down bout 2 points. Zenith added about 2.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Airline Repeats Freight Increase

NEW YORK — American Airlines has announced that it had set domestic industry records for both freight and all cargo ton miles flown in a single month.

The airline flew 29,611,000 freight ton miles in October, a 62 per cent increase over the same month of 1964. It was the sixth straight month in which American had set a domestic industry freight record.

Last month's all cargo freight, mail and express ton miles climbed 52.8 per cent over the October 1964 figure to $34,407,000.

American flew 790,014,000 revenue passenger miles last month to post a high for any October in the company's history. The airline's all time passenger miles standard of 967,049,000 was recorded in August of this year.

FRED B. BIALEK
Heads overseas operations

JAMES V. DILLER
New San Rafael Manager

Two Fairchild Plant Executives Promoted

A change in administrative personnel at the Fairchild Semiconductor diode plant in San Rafael has taken manager Fred B. Bialek to the company's Mountain View headquarters in the new position of international operations manager.

The post, a promotion for Bialek, was created to administer more closely the needs of Fairchild's rapidly expanding operations overseas. The company has semiconductor assembly plants in South Yarra, Australia, and in Hong Kong. Managers of both overseas plants will now report to Bialek.

He is being succeeded as San Rafael plant manager by James V. Diller Jr., product manager in San Rafael since last year. Diller, a native of Kentucky, joined the plant as a supervising engineer in 1963. He is a bachelor of science graduate of University of Rhode Island and has done graduate work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his family reside in San Rafael.

Bialek has been manager of the San Rafael plant since 1962. He joined the company in Mountain view in 1959 as an industrial engineer. He is a native of New York City and earned his bachelor of science degree at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his family reside in Mill Valley.

Stock Market Erases An Early Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed a shade lower today after erasing an early advance. Trading slowed from a heavy pace early in the session.

A number of the color television issues, other electronics, airlines and fast stepping issues made an early show of strength but most of this dwindled as the session wore on.

An uneven performance by General Motors and Du Pont as well as indifferent action by many other key stocks left the market without any special leadership.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.6 million shares compared with 8.39 million Thursday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule among most key stocks.

Alcoa's decision to raise aluminum prices helped aluminum stocks to advance, although some of the best gains were trimmed. Kaiser Aluminum held to a gain of 1½ or so and Reynolds Metals was up 1. Alcoa and Aluminium Ltd. were fractionally higher.

I-T-E Circuit Breaker was up nearly 3 following word of a proposed merger with Worthington Corp., which was about a point higher.

Up about 2 were such stocks as Boeing, Pittston Co., and American Air Filter. Ahead a point or so were United Aircraft, IBM, Polaroid, Xerox, Northrup, Fairchild Camera and Alberto-Culver.

General Motors (ex dividend) was off a fraction, paring an early loss of 1½. Down about a point were Bethlehem, Ford, Control Data and National Airlines.

Anaconda and KLM Airlines were down bout 2 points. Zenith added about 2.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

FRED B. BIALEK
Heads overseas operations

JAMES V. DILLER
New San Rafael Manager

Two Fairchild Plant Executives Promoted

A change in administrative personnel at the Fairchild Semiconductor diode plant in San Rafael has taken manager Fred B. Bialek to the company's Mountain View headquarters in the new position of international operations manager.

The post, a promotion for Bialek, was created to administer more closely the needs of Fairchild's rapidly expanding operations overseas. The company has semiconductor assembly plants in South Yarra, Australia, and in Hong Kong. Managers of both overseas plants will now report to Bialek.

He is being succeeded as San Rafael plant manager by James V. Diller Jr., product manager in San Rafael since last year. Diller, a native of Kentucky, joined the plant as a supervising engineer in 1963. He is a bachelor of science graduate of University of Rhode Island and has done graduate work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his family reside in San Rafael.

Bialek has been manager of the San Rafael plant since 1962. He joined the company in Mountain view in 1959 as an industrial engineer. He is a native of New York City and earned his bachelor of science degree at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his family reside in Mill Valley.

BE ALERT! Your Money Is Worth More
SOME OF YOUR FUNDS
SHOULD BE EARNING 10%

We originate 2nd Trust Deed loans on carefully selected residential property in Marin County. We assign these loans to private investors, service the loans, collect and remit monthly payments to the investor, without charge. If you have funds earning less than 10% per annum, our unique program warrants your investment. We are licensed, bonded, have an S.R.A. appraiser, and 16 years experience in Marin without a loss. We presently have several investment opportunities for $1,000 to $5,000. Your inquiries are cordially invited.

Red Tape Keeps Inventions From Helping Combat Units

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — A tough Special Forces sergeant carrying memories of bullets and of slimy, rice paddy leeches under his green beret paused in front of a beetle-shaped "mushmobile."

"I'd sure like to take that back to the Mekong Delta," he said in a soft Louisiana drawl.

"Sorry," said a man in civvies. "That's the only one in existence. And its just a prototype model."

This little scene was repeated several times at a hotel a few days ago during the Association of the U.S. Army meeting. To combat veterans of Viet Nam the weird little vehicle resting on tubular screws instead of wheels looked as luxurious as a Cadillac.

They could see themselves inside, protected by a quarter-inch of steel armor from Viet Cong bullets and the ever- present leeches, cruising across the paddies — instead of slogging waist-deep in water and mud.

That such a vehicle was available only in a hotel showroom, struck them all as not a little odd. It didn't take a genius to see how it could help them run down the elusive VC and possibly even save some lives.

When the question was asked when the machine might arrive in Viet Nam, the man tending it could only shrug. But a likely answer is: probably never.

The "mushmobile" — formally called the armored marsh amphibian — is one of the better ideas to be born of military research recently. However, it has become hopelessly mired in the usual Pentagon red tap and, officially, no one seems very interested in rescuing it.

One expert close to the problem calls it a "case of NIH — Not Invented Here." It seems the idea originated with someone in the Navy's bureau of ships about five years ago. Then the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) ordered a couple of test models built by the Chrysler Corp. and the Army was given the job of testing and determining if the vehicle should be built.

The test models, propelled by the tubular screws, have hit almost 15 mph in water. "They're able to operate in anything that's too thick to swim in and too thin to plow," says a Chrysler engineer.

On hard land or roads, however, the tubes make the amphibian difficult to steer and slow to drive, though it has no trouble crossing a road from one rice paddy to another.

The lack of roadability has prompted the Army to label the machine a "special purpose" vehicle for which it has "no requirement." Translated, this means its a problem no one wants to handle.

Meantime, the Chrysler Corp. is dreaming up ways to hang wheels on the amphibian and tests are continuing.

If someone ever did approve the "mushmobile," experts say it would take two years to build a quantity of them and ship them to Viet Nam. The Louisiana sergeant has a long wait.

This is but one case of time lag in new technology reaching the foot soldier. Take communications. Most army units are relying on World War II variety walkie talkies and telephone systems using cables. Some of the equipment has been improved, but not the techniques.

Today, the army is pursuing research on a radio-telephone which will do the work of a cable system and then some. It is called the "random access discreet address" communications system and will be capable of serving 40,000 telephone numbers — enough for 20 divisions.

RADA as it is called involves some brand new electronic manipulation of radio channels and is the handiwork of the Martin Co. But it is still being developed. With luck, it may be ready about 1972.

Airport Lease Accord Reported

A meeting of Harry O. Tollefson, lessee of the county airport at Novato, Supervisor William A. Gnoss and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney Wednesday appeared to have cleared up misunderstanding on the county's intentions.

"We're reaching accord," Gnoss said today.

The county wants to close out the exclusive lease with Tollefson to clear the way for an application for federal aid on the airport.

The lease was appraised at $15,000 but Tollefson, under the impression that it meant closing out his business at the airport, was asking $50,000. He was assured yesterday that he could continue in business at the airport under another, non-exclusive agreement.

President of the Novato Teen-Age Republicans is Jim Gribbin.

Novato Realty Broker Dies In One-Car Crash

MUTE REMINDER — Portion of door of 1965 Cadillac driven by Robert L. Hullman of Novato remains fused to guard rail of Novato Creek Bridge, which it hit at 8:45 p.m. yesterday. Hullman was killed in the crash as he was driving to his Novato home after closing out his real estate office in San Francisco. (Independent-Journal photo)

Medicine Linked To Wreck

A Novato real estate broker, driving home after closing out his realty office in San Francisco, was killed last night when his car hit the concrete railing of a bridge across Novato Creek.

He was the 22nd person to die in Marin County traffic this year. Last year by this date, traffic had claimed 36 lives in Marin.

Hullman was northbound in the fast lane of Highway 101 at 8:45 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported. His 1965 Cadillac hit the left railing of the northbound Novato Creek Bridge, one-half mile south of Lamont Avenue.

CRASH OBSERVED

George Loce, 18, of 1310 Leafwood Drive, Novato, was driving behind Hullman. He told the patrol he saw a cloud of dust, then the rear end of the Cadillac seemed to leap into the air and settle to the road. The car was demolished.

Hullman had telephoned a friend only about three-quarters of an hour earlier, reporting he was starting home from San Francisco, said Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley. He had just closed out his real estate brokerage office in the Jack Tar Hotel and had been negotiating with another broker to carry on his realty business in San Francisco. He also operated a real estate business in Novato from his home.

HAD NEW HOME

He had moved only recently to a new home at 91 Half Moon Road, Novato, from his former residence at 422 Ridge Road.

Hullman was injured in a San Francisco auto accident about a month ago, Bradley said, and had been under a doctor's care for back pains. He might have taken medication before driving home, said Bradley.

Hullman, unmarried, lived alone in the home, which was the scene of a burglary July 15 in which clothing, antique silverware, a television set, an

City Thinks Princess Meg Is A Doll!

Margaret, Earl Get Official Mayor's Greeting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Britain's Princess Margaret got San Francisco's verdict today.

"Isn't she a doll?"

The doll-sized—5 feet 1—Princess and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, drew gasps of admiration and applause from about 1,000 San Franciscans who crowded the City Hall as the royal party paid a courtesy visit on Mayor John F. Shelley. (See also photo p 21.)

"Wow!" one spectator exclaimed as the princess, in a white and silver brocade coat and matching dress and a black mink-trimmed hat, walked up the City Hall steps.

IGNORES ARM

Lord Snowdon, a few steps behind, grinned.

So tiny was the princess — despite 3½-inch spike heels — that she appeared almost child-like beside the 6 feet 4 mayor.

Shelley gave the Princess a key to the city and a miniature silver cable car to Lord Snowdon.

"We'd really like to go for a ride on a cable car," the princess told the mayor. "But we're not sure our security people will let us do it."

GETS SALUTE

After a brief meeting in Shelley's office, the Princess — now holding onto the mayor's arm — walked down the rotunda steps inside the building as 30 of San Francisco's white-glove policemen saluted her.

The crowd again cheered.

Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon went to a charity luncheon, sponsored by the English Speaking Union.

After the luncheon, the royal couple will have private engagements.

They'll have some time for browsing in shops, sightseeing and resting.

The Princess has made it clear that she intends to see all of the United States — not just high-society.

Rusk Reveals Red Buildup In War Zone

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today reported a continuing and substantial build up of Communist forces in Viet Nam. But he said the Reds were not going to be able "to impose a military solution" in the conflict.

Rusk told a news conference that indications from prisoners, captured documents and defections were that two additional regiments of the 325th North Vietnamese Division had gone into action. He identified these as the 250th and 32nd Regiments.

The secretary said he did not see the continuing increase in Red forces as "reflecting any major new decision" by the Communist high command in Hanoi to undertake a major escalation of the war to meet increased American forces, which now number more than 150,000.

He said that it was rather a continuation of the "general pattern."

Rusk also staunchly defended the right of Americans to protest and demonstrate against U.S. policy in Viet Nam. He declared that the "right of dissent" was an integral part of a "vigorous and thriving democracy such as ours."

However, he said, the demonstrators and protesters should realize that their tactics may be "frustrating" the very objective they claim to seek — peace in Viet Nam.

Saigon Figures 7,500 North Viets In Combat

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military authorities said today that five regiments of the North Vietnamese army — normally about 7,500 men — are now fighting in South Viet Nam.

The announcement confirmed the presence in the country of two new regiments.

Word of the North Vietnamese buildup came as a lull was reported in ground action across the country. But the growing U.S. military forces continued their patrols and sweeps, some of them in areas where the North Vietnamese units are believed operating.

Nine persons, all of them believed to be Americans, were killed when two U.S. Army helicopters collided in the air 250 miles northeast of Saigon near the headquarters at An Khe of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division.

Spokesmen said little significant contact with the Viet Cong had been reported throughout the country in the past 24 hours.

Ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet pounded Viet Cong targets near the coasts and observers reported extensive damage to buildings and trench systems.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes hammered at targets inside the country and in North Viet Nam. Nineteen missions were flown over North Viet Nam yesterday. Among the targets was the Ron Naval Base, 25 miles north of Dong Hoi. Four buildings were reported destroyed and five damaged.

All planes returned safely, a spokesman said.

In Washington, the Defense Department reported that 56 U.S. servicemen were killed and 220 wounded in the Viet Nam war during the week that ended last Monday.

This was considerably more than the 23 dead and 114 wounded reported by U.S. military authorities in Saigon for almost the same period—the week ending last Saturday.

Asked to explain the discrepancy, U.S. officials in Saigon said part of it stemmed from the different reporting periods and from decisions in Washington to list as dead men previously listed as missing.

Aluminum Prices Increase Despite White House Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — Aluminum Co. of America, the nation's No. 1 domestic aluminum producer, today boosted prices. The action came despite hat has been interpreted as opposition from President Johnson's administration.

Alcoa's price move follows a week of controversy between the Johnson administration and the aluminum industry which began when Olin Mathieson Corp raised prices last week.

The administration has called meetings in Washington to review the price actions. The Alcoa increase is somewhat lower than the increase by Olin Mathieson and other smaller aluminum producers.

Alcoa said the increases were needed to achieve a level of earnings adequate to finance a plant expansion program, spon-

Guard Station Given Reprieve

The Coast Guard lifeboat station at Point Reyes will remain open, even though no one has protested announced plans to close it.

Rear Adm. C. C. Knapp, commander of the 12th Coast Guard District, said today he had reconsidered the need for the station, with four men and a boat, below the Point Reyes Lighthouse, and the men will not be transferred to San Francisco and Bodega as planned. The station was to be closed today.

In 1958 the Coast Guard made a similar announcement it would close the station, and at that time about 20 persons from Marin and Sonoma counties protested. Soon after the Coast Guard opened a new station at Bodega Bay, but kept the Point Reyes station also.

Pro-Nazis Demote Aide As Jewish

NEW YORK (AP) — A top officer of a pro-Nazi, anti-semitic group, the National Renaissance party, today as reported stripped of his title after it was disclosed that his father was Jewish.

The New York Times said party leaders, meeting in a one-room apartment in Manhattan, voted Thursday night to oust Robert J. Burros, 27, a tall, blond man, as national secretary.

The action came following disclosure last Sunday by the Middletown (N.Y.) Times Herald Record that Burros' father, now deceased, was Jewish, and that the son had a bar mitzvah in Newburgh, N.Y., on Jan. 26, 1951.

That is the ritual symbolizing entering Jewish manhood.

Despite the similarity of names and circumstances, Robert Burros apparently is not related to Daniel Burros, the Ku Klux Klan leader who committed suicide last Sunday after a New York Times story detailed his Jewish background.

The party meeting here, the Times said, voted not to expel Robert Burros from the party, and to allow him to retain his post as chairman in Orange County, but to remove him as the national secretary.

Frouge Pledges County To Control Marincello

Thomas Frouge declared today that he has no intention of pushing for incorporation of Marincello, often referred to as a "planned city."

Moreover, said Frouge in a telegram to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, he will oppose any attempt at incorporation, preferring to keep the community under control of the county.

Opponents of Marincello have raised the possibility that the "city" would be incorporated as soon as it had sufficient residents, thus escaping county control. As an incorporated city, it could then scrap any county-approved master plan.

Plans for the "city" of 20,000 will come before Marin supervisors in a second hearing beginning at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Civic Center. The planning commission has approved the community with a density of 3.5 families. Frouge Corp. originally sought 5.9 density.

In his telegram to supervisors, developer Frouge said:

"I understand opponents of Marincello claim that upon approval of the master plan by your board we would, when 500 people live in Marincello, try to incorporate so as to avoid county jurisdiction and increase the density.

"I want you to know that I have no plans to incorporate Marincello, and I would prefer that the community not be incorporate Marincello, and I would prefer that the community not be incorporated and that it remain under county supervision so as to insure the development of the property under the master plan as we have presented it.

"I am willing to enter into any agreement with the county that the Frouge Corporation will not participate in any incorporation proceedings and will do everything in its power to prevent incorporation of Marincello."

Old Flag Bought On $15,000 Bid

LONDON (UPI — An old American flag earned more than $15,000 in foreign exchange for Britain today when an agent for New York distiller Edgar M. Bronfman bought a flag made in America in 1794, with 15 six-pointed stars.

The flag was auctioned at Sotheby's in downtown London by its former owner, Mrs. Barbara Soames, who is a descendant of George Calvert, the first Lord Baltimore.

The flag was made in 1794 when Kentucky and Vermont were admitted to the union.

Rescue Parties Hunt For Plane

PANAMA (AP)—Rescue parties searching for a missing Argentine air force plane set out today for a spot in the Costa Rican jungle where a helicopter pilot reported signs of an air crash.

The plane, a DC-4 carrying 55 Argentine military cadets, 5 officers and nine crewmen, disappeared Wednesday on a flight from the Canal Zone to the United States.

De Gaulle Conceded A Sure Winner Over Divided Field

PARIS (AP) — The French presidential race was in effect over today, even before it officially starts, with President Charles de Gaulle generally conceded a sure victory.

The only suspense of the campaign was ended last night when De Gaulle announces he is willing to be re-elected.

At least five candidates will oppose De Gaulle. All have been campaigning vigorously for several weeks, but each admits privately that he has no hope of winning. Unofficial soundings have indicated that De Gaulle might get as much as 65 per cent of the total vote.

The only hope of the opposition candidates is to corral 50 per cent of the vote in the Dec. 5 election. Then there would be a runoff on Dec. 19 between the two top men. De Gaulle's ego might be bruised by failure to get a majority on the first round, but his victory on the second ballot probably would be certain.

The closing date for candidates to file is Nov. 16, and the campaign will not officially open until the next day. In addition to the six principal aspirants, several political unknowns have said they would file.

De Gaulle apparently intends to run with no formal party backing, underlining his often-expressed contempt for the political parties which kept French political life so often in turmoil before De Gaulle came to power. Officials of the Gaullist Union for a New Republic have said they expect to have no part in the campaign as a party. But this will not prevent UNR members from making a maximum personal effort to get the vote out.

De Gaulle, finishing his first seven-year term and turning 75 on Nov. 22, looked hale and hearty, firm and vigorous in his brief television address announcing his decision.

He recalled that he had stepped in 25 years ago to speak for France after the Nazis overran the country. He said he returned to power in 1958 "to avoid civil war."

Now, he continued, "I believe I must hold myself ready to carry on my task, judging fully what an effort it will be, but convinced that presently it is the best way to serve France."

It will be France's first direct election of a president, and the first time that De Gaulle's name has appeared on a ballot presented to the general electorate.

In the past, French presidents have been chosen by an electoral college made up of members of Parliament, regional councilors and municipal councilors. This procedure was changed by a referendum sponsored by De Gaulle.

More Charges For Assessor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Francisco Assessor Russell Wolden has been charged twice more with accepting payments in return for reduced property tax assessments.

Wolden appeared in Superior Court yesterday and heard charges that he accepted a $38,500 bribe from an unspecified source on March 1, 1963, and that he received an unstated amount of capital stock in the luxury apartment building where he lived.

Wolden now is charged with 10 counts of bribery and two of criminal conspiracy.

Judge Leonard M. Ginsberg set a pre-trial hearing on the new charges for Nov. 12.

TURNCOAT COMES HOME—Morris R. Wills, American soldier captured by Chinese communist troops 15 years ago in Korea, arrives in San Francisco yesterday accompanied by his Chinese wife, Le Kai-Yan and their daughter Tei Fang, 15 months, on his way home to Fort Ann, N.Y. (UPI Telephoto)

Turncoat Home From China Won't Discuss Reasons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Back in America after 11½ years in Communist China, a turncoat from the Korean War does not have much to say.

Morris Wills, 32, a former soldier was accompanied by his Chinese wife and their 15-month-old daughter when he arrived in San Francisco yesterday by airplane.

He said he as "glad to be back" but declined to answer newsmen's questions on his stay in China or his reasons for returning. He said he planned to write and sell his story.

Wills said he had worked as a teacher and translater in Peiping.

During his residence in Communist China, Wills said, he occasionally saw the three remaining prisoners of war who were among the 20 who declined to be repatriated. They are Clarence Adams of Memphis, Tenn., Harold Webb of Fort Pierce, Fla., and John Dunn of Baltimore.

Kuchel Makes Public His Stand On Murphy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel says he voted for California's junior senator, George Murphy, but didn't campaign for him because Murphy refused to repudiate the John Birch Society.

Kuchel, taping a KNXT "Newsmakers" television interview yesterday for 6:30 p.m. tomorrow broadcast, said:

"I told George I would vote for him and I did vote for him. He said 'I'd like to have you campaign for me.' I said 'I'd be very glad to campaign for you but I want you first to repudiate publicly, George, the John Birch Society and the radical fight.'

"He said 'I can't do that.'

"At that time, the police department was investigating the libel against me, which included an employe of a firm here in Los Angeles, which was interested in part in Technicolor, where George was employed.

"I simply was inwardly so indignant against what a group of people had tried to do that I wanted to be sure that anyone that I helped win by campaigning for them would stand alongside of me and repudiate the group of people from which came some who were trying to destroy my character."

Murphy Talk Picketed By Farm Group

FRESNO (AP) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., was picketed last night hen he made a fund raising speech for Republicans in Fresno.

Striking farm workers from Kern and Tulare counties and a student group marched outside the hall where Murphy talked at a $50-a-plate banquet.

The picketing farm workers were members of the National Farm Workers Assn., which has been on strike against grape growers in the Delano area.

Wendy Goeple of the farm workers' union and George Ballif of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee said they were picketing Murphy's speech because the senator opposes collective bargaining and minimum wages for farm workers.

AFTER DEATH IN FIRE

Whites Give Negro Farmer New Home

RUTLEDGE, Ga. (AP) — "This showed us that white folks don't hate Negroes," said Lamar Thomas, a Negro tenant farmer, as tears of gratitude trickled down his face.

Nearly $2,000 and other gifts of clothes, furniture and food have poured in from over the nation to the Thomas family after fire destroyed their small frame home and took the life of a 4-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Thomas said today many of the donations came from white persons.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh," she said, of the gifts and of the death of little Vellson.

"If it were not for the fine Christian people who sent us all these things, I don't know what we would have done."

One week ago, Thomas and a white furniture salesman, Frank McRee of nearby Madison, Ga., were talking in a cotton field when the salesman saw the house in flames.

Thomas, ho is almost blind, cried, "Oh, my God, my children are in there."

McRee sprinted to the house, kicked in a window encased in flames, grabbed 10-month-old Lamar Jr., and tossed him out to Thomas.

McRee, blinded by smoke and flame, could not locate the other child. McRee leaped out the window when the roof began to fall. The little girl later was found dead under a bed.

At dusk, white neighbors found the Thomas family sitting on the ground near the rubble of their burned home. The neighbors found them a house nearby, rented it for them and started collecting furniture.

A story and pictures were carried by The Associated Press nationally. Soon, mail began to pour in for the Thomases.

The family now has running water in their home for the first time. They also now have a television set, a new stove and refrigerator and better clothes.

"We sure are going to have a better Thanksgiving this year than ever before, thanks to all those warm-hearted people," said Mrs. Thomas. "And don't you think we won't be thankful."

U.S. Doctors Save Walking Bomb; Cut Live Grenade From Back

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Working through a small hole in a wall of sandbags, two U.S. surgeons successfully removed a live grenade from a Vietnamese farmer's back today.

"It's in the box," Maj. Gen. James W. Humphreys Jr. shouted as he released the grenade into a wooden case half filled with sand after pulling it from the back of frail, Nguyen Tran Chinh, 52.

Chinh became a walking explosive Sunday when a Viet Cong fired the 40mm grenade into his back. The missile 6 inches long and 2 inches wide lodged in his lower back beneath the 12th rib.

Humphreys, a chest surgeon from Richmond, Va., was assisted by another chest surgeon, Air Force Col. Daniel Campbell of Inlet Beach, Fla. A British anesthetist, Dr. Tony Brown, gave Chinh a local anesthetic. Brown is attached to the U.S. aid mission.

The doctors, who volunteered for the job, operated from behind a 10-foot-high stack of sandbags. They were about four feet away from the patient.

Inserting their instruments through an opening below a large pane of bulletproof glass, they made an incision with a scalpel attached to a 6-foot-long steel arm.

Then Humphreys picked out the grenade with a 6-foot pair of tweezers and placed it gently in the box of sand. It was about 2 feet from the wound to the box.

"If I had dropped it, the whole show would have been over," Humphreys said.

A U.S. Army demolition expert, Maj. Daniel Doty of Marina, Calif., carried the box to a sandbagged jeep. It was to be detonated outside Saigon.

The grenade can kill at five yards and cause serious injury far beyond that distance.

Chinh sat up and smiled as he was helped to a stretcher. Blood was running down his back from the long incision.

"Take him to the surgery and clean that up." Humphreys said, wiping the sweat from his face.

He described how it got there: "I was standing outside my house early in the morning when a man shouted through the darkness, 'hands up'.

"Just as I did so, he fired at me and I was thumped to the ground. My family took care of me until daylight, when I was taken to the district headquarters and brought into Saigon."

Chinh lives in Long An Province, about 30 miles south of Saigon.

The impact of the grenade did not break any bones, and after several days Chinh wanted to go home.

"But we couldn't allow that," Humphreys said. "The jolts of a taxi or even of his own walking could trigger that sensitive fuse on the grenade and he might blow up taking a dozen passers-by with him."

Fire Protection Is Extended

Tiburon Fire District will have to provide fire protection to the old Naval Net Depot free, the district's commission learned last night.

A letter from the U.S. Department of the Interior said a contract signed between the department and the fire district is illegal. The U.S. controller general ruled the department may not pay for the service. Commissioners asked the district's attorney to study the ruling.

The commission also took under study a letter from the county board of supervisors urging that firemen throughout the county be paid the same salary rates.

sor new product research and development, to attain an adequate return on its investment, and to compensate for increased labor costs.

The government has been trying to get aluminum producers to buy from the government stockpiles. Stockpile officials contended that if the aluminum market was strong enough to absorb a price boost it was sufficiently strong to absort more government surplus aluminum.

Government statutes governing the stockpile would slow down any dumping of the metal as a move to drive prices down. However, the huge government surplus of some 1.5-million tons in excess of mobilization requirements, still poses a potential threat to private industry prices.

Representatives of the producers and the government's stockpile salesmen have met four times since mid-September to work out a plan for disposal of the stockpiled metal.

In Washington, a General Services Administration spokesman said the agency had no comment on the Alcoa price action. GSA administers the stockpile program and would handle any sale of stockpiled aluminum. About 500,000 tons could be sold under presidential direction but the consent of Congress would be required to sell the remainder of the surplus.

Reynolds Metals Co. followed suit when it announced at Richmond it will raise prices of many of its fabricated products an average of about 1 cent a pound effective Nov. 8.

At Johnson City, Tex., the Texas White House withheld comment on the latest announced price increases. But it emphasized that administration efforts to sell off surplus aluminum began last January —long before the current round of price boosts began.

Helicopter Firm Moves For Lack Of Facilities

Poor facilities at Marin County Airport were blamed today for move of American Helicopters from Marin to Sonoma County.

American has been operating from a landing pad at the Lodge, north of Novato. Within the past few days, it has moved its entire operation to Schellville.

Gerald Thomas, general manager of the helicopter firm, said the move was forced on the company because it could not get facilities necessary at the Marin County airport near Novato.

"We have far better facilities there," Thomas said. Repair shops, hangars and various other things necessary for the operation are available at the Schellville airport, he said.

"Sure we would move back to Marin County," Thomas answered when asked if he would consider moving back to Marin County if the county airport were brought up to the standards of the Schellville port.

College Students Request Cigarette Sale On Campus

College of Marin students, tired of having to walk off campus each time they want to buy a package of cigarettes, will petition the college board to have the weeds sold in the new campus center.

The student campus center committee and executive council have adopted a resolution asking for "controlled sale of cigarettes in the new college center."

Just over a year ago, the board ordered a cigarette machine removed from the college cafeteria, citing the number of students under 18 years old on campus and saying sale of cigarettes was not in keeping with the college's health education program.

Donna Ryan, chairman of the campus center committee which drew up the resolution, said that with restrictions and over-the-counter sales of the cigarettes, the chance of illegal purchase by under-age students would be eliminated.

The resolution was passed by the council Oct. 28, and announced today in the student newspaper, the Tower Times. The students are not certain when the request will be submitted to the board.

Manager Killed At Apartments

Three packages of marijuana lay beside the crumpled body of Othello Saulsbury, 28, at the foot of a 20 foot stairway.

"We had a beef," his 23-year-old wife, Jessie, said as she was arrested. She did not elaborate.

Saulsbury was shot through the chest with a .38-caliber bullet. Another had ripped the lapel of his sports jacket.

Police said Saulsbury had a record of petty theft and nonsupport.

A 49-year-old San Rafael man was in critical condition in San Rafael General Hospital today with a skull fracture after police had found him lying at the foot of steps at 18 G Street last night.

The occupant of the house, Robert R. Curray, told police he heard what sounded like a man falling down the steps.

Marin Guide Plant Pickets Limited

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court today limited Oakland Mailers Union 18 to two pickets at the struck Marin Guide plant, pending hearing on a show cause order.

Judge Gardiner set the hearing for 2 p.m. next Wednesday for the union to show cause why it should not be temporarily enjoined from picketing Marin Guide premises in Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley and interfering with the publishing business. Harry Johnson, Marin Guide publisher, asked the anti-picketing injunction in a suit filed yesterday against the union. (See story on page 38).

Peter L. Goldstein, 31, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, remained in poor condition at Marin General Hospital today with injuries he suffered in an auto accident Oct. 19 on the Waldo Grade.

Petty Theft Ring Broken With Arrests

An alleged large-scale burglary and petty theft ring, neatly organized by a 16-year-old Santa Venetia youth, was believed broken yesterday with arrest by sheriff's officers of the boy and two 13-year-old companions.

William Johansen, juvenile deputy, said the arrests clear 22 burglaries and 23 petty theft cases, all in Santa Venetia during the past five weeks.

All crimes, he said, involved search for either money or alcoholic beverages. The three boys were put in Marin County Juvenile Hall on charges of burglary.

Johansen said the oldest youth, who moved from Pacifica to Santa Venetia with his family five weeks ago, organized the other two into an efficient gang to enter residences by prying windows.

Johansen said they would first find unlighted residences between 7 and 10 p.m., then ring doorbells and check garages for cars as double assurance that no one was home.

He said the arrests also solved burglaries of Tweedie's General Store at 290 North San Pedro Road, Littleman's Market, McPhail School and Gallinas School, all in Santa Venetia.

Johansen said "three or four" more arrests, including two adults, might follow for investigation of receiving stolen goods. He estimated over $500 total worth of alcoholic beverages and money was taken.

San Rafael Suspect Held In Burglary

William Patrick Maloney, 24, was in county jail today on a complaint charging possession of goods stolen in a burglary last February of the home of Kermit H. Fisher, 635 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia. Bail was $1,100.

Maloney, of 182 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was arrested at home by Sheriff's Inspectors Guido V. Battaglia and Kenneth Irving late yesterday after securing a Marin Superior Court search warrant for Maloney's residence.

The officers said they recovered three of four beer steins, sterling silver worth $375, a $50 tapestry, and furniture. All had been stolen from Fisher's residence between Feb. 20 and Feb. 22, according to the report.

Loot also taken in the breakin, via a rear bedroom window, included a $650 stereophonic set, and a $250 television set, none of which had been recovered today. Inspector Battaglia said whereabouts of the recovered loot was learned through an informant.

The burglary was discovered by Fisher's brother-in-law, W. R. Frazier, 625 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, while the Fishers were on vacation.

GOP's Bliss Hits Radical Factions

Johnson To Hold Off On Filling Cabinet Job

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson disclosed today he does not plan to name a secretary for the new Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Affairs until early next year.

Although the department will automatically come into existence at 12:01 a.m. next Tuesday, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson has decided to await further studies by a special task force — which probably won't report before Christmas — before really organizing the department.

Just A Little Poison Can Be Very Deadly

By EMIL R. SVEILIS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Imagine adding one ounce of chocolate syrup to 10 million gallons of milk.

If the syrup were DDT, and the milk were ocean water, blue crabs would die from the chemical within eight days.

That statistic on the potency of DDT and the hazard it possesses for years to animal life emerges from an annual review on poisonous pesticides just issued by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Interior Department.

It makes other revelations. One is that penguins and seals in Antarctica, which spend their entire lives in that region and feed on only non-migrating crabs and fish, have taken DDT into their systems.

The report says that as much as 152 parts of DDT per billion were found in the penguins and almost 40 parts per billion in seals.

Asked how it was possible for DDT to contaminate the subcontinent's wildlife population, a department spokesman said that "DDT is a stable compound with a positive effect for long periods of time." He said it could be carried by wind or be transferred by living organisms. "The other possibility," he said, "could be that pesticides were used in South America and drifted in the ocean to the Antarctic."

The report said the pesticide kills animal life in two ways—immediate death from an overdose and through accumulation of pesticides over a considerable period which causes death when the animal is under stress.

A case of immediate death was found in Virginia. Soon after some homeowners used chemicals in their gardens for beetle control more than 90 birds were found dead. The Interior Department spokesman said the birds "died directly from an acute overdose of pesticides."

The report told how a chronic accumulation also caused death.

In an experiment, some birds were exposed to pesticides but in quantities too small to kill. They were housed in a common cage. Over a period of time, the poison was accumulated in their fat.

Then, for three weeks, the birds were put into individuel cages for about 40 minutes, then returned to a common cage. Later, during the experiment, they were fed only clean food but were moved from cage to cage several times.

"Death followed the disturbance of moving as long as 28 days after the removal of the diet containing DDT," the report said, adding that the excitement of moving caused them to burn up excess fat which contained the DDT.

As to aquatic life, the report said that just a mere trace of pesticides is enough to kill.

"One part of DDT in one billion parts of water was found to kill three blue crabs in eight," it said. To show the minute amount, it said the relationship was about one ounce of chocolate syrup—in 10 million gallons of milk.

Asked what was being done about the harmful effects of pesticides on fish and wildlife, a spokesman said both government and private concerns are moving "in the right direction."

He said "DDT is graduually being eliminated from use. New chemicals, like organophosphates and carbamates, which have a much shorter breakdown period, are being put into use."

The new chemicals he said, are only poisonous to fish and wildlife for two or three days, while DDT can last anywhere from 10 to 20 years.

Patrol System Meeting Slated

A 7 p.m. meeting today at the sheriff's sub-station at Marin City was scheduled to institute a new county patrol system which would speed other patrol units to that area in case of trouble.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said purpose is to enable additional sheriff's cars to respond, rather than have to draw from Sausalito or Mill Valley police.

He emphasized, however, that a mutual aid agreement between his office and municipal police departments will continue in effect.

Reynolds was the heir to the tobacco fortune. He died in Switzerland on Dec. 14, two days before Irene was born.

Rumors Say 'Tiger Lady' Dies In Fight

SAIGON (UPI)—Mme. Ho Thi Que, the famed "Tiger Lady" of the Mekong Delta was said to have been fatally wounded yesterday during a struggle with her husband, a major in the army, over possession of a gun.

It was reported that the couple was arguing over attentions the major was paying to another woman.

Mme. Que was a fighting woman who carried two .45-caliber automatic pistols strapped round her hips and wore a polished steel helmet emblazoned with tigers. She fought alongside troops of the 44th Vietnamese Ranger Battalion, a unit her husband commanded.

Mme. Que won a non-commissioned officer with the battalion and received several decorations for bravery under fire. She was 38, and the mother of six.

New Right-Wing Party Proposed

DENVER (UPI)— Colorado GOP national committeewoman Mrs. Fletcher Swan suggested yesterday that it might not be a bad idea for ultra-conservatives to form a third political party.

Mrs. Swan said such a move might be best for the Republican Party. She said she was referring to those persons who were so strongly conservative that they felt they could not identify themselves with the GOP.

"Unfortunately," Mrs. Swan said, "these people would rather lose than win with a liberal Republican candidate. This is the great problem within the party. We kill it over and over again, but it still crops up."

Yorty Sees Brown As A Loser Either Way

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says he wouldn't run on a ticket with Gov. Edmund G. Brown because "I don't think a ticket headed by Brown could win even if I ran with him."

The mayor's declaration was made yesterday after Brown disclosed Wednesday that a self-proclaimed Yorty emissary had consulted with him about Yorty's running for Lieutenant Governor in 1966.

Denying the report, Yorty said:

"Many Brown supporters are afraid he will lose, and have tried to get me to team up with him with the understanding that he would then get a federal appointment."

Brown said he turned down the proposal from a man who said he acted at the request of Deputy Mayor Joseph M. Quinn. Brown said he thinks Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson deserves support if he seeks re-election. Quinn also has denied sending an emissary.

Novatan Given Probation Term

Raymond Harold Jennings, 18, was placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on his guilty plea Oct. 13 to molesting a 5-year-old girl in Novato.

Jennings, of 547 Entrada Drive, Novato, originally was charged with felony lewd and lascivious behavior in the April 26 incident. The reduced charge followed a preliminary hearing.

Sentence was by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Cuban Refugee Boat Sinks; Only 9 Of 45 Reach Shore

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Eleven days ago, a band of Cubans set sail across the turbulent waters of the Yucatan Channel, determined to find freedom from the Communists who govern their country.

Forty-five refugees were aboard the fishing boat Jose Marti — named after the hero who led Cuba to independence from Spain—when it sailed Oct. 25.

Only nine reached the shore of Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

The Jose Marti almost made it across the narrow channel which separates the Gulf of Mexico from the Caribbean Sea. But off Contoy Island, in sight of the mainland, heavy seas rammed the 65-foot boat into a reef, and sent it to the bottom Tuesday.

Last night, the Marine Ministry announced in Mexico City that 36 of the refugees apparently drowned.

Indians Patriotic

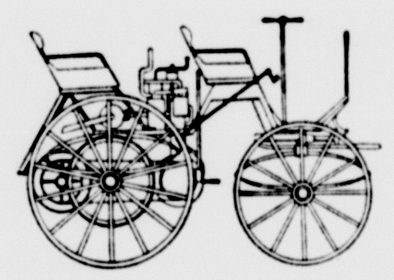
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The National Congress of American Indians has passed without dissent a resolution expelling any member found to belong to any group listed by the U.S. attorney general as subversive.

"It won't mush on curves at 70, won't swerve in a panic stop at 80, and won't give a fig if you run it all day at 90. The Mercedes-Benz—a most unflappable car."

Mercedes-Benz 230S takes a 65-mph bend at Lime Rock race track—no lurch, no lean. Clip coupon for full story.

Amazing things happen when engineers build a car to be the best—not the best seller. The Mercedes-Benz 230S hugs the road, doesn't wallow over bumps. Its body is a patented safety feature. Read on for more facts about this extraordinary motor car.

SURPRISINGLY few people today realize that the men who founded Mercedes-Benz invented the automobile. Gottlieb Daimler and Karl Benz ran gasoline-powered cars in 1886 (Henry Ford's amazing Model T was still 22 years off).



1886—the car that started it all.

Without market researchers or sales experts to guide them, Daimler and Benz simply went ahead building the best possible cars.

They did splendidly.

Today's Mercedes-Benz 230S also endures without fancy marketing plans or piles of sales research. Its destiny rests with engineers. A unique situation—producing a unique automobile. In fact, David E. Davis, Jr., Editor of Car and Driver has said,

"You could be blindfolded, spun around three times and dropped into a Mercedes-Benz, and when you sat down you'd know it was a Mercedes-Benz."

Differences you can feel

Fervent engineering research has earned Mercedes-Benz more than 5,200 patents. And bestows the 230S with differences you can feel. For example, all four wheels are independently sprung. Each wheel soaks up bumps and thumps individually—and smoothly.

"The wheels always remain stubbornly planted on the road," says one automotive journal. "Even the lumpiest surface can't budge them from their bulldog grip."

Goodbye guesswork

You aim a 230S down the road like a gun. The car goes precisely where you point it and stays where you put it—even in heavy gusts at 70 mph.

Tire kickers: check steering tightness, too. Bang the steering wheel of a 230S sharply with your fist. No wobble or shake. Then try the same trick on other cars. A revealing comparison.

Brakes you can trust

Normal pedal effort draws the 230S to a swift, even stop. Panic stops from 80 mph—over and over—won't faze its staunch front disc brakes (please don't try that on your present car!). There are, in fact, two braking systems. Front and rear brakes act separately. You actually have a spare braking system. It costs more to build a car this way—but Mercedes-Benz engineers will never sacrifice safety to save dollars.

The 230S is built in Germany where there is no highway speed limit—but there is a heavy tax on gasoline and engine size. You gain from an engine designed to suit these harsh performance and economy demands.

The 230S uses a 6-cylinder engine with a top speed of 109 mph. Hardly awesome in this age of 400-hp hot rods. But consider this: you could run the Mercedes-Benz 230S up to 90 mph, stay there, and cruise for weeks without strain (roads and speed laws permitting). And you would get almost twice as many miles-per-gallon as with most V8's.

Surprising sidelight: the 230S has a single overhead camshaft engine design, a feature on Mercedes-Benz cars since 1951. Detroit cars adopted it for the first time this year.

Squeak-proof body

The common bolted-up body and frame construction dismays Mercedes-Benz engineers. Bolts can work loose to squeak and rattle. The body of the 230S is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 places. The whole car, with humane care, will be blithely rolling along when ordinary cars are on the junk heap.

Showroom visitors: run a hand along the body of a Mercedes-Benz. No "orange peel" texture. Seven enamel coats (applied by dipping, electrostatic spraying and lastly by hand spraying) make a flawless finish. It had better be. One of every 11 Mercedes-Benz factory workers is an inspector.

Designed for people

The 230S is a surpassingly comfortable car. For good reason: Mercedes-Benz has never been drawn into the "Annual Model Change" hurly-burly. The car is designed around its occupants—not shaped to a stylist's whim.

Bring your ruler: Measure your car's interior. Then measure a 230S. It's probably bigger. Despite far leaner outside dimensions, the 230S actually provides more interior space than many full-sized American cars.

Orthopedic physicians helped Mercedes-Benz designers conquer driving fatigue. They found that a firm seat prevents muscle cramp and fatigue. And the seats in the 230S are erect. You don't feel like you're sitting in a box of marshmallows.

Not for snobs

Car lovers find the 230S exquisitely crafted. Snobs find it utterly disappointing. No burled walnut picnic tables. No espresso coffee makers. Such trivia add precious weight and cost. The efficiency-minded Mercedes-Benz engineers won't tolerate it.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $23,245 to $4,065

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 6 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models.

600 Grand Mercedes	$23,245
300SE Coupe	11,737
230SL Roadster	6,262
230S Sedan	4,900
200 Diesel Sedan	4,280
200 Sedan	4,065

Safety that's not buckled on

There is no "safety controversy" at Mercedes-Benz. Safety is built in. Item: the 230S body is a patented safety feature. Front and rear sections are designed to absorb the shock in case of hard collisions, folding to provide a "cushioning" effect. The passenger compartment remains intact.

Door locks are engineered to stay closed under the stiffest jolts. These are the same locks exactly that you will find on the $23,245 Grand Mercedes. Inside, even the steering wheel hub is padded. (Some styling experts say the Mercedes-Benz steering wheel is ugly. Safety engineers say it could save your life.)

MUTE KLANSMEN MAY FACE COURT

Probers Say Leaders' Refusal To Produce Subpoenaed Records May Bring Jail Terms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It may take a while, but congressmen investigating the Ku Klux Klan are confident that uncooperative Klansmen eventually will wind up behind bars.

"They're all going to jail," is the way one member of the House Committee on UN-American Activities put it.

So far, more than 35 Klansmen, ranging from Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton Jr. to rank and filers, have put in an appearance before the committee during its three weeks of public hearings on the "invisible empire."

But all of them — with the single exception of a North Carolina Klan official who resigned on the witness stand — have refused to supply the committee with anything other than their names.

One after the other, some with great difficulty, the kleagles, kludds, klokards and the like have read out prepared statements citing the fifth and other Constitutional Amendments as their reason for refusing to answer. In addition, Klan officers, which almost all of them are, have declined to turn over to the committee the secret society's records as ordered by subpoena. This latter action could mean jail.

Committee members point out that the Klansmen are well within their rights to cite the fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination when it comes to not answering questions.

But they say the fifth does not protect the reluctant witnesses from being cited for contempt of Congress for failure to produce the subpoenaed records.

The committee's confidence that the courts will sustain the contempt of Congress citations is based on a 1960 Supreme Court decision. In that case, the high court declared that an official of an organization cannot rely on the fifth to refuse to supply records he holds in his official capacity.

Bicycle Path On Club List

Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club members agreed last night to investigate bicycle path development in the valley following a report that two children had been hit recently while cycling.

A committee was formed, said president Joe Allen, to develop such paths with emphasis on a path first on Marin Avenue between Pine Street and Richardson Way.

Final purchase of the club's new site in Tennessee Valley is expected to be completed shortly, Allen told the 50 persons in the audience.

Water tests have proved water on the property is potable, but final tests showing mineral contents have not been received.

The members voted unanimously to change the date for directors to enter office from June to March so the new board does not start business immediately with the annual "Rhubarb Revue."

Bay Commission Must Get Staff

Joseph Bodovitz of Mill Valley, executive director of the newly formed San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, told members of the Bay Area chapter of the American Society of Public Administrators last night that the commission's biggest problem now is getting together a staff.

Bodovitz, introduced by county Administrator Alan Bruce, spoke to 75 society members and their guests at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito.

Leftist Leader Sent Abroad By Indonesia

JAKARTA (UPI) — Foreign Minister Subandrio will be sent on an extended tour abroad as part of the continuing drive against Communist influences in Indonesia, informed sources said today.

The sources said the move will amount to temporary exile for the pro-Communist Foreign Minister, considered the architect of Indonesia's policy of alignment with Red China.

The army has been cracking down on Communists in Indonesia since the failure early last month of an anti-government coup backed by the country's Reds.

Radio Jakarta today quoted Subandrio as saying that Indonesia's campaign against Malaysia will continue although he claimed Indonesia has no territorial ambitions on Borneo. Both countries share the island.

Meanwhile, the armed forces issued an official denial of reports that troops were being withdrawn from the Borneo frontier to cope with rebel elements in central Java.

Guards Taken Out Of Search

San Quentin Prison has withdrawn the 25 guards sent in a vail attempt Tuesday to flush out two escapees from Vacaville Medical Facility believed hiding on a small rugged peninsula jutting into Lake Berryessa.

The men were sent to relieve Vacaville guards who had been working 18 hours.

Napa County sheriff's officers today closed off the peninsula in an attempt to starve out the two men, Charles L. Gove, 40, sentenced from San Francisco, and Ralph D. Owen, 24, of Carmichael. Officers said they believed the men were still on the peninsula.

A Vacaville parolee reported seeing the two men in a Vallejo shopping center, but that report could not be substantiated.

Doctors Told To Make Most Of Medicare

The Medicare Act may not be exactly what the doctor ordered, but Marin physicians were told last night they must make the most of it.

In semi-medical terms: The patient is already dead, but there is every indication the impending operation will be a success.

"We fought as much as we could to save the ship," said Dr. Carl Anderson, chairman of the council of the California Medical Assn. "It has been lost and now we have to do something to help the situation the best we can."

Speaking at a meeting of Marin Medical Society, Dr. Anderson referred briefly to the relationship between physicians and government agencies, at local, state and federal levels.

"We must recognize that these elected representatives and appointed officers are direct representatives of the American people. They speak, whether we like it or not, with the voice of the American public generally.

"Our job now," he went on, "is to advise as much as we can and try to guide the government along the way we feel is best for the profession and the American public."

Dr. Anderson, of Santa Rosa, said the American Medical Assn. had fought Medicare from the beginning because it was felt the type of financing involved was "inappropriate and bad for medicine."

However, when it was obvious the bill would go through, a great degree of co-operation was displayed between the doctors and the administrative departments, he said.

One question which arose was how insurance carriers would decide what was the most reasonable fee for the service of a doctor.

"It is still a great big question mark," Anderson declared. "We are going to fight a fee schedule as much as we can."

He considered the State Medicare act, passed yesterday, had not the same degree of medical advice given it by physicians as the federal act.

The California Medical Assn., he added, has asked the AMA to negotiate for setting up similar medical advisory committees.

There was a greater potential for the expansion of government control of the medical profession at state level than federal, he said.

Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-First District) was also a speaker at the dinner meeting at the Meadow Club, above Fairfax.

He warned the doctors they should watch the administration of Medicare legislation carefully.

"The real test of the program will come in the future but you must maintain an eternal vigilance. You must become involved," he said.

"If you don't, ti will be of little use to come crying to us if some groups in the legislature do something you dislike."

Stolen Auto Found In Hub

San Anselmo police yesterday found a 1962 Oldsmobile sedan, reported stolen last month in San Francisco, in the parking area across from the Safeway Store on San Anselmo Avenue.

Chief Raymond R. Buchignani reported the car, belonging to Irvine V. Sicotte of San Francisco, was in good condition.

Dixie, San Rafael Boards Study Unification Methods

The San Rafael Board of Education and Dixie School District Board dipped into the procedural and educational problems of unification last night, but did not come up with any recommendation.

During a two and one-half hour joint session at Miller Creek School, board members studied the proposed unification of the San Rafael and Dixie districts, tentatively scheduled to go to the voters June 7, 1966.

Two unresolved issues were whether the unified district would operate under general state law or under the San Rafael city charter, and whether the unified board should have five or seven members.

San Rafael high school and elementary districts operate under the charter, which limits the board of education to five members. The Marin County Committee on School District Organization has recommended a seven-member board for the proposed unified district.

Walter J. Doll, president of the San Rafael Board of Education, said he would prefer the general law operation to make the proposed unification "more palatable to the people in the Dixie district" who live outside the city boundaries.

Earl H. Koehler, chairman of the Dixie board, also said he favored the general law "from the standpoint of making it more possible for the district to be acceptable."

Proponents of the five-member board said a smaller board would be more effective and less likely to operate on "a committee system" than a seven-member board. Proponents of a seven-member board contended a larger board would provide wider representation.

Dixie trustee Dorothy C. Brown, backing a seven-member board, said all areas should have representation on the unified board.

Dixie trustee John A. Starkweather objected to "talk about representing areas" and preferred that each board member represent the entire district. "I don't like the emphasis on sectionalism," he said.

Koehler also objected to school boards based on geographical trustee areas because "they tend to become political instruments."

Mrs. Anita C. Strom, a member of the San Rafael board, said it is not a question of representation from areas, "but more representation of the people."

Board members received an opinion from Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks that the County Committee on School District Organization can rule that the unified district be governed by general law. It would not be necessary to resubmit the unification proposal to the State Board of Education for approval, Hendricks said.

Board members also began a page-by-page study of a "Cooperative Study on Unification," a report prepared by the Dixie and San Rafael City Schools staffs.

The discussion ranged from class sizes to the philosophical differences in the use of personnel.

Dixie Supt. Dennie B. Willis said there is "unequal opportunity" in the districts. For example, he said, "you have an art specialist, and we don't."

Koehler said board members should seek to identify the differences between the San Rafael and Dixie districts.

He asked that board members arrive at the next meeting Dec. 9 at Glenwood School in San Rafael "with a list of major differences that would pose problems."

Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. of the San Rafael board said there may be advantages to unification, but "one of them isn't general operating economy." If unification is presented as "an economy measure, we'll have an angry electorate," he said.

Bike-Car Crash Driver Is Sued

A $50,000 personal injury damage suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court on behalf of Stephen Mackey, 9-year-old son of attorney William L. Mackey of Santa Venetia. The boy was critically injured on Oct. 8.

The suit charges that Peter Bernard Fleming, 18, of 57 San Pablo Avenue, Santa Venetia, drive of the car which struck the bicycle-riding boy on Adrian Way east of La Pasada in Santa Venetia, was negligent and was wearing a right leg cast while driving. Co-defendant is A. F. Fleming, the driver's father.

Driver Fined $100 On Alcohol Charge

Jerome A. Collins, 23, of 385 Pine Hill Road, Tamalpais Valley, was fined $100, given a 30-day suspended jail sentence, and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

He was arrested Oct. 10 on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

General Law, City Charter Information Given Boards

The San Rafael Board of Education and the Dixie School District got notice last night of the difference between operating a proposed unified district under general laws or under the San Rafael City Charter.

Board members received an information sheet listing the variances at a joint session last night at Miller Creek School.

One of the key differences is that under general law, there could be a seven-member board, but the city charter system calls for a five-member city board of education. There would be overlapping four-year terms under either system.

Other differences are:

Under general law, board members would be elected on the third Tuesday in April, and under the charter at the municipal election the second Monday in April.

Under general law, the board member would take office July 1, and under the charter, the Monday after election.

Under general law, a board candidate would merely have to be an elector residing in the district. Under the charter, he would have to be a resident and elector who has lived in the district for three years preceding the election.

Under general law, a vacancy would be filled by appointment by the remaining board members. Under the charter, a vacancy is filled by "appointment by city council for balance of unexpired term in first 20 days, otherwise by majority of the board of education."

Under general law, the candidate must file a declaration of candidacy with the county superintendent of schools signed by from three to 10 registered voters.

Under the charter, the candidate must file nomination petitions with 50 to 100 signatures with the city clerk.

Car Hits Stalled Van, Passenger Is Injured

Ruth Snivley, 45, Corning, Tehama County, suffered a bruised forehead and sprained neck at 4:35 p.m. yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger crashed into the rear of a moving van on Highway 101 at the, Greenbrae intersection, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the northbound van driven by Wilbur S. Williams III, 27, of 87 Summit Drive, Corte Madera, stalled at the intersection and was hit by a car driven by Betty L. Hawkins, 33, of 15 Dow Lane, Novato, with whom Miss Snivley was riding. Miss Snivley was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

EAST SAN RAFAEL

Citizenry Decries Pump Plant Smell

Residents of east San Rafael, who have been complaining about smells from the San Pedro pumping station for years, made another try yesterday to get relief from the San Rafael Sanitation District board.

A score of men and women from the Harbor Estates and Porto Bello subdivisions complained that the problem is getting worse, in spite of numerous chemicals and techniques tried by engineers to eliminate the odor.

Board members confessed they were unable to come up with any instant solution, but took heart in the fact that nose-weary residents had unearthed a neighbor who might be able to help.

Elmer C. Scott of 31 Porto Bello Road, who was introduced as being connected with a "chemical organization," said he had some theories about what caused the odor and how to end it.

"I think it is a matter of balancing the system," said Scott. The board told him to save his technical explanation for the engineers, but welcomed his assistance.

Former district engineer Dominic J. Selmi, who was in the audience on another matter, said the district had been fighting with the problem for seven years. He said the odor had been much worse at the outset, and had been overcome greatly by installing charcoal filters, an idea borrowed from the Navy.

Such filters are used in nuclear submarines when they stay submerged for long periods, Selmi said.

District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said "we haven't quit a day" in trying to eliminate the smell, but the angry delegation of citizens did not appear impressed.

John Hyams of 41 Loma Linda Road said: "It appears to be getting worse. We've had a shocking summer.

"In these days of moon shots, a little problem like a pumping station shouldn't be any great problem to our society."

"It's outrageous, really," said Ben R. Ostlind of 19 Crescenta Way, and a woman in the audience added, "The stink is just unbearable."

Selmi twice suggested the source of the odor might be outside the pumping plant. Each time, he was met by angry choruses of "no, no, no" from the residents.

Selmi first referred to the frequent odor problems related to tidelands, but Hyams said "We are absolutely certain this is no low tide situation."

Later, Selmi said some of the odor may be caused by owners of boats at a nearby yacht harbor when they flush toilets at low tide. Board members promised to look into this, although the residents said this, too, was not the cause.

Chester E. Andrews of 25 Porto Bello urged that engineers look for a leak. Still others demanded that the entire pumping station be done away with.

Board members said this was impossible, but Rawles conceded he was studying the feasibility of by-passing it.

On a motion by board member Thomas T. Storer, the board continued the matter to its Nov. 18 meeting, and urged district engineer Ely Cailouette to confer with Scott.

Police Discover Quarry For FBI

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—St. Louis County police today arrested William Albert Artur Tahl, 27, one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, accused of a double murder in California and a killing in Texas.

The FBI confirmed that the man arrested, in what started as a routine assault investigation, was Tahl.

County police said the man told them he was wanted in connection with a double homicide at a club in San Diego, where an elderly custodian and his wife were slain April 1.

Police said Tahl also thought he had killed a man in Dallas but was not sure. He told police he was intoxicated.

Novato Chamber Opposes Cutback In Mail Service

Prior to a month ago, there was a mail pickup at 5:30 a.m. so that letters mailed after the 8 p.m. pickup to San Francisco and intervening points could be delivered the next day.

The board voted to write the regional director of the Post Office Department in San Francisco protesting discontinuance of this pickup.

Henry Puccinelli, owner of the Medicine Chest and head of the trade bureau committee of the chamber, resigned from the board. Roscoe C. Morgan of Millard Miles Insurance Agency was appointed in his place.

The chamber board voted to endorse the county planning commission's approval of plans for Marincello.

Merchants Leader Didn't Make Remark

Gabe M. Angel, president of the Paradise Center Merchants Assn., said today he was not the person in the audience of Monday night's Corte Madera Town Council meeting who mentioned that Gregory's Restaurant had placed a sign on Paradise Drive.

The Independent-Journal mistakenly attributed the remark to Angel, who requested signs to indicate driveways into the shopping center from the street, which had been torn up during lowering of a sewer line.

Cats Pose A Problem

Because Mrs. Louise Easley and her four children love cats they have a problem.

Since June, four stray cats have been running wild around their home at 23 Rosewood Court, San Rafael, scratching and biting the children whenever they are picked up.

Yesterday, a call to San Rafael Police Department sent Patrolman Gary Walter to investigate. He reported, in his opinion, the cats were a health hazard and should be disposed of, but Marin County Humane Society say they do not pick up cats unless they are confined.

"Well, it's our problem, I guess," said Mrs. Easley today, "and we're stuck with it. There is no one to help us.

"I have considered poisoning them but I can't bring myself to do it, even if it means the safety of my children. We have a cat of our own and we simply adore it."

Nevada Cliff Fall Kills Betrothed San Franciscan

RENO (AP)—The plans of a San Francisco couple, headed for Reno to be married, ended tragically today when the groom to be accidentally stepped off a cliff and plunged 200 feet to his death.

The Washoe County sheriff's office identified the victim as Dennis Munnelly, 48, of San Francisco. Officers said Munnelly and his fiancee were traveling with a cousin, Edmund Munnelly, also of San Francisco, and another person.

The cousin told officers Munnelly as feeling ill. His fiancee stopped the car, four feet inside Nevada, to let Munnelly out. He stepped out of the car and fell into the Truckee Canyon, just to the left of Interstate 80.

Sheriff's deputies and Nevada highway patrolmen worked more than an hour to recover the body.

Munnelly's companions were brought to Reno, 10 miles east of the accident site, where the death was being investigated.

Directors Of Sanitation Open Plant Addition Bids

The San Rafael Sanitation Distric board yesterday opened bids from seven firms for additions to the district sewage treatment plant.

Apparent low bidder was Pacific Mechanical Corp. of Richmond, at $126,888, but the board declined to award a contract until bids had been reviewed by district officials.

District Administrator Norris M. Rawles said he would try to present a recommendation at the Nov. 18 meeting.

Other bidders were Peters and Robinson of San Rafael, $135,616; C. Norman Peterson Co. of Berkeley, $138,700; Kirkwood-Bly of Santa Rosa, $147,000; S and Q Construction Co. of South San Francisco, $147,475; Arntz Construction Co of San Francisco, $154,200, and Granite Construction Co. of Watsonville, $173,400.

The board decided to wait until a new plant superintendent goes to work later this month before deciding whether to start allowing septic tank owners and chemical toilet firms to feed effluent through the sewage plant.

Rawles said he had surveyed six nearby sanitary districts (all but one in Marin) and found only two permitting this.

Board members heard from sanitarian William L. Desmond of the Marin County Health Department, who said he has urged that the district provide the service because "we are going to continue to have septic tanks and chemical toilets," and "to afford the best protection, they should dump in a known spot."

Gardner O. Davis, owner of a chemical toilet firm which district officials recently learned has been dumping in district manholes for eight years, said he had received permission from someone at the sewer plant to do this, but stopped when he learned it was not officially permitted.

Former district engineer Dominic J. Selmi said many people had been "moonlighting in those manholes for 10 or 15 years."

Radio Stolen

Patricia Keithley reported to Mill Valley police yesterday afternoon that while she was away from her home at 222 Sycamore Avenue for about an hour, someone entered and stole an AM-FM radio valued at $100. Doors were locked but a bedroom window was open, Mrs. Keithley told officers.

Unions Again Under Fire In Marin City

Building trades unions involved in construction of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City came under fire again yesterday for alleged unfair membership policies.

In a letter to the United States Department of Justice, the discrimination made by Rev. Don Schilling, minister of the church, and Rev. Wesley C. Baker, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael and president of the board of trustees of the Northern California Presbytery.

The committee told the Justice Department: "We are well satisfied that certain of the construction trades unions have and do consistently practice racial discrimination, and we have wondered how the matter could be exposed and remedied."

The committee asked the Justice Department investigate the Marin City case.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Kobseff's Chicken Kiev Is Tops; Old Viking Opens For Luncheons

Best route to Rancho Nicasio from central and southern Marin is still by way of the Sir Francis Drake Highway out to San Geronimo and thence north on Nicasio Road. Better than by Lucas Valley Road—unless, of course, you live in Lucas Valley. And from the north you'd come in by the Petaluma-Point Reyes Highway.

However you arrive there, on one of your visits you should order the chicken Kiev, culinary pride and joy of Nick Kobseff, who prepares it according to the manner prescribed by his mother in the Russian style — stuffed with wild rice and other things, along with the traditional butter filling.

Many a chef would like to turn out chicken Kiev like Nick's. Suffice it to say that more than one has sought him out for instructions.

If you haven't visited the Rancho in the past year or so, you'll be pleased with the new brick and wood dividers that separate entrance from fireplace area and from the main diinng room. They add much to the decor. I always have liked the grapestake dividers that can be shifted about to vary the size of the dining room—making the scene intimate or expansive.

Now playing for Friday and Saturday night dancing are Steve Romano on the electronic accordion and Joe Villa on the drums. You may remember them as members of the Steve Romano Trio that played here several months ago. They've been working together for some time now and their music is good for listening as well as stimulating to your footwork on the dance floor.

Dinner and dancing — nice place to go for the combination. Or just a quiet dinner during the middle of the week.

WHEN THIS COLUMN was written Wednesday, new owners Dee and Raymond Brunal were scheduled to come in that same day and take inventory at De La Montanya's in San Geronimo —and assume proprietorship as soon as completed.

Accordingly, by the time you read this, they should be in possession of the premises, with the name changed back to its original Oak Tree Inn.

For the time being—no other immediate changes. Bar will be open seven days a week, the restaurant closed on Mondays. Dinners and light lunches will be served. Marvin Joyce remains as chef.

AND WHILE we're in this part of Marin, those who may have wanted to try the Swedish cuisine at the Old Viking in Lagunitas — but perhaps have shied away from driving out Sir Francis Drake Highway that far at night—here's your chance to make the trip by daylight.

Bowing to popular demand, Matts and Phyllis Mattsson are now serving lunches daily from noon to 2:30 p.m. and you'll find such things rotated on the menu as Swedish meat balls, stuffed cabbage, Swedish hash with eggs, English sole and similar delectables from the Mattsson kitchen.

Bear in mind now that the day of closing—both for lunch and dinner — has been changed to Wednesday. Open throughout the rest of the week.

COMPLETE DINNERS these days at Chez Dumont, San Anselmo, vary from $3 for the coq au vin and $4 for filet sole—any style—to as high as $6.50 for the medallion of beef with wild rice — with several good choices in the middle range.

Thing to remember is that it's easy to get carried away by the a la carte side of the menu and adding the appropriate accessories—same as in any restaurant of this type.

But remember, too, that the food is cooked to order in the tradition of the great Georges Auguste Escoffier—and I've yet to see the place that can do this without compromise at bargain rates.

George and Madeleine Dumont won't lower their cooking standards, but they are trying to adjust them to American dining out customs—so give them this chance. You may be both pleased and surprised.

If it's a matter of having trouble finding the place, you may have to rack down your side window, stick your neck out and track down Spaulding Avenue by the aroma from the cooking. This street has always been a problem. If it's any help, it is a two-way passage, it seems, and can be entered directly at the hub, just east of the parking lot of Clark's Furniture—or the usual way next to Hank's Gulf Station a few doors farther west.

If you really want to go there, you can manage. The ones who seem to be able to drive there unerringly from 100 miles away are the complete strangers who still hold an old "two for one" dining coupon book entitling them to a free dinner. Every time.

Try it again. Open for dinners daily except Mondays. Lunches, too, if you can guarantee a party of 50 or more.

THE "TAHOE THREE-DAY PASS," bargain holiday package kicked off in September by South Shore motel and resort interests, still continues and has been drawing big crowds.

Good Sunday through Thursday, the pass costs $9.95 per person and covers two nights in a motel, 10 cocktails, bottle of champagne, $6 in casino coupons and a breakfast. Show reservations are also guaranteed at the casinos.

Friends of mine tried it and liked it so well they stayed over for a repeat treatment. Available from South Shore Tours, Box PASS, Stateline, Calif.

THERE'S A DEFINITE improvement in relations between Panama and the United States lately - at least in the Bay Area - thanks to the chicken Martoni at Bill and Adolf's West End Villa, San Rafael.

Panamanian consul Jose Fidanque, a recent visitor from San Francisco, discovered this new menu offering of Bill Bisson and chef Camille Bamatter, and pronounced it as great a contribution to the cause of culinary excellence as a new canal treaty is to Pan-American unity.

IT'S OFTEN the little things that count at a restaurant - like a cheerful word when you're served. Or finding that the wine you ordered is a 1959 vintage. A good lentil soup, maybe. Meat tender and easily cut. Restful walls. A dinner check that isn't a photo image of your last tax bill.

What is it exactly that leaves you with the feeling of having enjoyed your meal? Perhaps just one of these things. Certainly a combination of them guarantees satisfaction.

The Black Forest on downtown Fourth Street, San Rafael is a tiny place by some standards and unless you know its inner workings you might be inclined to pass right by and never know what's inside. Personally, I think if you get as far as being greeted by Meta Kringe or her niece Brigetta you'll be inclined to go the rest of the way. They've got laughing eyes, red hair and personalities that win you over.

Husband Bob you may never see, for he's behind the scenes in the kitchen most of the time cooking the food, which for the most part happens to be German. Wiener schnitzel. Kasseler rippschen. Potato pancakes or German fried. Sauerbraten. Sweet and sour red cabbage. Fare like that.

All of them here work long hours, serving breakfast, lunch and dinner. And the Black Forest is usually filled at peak hours and on peak nights. For dinners, try the middle of the week. And early. After a full day, the Kringes like to get home and rest, for tomorrow is another full day.

As I say - it's just a little place. But it's the little things that count.

Ross, Hub Teachers To See Monologue

Teachers of the Ross and San Anselmo school districts will gather at the Wade Thomas School in San Anselmo Monday at 4 p.m. for a special presentation of Pauline Myers' one-woman show, "The World of My America."

The show will be sponsored by the teachers' associations of both schools.

New Aide Named For San Quentin

Glen Dale Goertz, 49, has been named chief of plant operations at San Quentin Prison, replacing G. G. Conway, who recently retired.

A native of Albany, Goertz has been working as chief engineer at the California Institute for Men at Chino. He will live at San Quentin Village with his wife, Claudine, and son, Don.

Goertz once operated his own refrigeration and air conditioning business before going to work for the state, first for the Department of Mental Hygiene, and later transferring to the Department of Corrections.

A Gnawing Mystery

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP)—When Bill Purvis showed up for work at his grocery store, he found a 50-foot cottonwood tree stretched across the ground in front of the building. A day later he found a 70-foot tree sprawled across the top of the store. Residents in the area had seen the culprit at work. It was a beaver living along a nearby irrigation ditch.

College Trustees Get Televised Lesson From Biology Instructor

Marin Junior College District trustees received an intimation of the classroom of the future last night, as they watched a demonstration of how a College of Marin biology class is taught with the aid of closed circuit television.

At the front of the room, he attached a small television camera to his microscope and his slide was reproduced on three television screens—a small one for his use and two 21-inch screens for the class.

Then, with a maneuverable dot of light built into his microscope, he pointed out on the television screens areas of the cross section—gray and white matter, the central canal, etc.

After he indicated what to look for, Baver had the class look for the same things under their own microscopes.

Then he removed the microscope from the camera and focused instead on a sheep's brain. While the class remained seated throughout the room, he demonstrated the proper dissection of the brain on the television screen.

Albert C. Heppe, director of the educational television project, was asked if lectures could be taped and placed on file at the library for student reference.

He said it is possible, but expensive. Video tape machines, he said, cost $12,000 and an hour reel of tape sells for $70.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Approved an agreement with Marin General and Ross General hospitals for operation of the registered nursing program. Board president Elizabeth M. Deedy noted the hospitals were offering less facilities than anticipated. Trustee Robert E. Oliver suggested a meeting with hospital officials to explain needs of the college program.

2. Hired Mrs. Bernice M. Corley, clerk for adult education, at $405 per month; Mrs. Janet Blevins, library clerk, $351 per month, and Ernest P. Stokes, programmer, $578 per month. All are replacing employees who resigned.

3. Granted sabbatical leaves during next school year to Edwin L. Braun, William H. Scalapine and Irene A. Clark. Paul Llewellyn was approved as an alternate for Braun.

4. Instructed college president Stephen E. Epler to work with the county counsel regarding legal steps to make the Marin-Sonoma County line the boundary between Marin and Santa Rosa Junior College districts.

5. Agreed to join the California School Boards Assn. and pay dues of $418, and increase of $168 over last year's dues.

6. Received an illustrated report on progress of the college marine biology station at Bolinas from Alfonso Molina and Gordon Chan.

7. Received results of a post card survey of students who withdrew from school during the first two weeks of the semester. Most common reason given was that work conflicted with class hours, second was that they could not get to class, third was enrollment at another college, and fourth was induction into the armed services.

8. Loaned the college request for a federal grant of $52,851 has been granted. The funds are available to districts to serve students whose families work for the federal government.

Trustee Kent O. Seymour was absent.

Job Corps Youth Fatally Crushed

REDDING (AP)—A Job Corps youth was crushed to death today when he dislodged a huge boulder near the Shasta Dam and the stone rolled down upon him.

Town Officials Contradict Lagoon Claims

No building permit has been issued in Corte Madera in the past eight years for repairing damage caused by uneven settling near any of the town's lagoons, William G. McBride, the town's building inspector, said yesterday.

And there has never been any trouble with sewer line breaks in that area, added John Comes, maintenance superintendent of the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

At Monday night's meeting of the Corte Madera Town Council town Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison said that homes next to the lagoons would settle when the lagoons were completely emptied. He made the statement in response to a question from Councilman William W. Collier.

He added that the lagoon is emptied only just before the rainy season, and then only for a short time. The council voted to keep the lagoons half full between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15 if there was no rain, changing a policy to empty them Oct. 15.

This year there has been warm weather since Oct. 15, and the empty lagoons have caused an odor and weed problem, Collier said.

E. S. Day is regional manager and George Henderson is district manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., North Bay Division.

Former Marin Woman Sues Over Accident

A former San Rafael resident, Shirley J. Thompson, has filed a $100,000 suit in Marin Superior Court for injuries received in a Nov. 8, 1964, traffic accident on State Highway 37 in Sonoma County.

Defendants are Clarence L. Freeman, Bodega Bay, David A. and Harold Rothchild, both of Santa Rosa, and California Ambulance Service, Novato.

Mrs. Thompson, who resided at 11 Redwood Drive, but since moved to Moscow, Idaho, alleges that negligence by Freeman and David Rothchild in driving separate vehicles resulted in a crash by the auto in which she was riding.

She further charges that the ambulance, upon arrival, failed to take her "promptly and safely" to the nearest medical facility. The accident occurred near Toylay Creek Bridge, according to her lawyer, Quentin L. Kopp, San Francisco.

Developers Of Marincello Are Entitled To Proceed

The proposed Marincello development in South Marin will come up for a second, and possibly final, hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors on Monday.

The proposal deserves careful consideration, not just a terse brushoff, for several reasons.

In the first place, the planned community, as toned down by the Frouge Corp., does have the recommendation of the Marin County Planning Commission, which held at least five hearings.

Secondly, the elaborate plans have been drafted and re-drafted at considerable expense, and the density and number of high-rise buildings have been reduced from the original proposal to meet legal requirements for a planned community.

Needless to say, the board of supervisors has final authority and is not morally or legally bound to go along with the planning commission's recommendation.

However, in a planning matter of this scope and detail, where the planning commission has been working with the developer for months, the commission's findings should carry some weight.

The major question still seems to be density per acre.

When Frouge Corp. first planned Marincello's 2,138 acres, it sought 12,600 dwelling units including 53 high rise apartments. These were eventually reduced to 7,483 dwelling units including 19 high rise apartment buildings to conform with the 3.5 units per acre allowed under planned community zoning.

The 3.5 unit per acre density may not be the ideal. But that is the figure given in the planned community zoning regulations, and that has been the basis on which developers and planners worked to come up with the current proposal.

If Marincello, at this stage, is to be denied development on the basis that density should be lower or that high-rise is objectionable, then the ethical thing would have been to apprise them of the objectionable points, long before the developers invested time and money drafting and redrafting their plans.

It would be wishful thinking to dream of forever keeping these lands in their primeval state, especially under private ownership.

The area is strategically located close to San Francisco, and does have its attractions, despite wind and fog. If people want to buy and rent homes there, development is inevitable.

Since the developers have shown good faith in meeting zoning and planning requirements and have agreed to the conditions set up to control industrial and commercial areas, they are entitled to proceed with the development.

Now Bees Can Talk Too

It has been known for some time that bees communicate with one another by means of a kind of dance. Foraging bees returning to the hive are able to indicate by their dance the direction, distance and quality of their feeding place.

Now, however, a group of Brazilian scientists have learned that bees also "talk" by means of buzzing or sound production. So far, the only thing the bees discussed that the scientists understood was, how far is the food.

Next thing we know the scientists will be telling us the latest hive gossip. Something like, "Hey, did you see the way Willy Drone looked at the Queen last night?

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Carrow, Skornia May Be Eyeing Elections For Senate, Assembly

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE NEW SENATE reapportionment increases the likelihood that Novato Mayor Bob Carrow will seek the Democratic nomination for senator.

The new realignment puts Marin, Napa and most of Solano in the Fourth Senatorial District, but excludes Sonoma County (and Democratic Sen. Joseph Rattigan).

Rattigan would have been a tough Democrat to beat, but with him out of the picture, Carrow will probably run in the primaries against Democrat Luther Gibson of Solano or Pearce Young of Napa. The winner of that contest then would go up against Sen. John F. McCarthy, Marin Republican.

ROSS ATTORNEY Tom Skornia is also looking more and more like a serious contender for the Assembly post now held by William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Although he isn't talking yet, Skornia will probably seek the Democratic nomination, then run against Bagley in the finals. Both are young, articulate attorneys. Should make for a colorful campaign.

DID YOU KNOW that U. S. Sen. George Murphy, actor turned politician, received more votes last year than any candidate of any party in California history?

He drew 3,628,555 votes in 1964. The other big vote getters have been:

Edmund G. Brown, attorney general in 1954—3,537,594 votes; Alan Cranston, controller in 1962—3,372,691; Frank Jordan, secretary of state in 1962—3,210,438; and Thomas Kuchel, U. S. Senator in 1962—3,180,483.

LOCAL POLITICAL pundits, close to the Sacramento scene, are speculating that Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh will seek a state Senate seat next year.

This is how they picture Unruh's plan of action: He hopes to handpick an assembly speaker to succeed him in the lower house. Then he'll run for the Senate, along with several loyal Democratic cronies from Los Angeles. If eight or nine of his buddies can make it into the State Senate with him, Unruh will have a built-in rooting section in the upper house from the outset.

When Senate President Pro Tem Hugh Burns of Fresno retires, then Unruh hopes to step up into that spot.

Both Laughlin Waters of Los Angeles and George Christopher of San Francisco are announced candidates. Running unofficially but outstripping them all so far is Ronald Reagan.

If the campaigns for Christopher and Waters should falter, backers of Monagan are hoping they can slip him in as a compromise candidate to carry the "moderate" banner in the Republican primary.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Mill Valley UNICEF Drive Is Success

Editor, Independent Journal:

Mill Valley's UNICEF drive, which took place on United Nation's Day, Oct. 24, was uniquely successful and those of us, adults and children, who took part want to thank the I-J for its cooperation in publicizing our efforts.

As you know, UNICEF received the 1965 Nobel Prize for Peace and although this announcement was not made until our drive was completed, we feel it very significant that we had received from the community of Mill Valley a greater contribution than in any previous year.

Equally important, the children who participated did so with a developing awareness of the interdependence of us all.

Reader Asks More International News

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Have you given consideration to the fine opportunity you have to broaden circulation and better serve more people?

My husband had what appears to be an excellent idea: Inasmuch as the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner have combined into more or less one mediocre entity, complete with atrocious typography and worse reporting, it would appear that the Independent-Journal now could fill the aching void by expansion of its national and world coverage. We would gladly drop subscription to the San Francisco paper if such were to occur.

How about it? Does the old American spirit of initiative and enterprise still move, somewhere in this great land?

Flood Control Answers Suggested

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The "need for one city and county of Marin" has been demonstrated by the San Anselmo and Fairfax city council's hesitation in joining the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control District, according to George E. Fossey in the Oct. 29 letters . . .

The objections of the upper valley cities were two-fold: the disaster which would ensue if the creek were turned into a concrete ditch, as per the flood control plan; and the high tax rate which could be allowed for maintenance—$1 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Paul Brand, chairman of our parks and recreation commission, put forward three suggestions which were considered at a San Anselmo council meeting, communicated to the county counsel, and were the basis of the Ross council's acceptance of the plan. Brand's suggestions were:

1. Reduce the district's size to the Phase I plan only—up to the Ross boundaries. Thus the upper cities would still retain design control, since future plans would be an addition to the district.

2. The upper valley cities would tax themselves, through a joint powers agreement, to help maintain the channel.

3. The tax ceiling would be cut from $1.00 to 5 cents—well over the cost estimate of 1.7 cents now given us.

Although there are those who believe that the entire project is overdrawn, these proposals appear to offer a way to salvage the best and avoid the worst features of the plan. Without local discussion and thought, an esthetically catastrophic design could have been forced on us, and an easy attitude toward the taxpayer's dollar encouraged. To me, the responsibility and good judgment shown have re-emphasized the usefulness of local representation.

Supervisors Lashed For Backing Deck

Editor, Independent-Journal:

BRICKBATS to you, three supervisors, plus the howling coyotes and money hungry wolves backing a second deck for the Golden Gate Bridge.

1. The real need is a Tiburon Peninsula freeway, a connecting bridge to Angel Island with recreational facility connections, and a tube across the Bay clear of navigational requirements connecting to the Embarcadero Freeway . . . This is talking in terms of one-third billion dollars, but these dollars aren't out to salvage dimes.

2. The Bridge is the least problem. The present four lanes with the widened toll zone is the most orderly part. A second deck would add only one more lane, due to the wider lanes required for higher speed traffic. The State has the nation's greatest highway engineering brainpower to feed it. The result would be the world's most scenic elevated parking lot, thanks to the obstinacy of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors in authorizing sane unloading facilities.

3. Have you tried the commute both ways? . . . The road is slugged out every morning, yet quite free flowing in the evenings. Mainly because work starting times are predominantly 8 o'clock sharp; and quitting times spread from 4:30 to 5 . . .

Staggering the workday of certain employment blocks, or using overlapping shifts within these blocks, would break up peak commuting hours . . . This has been advocated publicly by thinking people for over 20 years.

JEROME BEATTY has encountered a prosperous, tightly knit organization devoted solely to matters pertaining to that famous series of juvenile adventures, the Oz books. The secretary, for example, when asked to give his age, says simply, "I was born in the year of the Hungry Tiger of Oz." That means to initiates that he is 39.

Beatty also discovered the full name of the Wizard of Oz. (I bet you never knew it!) It's Oscar Zoroaster Phadriz Isaac Norman Henkle Emanuel Ambroise Diggs. Put the initials all together and they spell "Oz Pinhead." That information comes straight from the fourth of the virtually countless series, "Dorothy and the Wizard of Oz."

A CLASSIFIED ad from a Kennebunk, Maine, weekly: "LOST! Will the four men who picked up the sail boat from Goose Rocks Beach Monday please return same or at least call for the mast, rudder, boom, and sail. No sense in both of us not using the boat. C.R.B."

Peking Getting Pretty Shaky Over Moscow Gains In World

WASHINGTON — Peking is now launched on the most violent, vituperative, point-of-no-return attack on the Soviet Union since the beginning of the Sino-Soviet rift.

There must be a reason. It can't just be because of high spirits and the feeling among the Communist Chinese that they have got the Soviets on the run. More likely it is because of low spirits and awareness that Moscow has been picking up support in the Communist world lately and Peking losing support.

IN ANY EVENT, Peking is being driven by its own inner compulsion — certainly not by reason or necessity or any outside force — to make its break with the Kremlin total and irreparable.

The Communist Chinese regime must be up against something or other to makes its accusations against Moscow so outlandish, so contrary to the visible facts, as to lose all credibility.

Peking accuses the Soviet Union of "aiding" the U. S. in South Viet Nam.

The fact is that North Viet Nam would be in more of a shambles than it is today if Soviet - contributed missiles weren't shooting down U.S. planes. North Viet Nam is getting more help from Moscow than from Red China in carrying out the aggression against South Viet Nam.

PEKING ACCUSES Moscow of concluding a "secret Soviet-American pact" through which the two are "cooperating in all domains" for the benefit of the imperialists.

The fact is there is no "Soviet-American pact," secret or otherwise, and if there is any significant cooperation from Moscow it is not visible in Washington.

Peking accuses the Soviet Union of being a "traitor" to the cause of Communist world revolution and of practising a cringing "peaceful co-existence."

THE FACT IS that "peaceful co-existence" is a convenient phrase, not a Soviet policy, and that in the past four years the most reckless and daring act of non-peaceful co-existence was attempted not by Red China, but by the Soviet Union when Nikita Khrushchev put offensive missiles in Cuba.

Peking accuses the Soviets of "engaging in a conspiracy" to keep other nations "defenseless" by holding back nuclear weapons so they can't rise up against "U. S. imperialism."

The fact is that the Soviet Union is as determined to foment and aid "wars of liberation" — that is, the overthrow of existing governments to make way for communism —as Red China, but with one proviso. Because the Kremlin knows more about nuclear weapons, it is more cautious to avoid nuclear war.

JUST BECAUSE Red China calls the Soviet Union a mawkishly peace-loving traitor to the Communist cause doesn't make it so. More than one U.S. official has had candid conversations in Moscow in recent months and from these conversations it is amply evident that "peaceful co-existence" does not mean non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries.

Peking has its own reasons for branding Moscow a peaceful paper tiger, but it will be prudent not to swallow the Peking line. Moscow and Washington had good, common reasons for doing their best to halt the India-Pakistan war, but let's let the record build further before crying detente, detente, when there is no detente.

Anti-Poverty Agency Faces Negroes' Suit

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The trouble-racked anti-poverty program is being assailed on a new grievance — right in the national capital itself.

Three Negro attorneys have filed suit against the local anti-poverty agency (United Planning Organization) charging its neighborhood free-legal-service centers are driving them out of business.

Six of these anti-poverty-financed legal centers already are in operation in Washington, and others are contemplated. Manned by three to five full-time attorneys, the centers extend a wide range of legal help — from simple advice to representation in trials and appeals.

IN THEIR SUIT, the three Negro lawyers contend this activity violates the anti-trust laws and ethical canons of the legal profession.

The attorneys are Bruce Harrison, James Myrick and Jerry Luck.

High - powered legal talent already is arrayed against them.

THURMAN ARNOLD, one-time head of the Anti-Trust Division, former federal judge and law partner of recently appointed Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, is opposing this suit in behalf of the Legal Aid Society. While not supported by federal funds, the society provides free legal service for indigents.

Harrison and his two colleagues are convinced their suit is the forerunner of others throughout the country.

This belief is based on anti-poverty plans to set up neighborhood free-legal-aid centers in every sizable city, particularly those with slum sections. Already such federally financed centers are operating in Buffalo, St. Louis and Los Angeles.

Anti-poverty authorities have grandiose aims in this field.

They are talking of setting up a separate legal aid division, similar to the Job Corps and Neighborhood Youth Corps, and financing it with a $20 million budget for the remaining eight months of the current fiscal year.

The potential head of this proposed new division already has been brought in—Clinton Bamberger, Baltimore attorney.

SENATOR WAYNE MORSE is the leading foe of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, but you would never know it from the warmly cordial birthday greeting Johnson wired the eminent Oregonian.

There was no mention of Viet Nam in the telegram, but the president pulled out all stops in hailing Morse as the greatest champion of U. S. education.

Since 1953 Oregon's Washington County has held an annual birthday party for Morse. A feature of the party is greetings from his congressional colleagues and others. This year, despite Morse's almost daily denunciation of the president's course in Viet Nam, the latter wired the chairman of the party a long and laudatory message.

One who did not send a greeting was Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., also active in the deliberations on the history-making educational measure.

MRS. GREEN was asked to either come to the Beaverton, Ore., party or to send a message. She not only did neither, but returned the two $5 tickets for the celebration.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Canary Warbles, Rabbit Returns, All's Well In Southern Marin . . .

THERE'S A BIRD that lives across the street from our office which seems to always be singing as if the world needed his support. And so the other day we went to his house to find out why all the warbling.

"That's Sammy Davis Jr.," said owner Mrs. Mimi Marsh Brown.

Sammy is a yellow canary with two years' singing behind him.

"I bought him in Carmel where all the goofs are," said Mrs. Brown. She said Sammy sings starting at five in the morning, on sunny days and in fog. She puts him outside in his cage and sometimes squirts water on him for a bath.

Asked what he eats, she said regular bird food.

Mrs. Brown said people are always stopping by the gate to listen to her bird. Reasoning as to why he sings so much, Mrs. Brown explained "I think it is because of appreciation. I'm always telling him how nice he sings." She said, "He is a joy to the girls in the apartment houses in the neighborhood."

But, apparently, nobody remembered to tell anyone at the plant about the rabbit and so it was not fed for two days.

Ronald Moeller advertised his loss and people called from as far as Corte Madera and San Rafael saying they thought they had found his rabbit. However, from descriptions, it wasn't the Moellers'.

Wednesday morning, after checking with Mrs. Dorothy Reno at the Humane Society, Moeller called the corporation yard. "Is it a big white rabbit, very friendly?" he asked. "Yes," said Ed Gieseke. When Moeller arrived, the rabbit came right to him and jumped into his arms, Gieseke said.

Back home, Peter—or Patricia—ate carrots "and everything like mad" said Mrs. Moeller and the four Moeller youngsters were very happy.

MILKMAN Oscar Durant came into the office on one of those warm days, asking if anyone wanted a milk snake. He then proceeded to pour milk and half-and-half and use a push button can to muster three chocolate malts. Then the Lucas Valley dairyman packed his gear and disappeared.

Jaycees Jerry Hauke and Bob Gaskell have removed the broken down seats from the town's gravity car. They are to be repaired one day, said Hauke, and when replaced, "be a little more massive."

REV. MURRAY HAMMOND says he raised his mustache during a no - shaving period while on a choir boys' camping trip last summer. "It's a juvenile rebellion at the age of 41," he said.

Asked by Mayor Michael Wornum if he wanted to present his own case before the city council without his attorney, who was attending another meeting, Romolo Ivaroni said, "I have enough spiritual and moral help here. I don't know if I'll need him." There were five nuns in the audience.

Troops Increase In S. Viet Nam Means More Protection For VIPs

WASHINGTON—The trouble when you escalate a war is that you not only have to escalate the troops but also the VIPS who want to visit the area where you're fighting.

In the beginning, when we first started helping out in South Viet Nam, our policy was to keep our VIP's to a minimum, on the theory that it was a South Vietnamese war and our VIPs should act in an advisory capacity only.

But as the succeeding South Vietnamese governments kept knocking off their own VIPs in military coups, we had no choice but to replace them with American VIPs who soon were being escorted all over the country.

FOR A LONG time the Department of Defense refused to discuss how many VIPs they intended to send to Viet Nam. The reason they gave is that it took five American soldiers to protect one American VIP, and if they revealed how many VIPs intended to go to Viet Nam, the enemy would know how many soldiers we planned to send there.

But then President Johnson announced he was going to send 140,000 American troops to protect our position in Southeast Asia. This meant we could expect 28,000 VIPs to visit "our" boys.

Unfortunately, more VIPs requested to go to Saigon, and so we had to up our commitment to 165,000 troops.

If the rate of VIP visits goes up, which it shows every intention of doing, we may soon have between 200,000 and 300,000 American GIs in Viet Nam.

THIS IS THE MAIN trouble with escalation. The more troops you throw in, the more VIPs want to visit the place, and then you have to send in more troops to protect them.

It's not just a question of Congressmen and Senators going to Viet Nam. You also have Defense Department officials, leading businessmen, Broadway shows, Hollywood movie stars, syndicated columnists, magazine publishers, television network executives, baseball players, clergy, and psychological warfare experts.

THOUGH IT IS not generally known, one of the conditions that the North Vietnamese have made for negotiations is that, although the American troops can stay in Viet Nam, the VIPs would have to pull out. The Americans stationed in Viet Nam are happily willing to give in on this point, though Washington has turned it down repeatedly. Without VIPs, Washington maintains, no one would know what a wonderful job we're doing over there and morale on the home front would collapse.

There was a time when VIPs were just willing to visit a few bars in Saigon and then return to the United States. But now most VIP's insist on helicopter flights over enemy territory and hazardous visits to Special Forces camps. This has produced a great strain on the military equipment, but it has given the Armed Forces a chance to check out new methods of handling VIPs.

MANY NEW techniques have been innovated which were unheard of in World War II and the Korean conflicts.

For one thing the new type of VIP wants to see the war for himself, and although he would like to be shot at, he certainly doesn't want to get hit. This has put the military on its toes. It is rumored that some VIPs are flown over friendly territory and shot at by our own troops, but this has been vehemently denied by the Defense Department.

There is a Pentagon order that no GI may fire at an American VIP no matter how much he is provoked. But in Viet Nam, as we all know, anything can happen and usually does.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Citizens Committee Could Have Helped On Hall Of Justice Plan

FUSSELMAN

ON JUNE 11, the Friday following the successful bond election to build the Hall of Justice, I said in the last paragraph of the column, "The board and everyone involved has a great responsibility in this project. It is going to cost millions and will be here for a long, long time. I believe the board would do well to appoint a good knowledgeable committee of citizens, as they did to sell the bonds to the voters. This for consultation and study before plans are finally approved and even after."

Well, in the I-J on Wednesday, my successor on the board was quoted as saying he did not think himself expert enough to pass on the plans and that he did not think it possible to amend them at this stage anyway. Five months have elapsed since the election. Certainly that is a reasonable enough time to make a study. If private business was so time consuming as to prevent this then the committee of informed citizens could have been asked to function and advise.

CITIZENS PRESENT at the board meeting, Tuesday, have told me that the supervisor from the First district objected to the board going over the plans sheet by sheet, saying it would take too long and proceeded to walk around the room while the plans were being shown and explained to the other members of the board.

The law requires supervisors to spend whatever time is required to perform their duty. At $9,600 a year salary there is undoubtedly a definite obligation to do this, especially when handling a $11 million project.

And of course there is the simple courtesy due the architects whom the board employed. One of them flew to California for the presentation.

One part of the news story interested me very much. When the plans for the present building were being approved by the then board, I questioned the method proposed of spraying on a plastic roof (which was only guaranteed for five years) and was informed that this method was quite alright.

We have all had experience with plastic hose hardening and cracking with constant exposure to the sun. The statement by the architect as reported Tuesday, was that bids for the roofing material would be delayed a year "on the chance of development of a better clear plastic material." There is quite a casualness about this whole business by some members of the board.

SEVERAL PEOPLE asked me if my comments on the chain fence last Friday didn't end quite suddenly. They were very observing. A few lines were cut out of the copy I submitted because of lack of space on the page. I wrote there was a good example of an intelligent and pleasing treatment at a nursery on Sir Francis Drake, between Ross and Tunstead Avenues in San Anselmo, where the fence is supported by plantings of shrubs and other growing things and suggested that a good look be taken of the nice effect.

If "letter to the editor" writer, Robert H. Chevalier, who wondered if I didn't realize the financial loss to Marin's economy if 56,000 commuters went by bus instead of their cars, will read the column more carefully he will see that I wasn't advocating that this be done but merely presenting some of the problems involved.

IF HE HASN'T a copy I will send him one. Anyway, there would not necessarily be a loss "to Marin" but rather a redistribution of dollars in the county by the families of the commuters who might change over.

Street Number Survey Planned

A survey is being made of Mill Valley streets in an effort to correct improper house numbering and perhaps change a few street names, city Building Inspector Loren K. Rohde said today.

The survey is ot be completed by February. Three departments: fire, public works and building, are cooperating. Fire Capt. Albert Marovich and Asst. Building Inspector Arthur Nagel are doing the field work.

Fewer than six street names will be changed, Rohde said. These are in cases where one street has two names or where streets don't connect but have the same name. About 20 per cent of the numbering system needs to be corrected, the inspector said. Numbers in many cases are out of sequence.

Edward S. Muzidal, chief legal clerk in the office of the Staff Judge Advocate, Sixth Region Army Air Defense Command Headquarters, was presented the army commendation medal at his retirement ceremonies last week at Fort Baker.

Muzidal held his position in the judge advocate corps for 20 years. He plans to retire to Boise, Idaho, where he will live with his wife and two children. Presenting the medal was Col. Melvin R. Russell, deputy regional commander.

Does San Rafael need another new car dealer?

It sure does. What city wouldn't want another prosperous, well managed business? Maybe with you running it. Before you say, "Who, me?", check out these fiscal facts about American Motors/Rambler dealers:

In the seven years, 1958-64, American Motors dealers averaged 36.8% per year return on investment (including owner's salary). During the same period they increased the number of American Motors cars on the road from under 400,000 to over 2,500,000.

For the last four years, American Motors has sold more cars per dealer nationally than any other U.S. nameplate except Chevrolet, Ford and Pontiac!

Today, American Motors dealers are bullish, and looking forward to a profitable future. And why not? Nearly 500 of them have boosted their volume of sales 25% or more over last year! One series alone, Ambassador, is way ahead of the entire industry with a year-to-year sales increase of 143%!

American Motors dealers are selling automobiles and making money! We're looking for a high-caliber, successful businessman to become an American Motors dealer right in this area. The investment required is much less than it would be for many a "big three" dealership of comparable size with expensive truck and truck parts inventories.

Stinson Beach Citizens Ask County For Hepatitis Shots

If the county can send persons over the hill to Stinson Beach to inoculate dogs for rabies, it should be able to do something for people, Ruth Miller told the Stinson Beach Progressive Club Wednesday night.

She was commenting on a suggestion of Mrs. Ellen Dawson that all pupils in Bolinas-Stinson School District should be eligible for gamma globulin injections without signing a paper saying they are paupers. Two children in the district have been reported to have infectious hepatitis.

The club agreed to write to County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer asking if shots could be administered in Bolinas by the county health department, to accommodate people who cannot go to San Rafael.

Club members agreed to ask the State Public Utilities Commission that a hearing be held in Stinson Beach instead of San Francisco on the proposed increase in water rates by Stinson Beach Water Co. Basic rates for 500 cubic feet of water are proposed to be increased from $2.75 to $5.25 per month.

Maureen O'Connell Becomes A Bride

Maureen O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. O'Connell of San Rafael, became the bride of Charles Reems Billings of San Francisco on Oct. 16 at St. Sylvester's Church in Santa Venetia.

The Rev. John P. Tierney, pastor, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony in which Maureen was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white peau de soie and off-white wool lace in an Empire style for the double ring rite

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Robert A. Geurts of San Francisco, wore an empire styled dress of moss green velvet with the bride's sisters, Paula O'Connell of Northridge and Kathy O'Connell of San Rafael, similarly dressed as bridesmaids. Robert A. Geurts of San Francisco acted as best man and John Norris of San Francisco and Tim O'Connell of San Rafael, brother of the bride, ushered. A reception followed at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael.

Maureen, who is employed at State Farm Insurance Co., attended Dominican Upper School, University of Washington and Dominican College. Her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Von D. Billings. He was graduated from San Rafael Military Academy, College of Marin and San Francisco State College.

'SHRIMP' SHORTENS

English model Jean (The Shrimp) Shrimpton, attending the Australian Melbourne Spring Racing Carnival, wears a three-piece gray and beige suit which goes four inches above the knees. The cover girl from England has set a trend for shortness—in skirts—and even the modest Australian girls are turning up their hems to keep UP with Jean. The accessories of her outfit include an ice blue straw Breton hat, beige gloves, and a light chocolate suede handbag. Her Dior stockings are very pale. (AP Wirephoto)

Greek College President To Be Honored In Mill Valley

By MOLLY MARIN

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Emerson of Mill Valley have invited 60 guests to a cocktail party to be given at their carriage house on Nov. 12 from 5 to 7 p.m. honoring Robert I. Hayden, president of Anatolia College in Greece.

Mr. Hayden, a Stanford University graduate, will be in the Bay Area three days lecturing on Greek education and his college, an American-sponsored institution in Thessaloniki.

MRS. EMERSON, who is presently taking law courses on a part-time basis in San Francisco, was formerly an executive director with the Girl Scouts. In 1962, when she went to Greece as a guest of the Girl Guides Assn. there, she visited Anatolia College.

"The college enrolls 760 Greek boys and girls in a seven-year course of study based on the Greek gymnasium curriculum," she said, "but it contains many American elements as well. Practical courses in science, mathematics, typing and homemaking are offered, as well as an intensive course in English, conducted in a modern English laboratory."

TWO HUNDRED attended the dinner party at San Francisco Yacht Club Wednesday evening and watched the films Mr. and Mrs. Sid Messer of Sausalito took on their 10,000-mile, 14-month voyage from Nova Scotia to San Francisco Bay aboard their 36-foot yacht, the Sadie.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Harris, visiting from Winnetka, Ill., were on hand for the function. Mr. Harris, who had been commodore of the club in Belvedere in 1929, was welcomed by many old friends, including Henry Prien of San Francisco, another long-time club member. . . . William and Margie Fisher came over from Berkeley. They have recently sold their yacht, the Maribeth, which had been "in the family" for 35 years, and are back on the bay with a new boat, the Presto. . . . Mrs. Benton Mathews, Mrs. Robert Potter and Mrs. Harvey Rogers had been sailing in a practice session the afternoon of the party. They are getting ready to compete for the Adams Cup, which is awarded to the women's national sailing champion. The dinner was a benefit for the Adams Cup fund, given by the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club, in anticipation of their responsibilities when the finals will be hosted by the Belvedere club next September.

OVER A YEAR'S preparation helped assure Carol and James Staley of San Rafael that their three-month trip to Japan, from which they recently returned, would be enjoyed to the utmost.

A course in the Japanese language was one thing which enabled them to stay in country inns with native accommodations and feel at ease. One of the hotels was the subject of the popular book, "Japanese Inn," by Oliver Statler and, having read it, the Staleys set out to find the interesting places described.

One inn contained only six rooms so that the San Rafael visitors were made to feel like "part of the family." Traffic in the cities was hectic. Carol said buses met high-speed trains, then drove off direct routes to areas of scenic or historic interest to let passengers see the views and take pictures.

While in Kyoto the Staleys purchased many fine ceramics as well as beautifully made, authentically styled kimonos. A few metal-bound wooden boxes are still being received from San Francisco customs and await unpacking.

Today's Teen-Agers Feel Responsibility

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—"We're always telling our teen-agers that they have got it easy," says an eminent psychiatrist.

"But actually, they have it harder, every generation, because the challenge is greater."

It's Dr. Melvin S. Heller of Temple University speaking.

Dr. Heller says to be a teenager in today's world of expanded opportunity is to have "an increasingly awesome responsibility. And our teen-agers feel it."

HELLER DOESN'T link such youthful behavior as the student demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam or the burning of draft cards with this "awesome responsibility."

But he does explain, as he sees it, from whence springs the "in" teen-ager of today—"the 'cool' conformist who stays out of sight and waits for his opportunity."

"THEY LEARNED that partly from the post World War II attitudes of daddy who came home preaching the survivor's lesson. "Never volunteer for nothin'."

To Heller, teen-agers of today are "basically 99 per cent the way we are. There is a one per cent area of differences. Even these differences are of the same order, dimension and magnitude as the differences we as adults show from what our parents were when they were our age. These are the tiny measured differences of one generation from another."

Heller lists some of these differences — "superficially more sophisticated . . . and generally much more effluent than we were as teen-agers in the 1930's."

Heller's views of today's young people are included in a new publication, "Educating the Teen-ager in Human Relations, Management of Resources" of the American Home Economics Assn.

HELLER IS associate professor of psychiatry at the Temple University school of medicine and co-director, unit of law and psychiatry at the university's law school in Philadelphia.

Heller sees another factor troubling today's teen-ager, and one with which teen-agers will have to cope increasingly in the years to come.

IT'S THE "prolonged dependence — economic, familial and societal." This dependence results, Heller says, from "greater educational requirements, both academic and technical, in order to embark upon a successful adult career.

"To be able to operate or even to compete with a machine today, teen-agers have to know more than we had to know when we were their age. Within the family today, the teen-ager is no longer the labor asset . . . We have gone to the opposite extreme in which the teen-ager becomes the family consumer liability. He sits around more and eats more without earning anything for longer periods of time, and buys more and more things . . .

"IN OUR COUNTRY," says Heller, "we have specialized in the production of the indulged child . . . because we are generally a very indulgent, fat group of adults. We sit around stuffing things into our mouths, and very rarely into our heads, and we are magnificent models for our children . . ."

MRS. GRAHAM D. LUCE of San Anselmo, president of the Northern California State Dental Hygienists Assn., will be a delegate to the national convention of the American Dental Hygienists Assn. at the Dunes Hotel, in Las Vegas next week. Miss Anne Zufall of San Rafael will also attend the convention.

Friends Of Larkspur Library Elect Former Social Worker

A new organization, Friends of the Larkspur Library, has a new president, Mrs. Arthur M. Sestak.

Mrs. Sestak has been active in the organization since it was formed in February, having served as recording secretary.

RESIDENTS OF Larkspur, Corte Madera, Greenbrae and Kentfield may become members of the Friends of the Larkspur Library. "The aims of the group are to foster closer relations between the Larkspur Library and the citizens it serves, and to aid in the provision of adequate housing and other facilities for the library," according to Mrs. Sestak.

The organization meets regularly the third Thursday of each month. At past programs local authors have discussed their books. A fund-raising event for February is being considered.

MRS. ARTHUR M. STESAK

NOTING HER favorite pastimes, Joan Sestak says "reading, of course", travel, ballet and weaving. Earlier this year Mrs. Sestak enjoyed a trip to Peru and Colombia, and is now planning a trip to Yucatan for next year.

DURING THE seven years she has lived in Marin, Joan, the wife of architect Arthur M. Sestak, has been active with the Central Marin League of Women Voters, Marin Audubon Society, Delta Gamma Alumnae Assn., and the Madrone Woodlands Assn., which she served as secretary-treasurer.

The Sestaks have two children, Lynn, 7, and Wendy, 3.

The new president was graduated from the University of Illinois with a bachelor of arts degree in American History. She has been a social worker in Oakland and Seattle, and a teacher in Oakland Child Care centers.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Kenneth Shaff, vice-president; Mrs. Douglas Pease, treasurer; Mrs. William Paddock, recording secretary; Mrs. Alfred Kraeger, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Raymond Reilly, program chairman.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Once A Thief' At Rafael; Spy Thriller At Tamalpais

By LES DARD

DRAMA AT RAFAEL—Alain Delon and Ann-Margaret are the romantic team of "Once A Thief" now playing at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael. It was filmed entirely on location in Sausalito and San Francisco. The film also co-stars Van Heflin and Jack Palance.

Whatever your preference, your're bound to find something interesting this weekend at Marin theaters:

RAFAEL THEATER

San Francisco sets the scene for "Once A Thief," a crime drama now on screen starring Alain Delon and Ann-Margaret.

Delon plays a truck driver just out of prison. He desires to go straight, but is confounded by a multitude of problems.

First off, there's a fanatic police inspector (Van Heflin) who relentlessly pursues the young ex-con. He in hounded off a legitimate job and denied help in the State Employment Office.

His brother, Jack Palance, harasses him into helping on a $1 million platinum haul, which is pulled off in a smooth "Rififi" fashion.

In the end, Delon dies, showing (rather obtusely) that once a man is a criminal, society won't let him repent, but drives him back into crime.

Performances are good all around.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"The Ipcress File" (pronounced slowly, in a deep menacing voice) is opening tonight, a first class British spy thriller.

Michael Caine stars as an incongrous secret agent who stumbles onto the secret of the "brain drain," by which "they" are brainwashing Britain's top scientists. He gets himself into a tangled web of crime, intrigue, violence and espionage, and has a much harder time getting himself out.

In a surprising finish, after surviving myriad horrors, he emerges victorious, if a little bloody.

Great suspense.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

She deserts her husband to become a jet-set jade simply because of her very special beauty. She first forms an alliance with bookish TV commentator Dirk Bogarde, but then sees more opportunities in a relationship with advertising executive Laurence Harvey.

But she has entered an alien, fast-moving world that in the end proves to much for her. Miss Christie does an admirable job.

NOVATO THEATER

Briefly, the plot concerns Ringo, the drummer. He gets to wearing a ring that's part of an East Indian sacrificial ritual, and can't get it off. The other three from Liverpool are mainly occupied with keeping him from under the blade of a nutty executioner.

The farce starts in London, picks up in the Alps and finally lands in the Bahamas. Also on the boys' trail is a pair of completely demented mad scientist types.

Another show in the same vein is "Ferry Cross the Mersey," featuring Gerry and the Pacemakers, also from England.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Holding over here, "Ship of Fools" has an extremely talented international cast. Included are Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Heinz Ruemann, Oskar Werner, Lee Marvin, Vivian Leigh, Elizabeth Ashley, George Segal, Werner Klemperer, Jose Greco and Michael Dunn, to name a few.

MOTOR MOVIES

Elvis plays a race car driver in Las Vegas to compete for the Nevada Grand Prix. In need of money, he becomes a waiter at a hotel, where he and an Italian count strike up a friendship. Both are rivals in the race, and for Ann-Margaret too.

The big event comes as the story's climax, highlighted by shots of Hoover Dam and a generous amount of racing thrills.

101 DRIVE-IN

FAIRFAX THEATER

There's "Topkapi," the funny thriller set in Greece and Turkey.

Miss Mercouri is a nymph who loves men and jewels. She covets a jewelled dagger in Istanbul's Topkapi Museum, and persuades Maximillian Schell, an old flame, to undertake the job.

Also here is "Never On Sunday," a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who sets out to reform a "virtuous" Greek prostitute.

Artists' Prints On Exhibition

Prints by two Marin County artists are included in "California Printmakers," an international touring exhibition which opened this week in the gallery of the San Francisco Art Institute.

Defense Blocks Communist Trial

WASHINGTON(AP) — Barely off the ground after its first week, the trial of the Communist Party has bogged down over the testimony of a California housewife who said she was a Communist for the FBI.

U.S. District Judge William B. Jones recessed the trial until Monday after the government tried several times yesterday but failed to question Mrs. Lula Mae Thompson about her alleged willingness four years ago to register the party as a Soviet agent.

The party is charged in 23 counts of failure to register with the attorney general and could face fines up to $230,000 if convicted.

Mrs. Thompson testified she joined the party in 1953 and left it in 1962. The French Camp, Calif. woman testified for the government before the Subversive Activities Control Board, which originally ordered the party to register.

Barron To Direct 'Witness' Drama

Karl Barron, Independent-Journal drama critic, has been chosen to direct the Ross Valley Players' production of "Witness for the Prosecution," which will open at the Marin Art and Garden Center Barn on Feb. 10.

Cast tryouts will be held at the Barn at 8 p.m. next Wednesday and Thursday, announced Carl Riznik, president of the Ross Valley Players.

Tam Students Change Procedure On Election

Tamalpais High School students Wednesday voted 722 to 549 to change the time of student elections from the sixth period class to the lunch period.

Formerly elections were held in the classroom with students being invited to vote. Now voting is to be on a voluntary basis at polls set up on campus during the lunch hour. Asked if this would not reduce voting, Vice Principal Raymond J. Bell replied, "the percentage might be a little smaller than now but it depends on how hot an election it is."

Bell said the school has a new policy whereby it releases vote counts except when there is a large discrepancy between candidates. In that case, he said, releasing the figures might cause undue embarrassment to the loser.

Elections were held on three propositions yesterday during first period.

Proposition A, which spells out a method of choosing judges for the judicial committee, passed 935 to 377. Proposition B, allowing the student council to give the student body the right to vote on any amendment to by-laws, passed 932 to 395. Proposition C was the change in time and place of elections.

Prison Given In Theft Case

Thomas Walter Larke, 28, was sentenced to one-to-10 years in state prison yesterday in Marin Superior Court on his June 25 jury conviction of receiving stolen goods.

Judge Harold J. Haley pronounced judgment following Larke's return from an observation period at California Medical Facility at Vacaville.

Larke, of 68 Olivet Street, San Anselmo, had cash registers, parts and electric gear owned by National Cash Register Co., 4270 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, in his possession when arrested last February.

Teen-Age Motorist Bruised In Collision

James L. Girot, 18, of 24 Oxford Avenue, Mill Valley, suffered a bruised forehead at 2:10 p.m. yesterday in a two-car rear-end collision in Kentfield, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Girot was northbound on College Avenue 275 feet south of the Corte Madera Creek bridge when his car hit the rear of one driven by Nancy E. Thum, 18, of 114 Sycamore Avenue, San Anselmo, which had stopped for traffic. Girot was to see his own doctor.

Tomato juice is Ohio's official drink.

Twin Cities Boundary Talks Delayed For Towns' Studies

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night did not get very far in its roll as a mediator to improve the boundaries between Corte Madera and Larkspur.

Last night's session, billed as an informal hearing, produced little to listen to.

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher submitted a letter asking that the commission proposal be put off until the cities can study the proposal and that the commission take no action before holding a hearing.

The commission agreed to hold a hearing on the boundaries Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Under the proposal presented by commission executive officer John F. Barrows, the boundary between the cities would become Highway 101 and the railroad spur to Larkspur. To straighten the present convoluted boundary, Larkspur would have to give up its industrial land on the east side of Highway 101 and Corte Madera would have to give up its industrial tract to the west. All of Redwood High School, now split among the two cities and the county, would go into Larkspur.

Barrows emphasized that the commission has no power to force these changes. It would be up to the cities to initiate action, and with inhabited territories, elections would be necessary.

If the commission should adopt the boundary, however, it could serve as a guide when the pockets of unincorporated territory come up for annexation.

About 18 residents of Greenbrae Boardwalk attended the session, but their concern seemed to be allayed when Barrows told Howard Gold of 49 Greenbrae Boardwalk that he and his neighbors would have to initiate any annexation through petition. The proposed boundary would mean the boardwalk should go into Corte Madera when and if this happened.

The commission last night approved a seven-acre annexation at the west end of Manuel Freitas Parkway to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District. The tract is known as Terra Linda Unit 24.

Also approved, for the second time, was the eight-acre annexation to the same district of the Marin Professional Center on the northeast side of Terra Linda Interchange. This had to be resubmitted to the commission due to a technicality arising with new formation commission legislation effective Sept. 17. Because annexation petition had not been filed by that date, the annexation must come under new regulations.

Cyprus Shootings Wound 2 More

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting broke out today between Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the east coast port of Famagusta.

One Greek and one Turk were wounded. This brought the casualties since the fighting resumed yesterday to three Greeks and five Turks wounded.

An uneasy calm returned by noon. Traffic resumed along the main highway to the east of the island passing through Sacharia, a suburb where most of the firing occurred.

How to put your store in Marin's best-selling location

There is ONE LOCATION in Marin County where more buyers shop and make buying decisions than in any other. It's the #1 location for traffic, for convenience and #1 as the accepted place to shop.

It's not on a corner, on a street or highway, yet it is the MAIN MARKETING THOROUGHFARE of Marin County.

This is the best-selling location in Marin for good reason. With it, you close the gap between your store and the consumer. With it, your merchandise moves to the ONE AREA where most buying decisions are made – in the home.

As a businessman, you know that the best merchandise in the world can sit on the shelf if you don't tell someone about it. You know that random, drop-in traffic seldom pays the bill. For people today WANT to know all about merchandise, prices and values before they hop in the car.

Reader traffic is store traffic

In the I-J, the whole county reads about your store, your merchandise. Because, next to news, the advertising columns are the most-read feature in the newspaper. Readers buy the I-J, in fact, in order to read advertising! Which proves that people want to look, compare, discuss and then decide on WHAT to buy and WHERE to buy it before they go to the store.

That's the critical thing to consider. That's why the best-selling location in Marin County is the most economic way to sales and profits. The I-J EXTENDS YOUR STORE throughout the county to the families that read most, buy most, and have more buying income. It gives you vastly greater CONTROL over your whole marketing and selling operation. You're not left by the side of the road, waiting for customers. THEY COME TO YOU.

Marin's most successful merchants have proved this time and time again. Small stores, big stores, selling every kind of merchandise.

You can do the same. You can have MARIN'S BEST-SELLING LOCATION any day you please. The space is waiting for you, and the cost is low. Just call DISPLAY ADVERTISING at the I-J (454-3020). Best investment you'll ever make.

Everyone's reading Marin's Best-seller

- More local, Marin news
- More advertising
- More features
- More circulation

I-J paid circulation is now 36,731 —more daily Marin circulation than the S.F. Chronicle and Examiner combined. Definitely Marin's best-seller!

Junior Red Cross Opens Classroom Recruit Drive

The enrollment program brought in nearly $2,000 last year, said Blackmore.

The Junior Red Cross program is active in county schools throughout the school year, said Dr. Bert C. Corona, chairman of the Marin Chapter's Red Cross youth advisory committee.

Children in elementary and junior high schools fill small gift boxes with school supplies, small toys, and soap, to be sent to children in other countries. High school youths hold fund raising functions for community service organizations and perform many other services during the year, said Corona.

Cross, Candles Help Thief Rifle Church

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) —A burglar who broke into the African Methodist Episcopal church used a 30-pound bronze cross stolen from the Communion altar as a hammer and church candles for light in completing his theft.

The Rev. Donald Newberry told police the thief took the altar cross and used it to smash an office door lock. The candles apparently were lit while the thief ransacked a filing cabinet. The Rev. Mr. Newberry estimated the loss at $40.

Board Limits Talk Session On Marincello

Marin County supervisors Monday will hold their second hearing on the Marincello master plan, and comments from the public this time will be restricted.

The session will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Civic Center.

The board has agreed that the applicant, Thomas Frouge, and his attorney will first be allowed to reply to criticisms voiced two weeks ago at the first hearing.

Then protestants will have a chance to comment, but must restrict themselves to opinions on statements made in the Frouge rebuttal.

Supervisors expect this exchange to last about two hours. After that, board deliberation will begin and comments from the audience are expected only in answer to questions from supervisors.

At least, that is the way the board plans it.

More Ship Workers

BOSTON (AP) —The Boston Naval Shipyard will add 300 workers to its force of 6,500 over the next few months because of a heavy schedule of ship repair and conversion work, says Read Adm. Frank C. Jones, shipyard commander.

Psychiatrist Says Military Blind To Common Trainee Syndrome

By JOHN KEARNEY

All these years, Army sergeants have called it 'chickening out."

Now the malady which often attacks recruits a few days after beginning basic training has been given an entirely different name by Dr. Thomas P. Lowry, a Kentfield psychiatrist.

He calls it "hyperventilation syndrome" and says the symptoms and treatment of this little-known condition should be written into the medical books.

In a paper he read to the initial meeting of Marin County Academy of Medicine, Dr. Lowry explained what happens to many 18-year-olds soon after they don uniform at boot camp.

The face becomes flushed, the mouth dry, fingers tingle, the mind becomes confused and the man sighs deeply from time to time.

He said that hyperventilation syndrome is similar to a general listlessness and loss of strength often due to mild anxiety.

"If this is so," he said, "then military physicians are once again faced with a condition which hospitalized hundreds of man in the American Civil War, placed 44,000 British soldiers on pension during World War I and was a major cause of disability among American recruits in World War II."

Dr. Lowry, a consultant psychiatrist at San Quentin Prison, has carried out studies at eight service basic training centers and claims the syndrome is a major cause of recruits reporting on sick call.

Some base doctors said that although they had a large number of recruits stricken with the symptoms, they were unable to answer all the questions asked by Dr. Lowry because of the absence of details in the official diagnostic manual.

A flip through other medical books indicated, said Dr. Lowry, that major classifications either ignore the problem of hyperventilation or place it in the hands of psychiatrists.

"It would seem that general physicians are too ready to abdicate their hold on these disorders, and psychiatrists too ready to accept them into the fold," he said.

"The unique experience of the military physician," he concluded, "may again enable him to make a contribution to the general field of medicine, both through a useful addition to classification, and through continuing research in the still puzzling area of psychophsysiologic diseases."

Fairfax Again To Study Cost Of Flood Job

Participation by the City of Fairfax in the proposed joint powers agreement for maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project will again face the city council for discussion Monday at 8 p.m. at the Fairfax Women's Club on Park Road.

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, champion of the flood control project, has asked to be allowed to address the council on the proposal. On Oct. 18 the council voted to remain outside of the agreement unless a maximum of five cents per $100 assessed valuation was set. The agreement as since proposed by County Council Douglas J. Maloney includes such a maximum.

While County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost predicted that the maintenance tax on the project would be about 1.7 cents.

Also slated to address the council is County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer. Storer will speak on the proposed second deck for the Golden Gate Bridge, approved by bridge district directors last week.

The council will also discuss establishing a city health office and the best location for a new county dump.

Corte Madera Pupils Boast Own Hero; Newspaper Carrier Lauded

Kudos For Drowning Rescue

His heroism was recognized yesterday afternoon at a seventh - eighth grade surprise assembly at which Assemblyman William T. Bagley was speaker, rushing to Corte Madera just in time after the noon close of the special session of the California Legislature.

His recognition came in the form of the California Newspaperboy Foundation's heroism trophy for highest award betrophy for the year, highest award bestowed by the foundation. He was voted it at the annual convention of the California Circulation Managers Assn. in San Diego this month.

The 13-year-old James was unassuming throughout Bagley's laudatory remarks--as he was on that rainy January day when he returned home, changed clothes, and finished delivering his paper route after snatching Charlie Kelly from the brink of death.

Declaring that "little Charlie Kelly would not be alive today, were it not for this responsible, courageous act," he said James showed an equal sense of responsibility by going home, changing clothes, and delivering his papers, apologizing to customers for being late.

The trophy, a likeness of a newspaperboy standing, poised to throw a folded paper, was presented by Independent-Journal circulation manager Allan G. Howells.

STATUETTE WITH MEANING — Assemblyman William T. Bagley holds up California Newspaperboy Foundation trophy which was presented to 13-year-old James Peterson, Independent-Journal carrier boy, for saving the life of a 3-year-old boy last January. Mrs. William Peterson (left), mother of James, looks equally as pleased as her son, at her side. Award was at a surprise assembly yesterday at Neil Cummins School.

"It is a real pleasure to give you this award," Howells said. "We are all very proud of you."

After this ceremony, Bagley stepped to the podium again and presented the boy with the passbook to a savings account the assemblyman opened in his name in Corte Madera, just before coming to the school. Deposited in the account was $50.

"This is just a way of showing that good deeds are not only worthwhile, they sometimes have a little monetary value, too," he said.

Bagley told the students that they, too, are heroes, practically every day, just by showing a sense of responsibility. He praised the job of a newspaperboy as one which teaches this responsibility.

Besides principal, teachers and students, Larkspur School Dist. Supt. Milton S. Cohen, Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher, and Independent-Journal promotion manager Ray Mount Rogers attended the assembly to pay honor to James.

James, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Peterson, 12 Marin Trailer Court, 2130 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, was on his delivery route near his home when the rescue occurred.

He saw an arm waving above the three-foot-deep water of the slough behind the trailer court. He jumped from his bicycle, ran to the water and pulled out Charles, a neighbor's child.

The water was over the child's head, but James gave him a few slaps on the back and took him to his home in good condition.

"Charles would have drowned if Jimmy hadn't seen him and pulled him out," Mrs. Charles Kelly Sr., his mother, said at the time.

James has been delivering the Independent - Journal in his neighborhood for more than three years. "We moved here from Sacramento about three and a half years ago, and I started with the route about three months after we got here," he said.

So far he has saved $956.18 from his newspaper earnings. "I'll probably use it to go to college," he said. "I've got a B average in school."

He hasn't pinned down exactly what career he intends to follow, but is thinking "of maybe an airplane pilot, something mechanical or something like the National Aeronautics and Space Agency."

Aside from school and his newspaper route, James manages to take a few cruises on Corte Madera Creek on his 13-foot rowboat with a five-horsepower outboard engine.

"It was a gift from a customer," he explained. "I have another one, a sleeker one, that was a gift from another friend."

James, who plays saxophone in the school band, also finds time to practice on the sax at home.

In the midst of his busy schedule, James also has the hobby of coin collecting. "I have coins with a face value of at least $100," he said.

He is a member of Boy Scout Troop 24, sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club, and recently was awarded a certificate of appreciation from the Boy Scouts for his heroic action in saving Charles.

Although James has been matter-of-fact about his rescue work, he is enthusiastic about taking another trip to Disneyland with the Independent-Journal newspaperboys.

"I've been on two trips to Disneyland and three trips to Santa Cruz, and I'd like to go again," he said.

Mill Valley Annex Voted, But With Double Scoldings

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The Marin County Local Agency Formation commission last night unanimously approved the 61-acre Cascade annexation to Mill Valley, but only after the county planning department and Mill Valley City Manager Bert Balmer were both strongly chided.

Commission Chairman Jan Paul Dyk said he thought the planning department and Balmer both guilty of "an unfortunate choice of words" in their heated exchange over the annexation.

Although Planning Director B. D. Dobbs did not prepare the recommendation against the annexation, which emenated from his department, it was Dobbs who got most of the heat last night.

The planning report said the annexation proposal appeared "capricious" and not based on "rational criteria."

In a lengthy reply, Balmer said it seemed he was no longer dealing "with a responsible county office."

Not only did the commission dislike Balmer's letter, but one member, Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, questioned Mill Valley's annexation policies.

"Balmer fires off these annexations like the Fourth of July," Leydecker said. "This might be interesting, but what the hell are they doing?"

Leydecker said Mill Valley should again be requested to file a map with the commission showing how far it eventually intends to extend its boundaries. Most other cities have given the commission such maps. Leydecker suggested that no new Mill Valley annexation be considered until the map is in hand.

He said the city hopes eventually to extend its boundaries to the surrounding ridge lines, and the Cascade annexation falls within this territory. "We believe this is a logical annexation," he said.

Commissioners agreed, but commission executive officer, John F. Barrows had sereval reservations. These included failure to include the Monte Vista tract to the east, failure to include lots at Cascade Drive and Monte Vista Avenue and lots in Edgewood Avenue, failure to include 400 feet of Edgewood Avenue itself, and the fact that access to the western portion of the annexation must be over county roads.

Bragdon replied that as much territory as possible was included. Omitted areas were due to protest by owners, he said.

Maurice Capps owns 57 of the 61 acres. He requested the annexation for a development that will involve one to one and one-half homes per acre on his land. He needs city services, particularly sewers, Bragdon said.

At the end of the discussion, Commissioner Hugh Marchant said the biggest argument he could see against the annexation was the tone of Balmer's letter.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, sitting as an alternate for Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who was home ill, moved to approve the proposal. Dyk seconded.

Leydecker, Marchant, Dyk, Storer and Wayne Womack made up the commission membership last night.

Sausalito Bans Open Burning

There will be no more open burning allowed in the city of Sausalito, Fire Chief Charles E. Masten said today. The new policy is a fire prevention measure to protect the homeowner.

In the past, open burning has been permitted only during the rainy season with a permit. Residents may continue to burn refuse in incinerators with permits.

Masten said that any person who sets a fire or allows it to be set on his property is legally responsible for damage to other property should the fire get out of control.

Work Starts On Tree Nursery

Trees grown there will be used for beautifying parks in the area. The tree farm is a project of the Novato Civic Foundation.

The North Marin County Water District has donated about one acre on the bank of Novato Creek. Cost of clearing the land is being shared by Bobo's Construction Co., Ignacio, and County Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

An irrigation system will be installed by the time the first trees arrive Dec. 1, according to Mrs. Lynn Scott, member of the foundation's board of directors.

About 2,000 seedling Monterey pines, Bishop pines, Douglas firs and redwoods will be planted, and moved to parks when they are large enough. Other civic groups have been asked to help with the planting.

Surplus trees and those which grow too large for replanting will be sold as Christmas trees.

Fair Hiring On Civic Center Building Sought

The Marin County Human Rights Commission last night recommended broadening the fair employment clause in the contract for the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center.

However, the recommendation appears to be too late for inclusion in the contract, since the call for bids must be authorized by supervisors next Tuesday if they are to be opened Dec. 14 as scheduled.

The commission, after a lengthy session, recommended the clause be expanded to include a requirement that the contractor shall hire all apprentices possible under collective bargaining regulations, that the contractor take all steps possible to assure employment of racial minorities, and that he allow access to his hiring records.

The recommendations, in a letter from commission Chairman James Quiett, were sent to County Administrator Alan Bruce for inclusion on the Tuesday board agenda. Bruce said he will recommend the items be considered in future contracts.

Unique Sailing Craft Launched In Marin

Arthur L. Piver of Mill Valley this week launched his newest boat, a 33-foot ocean-racing Trimaran called Stiletto which he plans to race next year across the Atlantic to Denmark.

The boat was launched Monday at Marin Heliport and Wednesday the mast was placed by helicopter. Boat designer Piver, who lives at 59 Marlin Avenue, says he is the first man to design the modern cruising Trimaran but this type of craft has been built as outriggers for centuries.

Eggs Returned To Cholestrol Worrier Diet

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance New Service

BAL HARBOUR, Fla.—Cholesterol watchers are being told it's okay to eat eggs — but no more than four a week, counting those used in cooking.

Eggs are about as high in cholesterol, a fatty substance, as any food available. And the tendency has been to omit them from diets designed to combat heart disease.

The word from investigators at the famed Cleveland Clinic comes at a time when the medical world is still arguing over the role of diet in heart disease.

It is generally conceded that high cholesterol readings in the blood go hand-in-hand with an elevated risk of a heart attack. Whether a cutback in cholesterol actually shaves this risk is anybody's guess. But some scientists believe there is ample evidence to justify a diet.

The main problem has been coming up with a menu most people can stick to without backsliding. The Cleveland researchers, Drs. Helen B. Brown, Marily Farrand and Irvine H. Page, say their cholesterol-lowering diet is neither overly restrictive nor rigid. In working out the four-egg safety margin, they said their volunteers had "a varied and palatable menu, gourmet and simple fare, with the use of properly chosen and obtainable foods."

Reducing cholesterol in the body is usually achieved by substituting polyunsaturated fats, or vegetable oils, for solid, or saturated, animal fats, which are consumed in great quantities by many Americans. Polyunsaturates tend to lower cholesterol, animal fats raise it.

The researchers described the diets to the Council on Arteriosclerosis of the American Heart Assn. They sought to determine how much cholesterol one can eat without offsetting the cholesterol-lowering benefits, if such they are, of vegetable oils.

Fifty normal volunteers ate a standard cholesterol-lowering daily diet consisting of 2,700 calories with 28 per cent derived from fat. About 11 per cent of the fat was saturated, and 17 per cent polyunsaturated.

The volunteers had two servings of lean meat, fish or poultry every day. Cottonseed oil and unsaturated margarine replaced the butter and other hard fats of the American diet.

The "standard" diet alone was enough to drop the volunteers' average cholesterol by about 40 milligrams per cubic centimeter of blood — a significant reduction.

Then, investigators launched an 18-day trial period in which they altered the standard diet, giving some volunteers more or less polyunsaturates, plus varying numbers of eggs.

From this, it was concluded that four eggs a week, including those used in cooking, is a safe allowance in a practical, cholesterol-lowering diet.

High School Writing Contest Again Slated

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI) — More than 100,000 junior and senior high school student are expected to participate in the 1965-66 Creative Writing Awards program for the 41st consecutive year.

The competition offers cash prizes, college scholarships and special grants for the best entries in nine classifications of writing.

Coed Finds Ancient Car's Fun To Drive

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI)—Jeanne Trotter, a 17-year-old high school senior, drives a 1929 Model A Ford and says she wouldn't trade it with her dad's brand new car.

"I've become attached to the Model A," said Jeanne, who is editor of her school paper. "I guess I just like to drive it because it's different."

Jeanne nicknamed the car "Gertrude."

P-SST, WANNA WOODEN NICKEL?

Garbed as a shady character, free-lance photographer Ray Barth of Monroe, Wis., pokes fun at U.S. Treasury Department's charges that wooden nickels issued 18 months ago as a bank publicity stunt must be classed as counterfeit money. The government has seized 450 of the 20,000 stunt coins; one Monroe tavern keeper is selling them at $5 each, it is reported.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pneumonia Concept Treatment Has Changed With Antibiotics

VAN DELLEN

Prior to World War II, pneumonia was called the old man's friend because so many ailing oldsters died of the condition. The disease also was common among the young and middle-aged, and one in three usually expired. In addition, the high temperature lasted for at least 10 days and left the individual so weak that he spent two months recuperating.

MANY FORMS of the disease responded so rapidly to the antibiotics that victims are back at work in less than two weeks. The causative germs are killed and the temperature returns to normal before the victim becomes toxic and weakened and loses weight.

The medical concept of pneumonia has changed. We no longer attempt to distinguish between the lobar and broncho types. We are more interested in determining the causative agent so that the right remedy can be pitted against the culprit.

WE DO NOT want to imply that the respiratory disease is no longer a problem. The discovery of penicillin did not change the status of pneumonias caused by viruses, rickettsia, and the mycoplasma group of organisms.

These microbes do not respond to most antibiotics and are still a threat among certain age groups. The mycoplasmas, for example, are responsible for 50 per cent of all pneumonias among military recruits and those in federal prisons.

WE ALSO hear more about the ways specific pneumonia-causing microbes are transmitted. The Cryptococcus neoformans, for example, is found mainly in old pigeon droppings. People sitting blissfully in parks and city squares may not realize that this dust is windborne and capable of causing a stubborn type of pneumonia.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

WHISKY AND COLDS

I.K. writes: My friend claims he can always kill a fresh cold by taking a few shots of whisky and going to bed. Does this treatment have any scientific value?

REPLY

Bed rest, yes; whisky, no. Alcohol beverages dilate the blood vessels in the nose and the ensuing congestion makes symptoms worse in some cold suffers.

MIGRANE

Mrs. D. writes: If both husband and wife suffer from migraine attacks, are their children candidates for these headaches?

REPLY

Yes. Migraine is thought to be inherited. In one group of 65 offspring of parents who both had migraine, 45 were victims of this disorder.

SYMPATHETIC

Mrs. K. W. writes: My girl friend is expecting a baby and her husband has morning sickness every day. Why?

REPLY

No one knows the cause of this usual phenomenon. Occasionally the grandmother-to-be suffers from morning sickness during her daughter's term of pregnancy.

LOTS OF SHUT-EYE

Mrs. L. writes: It there something wrong with a man who wants to sleep 12 hours every night?

REPLY

He is either lazy or lucky.

MOST PREVALENT

Mrs. S. writes: What is the most common type of malignancy in women?

REPLY

Cancer of the breast.

Today's Health Hint—

The largest or most rapidly growing baby is not necessarily the healthiest.

Car Hits Rocket Train; Boys Die

FREMONT (AP) — A train-car collison last night killed two teen-age boys and critically injured another.

A Western Pacific railroad inspector said the first five cars of the 56-car freight train carried solid rocket propellant for use at Cape Kennedy.

"If any of the tank cars had fallen off the track," the inspector said, "the impact could have ignited the propellant." He said the explosion would have been disastrous.

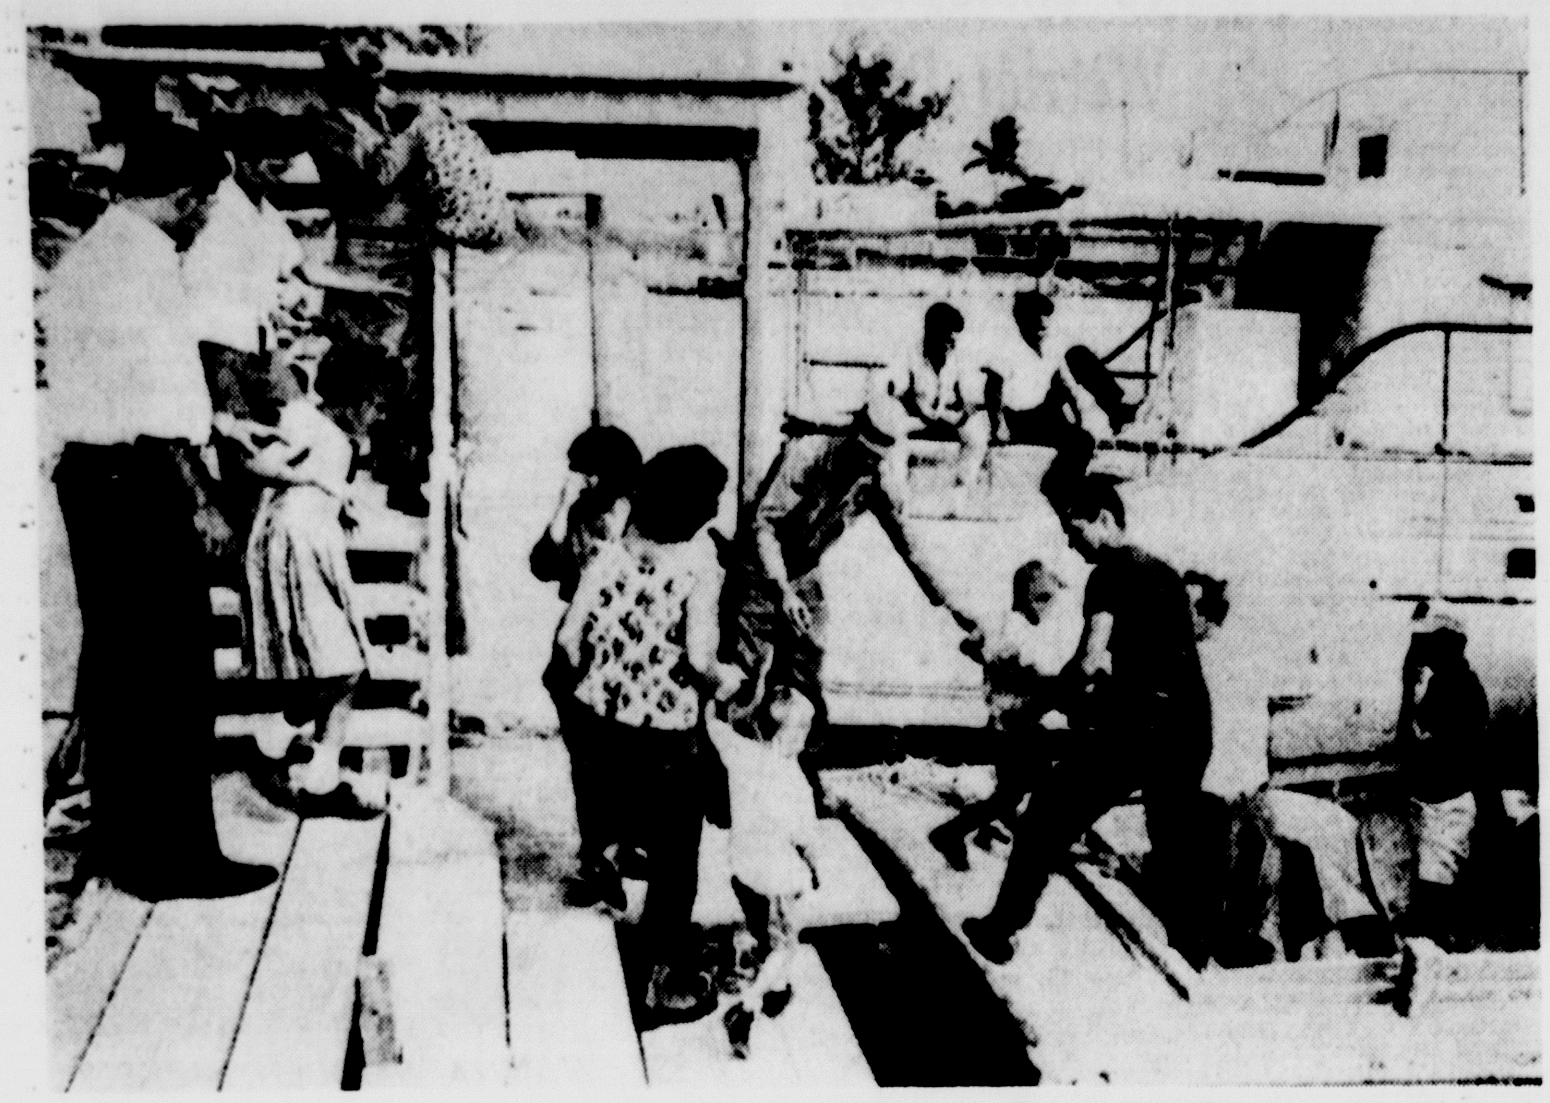
Police officer Leroy Pyle identified the dead boys as Darryl Sebastion Andrade, 15, and Richard Perreira Jr., 18, both of Fremont.

English Girls Find Adventure Strenuous

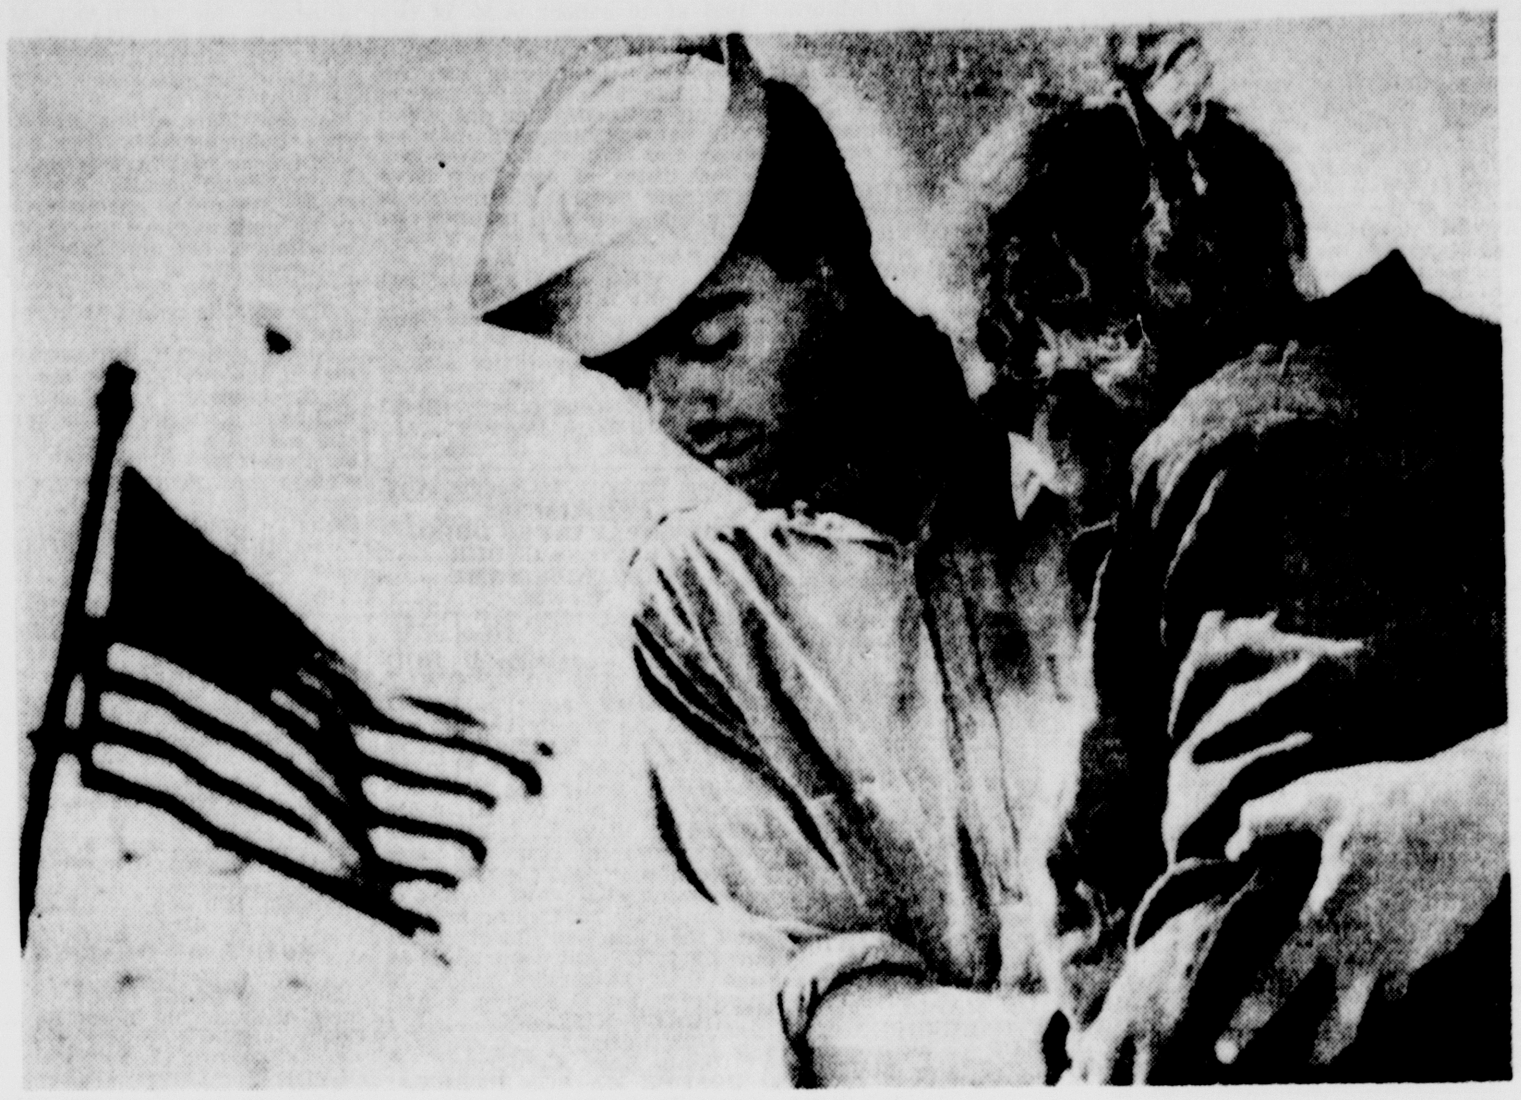
PRETTY PRAIRIE, Kan. (UPI)—Two English girls, 20-year-old twins, plan to "just recuperate" in Kansas after spending five months working their way across the United States.

Trixie and Gwen Griffith, of London, visited 13 states in five months; then got a job for a Manhattan, Kan., publishing firm, and spent a recent weekend here. They said they actually both liked Colorado best. They think it's most like England.

One Of Year's Strangest Dramas: The Cuban Exodus



VOYAGE BEGINS — If American officials know why Cuban Premier Fidel Castro suddenly decreed his citizens were free to leave, they aren't saying, but the exodus is on. A Cuban soldier (above) helps refugees aboard a boat from Florida on Monday. The craft had beat the Oct. 21 deadline for arrival; Castro has ordered that no more refugees will leave except by air, unless they can board boats already waiting. (UPI Telephoto)



HELPED TO SAFETY—Among the 281 refugees plucked from wave-tossed small boats in the Florida Straits Monday was this elderly Cuban woman, being helped aboard the Coast Guard Cutter McCulloch as the Stars and Stripes flutter in the background. The perils of the 90-plus mile trip in small pleasure craft have taken 20-plus lives in the last few weeks, and the Coast Guard is trying to halt the venture lest more die. (UPI Telephoto)

MUCHACHAS AND FRIENDS—Among the refugees rescued Monday were little Maria Julia Gonzales (above), who managed to make the sea crossing with her beloved "gato," Tuffy. Another girl rescued (right) quickly charmed some Coast Guardsmen in the McCulloch out of his white hat. The scenes this week were practically a re-run of episodes that have been happening ever since the exodus started; Cubans rescued in a mid-October crossing (below) wave happily as they near the Key West dock where they were awaited by relatives who escaped earlier from Castro. (AP and UPI Photos)

ARRIVING IN FLORIDA—Clutching a stuffed toy nearly as large as herself, a Cuban girl is followed down the gang-plank of the Coast Guard Cutter Lamar by a boy bearing a box of breakfast cereal. Like the parents, the children had to leave nearly everything behind in Cuba. Meanwhile, a few boats still wait (below) in the Cuban port for their loads and for permission to depart for Florida. But, Preimer Castro's officials have declared that no more boats will be permitted to risk the perils of the straits, particularly since this week's sinking of a Mexicobounud refugee boat off Yucatan, in which only nine of 45 passengers are believed to have survived. The waiting boats' American crews will be permitted to depart when the weather is calm enough, the Cuban authorities say. (UPI Telephotos)

MIXED EMOTIONS—Mrs. Aida Elena Perez arrives in Key West, Fla., Monday bearing a shiner on her right eye. She said it was caused by being emotionally upset when the Cuban militia refused to let her 16-year-old son leave the island. Castro has refused to let draft-age youths leave, declaring they must serve their fatherland rather than be drafted into the United States service. (AP Wirephoto)

Marine Corps Reserve in Marin County has launched a drive for contributions to aid CARE programs for the Vietnamese.

The aid will go to the people of Viet Nam and not to the Marines serving there, as indicated in the Independent-Journal Monday.

Although the Marines will not collect money themselves, the training center at 153 Madison Avenue, Santa Venetia, will supply special envelopes for the purpose and also a Marine representative to talk to service organizations or groups.

State Guide To Parks Out

Publication of a new state guide to planning county parks and recreation areas has been announced by Mrs. Dewey J. Forry of Marinwood, chairman of the state recreation commission.

A major purpose of the guide, she said, is to clarify which level of government is responsible for each phase of setting up regional parks.

The guide is the product of a year-long study by state, regional, county and city park officials from throughout California.

Steve Lawrence Show On Way Out

By RICK DU BROW

Lawrence's final broadcast will be seen Dec. 13. On Dec. 20, it will be replaced by "Art Linkletter's Hollywood Talent Scouts," which was on the network this past summer.

The Lawrence series was knocked off by its NBC-TV competitor, "Run For Your Life," a weekly one-hour show in which Ben Gazzara stars as a young man with a terminal illness who decides to live to the hilt in his remaining time.

The other Lawrence competitor, ABC-TV's "Ben Casey," is doing very poorly in the ratings too, and is currently not expected to return next season.

Industry observers feel generally that Lawrence simply couldn't carry an hour show, that he was too citified to attract the important rural audience and that the program didn't offer much new in variety.

It was obvious from the debut of the Lawrence series, in which Lucille Ball was a guest and virtually took over the program, that CBS-TV had doubts about his ability to carry the show. It was all downhill after the opener, because there aren't many Lucille Balls.

It was also reported yesterday that the chances for another ratings flop, CBS-TV's "Rawhide," which was to be either switched to another time slot or canceled — or possibly cut in half from its hour length — are now very, very slim, and maybe gone already.

ABC-TV, which promised a series of original one-hour dramas for this season under the title of "Crisis" — and then failed to deliver — now has announced grandiose plans for next season for a regularly-scheduled prime-time program to be called "ABC '66."

The network promises works by leading playwrights and musical comedy composers, as well as unusual documentaries and top stars, in its planned 26 original presentations and six repeats. The feeling is that ABC-TV will probably deliver this time since a failure to do so would cause it to face the most extreme sort of embarrassment.

Among the planned projects are: An original comedy about life in New York City by Murray Schisgal, author os the broadway hit "Luv," and starring the brilliant headliner of that play, Alan Arkin. Also: a musical comedy about football by Richard Adler, composer of "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees."

In addition: A drama, "That First Easter," by Henry Denker, which tells the story of the Crucifixion "as seen from the conflicting viewpoints of a rabbi and his son." And another Denker drama, "This Man Called Andros," about the aftermath of the 1956 Hungarian revolution.

Also: An Anthony Newley hour of pantomine and music. A musical comedy, "The Flip Side," about today's music industry. A documentary about the wit of the late President Kennedy. A documentary entitled "An Essay on the American Jew." A program that takes a humorous look at the world of noted director and comedian Mike Nichols. And a drama, "The Cliff Dwellers," about the "interrelated adventures in New York City of seven alumni of an Eashern University."

Ross Loses Suit Over Falling Tree

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday awarded $7,913.02 to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pometta of Ross for damages to their home and shrubbery when a large elm tree fell on Jan. 31, 1963.

Defendant was the Town of Ross. The jury deliberated five hours.

The Pomettas, of 12 Fernhill Avenue, maintained the parkway tree was on city property in front of their house. They said they warned city officials long before the tree fell that it was in dangerous and defective condition.

They had asked about $12,000 damages. Judge Harold J. Haley heard the case.

Garden Drainage Tips On Agenda

William H. Greving of Novato will be guest speaker at Novato Garden Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Novato Community House.

Greving will give tips on garden drainage and the proper way to set up flower beds and plant evergreens.

A dessert luncheon will precede the talk.

Marin Deputy Sheriffs' Assn. has Wade Powell as president and William Keaton as vice president.

Sausalito Plaintiff Asks Court To Halt Pickets, Award $265,000

A 14-page suit for $265,000 damages and a temporary order restraining the use of pickets was filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court against the San Francisco - Oakland Mailers Union, Local 18, by Harry Johnson, publisher of Marin Guide.

The charges, which include the local's president, Douglas A. Smith, and the International Typographical Union as defendants, are the latest in a battle which has included alleged mailing room and truck "bombings," trespassing and assault charges and arrests, and numerous other incidents at Marin Guide offices at both 42 Caledonia Street in Sausalito and 200 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley.

Plaintiffs Johnson and his company, Calculated Security Investment Corp., charge that on Oct. 4 and for two weeks after, Johnson made repeated efforts to negotiate a contract with the mailers local.

Johnson said he refused union demands that he continue hiring "eight to 10" more employees than needed, and alleged that these men were only "spending their said working hours asleep or inebriated in said printing plant."

Cost of this surplus, he said, was $2,000 a week.

Johnson said despite his pointing this out, the union presented a partially blank contract for him to sign, and that on Oct. 25—six hours before his normal mailing press time, all union employees walked off the job in violation of union regulations.

The publisher said to meet his deadline, he loaded printing plates and 14,000 pounds of newsprint on a rented truck, found an Alameda County publisher willing to print his edition, and dispatched the vehicle.

En route, according to the suit, the truck was forced off the highway by two cars bearing about five men each. He said help by Sausalito and Richmond police and the California Highway Patrol was needed to get the truck to its destination.

After completion of the printing, however, Johnson said, no independent addressing or mailing company would "risk" the distributing job.

He said more than 40 pickets were set up at the Tamalpais Valley office Oct. 26, that Smith threw an incendiary bomb into a room, that a Marin Guide truck had a bomb planted in it, and that publication workers suffered damages to their parked vehicles.

Johnson also charged that pickets bombarded his staff with obscene language, spittle, threats, physical injury by hitting them in ribs after temporarily blinding them with camera flash bulb explosions, and one day even appeared with German Shepherd-type dogs to menace them.

The suit asks that the pickets be enjoined from operation because the publication will lose advertisers unless it meets a deadline next Wednesday. It also seeks $10,000 general damages for Smith's alleged trespassing to throw the bomb; $5,000 damages for emotional disturbance and shock suffered by Johnson when the bomb exploded; and $250,000 exemplary and punitive damages.

Smith is free on $110 bail on a charge of trespassing. Several other assault and battery and trespassing charges against Johnson and four other persons also are pending.

Doctor Ascherman To Face Hearing On Court Contempt

A Marin Superior Court order to show cause why he shouldn't be held in contempt for using the Marin General Hospital emergency room without authorization last Oct. 24 was issued yesterday against Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman.

The order, signed by Judge Thomas F. Keating, also asks cause why a temporary restraining order prohibiting the doctor's future use of the hospital' facilities shouldn't also be made pending outcome of a current issue. Hearing is at 10 a.m. next Friday.

The proceeding, filed yesterday afternoon by Harold F. Riede, hospital district attorney, alleges Dr. Ascherman forced his own use of the emergency room to treat a nose cut of Dorothy Anderson, 7, daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, 532 Pinecrest Avenue, Mill Valley.

Dr. Ascherman has waged a lengthy battle to gain surgical privileges at the hospital. The latter denied such privileges on a basis of incompentency.

Still pending in Superior Court is a contempt charge by Dr. Ascherman that Riede misinformed the district's board of an order turning the issue of his admission application back to the district's own hearing officer.

Viet Soap Drive Plan Abandoned

OROVILLE (AP)—A drive to collect soap to send to South Viet Nam has been canceled because of the meager response.

Mrs. P. D. Adams, the drive's leader, said Wednesday that only 500 bars were donated in Oroville, population 9,000.

"Soap won't win the war against the Communists in Viet Nam," Mrs. Adams said, "but it will help our boys to win the hearts of the people there.

Marlin Properties On Zone Agenda

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill Monday wil again consider the use permit application of Marlin Properties, Inc., which plans a convalescent hospital just south of Kentfield fire house on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. at the Civic Center. Cordill considered the matter two weeks ago, but continued it to get more information.

Mrs. Lillian Breganti is president of the California School Employees Assn., Marin County Chapter 327.

Columbian City Gets Vaccine

MODESTO (AP) — The Colombian city, Barranquilla needed thousands of doses of antipolio vaccine and her sister city, Modesto has found a way to supply it under the People to People program.

This week, Pan American Airways flew 100,000 doses to the South American city and 50,000 more will be flown to Barranquilla within two months.

The vaccine, worth $18,000, was donated by the Charles Pfizer Company of New York. It was supplied in response to an appeal by Dr. Jorge Tello, Barranquilla's health minister, who needed it to vaccinate 40,000 youngsters.

Policeman Loses Job In Shooting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal, veteran policeman who shot a man he believed had participated in the mass rape of his daughter, has been dismissed from the Los Angeles Police Department.

Acting Police Chief Richard Simon signed an order dismissing O'Neal Wednesday after a three-man police board of rights recommended the action on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer.

O'Neal, 41, a 15-year veteran, was suspended immediately after the shooting last July 2 of Carl E. Norman, 20. Norman, since recovered, was cleared in the case.

Walker Libel Award Reduced

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — District Judge William Woods reduced yesterday an award of damages made last Friday by a jury in a libel suit by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against the Associated Press and the New Orleans Times-Picayune Publishing Corp. from $3 million to $2,250,000.

The original award exceeded the amount Walked sued for and was reduced to conform to the full amount he sought.

In New York, Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press, said the judgment entered on the award would be appealed.

Mighty Troy And Garrett Storm Berkeley Tomorrow

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Friday, Nov. 5, 1965 39

Leading collegiate rusher Mike Garrett and his Southern California running mates storm into Berkeley tomorrow for a Pacific Athletic Conference game against California.

The sixth-ranked Trojans come off a one-week rest in which they contemplated their 28-7 drubbing by Notre Dame for the only blemish in a 4-1-1 over-all record. They're 3-0 in conference play.

The Bears, who are closing out their 1965 home schedule, beat Penn State 21-17 last week on a 46-yard touchdown pass from Herry Hunt that deflected into Jerry Bradley's hands after the final gun sounded.

Because Rod Sherman, the Trojans' other fine running back, is healthier than he was against Notre Dame, USC is heavily favored to turn back the California challenge. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m.

Garrett's 895 yards gained running are more than half USC has made so far on the ground. And the Trojans lead the league in that department.

California, 1-1 in PAC play, ranks last in the conference in rushing defense. Coach Ray Willsey hopes to prevent Garrett from breaking the game open although he's perfectly willing to give the star halfback the yards due him anyway.

Presumably, other opponents have been willing to grant the 5-foot-9, 190-pound halfback his yards and no touchdowns. But Garrett nevertheless leads the conference in scoring with 48 points, all from touchdowns.

Last year, the Bears held a 21-14 lead over the Trojans with less than five minutes remaining when graduated Craig Fertig hit Garrett with a 45-yard touchdown pass and then connected on a 22-yard scoring strike to Sherman that gave the Trojans a 26-21 victory.

Troy Winslow has taken over for Fertig this season. Although not yet the passer Fertig was, Winslow has had his moments.

California, 4-3 over-all, relies offensively on the running and passing of left-handed quarterback Dan Berry. Tom Relles, who stood out against Penn State, has been returned to wingback from halfback. Lloyd Reist or track star Forrest Beaty will go at halfback. Ron Minamide and Frank Lynch have been alternating at fullback.

Offensive tackle Roger Foster, safety Greg Palamountain and defensive tackle Dan Goich return to action for California after missing action because of injuries.

I'LL GIVE IT EVERYTHING I HAVE – MIRA

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — It's my shot, my chance to make good. I'll give it everything I have."

So said George Mira yesterday when coach Jack Christiansen confirmed he would start at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers against Dallas Sunday.

John Brodie, who injured his shoulder last Sunday against Baltimore, will suit up but is a longshot to play.

The Forty Niners will bring in the league's top offense to Dallas, but their defense has been poor. Dallas boasts one of the top defenses while its offense has been way off as quarterbacks Don Merideth, Craig Morton, and Jerry Bohme have failed to move the team.

The Forty Niner defense figured to be a strong point this season before starters Dan Colchico, Matt Hazeltine and Mike Dowdle were lost through injuries. Hazeltine now has returned to action.

Murakami's Future Still Big Mystery

MASAMORI MURAKAMI

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Masanori Murakami, the left-handed Japanese baseball pitcher who made good in his homeland and then the American big leagues, plans to return home soon.

But the quiet 20-year-old star says he hasn't made up his mind whether to pitch next summer for the Nankai Hawks of Japan or the Giants of San Francisco.

"I am going back to Japan soon, probably within the next 14 days," Murakami said in an interview last night.

When asked where he would prefer to play himself, Murakami said, "That is a very tough question. I like both the United States and Japan."

His final decision will be made after he discusses his baseball future with his parents, he said.

"I think they like Japan," he said, when asked what his parents would prefer.

At any rate, Murakami is in the United States on a seasonal working visa, which means that he is expected to return to his homeland during the off-season winter months.

But the San Francisco Giants' management is as emphatic as the Nankai Hawks in wanting his services.

Last season for San Francisco, which finished second in the National League, Murakami won four games and lost only one, mainly in relief. He made 45 appearances and was credited with six saves.

"We want to keep him," Chub Feeney, Giants' vice president, has said.

The Giants will allow the pitcher to decide for himself. Last year San Francisco and Nankai exchanged a series of argumentive cablegrams on the subject.

It was finally decided between the baseball commissioners of Japan and the United States that he would play for San Francisco. He played for Nankai before coming to the United States.

No Scanty Clause In Code Of Morals–Times Have Changed

After reading the recent deluge of letters to the editor I blush every time I walk past a lingerie store. Or see their ads in the I-J. That Jon Robert spread on page 40 yesterday just killed me. In RED, yet!

Heck, it's getting so that I'm afraid to go to the beach anymore. Skin bad for this sailor.

And, oh dear, when the lady next door hangs her undergarments out on the line to dry I run and hide in the closet. The magic word around our house is, "It's okay, you can come out now,Jim. they're dry."

WHAT BROUGHT on my sudden adversion to anything scanty (in the old scanty town) was that recent letter by a well-meaning lady who objected to the brevity of costumes worn by our local high school majorettes. "Indecency," I believe, was one of her stronger words.

And, by golly, I think she's right. By 1922 standards. Of course, in those days they didn't advertise hinder-binders in the local fish-wrappers. And, too, in those days the beaches looked like museums.

EVEN WHEN I was going to high school (I did too!) the majorettes, compared to today's streamlined models, looked like something you'd find in a pyramid. They wore coveralls. For underwear. On top of that was a raccoon coat. The only flesh we saw was a nose and you'd have to be an Eskimo to find anything sexy about a proboscis.

WE WERE awfully thick in those days. We thought a topless joint was something you wouldn't want to get caught in during a rainstorm. And that a bikini was an itsy-bitsy, teensie-weensie, yellow polka dot island. Makeup was something a newspaper editor did.

THINK BACK. Boy, were we Dull City. I remember swiping a garment off the neighbor's clothesline and making a double-barreled sling-shot out of it. I was the first kid on my block to kill two birds with one Maidenform.

But, my, how times have changed. If we had TV in those dark ages the announcer would come on and say, "Psssst. Wanna see a feelthy picture?" Even innocuous Ed Sullivan would get drummed out of the Legion of Decency for featuring stark naked dog acts.

BY DARK age standards we'd have to bail out our advertising manager about once a week. Daisy Mae would be a French post card. We'd have to go to a smoker to see Payton Place. I even think you'd have trouble making Mary Poppins acceptable to your folks.

Yes, by those standards, our young majorettes are indecently attired. And so are our boxers and basketball players and trackmen.

But we live in a fast world today, Maude. Just look at the newspapers, magazines, movies, television and, yes, across your back fence.

I'VE BEEN covering local high school football games for the past 20 years and until that letter appeared on our editorial page recently, I had no idea I was watching peep shows at halftime. Stupid me, I thought they were kind of cute and I hope my little girl grows up to be a baton twirler.

THIS WEEKEND you pay particular attention to the dollies and I'll bet my sling-shot against your ear muffs that you can't discover a hint of indecency.

By today's Code of Morals, no, Virginia, there is no scanty clause.

P. S. Last night I dreamed I went to a barbecue party in my Maidenform brazier. And, of course, I blushed.

NFL Eyes New Orleans Super Dome

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — This city's stock as the National Football League's 16th member soared today after the announcement of plans to build a $24 million super dome stadium.

But promoter Dave Dixon, who has been angling for a pro football franchise for years, has even greater visions such as the Pan-American track games, the NCAA basketball championship tourney, and world championship prizefights.

Dixon even sees the Sugar Bowl switching from 82,500-seat Tulane University Stadium to the 60,000 super dome "and getting $8 a ticket for air-conditioned comfort on Jan. 1."

And Marvin E. Kratter, the New York financier who recently set up shop in New Orleans to build a billion-dollar real estate development, predicts the city could land the Olympics.

Kratter is donating a 100-acre tract of land valued at $2 million for the proposed stadium on the shore of Lake Ponchartrain.

The announcement of plans for the stadium came yesterday from Mayor Victor H. Schiro and smacked of politics. Schiro is running for re-election in Saturday's Democratic primary. His opponent for mayor, City Council President James Fitzmorris, blasted Schiro for waiting until nearly election eve to announce the stadium. But Fitzmorris said he was in favor of the project.

In New York, an NFL spokesman said the availability of the proposed stadium would weigh heavily in New Orleans' favor in the granting of a franchise.

"Currently, we are having research conducted by an independent firm in seven cities, one

Casper's Double Trouble

HONOLULU (UPI) — Skinny shotmaker Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., battled the Pacific tradewinds and grainy greens today to preserve his early lead in the $60,300 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

Geiberger, 10th on the pro circuit money making parade this year, covered the tricky Waialae Country Club Course yesterday in a four-under par 68 and preserved his nickname of "the human one iron."

Only eight pros broke par on the course, which stretches 7,000 yards along the Pacific Ocean near Diamond Head on Oahu.

Rex Baxter and Frank Beard were close behind Geiberger with three-under 69s, while George Archer and Al Besselink, Ray Floyd, Tom Nieporte and Bob Rosburg all pulled in with 71.

Bill Casper, of Peacock Gap, ranked the favorite by pre-tournament odds-makers, had double trouble with his putter and managed only a 76. He took 37 putts on the 18-hole tour.

STIFF WINDS

However, Casper, unlike most of the other pros, seemed to have little trouble with the narrow fairways and the sometimes stiff tradewinds that blow in from the Pacific, just a ball's throw away from most of the holes.

AUSTRALIAN GOLF MASTERS

Collapse By Jack Nicklaus

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Bob Charles, the New Zealand southpaw, shot a five-under-par 67 today to share the lead at the halfway point of the Wills Master Golf Tournament with Peter Thomson of Australia. Thomson had a 70.

At the 36-hole mark they each 139 and held a one-stroke lead over Gary Player of South Africa who came up with a two-under-par 70 for 140 despite playing in what he described as dreadful pain.

With Player at 140 were Bruce Devlin and Dennis Sullivan, both Australians.

The big shock was the collapse of Jack Nicklaus of the United States, who said later "I never putted as badly in my life."

The big American had 148 from 72-76 on the par 72 Kensington course only 6,758 yards long. He is tied with eight others in 21st position.

Player, after his round, stood for full 10 minutes under a hot shower and said he would obtain treatment later and was uncertain whether he would be able to play in the final two rounds Saturday.

TAR GRIDDERS TRAVEL TO NAPA TONIGHT

College of Marin's Tars football team takes to the road tonight for a short trip to Napa in a Golden Valley Conference skirmish. Kickoff is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Marin will be taking a 1-1 conference record into the game, and the chiefs from Napa J.C. are 1-2. The lone victories for each team came at the expense of Sierra College.

Napa was installed a slight favorite to beat the Tars by the panel of I-J "pigskin prognosticators." It's a "must" game for Marin if the Tars are to keep their slim title hopes alive.

IOWA REPORT

Evashevski Will Return To Coach

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerry Burns will resign as Iowa football coach at the season's end and will be replaced by Hawkeye Athletic Director Forest Evashevski, Chicago's American reported today.

"Burns, Evashevski's selection to become his successor after the 1960 season, will resign at the season's end.

"Evvy will give in to a statewide clamor of fans and alumni and return to active coaching in an attempt to ignite Iowa's fallen fortunes."

Iowa has an over-all record of 1-6 and is last in the Big Ten race with 0-5.

Evashevski fashioned the best record in Iowa football history with a nine-season record of 52-27-4 before Burns, his assistant, took over the head coaching job in 1961.

Evashevski in 1960 also became Hawkeye athletic director, succeeding Paul Brechler.

ASHE GAINS AUSTRALIAN NET FINALS

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) —Arthur Ashe became the first American to make the Queensland Lawn Tennis Tournament's men's singles final today when he crushed the Australian Davis Cup player, John Newcombe, in straight sets.

Ashe took 67 minutes to defeat Newcombe 6-4, 6-4, 6-3 in the semifinal.

Chisox Begin Search For New Manager

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox began a widespread search today for a successor to Al Lopez, who quit his $65,000 a year job as manager yesterday after winning one pennant and finishing second five times in nine years directing the club.

There was no indication from either club owner Arthur C. Allyn or Executive Vice President and General Manager Ed Short who might be considered for the job.

However, the names of Mayo Smith, now a scout for the New York Yankees; Charlie Metro, on the Sox staff, and Bob Kennedy, former Chicago Cubs head coach, were among the early suggestions.

"We have about 20 men under consideration," Short said, "and we'll consider that many or more. We would like to make our selection before the major - minor league meetings begin Nov. 29, but we don't have to. This is not a hurried job."

Lopez, 57, told Short and Allyn Wednesday that he would not return to complete his contract with the White Sox as manager, which ran through 1966. But he accepted the Sox' offer of a salaried job as vice president to serve as "consultant in the art of selection and acquisition of players."

"I've been thinking about this for a number of years," Lopez said. "I'm not quitting for health reasons, I wanted to stay more with my family."

Lopez' nine season as a manager of the Sox made him the senior field director in terms of consecutive years with the same club of any American League skipper. Only Walt Alston of the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers, who has been at the helm for 12 seasons, has been around the majors longer.

Lopez' departure was the second managerial change in Chicago major league baseball in the month since the 1965 season ended. The Cubs announced the appointment of Leo Durocher as manager less than two weeks ago and scrapped the coaching system under which Lou Klein had been head coach.

Lopez completed his 41st year in baseball and his 34th in the major leagues this year. He had served as manager for 15 years. He won one pennant and finished second five times with Cleveland prior to joining the Sox. With the Sox, he finished third once, fourth once and fifth once.

Lopez holds the major league record for most games by a catcher, 1,918, with 1,861 of these in the National League with Brooklyn, Boston and Pittsburgh.

Indians Travel; Powers Favored

COMBINED A.P. & UPI

Stanford is just one of two Pacific Eight teams not playing conference football this weekend, the Indians traveling to New Orleans tomorrow night to battle Tulane.

In the other non-conference game, the Oregon State Beavers go to Syracuse, N.Y., to play the tough Orangemen.

In the Pacific Eight, where the smell of roses stretches from Southern California to Washington, three big conference games are on tap. Oregon goes to Pullman to clash with Washington State and Washington moves into Los Angeles for a game against UCLA.

Major independent San Jose State, now that it has wiped up three Western Athletic Conference foes, hosts the University of Pacific in the 25th game of their series.

Michigan State, Nebraska and Arkansas, the nation's top three college football teams, expect to easily stretch their perfect records tomorrow against unimpressive opponents.

The Michigan State Spartans are favored by 16 points to clinch at least a tie for the Big Ten title when they meet Iowa, which has lost 10 consecutive conference games.

Nebraska, tied with Arkansas for second place in UPI ratings, is a huge 25-point favorite to demolish the Kansas Jayhawks and come closer to a Sugar or Orange Bowl berth. Arkansas' Razorbacks, whose 18 consecutive victories are the longest winning streak in the country among major universities, are favored by 16 over Rice. Fourth ranked Notre Dame is an overwhelming 17-point choice to beat Pittsburgh.

In other major games, seventh-ranked Alabama is rated even with Louisiana State, Georgia Tech is given one point over Tennessee, Texas Tech is picked to bomb New Mexico State, Missouri is favored by six over Colorado, and Utah State puts its perfect record against Memphis State.

An interservice battle between Army and Air Force is the regional television game of the week. It will be shown on NBC (Channel 4) starting at 11 a.m.

DOME

of which is New Orleans," said the spokesman. "And certainly, one of the major considerations in its study will be the availability of suitable stadiums.

"Certainly construction of such a stadium in New Orleans would be in its favor, as it would in any of the other six."

The NFL says it will grant a franchise for a 16th team — to begin playing in the 1967 season — sometime next spring. Other cities in the running are Houston, which has the Astrodome, Portland, Seattle, Boston, Cincinnati and Phoenix.

Dixon said the target date for completion of the super dome is 1968. He said he planned to talk with Tulane University officials shortly about a New Orleans pro team playing in Sugar Bowl Stadium until the super dome is built.

Schiro said present plans call for private financing of the structure. He said, "We have been able to obtain a commitment of at least 50 per cent of the financing from a group of outside investors."

Dixon sees the stadium as "revolutionizing sports. It will be an all-purpose stadium for use by the community, not just a pro football team."

The facility would have parking space for 20,000 cars.

"We think we can get a major league baseball team here, too," said Dixon.

The design Dixon released yesterday calls for movable stands on one side of the super dome. Development of a synthetic playing field, made of an all-weather resilient plastic, will allow consecutive events in the super dome, said Dixon.

Dixon admitted that acquisition of a pro franchise is the key to private financing of the project.

Audacious Seems A Sure Winner

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The 73 - foot sloop Audacious, a veteran of many ocean-going races, jumped into a relatively commanding lead today in the Long Beach to La Paz, Mexico, boat race.

The Coast Guard cutter Dexter said barring mishaps, Audacious should reach the finish line one day ahead of the rest of the field.

At last report, Vixen, skippered by Grant Hoag, and scratch boat Serena out of San Francisco, were rounding the southern extremities of Baja California behind the leader. Audacious was off Palmilla, 20 miles north of Cabo San Lucas.

The rest of the fleet was reported south of Magdalena Bay

The handicap front runner is the 35-foot sloop, Al Viento, which had been reported missing three days ago.

Warriors Win It In Final Seconds

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Even if the Philadelphia 76ers dump them tonight, the San Francisco Warriors today knew that they can match shots with any team in the National Basketball Assn. this season.

Last night they fought back from repeated five and six point deficits to down the team many feel is the NBA's toughest, Philadelphia, by a score of 121-119.

The game was played before 16,881 fans as part of a Madison Square Garden twin bill in New York. The Warriors, who are playing four games in four nights in four cities, take on the 76ers here tonight and Detroit at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium Saturday.

The Warriors had a group of heroes in last night's win. Rookie Rick Barry hit 22 points in the first half and wound up with 27. Nate Thurmond took over the scoring load in the third period and altogether tallied 30, while holding big Wilt Chamberlain to 17. Paul Neumann sparked the Warriors to a 32-27 bulge in the final stanza and ended up with 28.

Hal Greer led the 76ers with 35 points and Wally Jones came off the bench to hit 21 before he fouled out.

The win gave the Warriors a 5-3 mark to put them in a tie with Los Angeles atop the Western Division. Philadelphia is 3-2 and holds a slim edge in the Eastern Division.

60,000 To See Army-Air Force

CHICAGO (AP) — Amid pageantry and hullabaloo, the Air Force and Army will clash in football tomorrow before an expected 60,000 customers in Soldier Field.

An Air Force cadet wing of more than 2,000 and about the same number of Army cadets will arrive in special trains. Their bands will lead a parade through downtown.

This will be the third meeting of the two academies. Air Force tied Army in New York 13-13 in 1959 but lost to the West Pointers 14-10 in 1963 at Soldier Field.

Spawning Runs In Full Swing But Striper Striving Varies

STEVENS

Striper striving is good, bad, or indifferent in accordance with the time, tide and locale fished. We all know that the annual spawning runs of striped bass are now in full swing, so it behooves us to plan our trips accordingly. If possible, plan your trip when there is a good movement of tide. (Note that last Saturday and Sunday the movement of the water was slow, and fishing was also slow.)

On Monday, however, the tides became swifter — fishing was good in the upper San Pablo Bay, behind the Rock Wall across from Rodeo and in the lower Suisun Bay, Honker Bay and little Honker Bay.

IN THE lower and middle of the San Pablo Bay the slowness carried over to include Monday and Tuesday. Fishing was rather slow in that region, but it was excellent in the upper sectors. For example: Nadine Lessley, of Dowrelid's Crockett Harbor, reported Skipper Ernie Savage on the boat, Dowrelio No. 5 had 13 rods working and netted 31 bass from 5 to 16½ pounds trolling Pet spoons with yellow feathers, and white pork rind tail baits. That was off Buoy 9. On Tuesday, the No. 5 boat came in with 11 limits of bass ranging in size from 10 to 28 pounds, and was back in the harbor around 2 p.m.

IT WAS on Tuesday also that Johnny Sivera, piloting the Dowrelio No. 6, had a party of six, all wishing to catch a sturgeon. Captain Sivera drove to the Suisun Bay after sturgeon. I don't know if any sturgeon were caught, but 17 striped bass from 10 to 25½ pounds were.

A NUMBER of private boats berthed at Crockett came back with limits on both days.

I MENTIONED some of the fine catches reported out of Carl Bennett's Rodeo Marina in yesterday's column, so you can bank on the fishing being good in the San Pablo Bay, the Suisun Bay and all areas adjacent to them.

FROM HAROLD WILDES McAvoy harbor came word that the sturgeon runs have slowed down, but bass fishing is yielding some nice catches. Harold's uncle, Ray Wildes, told me that the big bass seem to hit on alternate days, and cited Don Cook and Bob Evans as two of the regulars who are scoring with bass to 25 pounds, using bull heads as bait.

REPORT FROM Don Smith of Don's Bait house at Clearlake Highlands reported catfishing as very productive, and large mouth blackies as fair. Cats are taken day and night and some are of good size.

Fireworks Expected At Kentfield—8 O'Clock

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School's Pirates, looking like world beaters their last two times out, hope to keep their momentum going tonight when they square off with the Terra Linda Trojans in College of Marin Stadium, 8 o'clock.

The Pirates from San Anselmo, defending the Marin Athletic League grid title this season, whipped Riordan 28-20 and San Rafael 34-7 in their last two battles, and if you win enough battles like that, you can win the war.

Currently tied for first place with Novato and Tam, the Buccaneers are sporting a 3-1 league mark and boast an overall record of five wins, two losses. Terra Linda has two wins, a loss and one tie in MCAL play and is 4-2-1 overall.

Drake coach Bob Franceschini feels his boys are playing sound ball now. "Our inexperienced boys through the season tremendously through the season," says Bob. "We had the best blocking I've seen in a long time against San Rafael."

Only injury sustained in that game for Drake was to linebacker Frank Holton who hurt an ankle late in the contest. He'll be replaced by Ed Farina, who also doubles as an offensive guard.

RIGHT COMBINATION

Fran said that up to the Riordan game he was looking for that "right starting combination." He's found it. "We can't change now," said Franceschini. "It took a long time to find the right combination but we've got it now.

"We know Terra Linda is rough on defense and it is an explosive club," he said. "They play the same kind of ball that we do."

And with the likes of Dean Lazzarini of Drake running and Terra Linda's potent passer Sid Norman throwing, the game should have an explosive touchdown or two. Lazzarini, one of the finest backs in Northern California prep football this season, has already gained 977 yards in seven games. He's also scored 13 touchdowns. When he gets inside the 20, he seems to fight just a little harder for the end zone. One mistake against this speedster and it's six points.

Norman, that scrappy little quarterback for Terra Linda, will be back in the starting lineup tonight after missing most of last week's game in Manteca due to an arm injury. He's got a surprisingly good arm, and if the injury is sufficiently healed, he'll probably be unloading some bombs against Drake. His principal target before being injured early in the season was John Ferry, and T.L. coach Brad Squires reports his senior wingback will be ready for some more action. Fred Daniele will probably start in the wingback slot, but Ferry will be alternating there.

"Drake should be the roughest team we've played so far," said Squires. "We'll just try to do the best we can against Lazzarini. That boy is destined to become a great athlete."

Probable starting offensive lineups for tonight's game:

Drake Class C Cagers Upset Terra Linda

Drake High School's Class C basketball team scored the upset of the season yesterday when the little Pirates beat first place Terra Linda 28-25.

The win by Drake again put the Marin Athletic League flag up for grabs. Redwood, which lost to Terra Linda a few days ago, again has a chance. The little Giants beat Novato 47-30 yesterday.

Terra Linda has a 9-2 record with one game remaining and Redwood is 8-2 with two games left and both teams have a good chance now to tie for the championship.

Leading the Drake quint to its upset win was Bill Gaddy with 9 points. Terra Linda's Bob Maxwell scored 11 points. Dave Ruggles scored 9 points for Redwood in its triumph over Novato.

Marin Catholic, led by Bob McCarthy with 15 points and Kevin McCall with 14, whipped San Rafael 46-28 in the other league game yesterday.

Oklahoma Fans All Burned Up

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A group of University of Oklahoma students, perturbed by their school football team's record this year, gathered in front of the OU president's home and burned their season grid tickets, the campus newspaper reported.

The Sooners have won two of their six games.

NOVATO TO HOST SAN RAFAEL '11'

Novato's rock-and-sock Hornets football team will be fighting to keep its hold on a share of first place in the Marin Athletic League tomorrow when it hosts the Bulldogs of San Rafael High School. Kickoff is at 1:45 p.m.

Novato is favored to win its fourth MCAL game of the season against just one loss. Drake, the only team to beat Novato this year, and Tam, who in turn topped Drake, are tied with the Hornets in this hectic pennant race.

Novato's big weapon is Dick Otis, the tailback out of the Hornets' I-formation who is one of the hardest runners in MCAL history. Even with players keying on his every move, the 175-pound Otis still bulls his way for yardage up the middle.

But if the enemy watches Otis too much, the ball is given to halfback Frank Perachiotti, a junior who has quick reflexes and the ability to scoot through those little holes. Then again, quarterback John Otis is leading the league in percentage of passes completed.

This varied attack is why the Hornets are up there. Otis, by the way, has already surpassed the school's season rushing record and has a chance of passing the 1,000 yard mark tomorrow.

Some of the injured gladiators for Novato are back in the lineup after injuries, including end George Sheehan, guard Greg Sulser, and Wayne Belles, the lad who ran that 78-yard touchdown on the opening kickoff against Tam.

"I think we've got a rough game ahead," said Novato coach Harry Moore. "But our boys are fired up for this one. They remember that San Rafael win last year. I've got respect for that (Rocky) Shone and (Jay) Widmer. They're both good players."

And that truly has been a big part of San Rafael's offense, the power running of Shone and passing of Widmer. Shone has been running out of a halfback spot this season, but tomorrow he'll be used at fullback. That makes way in the lineup for Dick Loomis, a sophomore who can use the experience.

San Rafael coach Bob Muster knows that 34-7 loss to Drake last Friday turned the Bulldogs from a contender to a "spoiler." It will be the last league game of the season for San Rafael, which plays Petaluma in a practice tiff the following week, the last for the Marin preps.

Muster's big job this past week was to patch up the tattered defense left from the Drake game. Prior to that contest, the Bulldogs were an extremely tough bunch on defense.

Redwood Favored Over Tam Indians

Tam is the team going for the championship but it's the Giants of Redwood who are favored to win their Marin Athletic League football game tomorrow.

For the second time in three weeks, the Indians of Tam today were put in the underdog role by all five I-J pickers as the teams get ready to do battle tomorrow in College of Marin Stadium, 1:30 p.m.

Tam, with a 3-1 MCAL record, is tied with Drake and Novato for the league lead. Redwood, on the other hand, has won only one of four league games, losing two and tying the other.

In an effort to get more speed in his backfield, Tam coach Willie Hector will start Don Smith at the running halfback post next to fullback Mike Fowler. Smith will be replacing Kirk Sparks.

Realizing a weakness in his team's defensive secondary, Hector has worked his boys hard on this phase of the game, as well as pushing his boys in the offensive game. The Indians' inability to move the ball on sustained drives has almost cost some important games. "I know our offense will move the ball this time," said Hector, who is having a great season in his first year as head Tam coach.

Out of Redwood's opening lineup will be Ken Tucker, a speedy halfback who hurt his shoulder tackling Novato's Dick Otis last Saturday. In his place will be Royce Johnson. Redwood will still have speed in its backfield with Len Pieri and power in Tom Sather, the hard-running fullback.

We've had a good week of practice," said Redwood coach Bob Troppmann. "The kids know we can still end up with a good season if we beat Tam."

The game will be broadcast over Radio Station KTIM, with sports director Verle Sorgen doing the play-by-play.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1965 with 56 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1929, the House of Commons approved the resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia.

In 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt was re-elected to the presidency, the only president ever chosen for a third term.

In 1955, Austria formally opened the reconstructed Vienna State Opera House and celebrated her liberation from 17 years of foreign occupation.

A Thought for the Day — American Socialist Eugene V. Debs said: "While there is a lower class, I am in it, while there is a criminal element, I am of it, while there is a soul in prison, I am not free."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Gertrude Stein Could Have Had A Classic Line On Duplicate

Fear is a very useful thing because it keeps the average sensible person out of trouble.

According to a recent scientific survey, the only rational beings that don't know the meaning of fear are tournament bridge players.

Opening lead — ♡ K

He would let West play the hand at two hearts. West would make his contract with 100 honors and perhaps with an overtrick.

BUT WHAT HAPPENS?

The tournament player bids two spades in the hope of driving West to three hearts.

Instead West doubles, and South is in serious trouble.

South ruffs the third round of hearts and takes dummy's top trumps. He then gets to his hand with the king of clubs and must make a key decision.

Should he lead a third trump?

BIG RISK

If West started with four trumps to the queen-ten, a trump lead will allow him to draw trumps and run the rest of the tricks. South will be down four.

If West started with only three trumps, a trump lead is the surest way to keep the penalty down to 100 points.

A rubber bridge player would abandon trumps and run the clubs. At worst this will allow the opponents to make two trump tricks as well as two hearts and three diamonds.

The rubber bridge player is willing to settle for 300 points.

The tournament player leads a third trump without fear. He knows that 300 points will be just as severe a loss in tournament bridge as 700 points.

If Gertrude Stein had written a book on tournament bridge, she would have said: "A bottom is a bottom is a bottom."

As it happens, South gets out of the trap for a loss of only 100 points, earning a very fine tournament score instead of a bottom.

MARIN HARD HATS GET SHOWING

Japanese visitors to the National Safety Council Congress in Chicago last week were impressed with hard hats manufactured by E. D. Bullard Co. of Sausalito. Demonstrating the protective headgear is E. W. Wheeler, safety engineer for the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks, Washington, D.C. Checking over the equipment are Kazushige Funahashi, Kenji Nakane, T. Stock Market Erases An Early Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed a shade lower today after erasing an early advance. Trading slowed from a heavy pace early in the session.

A rally by aluminums based on Alcoa's price boost for the metal failed to inspire the rest of the list.

A number of the color television issues, other electronics, airlines and fast stepping issues made an early show of strength but most of this dwindled as the session wore on.

An uneven performance by General Motors and Du Pont as well as indifferent action by many other key stocks left the market without any special leadership.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.6 million shares compared with 8.39 million Thursday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule among most key stocks.

Alcoa's decision to raise aluminum prices helped aluminum stocks to advance, although some of the best gains were trimmed. Kaiser Aluminum held to a gain of 1½ or so and Reynolds Metals was up 1. Alcoa and Aluminium Ltd. were fractionally higher.

I-T-E Circuit Breaker was up nearly 3 following word of a proposed merger with Worthington Corp., which was about a point higher.

Up about 2 were such stocks as Boeing, Pittston Co., and American Air Filter. Ahead a point or so were United Aircraft, IBM, Polaroid, Xerox, Northrup, Fairchild Camera and Alberto-Culver.

General Motors (ex dividend) was off a fraction, paring an early loss of 1½. Down about a point were Bethlehem, Ford, Control Data and National Airlines.

Anaconda and KLM Airlines were down bout 2 points. Zenith added about 2.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Airline Repeats Freight Increase

NEW YORK — American Airlines has announced that it had set domestic industry records for both freight and all cargo ton miles flown in a single month.

The airline flew 29,611,000 freight ton miles in October, a 62 per cent increase over the same month of 1964. It was the sixth straight month in which American had set a domestic industry freight record.

Last month's all cargo freight, mail and express ton miles climbed 52.8 per cent over the October 1964 figure to $34,407,000.

American flew 790,014,000 revenue passenger miles last month to post a high for any October in the company's history. The airline's all time passenger miles standard of 967,049,000 was recorded in August of this year.

FRED B. BIALEK
Heads overseas operations

JAMES V. DILLER
New San Rafael Manager

Two Fairchild Plant Executives Promoted

A change in administrative personnel at the Fairchild Semiconductor diode plant in San Rafael has taken manager Fred B. Bialek to the company's Mountain View headquarters in the new position of international operations manager.

The post, a promotion for Bialek, was created to administer more closely the needs of Fairchild's rapidly expanding operations overseas. The company has semiconductor assembly plants in South Yarra, Australia, and in Hong Kong. Managers of both overseas plants will now report to Bialek.

He is being succeeded as San Rafael plant manager by James V. Diller Jr., product manager in San Rafael since last year. Diller, a native of Kentucky, joined the plant as a supervising engineer in 1963. He is a bachelor of science graduate of University of Rhode Island and has done graduate work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his family reside in San Rafael.

Bialek has been manager of the San Rafael plant since 1962. He joined the company in Mountain view in 1959 as an industrial engineer. He is a native of New York City and earned his bachelor of science degree at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He and his family reside in Mill Valley.

Red Tape Keeps Inventions From Helping Combat Units

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — A tough Special Forces sergeant carrying memories of bullets and of slimy, rice paddy leeches under his green beret paused in front of a beetle-shaped "mushmobile."

"I'd sure like to take that back to the Mekong Delta," he said in a soft Louisiana drawl.

"Sorry," said a man in civvies. "That's the only one in existence. And its just a prototype model."

This little scene was repeated several times at a hotel a few days ago during the Association of the U.S. Army meeting. To combat veterans of Viet Nam the weird little vehicle resting on tubular screws instead of wheels looked as luxurious as a Cadillac.

They could see themselves inside, protected by a quarter-inch of steel armor from Viet Cong bullets and the ever- present leeches, cruising across the paddies — instead of slogging waist-deep in water and mud.

That such a vehicle was available only in a hotel showroom, struck them all as not a little odd. It didn't take a genius to see how it could help them run down the elusive VC and possibly even save some lives.

When the question was asked when the machine might arrive in Viet Nam, the man tending it could only shrug. But a likely answer is: probably never.

The "mushmobile" — formally called the armored marsh amphibian — is one of the better ideas to be born of military research recently. However, it has become hopelessly mired in the usual Pentagon red tap and, officially, no one seems very interested in rescuing it.

One expert close to the problem calls it a "case of NIH — Not Invented Here." It seems the idea originated with someone in the Navy's bureau of ships about five years ago. Then the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA) ordered a couple of test models built by the Chrysler Corp. and the Army was given the job of testing and determining if the vehicle should be built.

The test models, propelled by the tubular screws, have hit almost 15 mph in water. "They're able to operate in anything that's too thick to swim in and too thin to plow," says a Chrysler engineer.

On hard land or roads, however, the tubes make the amphibian difficult to steer and slow to drive, though it has no trouble crossing a road from one rice paddy to another.

The lack of roadability has prompted the Army to label the machine a "special purpose" vehicle for which it has "no requirement." Translated, this means its a problem no one wants to handle.

Meantime, the Chrysler Corp. is dreaming up ways to hang wheels on the amphibian and tests are continuing.

If someone ever did approve the "mushmobile," experts say it would take two years to build a quantity of them and ship them to Viet Nam. The Louisiana sergeant has a long wait.

This is but one case of time lag in new technology reaching the foot soldier. Take communications. Most army units are relying on World War II variety walkie talkies and telephone systems using cables. Some of the equipment has been improved, but not the techniques.

Today, the army is pursuing research on a radio-telephone which will do the work of a cable system and then some. It is called the "random access discreet address" communications system and will be capable of serving 40,000 telephone numbers — enough for 20 divisions.

RADA as it is called involves some brand new electronic manipulation of radio channels and is the handiwork of the Martin Co. But it is still being developed. With luck, it may be ready about 1972.

Airport Lease Accord Reported

A meeting of Harry O. Tollefson, lessee of the county airport at Novato, Supervisor William A. Gnoss and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney Wednesday appeared to have cleared up misunderstanding on the county's intentions.

"We're reaching accord," Gnoss said today.

The county wants to close out the exclusive lease with Tollefson to clear the way for an application for federal aid on the airport.

The lease was appraised at $15,000 but Tollefson, under the impression that it meant closing out his business at the airport, was asking $50,000. He was assured yesterday that he could continue in business at the airport under another, non-exclusive agreement.

President of the Novato Teen-Age Republicans is Jim Gribbin.

School Sponsoring Child's Book Week

Children's Book Week is being celebrated at San Clemente School in Corte Madera this week with a contest which offers prizes of one book for a student in each of the school's six grades.

Winners will be drawn Monday in the school library. Children qualify for the drawing by completing a puzzle, according to Principal Robert Johnson.
